WA Rights Renewal:
Empowering Electoral and Political Change

Reclaiming the Principles of Self-Government and Sovereignty

For over a century, the people have neglected their fundamental responsibility to self-govern, a duty explicitly preserved in the Ninth and Tenth Amendments to the U.S. Constitution. These amendments enshrine the principle that ultimate authority resides with the people, reserving powers not delegated to the government for the states and, most importantly, the people themselves. Yet, this sacred trust has been eroded by a government that increasingly views itself as our ruler rather than our servant. In Washington State today, we find ourselves under a system defined by our forefathers as tyrannical: a union of the legislative, executive, and judicial branches working in concert to deprive the people of their rights, as eloquently warned against in Federalist 47.

The tyranny described by Madison has been compounded by the rise of a uni-party system—a collusion of political elites across both major parties, who have forsaken their constituents in favor of self-enrichment, election manipulation, and unchecked power. This uni-party, with its stranglehold on governance, grants itself everything it desires while stripping the people of their sovereignty. Elections are stolen through opaque processes, legislative sessions churn out unconstitutional laws with impunity, and no one within the machinery of government dares to stand for the Constitution or for the people. This coordinated betrayal leaves Washingtonians without recourse, trapped under a system designed to oppress rather than serve.

The problem is not ignorance of the law—it is willful defiance of it. According to Marbury v. Madison and the foundational principles of American jurisprudence, any law in direct opposition to the Constitution is null and void from its inception. Such laws hold no weight; they do not require court action to be overturned because they legally do not exist. Judges are not bound by them, individuals are not obligated to follow them, and the people have every right to live as if these unconstitutional mandates were never passed. Yet, the legislature in Washington State routinely churns out laws that flagrantly violate the Constitution, and not a single legislator, judge, or media outlet dares to voice this fundamental truth. Their silence is complicity, and their inaction perpetuates tyranny.

This dire state of affairs necessitates immediate action by the people. It is not enough to wait for those in government to act; they have proven they will not. We must organize ourselves into a non-partisan, grassroots, and wholly independent association, operating outside the reach of government interference to preserve the anonymity and safety of our members. This association must be driven by a singular purpose: to reclaim our rights and restore self-governance. Its goals are clear and urgent:

1. To halt the passage of unconstitutional laws by exposing their illegitimacy and holding legislators accountable.
2. To return elections to the people by removing them entirely from digital systems and ensuring they are conducted with transparency, security, and integrity.
3. To re-establish Safety Committees that will protect our members and their families from retaliation by those who seek to silence us.
4. To create a We the People news podcast, countering propaganda and covering truths that the mainstream media refuses to address, while maintaining a live legislative update channel to expose late-night legislative mischief.
5. To revive town hall debates, providing a platform for genuine discussion of community issues and empowering citizens to engage directly with matters affecting their lives.
6. To lay the groundwork for Citizens' Grand Juries, a constitutionally rooted mechanism to hold government officials accountable for defying the will of the people.

This is not an act of rebellion; it is an act of restoration. Our association is a necessary response to a government that has abandoned its constitutional obligations. By uniting under the banner of self-governance and sovereignty, we reaffirm our commitment to the principles upon which this nation was founded. We do so knowing the risks, but also knowing that the cost of inaction is far greater. To preserve our freedom, protect our communities, and secure a future for generations to come, we must act now. This is our duty, our right, and our solemn obligation as free people.

Vision and Operational Blueprint for WA Rights Renewal

Founder's Leadership and Shared Vision

The Vision that steers the association is deeply rooted in the belief that human rights are endowed by God, not government. This vision, which encompasses the principles of a “Constitutional Republic,” not a “Democracy,” and the inviolable rights enshrined in the Bill of Rights, guides the organization's strategic direction to rally volunteers and members towards a united cause. Asserting that the government's legitimacy stems solely from the consent of the governed, is the driving key principle that shapes every advocacy, education, and outreach effort undertaken by the association. The Association, driven by the urgent need for a collective voice that can influence change, ensures that the electoral system reflects the true will of the people and governmental powers lawfully exercised. A complete alignment with Constitutional values shall once again be revered as it once was. This Association of Patriots has formed out of necessity for We the People’s voices to hold weight again in our counties, in the legislature, and to our public servants who work for us!

I. Operational Guidance and Decision-Making:

All decisions require the approval of the Executive Board, in the form of a vote. The founder will act as the deciding vote in any tie votes. The Executive Board includes key officers and committee chairs. This collaborative governance model ensures that the association's actions stay aligned with its members' will and the broader objectives. Committee Chairs, leading groups focused on specific areas like legislative accountability, outreach, and member safety, directly communicate with members on time-sensitive decisions, ensuring the association acts swiftly and coherently as situations arise, guaranteeing the members who volunteer in a committee receive proper representation on the executive board level. The Founder begins filling the role of the President until there can be a replacement after the Association has carried out its structured existence and has proven successful at its implementation. This structure supports the association's agility in responding to evolving challenges and opportunities. We know that the voting system has not been a true representation of the populations wants and needs and has been usurped recently by the federal government because of “national security concerns.” We also know that the Secretary of State received the power unlawfully by the legislature to certify by himself any counties, and therefore any precincts election results, if the counties refusal to do so was “without cause.” We will make every effort to bring our state back to a single day voting process held not by County public servants, but by our neighbors in small manageable precincts where tallying by hand will be extremely easy and simple. Ink must be used to mark our choices, and it shall be on paper ballots which shall in turn be deposited into a large ballot box that facilitates the tallying to be a random account of the intake of participating voters, with a sign in sheet having no functional way for the order of anyone’s arrival to be apparent, thereby fulfilling our civil, political, and human right to anonymous and transparent elections. This being the centerpiece and core, of the grievances that this association was formed, and we shall see it put to purpose.

II. Commitment to Peace and Constitutional Fidelity:

The formation of "WA Rights Renewal" under the President's guidance is a testament to a collective commitment to peace, justice, and the principled exercise of power. It stands as a beacon for those in government and society who uphold the tenets of the Constitution and respect the rights it guarantees. The association's mission is clear: to advocate for a system where governance is conducted transparently, justly, and always on the Constitution. This includes challenging any overreach that threatens the rights and liberties of the people. The Presidents formation of this association is not to create any kind of standing army and should in no way be a seeming "threat" to any lawfully abiding citizen or public servant. To those in government that have decided that they are our rulers, that do not seem to regard our God given rights as being protected by a contract that the government signed, being the proof that we are the sole beneficiaries of the contract which makes us always able to hold them accountable for their actions that do not align with the Constitution, We are your checks and balances that for too long have been asleep at the wheel, but that ends now!

III. Duty to Act:

Echoing the Declaration of Independence, the President and the association recognize the sacred duty to oppose tyranny and advocate for a government that truly stands for and serves its citizens. This duty extends to pursuing peaceful, legal avenues to redress grievances and hold officials accountable for actions that betray the public trust."WA Rights Renewal" is a call to action, inviting all who share its vision to join in a peaceful, determined effort to safeguard the rights and freedoms that define the essence of the American spirit. Through visionary leadership, strategic governance, and a steadfast commitment to constitutional principles, the Founder of "WA Rights Renewal" looks to unite and empower individuals towards achieving a future where the government operates with integrity, transparency, and in genuine service to the people. The association's formation is not just a response to current challenges but a proactive step towards ensuring a "Constitutional Republic," not a "Democracy," that interprets our laws using originalism, textualism, and brings the way the founders intended this nation to run back for generations to come.

IV. Strategy and Confidentiality:

The President holds discretionary rights to keep strategic plans confidential to prevent compromising their effectiveness. These strategies shall be presented to the Executive Board when necessary for implementation, following a careful deliberation process as is necessary. Emergency decisions are subject to an expedited review by the Executive Board, with provisions for recess of a voted-on amount of time depending on the situation, and contemplation before a final vote, ensuring that every action is well-considered, and the members never feel like they are being led by decision makers, but rather that we are all on the same page working toward a shared goal. There is a never changing ratio installed of four executive board members that hold paid positions and five committee chair positions that do not begin making money but have the possibility when the association has a steady flow of money coming in, can support it, and passes a vote by the body.

V. Accountability and Integrity:

The Association operates with a constant vigilance against internal and external threats to its integrity, embodying a culture of mutual trust and scrutiny among members to prevent corruption or betrayal. The President's decisions, especially those made in trust on behalf of the association, are subject to review but recognized as carried out in good faith, with the understanding that not all outcomes can be anticipated.

VI. Removal and Succession:

There can be a serving of articles of impeachment by a 2/3 vote of the Executive Board on the President, followed by a central committee hearing to ensure a fair evaluation of any allegations, preserving the integrity of the leadership role. Provisions for resignation, temporary replacement, and the appointment of new leadership ensure the association's resilience and continuity of vision with the Presidential role. The Founder may give up the title of President and still play an ongoing advisory role without voting rights unless reinstated under specific conditions.

VII. Expansion and Legacy:

After a tenure of 2 years, a President may choose to step down, enabling new leadership to emerge. This transition respects the foundational vision while allowing for growth and adaptation. A President, never removed by way of impeachment that steps down for whatever reason shall have earned the title of Founder. Founders have an everlasting responsibility to expand the association's reach or focus on new initiatives after their presidency, fostering a culture of continuous engagement, generational education, and vigilance in civic participation. The original Founder believed that this Association, formed of We the People, is the missing and final piece that completes the “Separation of Powers.” The framework herein, is the God given rights enumerated to us in the Constitution for the United States of America, and We the members of “WA Rights Renewal: Empowering Electoral and Political Change,” Hereby formally state and reserve in perpetuity these, but not only these, applicable amendments of the Bill of Rights that solidify the lawfulness of the movement.

Excerpts from the Bill of Rights

Amendment 1:

Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof, or abridging, the freedom of speech, or of the press; or the right of the people peaceably to assemble, and to petition the Government for a redress of grievances.

Amendment 2:

A well-regulated Militia, being necessary to the security of a free State, the right of the People to keep and bear Arms, shall not be infringed.

Amendment 4:

The right of the People to be secure in their persons, houses, papers, and effects, against unreasonable searches and seizures, shall not be violated, and no Warrants shall issue, but upon probable cause, supported by Oath or Affirmation, and particularly describing the place to be searched, and the persons or things to be seized.

Amendment 9:

The Enumeration in the Constitution, of certain rights, shall not be construed to deny or disparage others retained by the People.

Amendment 10:

The Powers not delegated to the United States by the Constitution, nor prohibited by it to the States, are reserved to the States respectively, or to the People.

VIII. Clarity of Lawful Existence and Enforcement:

This Association having completed the circle of checks and balances on our legislators by We the People with the power granted to us in Amendment 10 of the Bill of the Rights, we are retiring their title of elected officials for obfuscation of their designation being public servants. We reserve our right under Amendment 1 of the Bill of Rights, to travel on the public highways and roads freely and encumbered so that we may achieve our right to freely assemble, where we exercise our rights collectively to freely speak about our right to lawfully redress a tyrannical government with our grievances. We hope that the Association will cause a reckoning on these treasonous actors wherever a branch of the Association is established, and we reserve the protection of Amendment 9 of the Bill of Rights, guaranteeing that these protections are not misconstrued, nor shall any of the members ever be accused of an insurrection or defined as a standing army or subject to illegal search and seizure to accumulate evidence ex-post-facto the raid. We are a People at Peace.

This Association, being necessary to the security of a free State as well as the Militia, hereby formally reserve our rights to bear arms without any infringement.

It is also our intent in the future to provide the Militia a venue, with which to hold We the People's Grand Jury proceedings for any RICO criminal acting under the color of law and masquerading as Government. The Jury shall, assembled of Peers of the defendant according to the common law, be the acting judge and issue any sentence that is fair and just. Not withstanding any policy enacted under the color of law that is not congruent with the Supreme Laws of our Land, Including the Washington State Constitution. The Militia will carry out the sentences decided by the People's jury and is stated to be hereby: a separate entity from the Association but in no way restricts any member of the Militia from joining or volunteering in a committee.

1) Committee Synergy and Impact:

I. Vigilance and Accountability:

Through dedicated monitoring of legislative activities, strategic requesting of public records, and constant cross checking of voter databases, the organization ensures transparency and accountability in political processes, countering underhanded tactics and ensuring electoral integrity.

II. Community Engagement and Fundraising:

A diverse array of fundraising activities, donations, swap meets, free/cheap energy manufacturing, and community gardening, not only supports the organization financially but also builds community and raises public awareness. These initiatives are crucial for sustaining litigation efforts and other organizational activities.

III. Safety and Preparedness:

Emphasizing the importance of self-defense and responsible firearms use, the Safety Committee fosters a culture of preparedness and mutual support, ensuring members are equipped to protect themselves and their community.

IV. Communication and Solidarity:

The establishment of a Ham radio network ensures constant communication and rapid response to any threats or emergencies, reinforcing the bonds of solidarity among members.

V. Strategic Goals and Milestones:

Setting clear financial and operational milestones keeps the organization focused and motivated. Each achievement marks progress towards the ultimate vision of restoring and protecting the rights and integrity of Washington State's civic processes. The vision that the members share of the return to respecting God given, Constitutional rights is what "WA Renewal Rights" is founded-upon, and it shall be clear in the platform with a verified system of voting what the body believes and supports.

VI. Structure and Conduct of Meetings: Executive Board

The Executive Board shall meet once a month in person to provide the venue and ability to get 2/3 minimum quorum for voting on whatever issues brought to the board's attention, as well as funding requests from the Associations main fund.

The Meetings shall be conducted by way of a condensed version of "Robert's Rules" that shall be discussed and revised by the board itself at its creation while initially running the first meeting under the current "Robert's Rules."

1st order of business every meeting whether it be the Executive board or the central committee or the committees themselves will always begin with a prayer. The Chair takes on this responsibility as it is an important part of being a leader unless a guest prayer leader had been part of the agenda ahead of time.

2nd order of business for every meeting will be the citing of the pledge of allegiance and discuss how every meeting will openly conduct themselves on the 2nd order of business

3rd order of business in the meetings shall be a reading/approval of the minutes of earlier meetings by the Secretary.

4th order of business shall be a Treasury report from the Treasurer and any updates on fundraisers.

5th order of business shall be status reports from the committee chair.

6th order of business shall be a time for any new business to present to the board.

7th order of business shall be open for a discussion on business that is up for a vote. The President shall make sure everyone present can speak before calling for a vote. The secretary shall show a valid quorum of 2/3 is present by role call with members signifying aye as present and ready to vote. Then the secretary shall call on each member of the board to ask how they are going to vote in alphabetical order with the member signifying their choice by saying aye or nay. The secretary tally's the votes and announces the results as well as making sure to keep correct records of all votes.

8th order of business is open for discussions.

A motion for adjournment of the meeting may be accommodated once having reached the 8th order of business.

VII. Structure and Conduct of Meetings: Central Committee

Central Committee Meetings are not just administrative gatherings but celebrations of collective effort and success, featuring potlucks/dinner outings keeping things a relaxed and low-key environment that foster camaraderie and shared commitment. These meetings are critical for discussing progress, refining tactics, and being informed of future litigation and other strategic actions that are disclosable, as some actions may be only discussed by the President to the Executive board, but will be disclosed as soon as practicable to the members and explained as to why it was necessary to not be disclosed until then. Members may bring resolutions at the central committee that foster latest ideas, complaints over how things are running, complaints on leadership, or anything else to discuss before the body of members and vote on. These meetings shall be under an adopted partial version of “Robert’s Rules” that the executive board shall confirm, and then brought before the body of members for a vote of 2/3 minimum quorum present on and/or amended. There will be no guests allowed by members to the central committee meetings as we will be discussing private matters, and strategic plans to bring this state back to Constitutional policies and values.

Articles of Incorporation

We believe that the corporations are exactly what is wrong with this country, and we refuse to be part of the same filth, scared of liability because it is their intent to hurt and harm others in the first place. We the People will be accountable for our actions if we harm someone unlawfully. We demand our constitutional rights of a trial by a jury of our PEERS, in a court of record, following the common law, and the ability to face our accusers and for them to bring all papers and documentation of their evidence against us. We are aware that every town, city, county, state, and the country, have all incorporated themselves and are acting under the color of law and are no longer represent a republican form of government that the people agreed to in the signed contract of Article 4, section 4. We are also aware that all police officers that are not our elected Sheriff or deputized under his authority are merely “policy” enforcers that are trained to “meet quotas” of giving out “tickets” that are nothing more than “bills of attainder” that are strictly forbidden in the contract that was agreed to by government that we are the beneficiaries of. We do not consent to being subject to any bills of attainder and know our rights and herein are stating them, that we will not be subject to what literally amounts to a “standing army” of policy enforcers that are roaming our streets armed while they take our guns away, issuing unlawful bills of attainder, taking away our hard earned wages and even taking away our fundamental rights to travel and be able to assemble. We understand that the court systems have also incorporated and are waging a war of law fare against We the People, creating unending policies, codes, statutes, regulations, and ordinances that are not law, and operate under the color of law. We are aware that the BAR association has always been a monopoly upon the legal system and is being used against We the People by having superior sworn oaths to the United Nations and the “Rule of Law”, evidenced in “The BAR Treaty of 1947”, and we reserve our right to defend ourselves in court or to have a lawyer/law sayer, of our choice to represent us in court against these magistrates who have time and time again, taken it upon themselves to legislate from the bench and under the color of law make a ruling that is of their own decision and not concluded on by a jury of our PEERS. We also stand by the fact that we won the Revolutionary War, that all income taxes started during the civil war and were merely optional. They are nothing more than gifts or bequests, have never been, and are not now mandatory. It is not hard to enforce any kind of tax law. Whether a member decides to voluntarily give such gifts is of their own choice and should be. But this association will not be incorporating for reasons of classification of taxed unlawfully.

Bylaws of WA Rights Renewal: Empowering Electoral & Political Change

Article I: Name

The name of the organization shall be WA Rights Renewal: Empowering Electoral & Political Change, hereinafter referred to as "the Association."

Article II: Purpose

The purposes of the Association are:

- To ensure electoral integrity
- To Promote political reform
- To Uphold constitutional rights through vigilant oversight, public engagement, educational initiatives, and strategic litigation
- To Inspire Community engagement and support for each other by taking on separate roles that will help us all and provide every one of us with the benefit of a safe and secure state of being.
- To create another organic and NON-GMO source of food for our members only
- To Train each other in safety of arms. To aim, clean, assemble and disassemble, meticulously keep, and store, and be taught the laws of engagement.
- To create a HAM radio emergency frequency that will be watched 24/7 in shifts by safety committee members to be able to receive distress signals and be able to sound the alarm for any members that have volunteered to respond to emergency situations to arrive armed and ready to always resolve a conflict peacefully first.

- To Raise funds to see real actions and litigation taken to restore our fundamental rights through multiple strategic actions that shall carry out the President and the Executive Board’s goals and indeed that of the people.
- To make We the People’s voices more united and therefore more powerful during legislative sessions
- To Reform the government and retract every unconstitutional policy with the techniques that the President and Chairs will teach to all the members in the applicable committees.
- To hold our elected officials accountable for their actions by leveraging them with lawsuits that we file at once the next day every time as needed herein, thereby having a proven record of accomplishment of never crying wolf.
- To have paper ballots once again, a new holiday to vote on, and a single day to count ballots and produce the results. No machines or online voter tracking records.

Article III: Membership

Membership is open to individuals committed to the association's goals, with roles defined by participation in specific committees or functions within the organization. There shall be a onetime sign-up cost of membership with the amount by the executive board, to join the association. The Executive board could impose a subscription membership if it is needed/wanted and agreed upon by 2/3 minimum quorum.

Article IV: Organizational Structure

Central Committee:

The Central Committee is comprised of all members of the Association and is where the members can voice their opinions as to the leadership, committee functions, bring resolutions for how they believe the Association could be operating better, address complaints about leadership, voice praise and progress reports of committees, inform each other of important current state and world issues, bringing new legislation to the associations radar, bringing ideas for new fundraising opportunities, providing an opportunity to invite candidates to speak and be voted on for endorsement at their request and by a motion being presented and seconded, and any other pertinent issues. The President will speak at each meeting to update the body of the current objectives, progress on current objectives/litigation, announcements about above and beyond efforts that brought the Association success by certain members of committees that deserve to be applauded and awarded if possible, and describe how the Associations separation of powers if you will, is working or not working.

Executive Board:

Serves as the overarching governing body, including all committee chairs and executive officers. Meets monthly to review progress, take votes on any pertinent issues, approves funding requests, revises by-laws at the central committee request/approval, reviews “Robert’s Rules” with/after the secretary comes up with a written report of how we can condense and simplify the conduct of meetings to keep it more relaxed and workable and not be wasting time going over the rules constantly or looking for loopholes or manipulating the process to get someone’s way. Each executive board member must contribute a minimum of 40 hours per week, with fair compensation reflecting their dedication and the professional nature of their roles. Their collective responsibilities include strategic planning, fiscal management, oversight of committee activities, and public representation of the Association’s values and goals. They organize fundraising activities, secure the venues, and attend committee meetings to give guest speeches and education as needed.

President:

The President’s role is multifaceted, encompassing leadership, strategic oversight, and external representation. Beyond guiding the Association’s strategic direction, the President engages deeply with each committee’s work, providing knowledge and motivation. They handle publishing work that articulates the Association’s vision, inspiring volunteers, and donors. The President ensures that committee efforts integrated effectively into broader strategies, leading to tangible impacts on political reform and electoral integrity. Serves as the visionary leader, standing for the Association publicly, guiding strategic direction, and keeping a comprehensive understanding of national and global contexts. The President actively engages with committees, offering educational insights and ensuring efforts support the overarching goals. Also gives direction to committees as needed to support intended or pending litigation and will assign duties of sending out public record requests for needed evidence.

Vice-President:

Assists the President with strategic and administrative tasks, ensuring effective leadership and organizational cohesion. Works very closely with the President and handles any work that the President needs addressed. The duties of the Vice President are short because it is mostly to directly help the President with whatever he may need to keep to his schedule and to help him develop strategic plans, lots of help reading all the PRRs, write up summaries of what is in the reports from the PRRs that were acquired by the Drafting Committee, and write up reports to the executive board of things the President would like voted on, or funds to be allocated toward if possible.

Treasurer:

Manages the Associations finances, oversees fundraising efforts, and provides transparent financial reports to the Central Committee. Secures the venues for the fundraisers. Manages Bank accounts, makes sure the Associations donations from the website get into the bank account main fund. There shall always be a need for two signatures for deposits and withdrawals. All accounting shall be by accepted methods and best practices. The treasurer shall confirm that donated funds correctly get distributed. It is also the treasurer’s duty to send out thank you letters to all who donated, any books or items donated will have the donors' names on them with a decal or sticker, and signs for sponsors of events shall fly during a sponsored event. The treasurer will get multiple bids for the signs through various sign shops and bring it before the executive board for a vote.

Secretary:

Organizes executive and central committee meetings, keeps records, reviews “Robert’s Rules” and figures out what the core needed parts of it are and formulates the best ways to conduct meetings and sends a draft to the executive board for voting on. Organizes, and produces ideas for fundraisers with the Presidents input, and schedules, advertises, creates flyers to give to committee members and to hand out for advertising for customers.

Committees:

Each committee, including VRDB, Legislative Accountability PAC, Outreach and Canvassing, Drafting, and Safety Committees, focuses on specific aspects of the Associations mission, led by appointed chairs by the executive board. The Chairpersons report to the executive board what progress has been made or accomplished and the board approves the agenda and disclosure of progress as long as it is not part of strategic plans for litigation or other effect that is in the ultimate interests of We the People and will be released at the central committee as soon as disclosure is possible.

Article V: Meetings

1) Central Committee Meetings:
   Held monthly for strategic updates, progress updates, and coordination of committee efforts, and lots of time to potluck and/or eat and relax and talk with other members that are not in their committees at the time. Also, members can bring resolutions, complaints, ideas, requests for funding to the body of members and executive board here for introduction.
2) Committee Meetings:
   Each committee meets as needed, with a minimum frequency outlined in their specific guidelines, to advance their goals.
3) Executive Board Meetings:
   Held at least once a month in person. Hears the Presidents plan of action and provides advice and suggestions or disagreement. The board oversees passing by 2/3 minimum quorum being present during a vote on strategic actions, resolutions, amendments, fiscal budget.

Article VI: Financial Management

Financial contributions and fundraising proceeds shall be transparently managed, with regular reporting by the Treasurer. Fundraising initiatives coordinate across committees to support the Association’s goals.

Article VII: Safety and Preparedness

The Association emphasizes the importance of community safety, responsible firearms use, and preparedness. The Safety Committee leads efforts to educate members and set up a network for rapid response and mutual aid through HAM radio frequencies.

Article VIII: Communication

1) Internal Communication:

   Maintained through regular meetings, digital platforms, and a Ham radio network for emergency coordination.

2) Public Engagement:
   The Association uses a comprehensive digital presence, including a website and social media usage of telegram, to engage the public, send information, and mobilize support.

Article IX: Amendments

These bylaws are subject to change following a comprehensive review, discussion period, and there shall have to be a two-thirds majority vote by the Central Committee to pass.

Article X: Dissolution

In case of dissolution, any remaining assets will be distributed to organizations with similar goals, as decided by the Central Committee, in compliance with applicable laws.

Committees within WA Rights Renewal

Election Integrity Committee

The Election Integrity Committee embodies the association's commitment to returning elections to the people through a transparent, secure, and constitutionally faithful process. By implementing the Election Reformation Framework, the committee eliminates the vulnerabilities of digital systems and restores public trust in the democratic process. Its dedication to precision, security, and accountability ensures that every vote is cast and counted with integrity, safeguarding the foundational principles of self-governance and sovereignty.

Legislative Accountability PAC

This committee is at the forefront of legislative engagement, watching daily legislative activities and educating its members on key legislative processes. Responsibilities include analyzing bills, reading the revisions and amendments, and understanding the implications of proposed legislation. The Committee shall work on reviewing bills for their unconstitutionality and not being anything that We the People have consented to. The chair eases real-time collaboration and strategizing, aiming to influence legislation effectively. This is an incredibly involved committee that could potentially affect your personal lives and shall act very seriously. It also works with the Drafting Committee to accumulate important educational Law books to create the Associations Law Library and distributes a copy of Black's Law dictionary, and pocket handbooks of the Constitution and Declaration of Independence.

Outreach and Canvassing Committee

The Outreach and Canvassing Committee serves as the critical connection between the association's vision and the community it represents. By emphasizing in-person engagement, constitutional education, and grassroots efforts, the committee fosters trust, transparency, and accountability. It is dedicated to ensuring every eligible voter is registered through secure, non-digital means and is fully informed about the reformed election process. Moving away from the flawed systems of the past, the committee's face-to-face approach restores confidence in self-governance and sovereignty while reinforcing the association's mission to empower communities and uphold constitutional integrity.

Drafting Committee

Responsible for creating impactful legislation, the Drafting Committee drafts resolutions, bills, and amendments. Directives from the President to send out PRRs for specific needs of evidence for litigation will be common and the chair will have an online calendar that the members will update with progress. It offers support to members in legislative drafting, encourages collaborative work on proposals, and educates members on the intricacies of legislative drafting. The chair mentors' new members and provides resources for effective drafting as well as developing the Law Library with the Legislative PAC Safety Committee:

Drawing inspiration from historical precedents, the Safety Committee focuses on community resilience and preparedness. Activities include educational programs on constitutional rights, setting up a supportive network for mutual aid, and developing readiness for emergencies. This committee also fosters a culture of responsible firearm use and safety and teaches proper use of HAM radios setting up a frequency for emergencies of any member that needs help. Volunteers in shifts by members of the committee that as needed send out calls for those that wish to respond to such calls for help.

Safety Committee

The Safety Committee is the backbone of community resilience within the Association, dedicated to fostering preparedness, self-sufficiency, and sustainable living. By promoting firearm safety, establishing emergency communication networks, and spearheading innovative solutions for energy and water needs, the committee ensures that members are equipped to face challenges while maintaining independence and security.

Through hands-on training, resource-sharing, and the development of off-the-grid solutions, the Safety Committee creates a culture of proactive readiness. It emphasizes teamwork, volunteerism, and the empowerment of individuals to protect themselves, their families, and their communities. Whether addressing immediate emergencies, fostering long-term sustainability, or enhancing self-reliance, the Safety Committee embodies the association’s commitment to protecting and strengthening the foundation of self-governance.

Addiction Recovery and Sobriety Outreach Program

The Addiction Recovery and Sobriety Outreach Program provides a faith-centered approach to overcoming addiction and supporting long-term sobriety. Designed as an alternative to traditional recovery models, this program empowers individuals to proclaim victory over addiction after 90 days of sobriety, fostering hope and a sense of accomplishment. Through structured meetings that emphasize personal transformation, praise reports, and reliance on God, the program builds a supportive community focused on healing and renewal. Meetings are held three evenings a week, led by individuals who have successfully recovered and are dedicated to guiding others on their journey to freedom from addiction.

Elections Belong to the People: Reclaiming Sovereignty and Restoring Integrity

Elections are the cornerstone of democracy, entrusted to the people to ensure that governance remains transparent, accountable, and representative of the public will. However, in recent years, counties, states, and even federal authorities have systematically failed to protect this sacred process. Through neglect, overreach, and deliberate circumvention of national security protocols, they have compromised the integrity of elections, leaving them vulnerable to cyber threats and undermining public trust.

This failure necessitates a bold reclaiming of electoral sovereignty under the 9th and 10th Amendments, empowering the people to assert their rights and restore elections to their proper place as the foundation of self-governance.

Systemic Failures in Election Security

1. Digital Vulnerabilities:
    - By taking election systems online, counties and states have introduced unnecessary risks into the voting process. Machines and networks, once touted as convenient and efficient, have become liabilities in a global landscape rife with weaponized cyber threats and covert malware.
    - Evidence has shown that internet-connected systems are particularly susceptible to data breaches, manipulation, and disruption, threatening the accuracy and legitimacy of election results.
2. Circumvention of National Security Protocols:
    - Executive Order 13800 mandates adherence to the NIST Cybersecurity Framework (NIST CSF) for critical infrastructure, which explicitly includes elections. Despite this, many states and counties have failed to meet these standards, relying instead on vendor self-assessments or internal audits that lack independent validation.
    - This deliberate sidestepping of federally mandated compliance has created a patchwork of insecure systems, exposing elections to risks from both foreign and domestic actors.
3. Willful Negligence by Public Officials:

- The decision to allow election vendors and contractors to self-assess compliance with security protocols demonstrates a profound dereliction of duty. Vendors, incentivized by profit rather than public interest, have consistently prioritized convenience and cost-cutting over robust security measures.
- By failing to conduct necessary third-party audits or enforce compliance with federal cybersecurity requirements, states have not only violated federal law but also undermined the public's confidence in the election process.

Reclaiming Elections Under the 9th and 10th Amendments

The 9th and 10th Amendments of the Constitution affirm that powers not delegated to the federal government nor prohibited to the states are reserved to the people. The people are the sovereign authority in matters of governance, and when institutions fail to protect their rights, it becomes their duty to reclaim control.

1. The People's Sovereignty:
    - Elections are not the property of any government entity; they belong to the people. The right to a free and fair election is foundational to sovereignty, and any threat to that right constitutes a direct assault on the principles of self-governance.
2. The Duty to Act:
    - Given the willful negligence of counties and states, it is imperative for the people to take back control of the electoral process. This includes:
        - Eliminating electronic systems from the voting process to ensure elections are entirely free from cyber threats.
        - Establishing a new, transparent framework for conducting elections at the precinct level, grounded in the principles of paper ballots, public observation, and manual tabulation.
        - Holding public officials accountable for failing to meet their obligations under federal law and the Constitution.

Addressing the National Security Risks

1. The Cyber Threat Landscape:
    - The current election systems, intertwined with internet connectivity and vendor-controlled software, are ripe targets for foreign adversaries and domestic bad actors. Malware, hacking, and data manipulation have become the modern-day equivalents of ballot tampering.

2. Violations of Federal Law:
    - By circumventing EO 13800 and neglecting the NIST CSF, states and counties have created state matrices of compliance that exist outside national security frameworks. These matrices:
        - Enable non-compliance by design, exploiting loopholes and relying on vendor assurances.
        - Create inconsistencies that jeopardize the integrity of the national election infrastructure.
3. The People's Solution:
    - Complete Removal of Vulnerable Systems: The use of machines and internet-connected devices in any aspect of elections must be abolished. This is not optional—it is a matter of national security.
    - Precinct-Level Accountability: Elections must be returned to local precincts, with paper ballots and manual counting overseen by citizens. This eliminates opportunities for tampering and restores public confidence in the process.

A Path Forward: Reclaiming and Reforming Elections

To safeguard elections against further compromise, the people must take bold action to assert their rights and implement meaningful reforms:

1. Restoring Transparency:
    - Establish independent, citizen-led oversight committees to monitor election activities and enforce constitutional compliance.
    - Require all election systems to undergo third-party audits verified against federal cybersecurity standards.
2. Ensuring Accountability:
    - Demand investigations into state and county failures to comply with EO 13800 and NIST CSF requirements.
    - Hold public officials, vendors, and contractors accountable for any breaches or vulnerabilities resulting from their negligence.
3. Rebuilding Trust:
    - Shift the election process back to the hands of the people through a framework that prioritizes security, transparency, and community involvement.

- Reinforce the principles of self-governance by empowering citizens to take an active role in protecting their electoral rights.

The failures of counties and states to uphold their constitutional and legal responsibilities in election security have left the system vulnerable and the public disenfranchised. This negligence cannot and will not stand. Under the 9th and 10th Amendments, the people have the authority and obligation to reclaim their electoral process and restore the integrity of American democracy. By taking decisive action to eliminate cyber vulnerabilities, enforce national security protocols, and rebuild elections around transparency and accountability, the people can secure the future of their governance and ensure that their voices are heard. Elections belong to the people, and it is the people who must protect them.

Election Reformation Framework

"The Election Reformation Framework is a definitive approach to restoring public confidence in electoral integrity. By addressing vulnerabilities in modern voting systems, this framework emphasizes transparency, constitutional adherence, and community-driven oversight. Central to its design are rigorous checks on every phase of the electoral process, ensuring that every vote is verifiable and every result indisputable. This framework is not just a set of rules but a commitment to the foundational principle that governance derives its authority from the consent of the governed."

Core Tenets of the Election Process

1. Paper Ballots and Precinct-Level Voting:
    - All voting will occur exclusively on paper ballots, eliminating the risks associated with digital vulnerabilities and providing a tangible, auditable record for every vote cast.
    - Voting is conducted in-person at precinct-level voting centers, fostering local engagement and ensuring that every voter’s participation is directly tied to their community.
    - The use of precinct-based voting centers simplifies logistics, enables clear accountability, and creates a more transparent election process.
2. State and National Voting Holidays:

- Election days will be designated as state and national public holidays, ensuring all voters can participate without work or scheduling conflicts.
- Employers will be legally required to provide paid leave for voting. Non-compliance will result in significant penalties, reinforcing the importance of voting as a civic duty and constitutional right.
- This holiday designation eliminates common barriers to voter participation, creating an environment where all eligible citizens can exercise their rights.

3. Voter Pre-Registration with ID:

    - Voters must pre-register at least seven working days before the election (weekends are excluded from this time-frame), ensuring ample time for registration verification and accurate ballot allocation.
    - Registration requires the submission of proof of identity, address, and date of birth, which is logged physically in precinct-specific ledgers. This avoids the risks of centralized digital systems and ensures data integrity.
    - Registrations are confirmed through a meticulous process, and photocopies of identification documents are securely filed with alphabetical precision for reference on election day.

4. Absentee and UOCAVA Voting:

    - Absentee Voting:
        - Absentee voters must pre-register at least three working weeks (15 working days) before election day, excluding weekends, to ensure sufficient processing time.
        - Absentee ballots are mailed out two working weeks (10 working days) prior to the election, providing voters enough time to receive, complete, and return their ballots.
    - UOCAVA Voting (Uniformed and Overseas Citizens Absentee Voting Act):
        - UOCAVA voters must pre-register at least one month (20 working days) before election day. This ensures their ballots can be prioritized for expedited mailing and return.
        - UOCAVA ballots are processed and mailed before any other category, guaranteeing they reach overseas voters in time.

5. Working Days as the Standard:

    - All deadlines are calculated in working days (Monday through Friday, excluding weekends and public holidays). This ensures clarity and avoids confusion caused by varying interpretations of calendar days.

- The use of working days accounts for the operational schedules of print shops, transportation services, and election offices, ensuring all timelines are realistic and achievable.

6. Clarity and Fairness in Deadlines:
    - All registration and ballot-related deadlines are publicly communicated well in advance of each election.
    - This transparency ensures that voters are fully aware of the requirements and timelines, reducing last-minute confusion and increasing participation.

Ballot Security and Printing

1. Paper Selection

1. Secure Watermark-Embedded Paper:
    - All ballots are printed on secure, watermark-embedded paper, designed to prevent duplication or forgery.
    - Each election cycle utilizes a randomly selected paper type, ensuring no predictability in the materials used.
2. Variations for Anti-Counterfeiting:
    - Color, texture, and font design are varied for each election, adding additional layers of security.
    - These variations ensure ballots cannot be pre-purchased, preprinted, or counterfeited.
3. Specification Determination:
    - The Election Integrity Committee (EIC) Chair selects the paper type, design elements, and security features five weeks before printing.
    - Specifications remain strictly confidential until procurement begins, minimizing risks of tampering or fraud.
4. Vendor Oversight:
    - Vendors providing ballot paper are vetted for compliance with security and confidentiality requirements.
    - A full inventory of materials used, including excess paper, is logged and reconciled to ensure no unauthorized production.

2. Funding:

State Elections:

- State elections are fully funded by state budgets, ensuring resources are allocated for:
    - Ballot production: Covers the costs of paper procurement, printing, and security features such as watermark-embedded designs.
    - Secure transportation: Includes costs for law enforcement escorts and secure storage equipment, such as tamper-evident drop boxes.
    - Election day operations: Funds staffing at precincts, private voting booths, and other logistical necessities.

Federal Elections:

- Federal elections are funded by federal grants provided to states, ensuring:
    - Comprehensive coverage of election-related costs, including printing and securing ballots.
    - Support for transportation logistics and law enforcement involvement to safeguard ballot movement and storage.
    - Financing of voter accessibility initiatives, such as free transportation services (e.g., shuttles and buses) to precincts.

Transparency in Funding Allocation:

- All funding, whether state or federal, is subject to strict documentation and audit requirements.
- Detailed expense reports are maintained to ensure funds are used exclusively for election-related purposes.
- Periodic reviews are conducted to confirm compliance with budgetary guidelines and eliminate any misuse of allocated resources.

3. Printing Process:

- Print shops receive specific instructions on paper types and ballot designs five weeks before the election, allowing adequate time for procurement and preparation.
- Printing is completed in phases:
    - UOCAVA ballots are printed first to allow sufficient time for expedited mailing and return.
    - Absentee ballots are printed next, followed by in-person ballots, with quantities based on finalized pre-registration counts.
- Each batch of printed ballots is sealed in tamper-evident packaging, labeled by precinct, and documented for transport.

2. Accountability for Materials:

- Print shops are required to document and track all ballot materials, including:
    - Misprinted or defective ballots, which are marked "VOID," securely stored, and reconciled with production logs.
    - Unused materials, including surplus paper, returned to the county auditor for verification and inventory reconciliation.
- Every ballot batch is assigned a unique tracking number, logged in the county's election records, and monitored through its chain of custody.

Chain-of-Custody Protocols

1. Transportation and Storage:
    - Ballots are transported from print shops to precinct voting centers under a dedicated security detail.
    - Upon arrival, ballots are verified against precinct-specific ledgers and stored in locked drop boxes until election day.
2. Election Day Access:
    - Drop boxes are unlocked on election day morning for ballot distribution, monitored by law enforcement.
    - After voting concludes, all ballots are returned to the drop boxes, which are then securely locked until counting begins.
3. Tracking and Logs:
    - A detailed log tracks every step of ballot transportation and storage, documenting quantities, locations, and times.

Election Day Procedures

1. Voting Centers:
    - Voting centers are centrally located in accessible venues, such as schools, churches, or community centers, ensuring convenience for all voters within each precinct.
    - Each center is equipped with private voting booths, featuring curtains, doors, or similar enclosures to provide a secluded environment for voters to mark their ballots anonymously.

- Booths are arranged to prevent visibility of voting activity from any angle, guaranteeing voter privacy and eliminating external influence.

2. Verification and Ballot Issuance:
    - Upon arrival, voters present government-issued photo ID matching their registration details recorded in the physical precinct ledger.
    - The verification process includes:
        - Checking the voter's name in the precinct-specific ledger.
        - Confirming identity using the photocopied ID submitted during registration, which is retrieved from secure alphabetical files.
    - Once verified, voters sign the ledger and receive an anonymous ballot, ensuring their participation is recorded without compromising the secrecy of their vote.
3. Marking and Submitting Ballots:
    - Voters proceed to the private voting booths, where they mark their ballots using standardized pens provided by the center. Personal writing instruments are not permitted to ensure uniformity and prevent tampering.
    - Upon completion, ballots are placed in blank envelopes to maintain anonymity.
    - Enveloped ballots are submitted into secure drop boxes located within the voting center, under continuous supervision by designated staff and law enforcement.

Ballot Counting and Observations

1. Manual Counting:
    - Ballots are manually counted by teams of two counters, with each ballot reviewed by both individuals to ensure accuracy.
    - Results from each batch are logged in a master tabulation ledger, which is publicly accessible for observers to review during the counting process.
    - Completed batches of ballots are immediately sealed in tamper-evident envelopes with batch numbers for secure storage before the next batch is counted.
2. Public Display of Totals:
    - An offline, tower-style computer is used to display vote totals transparently in real time:
        - The computer must be purchased without any network, Bluetooth, or Wi-Fi adapters installed to prevent connectivity.
        - It is inspected pre-election by neutral computer hardware experts with no electoral ties to verify its offline and secure status.

        - Only minimal software is pre-loaded, such as a calculator and notepad, ensuring the computer is used solely for displaying and calculating totals.
        - Updates to the displayed totals are manually entered by designated staff in full view of the public, ensuring transparency in all calculations.
        - The computer is used exclusively for this purpose and is stored securely under law enforcement supervision after the election.
3. Observer Participation:
    - Observers are allowed to monitor the entire counting process, including reviewing the master tabulation ledger and watching real-time updates on the public display.
    - Any concerns raised by observers, such as discrepancies in tallies or handling irregularities, are addressed immediately under law enforcement oversight.
    - Observers may request recounts during or immediately after tallying if discrepancies are identified, ensuring all concerns are resolved transparently.

Post-Election Reporting

1. Precinct-Level Reporting:
    - Once all ballots are counted, precinct staff report results via speakerphone to the county auditor in the presence of observers, precinct staff, and law enforcement. This ensures transparency and accountability in the reporting process.
    - The master tabulation ledger, along with real-time tally records displayed during counting, is reconciled with the precinct totals before submission to the county auditor.
    - Documentation from the election, including:
        - Signed registration ledgers.
        - Ballot issuance logs.
        - Tamper-evident drop box seal records.
        - Invalid ballots and associated documentation (e.g., photocopied IDs and registration information), is securely sealed and stored for future audits. This ensures all records are readily available for verification, recounts, or investigations as needed.
2. County and State Reporting:
    - County Level:
        - County auditors receive results from all precincts and verify the accuracy of totals before compiling them into a county-wide report.

        - During this process, county auditors host a live public conference call, during which:
            - Each precinct's reported totals are reviewed aloud.
            - Observers may raise concerns if discrepancies arise between reported totals and publicly visible precinct results.
    - State Level:
        - Once county results are verified, county auditors collectively report to the Secretary of State (SOS) via a live conference call that includes law enforcement oversight and opportunities for observer participation.
        - During the state-level call:
            - County results are cross-verified with precinct totals to ensure accuracy and completeness.
            - Any identified discrepancies are resolved before the final results are tallied and validated.
    - After final validation, the SOS publicly announces results, ensuring every stage of reporting is documented and audit-able.
3. Continuous Counting Until Completion:
    - Ballot counting at precincts continues uninterrupted until every valid vote has been tallied, ensuring there are no delays or breaks in the process.
    - During the counting process, observers and law enforcement are present to monitor activity and address concerns.
    - Results are only reported once:
        - Precinct totals are reconciled with the master tabulation ledger.
        - All materials, including uncounted or invalidated ballots, are accounted for and securely stored.
4. Audit Preparation:
    - At the conclusion of precinct-level reporting, all records are sealed and transferred to county auditors under law enforcement supervision.
    - Auditors ensure that all precinct documentation, including drop box logs, invalid ballot records, and master tabulation ledgers, is securely archived.
    - The SOS compiles a state-wide audit report detailing:
        - Total ballots issued, cast, and invalidated.
        - Chain-of-custody logs for ballot transport and storage.
        - Precinct-level discrepancies or challenges raised during the counting and reporting process.

Accessibility and Security

1. Transportation Services:
    - Free shuttles and buses are provided to ensure all voters can access their designated voting centers, regardless of personal circumstances or mobility challenges.
    - Voters can schedule rides through a dedicated hotline, with a 24-hour notice preferred to ensure efficient route planning. However, same-day requests are accommodated whenever possible, ensuring no voter is left without transportation on election day.
    - Hotline operators maintain communication with drivers via mobile devices, enabling real-time adjustments for last-minute voter pickups or route deviations.
    - Transportation costs are covered as follows:
        - State budgets fund services for state elections.
        - Federal grants support transportation during federal elections, ensuring no financial burden falls on local governments.
2. Neutral Environment:
    - To maintain a neutral and intimidation-free voting atmosphere:
        - No campaigning, signs, banners, or electioneering of any kind is allowed within one block of voting centers.
        - Law enforcement patrols the vicinity of voting centers throughout the day to enforce this rule and prevent voter intimidation or interference.
    - Voters retain the right to wear clothing or accessories that express personal beliefs or affiliations, as these are protected forms of free speech. However, the use of private voting booths ensures that voters can make their decisions free from external influence.
3. Law Enforcement Oversight:
    - Local sheriffs and deputies oversee all aspects of security on election day, including:
        - Monitoring ballot transportation from print shops to precincts and ensuring all materials are securely stored.
        - Supervising precinct operations, ensuring that election procedures are followed, and maintaining the safety of voters and staff.
        - Managing the secure handling and transportation of ballots after polls close, ensuring chain-of-custody protocols are strictly adhered to.

- Additional deputies may be deputized if necessary to meet security demands, with costs covered by state budgets for state elections and federal grants for federal elections.

Audit and Fraud Prevention

1. Invalid Registration Filing System:
    - Invalid Ballots:
        - Any ballot associated with an invalid registration is marked with a large "X" on both sides and sealed in a tamper-evident envelope.
        - The envelope contains the photocopied ID submitted during registration and any notes regarding the reason for invalidation (e.g., mismatched ID or unverifiable details).
    - Filing and Storage:
        - Envelopes are labeled with the registrant's name and stored alphabetically in a secure filing cabinet, accessible only to authorized personnel for audit purposes.
        - The filing cabinet is physically secured, with an access log maintained to ensure accountability.
    - Repeat Invalid Registrations:
        - Repeat attempts to vote with invalid registrations (e.g., mismatched or fraudulent ID) are flagged for investigation.
        - A report detailing these instances is submitted to the Attorney General's office, triggering an inquiry into potential election fraud.
2. Comprehensive Documentation:
    - Registration Ledgers:
        - Physical ledgers from each precinct are meticulously maintained, recording every registered voter and cross-referencing with issued and cast ballots.
    - Ballot Logs:
        - Logs track every ballot, including those issued, cast, invalidated, and unused, ensuring complete traceability throughout the election process.
    - Drop Box Records:
        - Detailed drop box records, including chain-of-custody logs and tamper seal numbers, are maintained and made available for public audit upon request.
    - All documentation is securely stored and organized to facilitate post-election audits, ensuring transparency and accountability at every level.

Securing the Future of Democracy: A Commitment to Integrity and Accountability

The Election Process Reform Framework represents a transformative approach to rebuilding public trust in the electoral process. By addressing systemic vulnerabilities and reinforcing the constitutional principles of transparency, fairness, and accountability, this framework ensures every voter's voice is counted, safeguarded, and respected. It provides a comprehensive operational plan that prioritizes integrity at every step, from secure pre-registration to thorough post-election audits.

At the heart of this framework is a commitment to security, achieved through:

- Exclusive use of paper ballots to eliminate digital vulnerabilities.
- Implementation of rigorous chain-of-custody protocols for every aspect of ballot management.
- Utilization of secure, watermark-embedded ballot paper with randomized features to prevent counterfeiting.

The framework ensures transparency by:

- Inviting public observation throughout the election process, from ballot counting to reporting.
- Employing open, offline tabulation systems that demonstrate real-time transparency without the risks of digital interference.
- Maintaining meticulous documentation at all stages for future audits and accountability.

Community involvement is central to this vision, with a return to precinct-level operations and active participation by local volunteers. These measures foster grassroots engagement and trust while empowering communities to take ownership of their electoral process.

Through robust oversight and innovative accountability mechanisms, the framework sets a new standard for electoral management. Each procedure, from voter registration to post-election reporting, is designed to uphold fairness, prevent fraud, and ensure accessibility, securing elections as a pillar of self-governance.

The WA Rights Renewal framework is not merely a reform—it is a call to action for citizens to reclaim their role in governance. It is a pledge to uphold democratic principles and protect the fundamental rights enshrined in the Constitution. By restoring integrity to the electoral process, it reaffirms the sovereignty of the people over their government.

This is more than an election reform; it is a redefinition of democracy—a system built by the people, for the people, and with the people. Together, we commit to a future where governance is transparent, just, and accountable, ensuring the voices of citizens shape the course of our democracy for generations to come.

Election Integrity Committee

Purpose, Focus, and Structure

- The Election Integrity Committee (EIC) is the operational backbone of the association's Election Reformation Framework, responsible for implementing and overseeing every element of the reformed voting process. The committee's primary mission is to ensure elections are conducted with transparency, security, and strict adherence to constitutional principles, restoring public trust in the electoral system and re-establishing the foundation of self-governance.
- The EIC is tasked with managing all critical functions related to the electoral process, including voter registration, ballot allocation and security, election day operations, and absentee/UOCAVA ballot management. Centralizing these roles under a single committee ensures seamless coordination, minimizes vulnerabilities, and guarantees adherence to the framework's goals of electoral integrity, fairness, and accountability.
- To efficiently manage these multifaceted responsibilities, the EIC operates under the leadership of a dedicated Chairperson, supported by specialized sub-teams, each focusing on distinct aspects of the election process:
    1. Voter Registration Team:
        - Manages all voter registration activities, ensuring accuracy, security, and compliance with framework protocols.
        - Oversees the collection and filing of voter identification documents in secure, alphabetized systems, accessible for verification on election day.
        - Tracks registration deadlines, calculated in working days, and ensures pre-registration processes are accessible and efficient.
    2. Ballot Management Team:
        - Supervises the secure production, allocation, and transportation of ballots, ensuring the use of watermark-embedded, randomized paper types to prevent fraud.

        - Implements strict chain-of-custody protocols for all ballot materials, from print shops to precinct drop boxes.
        - Conducts meticulous reconciliation of printed, used, unused, and invalid ballots to ensure accountability.
    3. Election Day Coordination Team:
        - Manages on-the-ground operations at voting centers, ensuring accessibility, voter privacy, and adherence to election day protocols.
        - Coordinates with precinct staff to handle voter check-ins, secure drop box operations, and law enforcement oversight for maintaining a neutral and intimidation-free environment.
        - Oversees the real-time reporting of precinct-level results, ensuring transparency and accuracy in all communications.
    4. Audit and Reporting Team:
        - Maintains comprehensive records of all election-related activities, including voter registration logs, ballot issuance and use, and chain-of-custody documentation.
        - Prepares for post-election audits by securely archiving all materials and ensuring immediate access for review and recounts.
        - Tracks and investigates invalid registrations, ensuring repeat offenses are flagged for action by the Attorney General and that all records are available for public confidence and accountability.
- The EIC Chair serves as the primary coordinator, ensuring the smooth operation of all sub-teams, compliance with framework standards, and swift resolution of any challenges or discrepancies. This role also involves liaising with external entities, such as the Secretary of State, County Auditors, and law enforcement, to uphold the integrity of the electoral process.
- By centralizing these responsibilities within a structured, specialized committee, the EIC guarantees the operational excellence, transparency, and accountability necessary to conduct elections that reflect the will of the people while upholding the constitutional principles of self-governance.

Operational Details

Voter Registration Oversight:

- Ensures that voter registration occurs exclusively through in-person events or via a dedicated Election Integrity hotline.

        - Hotline registrants must fax a copy of their photo ID, including name, date of birth, and address.
        - The faxed ID is printed and saved in an alphabetized physical file corresponding to the precinct ledger.
- Maintains physical precinct-specific ledgers that:
    - Serve as the official index for voter verification and signature collection on election day.
    - Are cross-referenced with the alphabetized ID files for secure and efficient validation.

Election Day Verification and Ballot Distribution:

- Oversees voter check-in at precinct voting centers:
    - Verifies the voter's identity by matching their name in the precinct ledger with their faxed ID in the alphabetized file and the physical ID they present on election day.
    - Ensures all ID verification matches before allowing the voter to sign the ledger and receive their anonymous ballot.
- Guarantees that ballots are stored securely in locked drop boxes at the precinct until election day morning when they are distributed to voters.

Ballot Allocation and Security:

- Ensures the precise number of ballots is allocated to each precinct based on pre-election registration totals.
- Works with county auditors to print ballots on secure, watermark-embedded paper and manage all materials, including:
    - Tracking the number of ballots printed, used, and unused.
    - Securely storing misprinted or surplus materials to prevent unauthorized use.
- Supervises the secure delivery of ballots to precincts and their storage in locked drop boxes until election day.

Absentee and UOCAVA Ballot Management:

- Manages absentee and UOCAVA registration and ballot distribution:
    - Absentee voters must register at least three weeks before the election, and UOCAVA voters one month prior.
    - Expedites the mailing and return of UOCAVA ballots using prepaid, pre-addressed envelopes.
- Ensures absentee and UOCAVA ballots are reconciled with precinct ledgers to maintain accuracy and accountability.

Election Day Operations:

- Oversees all precinct-level voting centers to ensure compliance with the Election Reformation Framework, including:
    - Voter privacy during ballot casting.
    - Secure handling of all ballots from issuance to drop box storage.
    - Real-time coordination with law enforcement to address any issues promptly.
- Monitors the counting process to ensure ballots are handled and tallied transparently, securely, and with full public accountability.

Data Security and Privacy:

- Maintains strict controls on all voter information, ensuring physical ledgers and ID files are securely stored and accessed only by authorized personnel.
- Implements protocols for secure ballot storage, transportation, and management to protect election integrity at every step.

Training and Public Education:

- Trains committee members, precinct staff, and volunteers on:
    - Voter registration procedures and ID verification protocols.
    - Election day processes, including ledger indexing, ballot issuance, and counting procedures.
    - Ballot security and handling protocols to ensure compliance with the framework.
- Educates the public on the reformed election process, including pre-registration requirements, ID policies, and precinct-level voting.

Election Integrity Committee Chair

The Election Integrity Committee Chair ensures the precise implementation of the Election Reformation Framework, serving as the central figure in maintaining the security, accuracy, and transparency of all electoral processes. This role involves active leadership, meticulous oversight, and personal responsibility for key tasks critical to safeguarding election integrity.

Oversight and Coordination:

- Leads all Election Integrity Committee operations, ensuring alignment with the Election Reformation Framework and adherence to constitutional principles.
- Oversees staff and sub-teams in executing voter registration, ballot management, election day operations, and post-election reporting with precision and transparency.

Voter Registration and Ballot Allocation:

- Ballot Counts:
    - Personally verifies the exact number of ballots required for each precinct based on pre-election registration counts.
    - Tracks all ballots, including printed, unused, and misprinted, ensuring strict accountability and preventing surplus or unauthorized ballots.
- Candidate Placement:
    - Manages direct communication with candidates, ensuring their inclusion on all precinct ballots within their respective districts or counties.
    - Uses GIS mapping software to align candidates with their proper jurisdictions, verifying district boundaries and ballot accuracy.
- District Monitoring:
    - Audits government redistricting efforts to identify gerrymandering or irregular district changes and reports discrepancies to the Secretary of State (SOS) and Attorney General (AG).
    - Ensures precincts are capped at 1,500 voters and that district boundaries comply with legislated cutoff dates.

Ballot Transportation and Drop Box Management:

- Ballot Pickup and Delivery:
    - Personally picks up printed ballots from the print shop under the supervision of a security detail.
    - Verifies that the correct number of ballots for in-person voting has been printed for each precinct.
    - Drives ballots to each precinct with the security detail and matches the count to the precinct ledger at each location.
    - Deposits the verified ballots into locked drop boxes inside voting centers and secures them until election day.

- Drop Box Access and Management:
    - Retains exclusive possession of the keys to all precinct drop boxes.
    - On election day morning, personally unlocks each drop box with the security detail present, ensuring the ballots are ready for distribution.
    - Supervises the re-locking of drop boxes on election night after staff complete the ballot counts, with local law enforcement overseeing the process.

Election Day Responsibilities:

- Precinct Oversight:
    - Ensures that precinct staff follow proper voter verification protocols, including ID checks and ledger matching.
    - Manages invalid registrations:
        - Verifies that individuals without proper ID are not the registered voter and ensures one blank ballot is marked with an “X” on both sides, labeled “Invalid Registration,” and filed in a separate envelope with the photocopied ID and the voter’s name.
        - Collects invalidated ballots from precincts post-election for storage in the alphabetized Invalid Registration Filing Cabinet for audit purposes.
- Auditor Engagement:
    - Attends the county auditor’s office on election night to observe the reporting of precinct results.
    - Ensures all results are accurately tabulated and match reported precinct totals before the auditor submits them to the SOS.

Fraud Prevention and Audit Readiness

1. Invalid Ballot Oversight:
    - Collection and Documentation:
        - Invalidated ballots are marked with a large "X" on both sides and sealed in tamper-evident envelopes along with photocopied IDs submitted during registration.
        - Each envelope is labeled with the registrant’s name and the reason for invalidation and stored alphabetically in a secure filing cabinet accessible only for audits.
    - Fraud Prevention:

        - The secure filing system ensures no fraudulent use or unauthorized voting occurs by keeping invalidated ballots and their supporting documentation readily available for verification.
    - Repeat Invalid Registrations:
        - Tracks repeat instances of invalid voter registrations, flagging them for immediate investigation and reporting to the Attorney General's office.
        - Single instances of invalid registration are documented with detailed notes to determine if they resulted from honest mistakes or intentional misrepresentation.
2. Audit Preparation:
    - Comprehensive Records:
        - Maintains detailed records of all ballot counts, including issued, cast, and invalidated ballots, along with corresponding documentation for each.
        - Tracks and logs drop box activity, including chain-of-custody seals, pick-up schedules, and total counts, to ensure transparency.
    - Audit Readiness:
        - Prepares all election-related materials, including precinct-level ledgers, tamper-sealed ballot envelopes, and real-time tally logs, for post-election audits.
        - Provides easy access to all documentation, ensuring public confidence in the accuracy and integrity of the election process.
    - Observer Participation:
        - Facilitates observer access to all audit materials, creating an open and transparent environment for any recounts or post-election investigations.

Public Accountability and Transparency:

- Acts as the liaison between the Election Integrity Committee and the public, providing updates on registration, ballot transportation, and district integrity efforts.
- Ensures all committee activities are documented and accessible for audits, building trust in the reformed electoral system.

Legislative and Strategic Reporting:

- Reports irregularities in ballot counts, precinct allocations, and district compliance directly to the SOS and AG.
- Works with the Legislative Accountability PAC and Drafting Committee to advocate for legislation that strengthens election integrity.

Vision for the Chair:

The Election Integrity Committee Chair is the linchpin of the association's commitment to electoral security and transparency. By taking personal responsibility for ballot transportation, drop box management, and election day oversight, the Chair guarantees that every ballot is accounted for and every result is accurate. This role exemplifies the highest standards of integrity, ensuring that elections remain secure, fair, and reflective of the will of the people.

Legislative Accountability PAC

Introduction to the Legislative Accountability Committee

The Legislative Accountability Committee (LAC) serves as the watchdog of constitutional governance within the association, tasked with ensuring that all legislative actions align with constitutional principles. It operates with the conviction that no law conflicting with the Constitution holds any legal force, as established in Marbury v. Madison. The LAC is dedicated to protecting the public from legislative overreach by holding elected officials accountable and restoring the integrity of the legislative process.

This committee is rooted in the belief that effective oversight requires active engagement and strategic action. By closely monitoring legislative agendas, engaging with lawmakers, and equipping members with constitutional knowledge and advocacy skills, the LAC empowers citizens to reclaim their rightful role in governance and influence legislation that directly impacts their rights and freedoms.

Core Mission and Operational Approach

1. Legislative Monitoring:
    - The LAC organizes members to actively watch and track legislative committee agendas and developments in real-time, ensuring transparency in the legislative process.
    - This real-time monitoring allows the committee to identify unconstitutional bills early and mobilize members to respond effectively.
2. Constitutional Application:
    - The committee evaluates every proposed bill for its compliance with constitutional principles, ensuring that no legislation infringing on the rights of the people goes unchallenged.

    - By applying a constitutional lens to all legislative activities, the LAC serves as an essential check on elected officials, holding them accountable to their oaths of office.
3. Strategic Advocacy:
    - Members are trained in strategic methods of advocacy by the Chair, following guidance passed down from the President. This training includes:
        - How to effectively question the constitutionality of bills.
        - Timing and delivery strategies to maximize impact during legislative sessions.
    - This proactive approach ensures that committee members are not only informed but also empowered to engage with lawmakers and the public in meaningful ways.
4. Daily Engagement:
    - During legislative sessions, the LAC operates with a sense of urgency, maintaining active daily engagement to monitor developments, prepare responses, and organize advocacy efforts.
    - Members are equipped with the tools to act swiftly, whether through direct communication with representatives, public education campaigns, or participation in legislative hearings.
5. Empowering Citizens:
    - The committee fosters a grassroots approach, organizing town hall debates and public forums to educate the community on legislative processes and equip them with the knowledge to hold their representatives accountable.
    - By sharing insights and updates through live legislative monitoring, the LAC ensures the public remains informed and involved in the democratic process.

Vision for Change

The Legislative Accountability Committee is not just an oversight body but a platform for empowering citizens to become active participants in governance. Its mission extends beyond monitoring and challenging unconstitutional bills; it seeks to cultivate a culture of vigilance and self-governance that restores public trust in the legislative process.

Through its work, the LAC aims to reaffirm the fundamental truth that government derives its power from the consent of the governed. By enabling citizens to hold lawmakers accountable and ensuring legislative actions reflect constitutional principles, the committee upholds the values of liberty, justice, and transparency at the core of American democracy.

Operational Details:

Legislative Monitoring:

- Ensure all members receive daily legislative agendas via email.
- Members split up to cover the legislative committees so they can handle an even distribution of monitoring responsibilities.
- When confronted with a massively long bill, the members may split the bill into sections. This is especially important when dealing with the fiscal bills as they can be 1000 pages long and need our full attention as this is where it goes awry very quickly.

Educational Initiatives:

- Teaches members the differences between bill analyses read to legislators and the original full texts of bills.
- Guides members on how to quickly find what needs revisions, amendments, and the strategic importance of each.
- Teaches them what to say in their testimony so they must stop the bill and review and rewrite it, rather than just saying it was their opinion that it is not a good bill, and they vote no.
- Every Member receives a Black's Law dictionary and learns to always look up words they are not sure of the meaning of and even important to the meaning of the texts words that they think they do know. Law-fare is a whole other language with a whole different dictionary.
- Every Member receives a pocket handbook of the Constitution/Bill of Rights and the Declaration of Independence for quick reference to always carry on them.
- Members learn to be very aware of the real-life blow-back that standing up for your rights publicly does. There exists a built-in support system via HAM radio emergency frequency, but it must be an emergency in very certain circumstances.

Legislative Drafting and Strategy:

Plan of Action (POA):

- A cheat sheet template on legislative drafting shall be accessible to committee members.

- The chair creates a POA detailing methods that shall be for drafting testimonials against bills, making sure that all members understand that they cannot include any threatening language.
- Members are involved in drafting first versions of legislative documents under the chairman's mentorship.
- A Telegram account is set up for file sharing and collaborative drafting, so the chair can be a part of the first drafts of the members that have an ability to submit questions or ask for revision before sending the testimonial.
- Included in the telegram drafting of bills channel, will be members of the Drafting Committee who may as much as they would like, volunteer to help revise and edit the Legislative Accountability PACs written testimonies.
- The chair educates members on analyzing bill texts, understanding bill analyses versus original texts, locating revisions, and finding amendments quickly.
- During busy and hectic times of the Legislative sessions and depending on how they react to having a brand-new committee that is forcing a system of Constitutional “checks and balances” upon them, it is unknown what ways they will use to counter our operations. Because of this factor, the Drafting committee during these times will be on call by the Chair of the Legislative Accountability PAC, for help with reading a massive amount of bills during a short time period, and helping draft the responses sometimes even late into the wee hours of the morning as they like to try to pass bills at 2am that We the People would never agree to. This ends now! We will join our committees' efforts with half reading and highlighting sections while the other half are drafting up responses on highlighted areas in real time at home over telegram. We will show these criminals that We the People are smarter than every one of them and their “good ol’ boy” way of running our state is over! The President will be involved heavily during these times and able to give direction and advice to both chairperson’s while this is occurring.

Member Engagement and Contributions:

- Accepts calls and emails for drafting aid from any "WA Rights Renewal" member or member of the Republican Party.
- Encourages collaborative work on drafting proposals and provides mentorship for new drafters.

Strategic Engagement and Sponsorship:

- Volunteers shall go to Olympia in person to testify against important bills or for good bills that need our support.
- Volunteers shall also appear on Zoom to testify, pro or con, on bills.
- Develops strategies for engaging legislators and securing bill sponsors.
- A designated member or members shall create a written plan of action for obtaining sponsors for bills in Olympia.

This detailed overview outlines the Legislative PAC Committee's responsibilities, emphasizing the importance of legislative monitoring, education, and strategic engagement in influencing policy and legislation. Through dedicated leadership and member collaboration, the committee aims to significantly affect legislative processes, aligning with "WA Rights Renewal: Empowering Electoral & Political Change" goals.

Crafting a comprehensive outline for the Legislative PAC Chairman's role requires a focus on leadership in navigating the complexities of legislative monitoring and advocacy, with an emphasis on the constitutional underpinnings and potential personal risks involved. Here’s how these responsibilities break down:

Legislative Accountability PAC Chair

Leadership and Strategic Oversight:

- Has strong writing skills and a background in resolutions and public records, crucial for guiding PAC investigations.
- Collaborates closely with the President, understanding that public records are the backbone of the PAC’s direction and legal strategies.
- Prepares members for the realities of challenging the legislative status quo, including potential personal and professional risks.

Educational Guidance and Constitutional Expertise:

- Ensures members are well-versed in key legal principles, including Marbury v. Madison, Murdoch v. Pennsylvania, and the foundational documents of American law, from the Constitution and Bill of Rights to state constitutions and the Magna Carta.
- Coordinates educational sessions emphasizing the importance of understanding and asserting constitutional rights against governmental overreach.

Legislative Monitoring and Advocacy:

- Informs members about the criminal or complicit nature of many legislators, highlighting the importance of vigilance and resilience in advocacy.
- Oversees the daily monitoring of legislative activities, assigning each member specific committees to ensure comprehensive coverage.
- Develops strategies for effectively challenging bills, especially focusing on constitutional violations and unethical legislative practices.
- Stays active and alert on the Telegram channel to help members real time with any questions they have while reading bills, and to help with the first-time drafts of members as needed, as well as coordinate the efforts of the Drafting Committee when needed to help during chaotic sessions, and fiscal bills.

Subcommittee Coordination and Public Testimony:

- Forms subcommittees for members willing to appear in Olympia or via Zoom to testify on bills, amplifying the Legislative Accountability PAC's impact.
- Reviews member testimonies before they speak publicly until they are well known to be proficient and careful with their word choice, to ensure they are cogent, constitutional, and strategically aimed at demanding legislative revisions.

Session Strategy and Legal Challenges:

- Advises on tactical patience during early session stages to avoid providing legislators with unintentional guidance on bill amendments.

- Emphasizes strategic aggression post-cutoff dates to confront and challenge bills with constitutional and legal rigor.
- Manages the delicate balance between proactive advocacy and strategic restraint to maximize the impact of the Legislative Accountability PAC's session challenges.

Resource Acquisition and Law Library Development:

- Responsible for getting critical legal resources, including Black's Law Dictionary and handbooks on the Constitution/Bill of Rights and Declaration of Independence, ensuring members have essential tools at their disposal.
- Coordinates with the Drafting Committee Chair to set up a comprehensive law library, supporting ongoing legal education and strategy development.
- Focus on finding Law textbooks like the American Jurisprudence whole collection.
- Reach out to the executive board for funds to create this Law Library as it is essential to all the work we are doing as a group, and the Presidents vision for renewing the Constitutional rights of We the People. How are we to stand for our rights when they have obfuscated them from us in the form of a million law book texts?
- Send out letters for donations that will specifically be for the Law Library. Many people will be more inclined to give for a specific thing that they can buy themselves and deliver to us, rather than handing us money and not knowing what we do with it. Always when receiving donations take a picture of the items bought with members of the committee and send them a thank you letter.

Ongoing Legal Education and Training:

- Facilitates continuous learning opportunities for members, covering a broad spectrum of legal topics and advocacy techniques.
- Ensures members are prepared for the intensive reading and analysis needed during legislative sessions and the detailed review of past legislation during off-seasons.

After Legislative Sessions end:

- After the End of a successful effort by the Legislative Accountability PAC, the President will take them out for dinner to celebrate the end of those stressful times. Everyone should feel a wave of relief after getting through taking on a mob of criminals at their own game and reminded that they are the first to EVER carry out or even try to accomplish such a task. This should be a time for relaxation and comedy, and laughter, and drinks for those who would like to indulge while making sure to keep it at a casual consumption rate. No one wants to be cleaning up another member's vomit or helping them get home. This is supposed to be a relaxing time of no stress and not a time for babysitting grown adults.

- The Work does not stop when the session is over for the Legislative Accountability PAC. At least not until this state is in complete congruence with the Constitution for the United States of America. The committee will be sent digital copies of the session policies set in motion of the previous years sessions and will be doing an in-depth review of all the bills for their unconstitutionality, checking for any conflicts of interest between the legislators and the bills that they have voted for or against, and also anything specifically asked to search for by the President or Chairperson.

- When finding an unconstitutional bill, the members will create a .pdf file of the bill and send it into the telegram channel where the chair will be taking all the bills found and creating a master list that the chair shall send to the courts eventually for review with a concise explanatory statement provided to explain what the concerns are with the bills in question.

- The Chair’s final draft of a detailed review of past session law shall send it to the President for final review.

- The President will take the committee out to dinner to celebrate their accomplishment and inspire them about what enormous impact on their state they just made. They deserve the title of Hero in the Presidents opinion and hopefully someday will earn that recognition from the public.

- The President and the Chair have the choice to give away prizes/trophies/medals/awards for individual excellence beyond the requirements of them.

Commitment and Dedication:

- Highlights the intense commitment needed, including potential impacts on personal life and the need for unwavering dedication to the cause.
- Stresses the importance of resilience, legal acumen, and the courage to stand up against systemic corruption and advocate for constitutional governance.

The Chair of the Legislative PAC stands as a crucial figure within "WA Rights Renewal: Empowering Electoral & Political Change," embodying the dedication, knowledge, and strategic insight necessary to challenge and influence legislative processes effectively. Through their leadership, the committee engages in vital advocacy and education efforts, laying the groundwork for significant political and legal reforms.

Drafting Committee

The Drafting Committee serves as the strategic think tank and legislative engine of the association, tasked with crafting resolutions, bills, referendums, and initiatives that advance the association's mission and uphold the constitutional principles at its core. Operating as both a creative and analytical body, the committee ensures all legislative proposals are precise, impactful, and legally sound.

This committee plays a critical role in not only shaping policy but also equipping the association with the tools needed to promote transparency and accountability. By mastering the strategic use of Public Records Requests (PRRs), the committee expands its influence beyond drafting, becoming a key resource in uncovering information, countering legislative overreach, and empowering the association to take informed actions.

Core Mission and Focus

1. Legislative Drafting:
    - The committee is responsible for crafting resolutions, bills, referendums, and initiatives that align with the association's goals and reflect its commitment to constitutional governance.
    - Each proposal is developed through collaborative sessions that emphasize thorough research, legal precision, and strategic impact.
2. Public Records Requests (PRRs):
    - Recognizing PRRs as a powerful tool for transparency, the committee has expanded its focus to include:

        - Mastering the intricacies of filing and tracking PRRs to obtain critical information.
        - Using PRRs strategically to expose governmental inefficiencies, uncover unconstitutional actions, and gather data for legislative rebuttals or initiatives.
3. Collaborative Support:
    - The committee supports the Legislative Accountability Committee (LAC) during critical moments, such as:
        - Legislative sessions where an overload of bills requires rapid analysis and response.
        - Counterattacks by opposition forces that demand immediate drafting of rebuttals or counter-legislation.
    - By sharing resources and expertise, the Drafting Committee reinforces the association's capacity to respond effectively to legislative challenges.
4. Constitutional Study and Alignment:
    - Members of the committee study the Constitution for the United States of America rigorously to ensure all drafted proposals strictly adhere to constitutional principles.
    - The Law Library, maintained by the association, serves as a vital resource, providing access to essential legal texts and materials that guide the committee's work.

Leadership and Structure

Under the guidance of a Chairperson, the Drafting Committee operates as a collaborative and dynamic team:

- The Chairperson facilitates drafting sessions, mentors members on legislative processes, and leads educational workshops on the effective use of PRRs.
- Sub-teams within the committee focus on specific legislative areas or initiatives, ensuring efficiency and thoroughness in all drafting activities.

By combining a commitment to constitutional adherence with strategic legislative planning, the Drafting Committee empowers the association to shape policy, hold government entities accountable, and advocate for meaningful reform. Its work ensures that every proposal put forth is not only aligned with the association's mission but also capable of creating real and lasting change.

Operational Details:

Legislative Drafting:

- Collaborative work on drafting proposals, offering mentorship to ensure adherence to proper formatting and legal precision.
- Develops strategies for engaging with legislators and securing sponsors for PAC-initiated bills and resolutions. May connect with the sub-committees of the Legislative Accountability PAC as well.

Public Records Requests:

- Educates on the importance of PRRs as a tool for uncovering information crucial to the PAC's legislative and advocacy efforts.
- Strategies on writing effective PRRs, understanding when and why to file them, and identifying specific agencies to target for requests.
- The President will commonly receive requests and will be asking the chairperson to help in the drafting of the requests that the members will be taking part in.
- It is important that all members take care to update the PRR calendar that the chair shall create to keep track of all requests made, their lawful due dates, and the updates given by the agencies as to their reasonable timeline for completion. Updates shall be in the form of the PRR#, with the title and number for identification purposes for the other members to see.

PRR Laws and Rules:

- Detailed exploration of PRR laws and the broader Public Records Act (PRA), emphasizing rights and legal frameworks.
- Debunks common misconceptions about government redactions and attorney-client privilege in the context of public records, reinforcing the principle that government communications lack a reasonable expectation of privacy and ARE accessible to the public.

- It must be a theme that is reinforced into the minds of the members of this committee that these people do not want to give you the evidence against them. They will lie their way to the grave instead of handing some of this stuff over to you. You must use your wit to understand the different things you have to leverage them into giving you the important records. This involves litigation, tort claims, criminal charges, or even a bit of deal making. Not to be taking the wrong way as letting some kind of illegality go unnoticed, as we do not break the law here. But, this is when it gets really into the weeds and when facing a situation like this, the chairman and the President will most likely be involved already but if not, then make sure you get clearance to do such a thing because these criminals could be trying to set you up, so always when the talk gets heated and confrontational to bring it forward to the chairman who may show it to the whole committee to make a lesson out of it, or get the attention of the President.

Educational Initiatives:

- The chair shall create educational materials and sessions on both legislative drafting and the strategic use of PRRs, incorporating:
    - Best practices for drafting impactful legal documents and public requests.
    - Legal guidelines and tactical approaches for overcoming common obstacles in accessing public records.
    - Introduction class on a Saturday that will be from 9-6 with lunch provided, will be watching, and discussing a three-part series lecture by Carl Miller. This teaches the basics of understanding the Constitutional contractual agreement that the government signed with us and how all we are doing is making them live up to their end of the contract of which We the People are the sole-beneficiaries. The Legislative Accountability PAC will share this meeting as both committees, and indeed everyone, needs to have this education.
    - Aims to compile and share resources, templates, and case studies that exemplify successful PRR use and legislative drafting.
    - Develops a repository of information accessible to committee members for reference and training purposes.

Collaboration and Engagement:

- Promotes a collaborative environment where committee members can take turns working on draft legislation and PRRs, learning from each other's experiences and the chairman's guidance.
- Encourages the dissemination of knowledge gained from PRR outcomes and legislative drafting experiences to empower the broader PAC community and inform its strategic directions.

This updated overview of the Drafting Committee reflects the enhanced focus on utilizing Public Records Requests as a critical tool for advocacy and transparency, alongside the core responsibility of drafting legislation. Through comprehensive education, strategic collaboration, and practical application, the committee poises to significantly contribute to the Association's mission of promoting electoral and political change.

Drafting Committee Chair

Leadership in Public Records and Investigations:

Public Record Mastery:

The chairperson excels in writing and has experience with public records and passing resolutions. They lead the committee in regular public records requests, crucial for obtaining voter rolls and other essential data for the Association's efforts to litigate, prosecute, and return this state back to congruency with Constitutional/Common laws and morals.

Investigative Direction:

Works closely with the President to align the committee's efforts with the overarching investigative strategy of the Association, recognizing the importance of public records in guiding the Association's direction and litigation efforts. The President will send requests for records ideas to the chair regularly and the chair will create a PRR due dates calendar that the members will take diligent care to update constantly, giving the President the ability to check on the progress of what could eventually be important evidence that supports the strategic direction of the Association.

Training and Education:

Data Recognition:

Ensures members can find crucial evidence within public records, potentially through direct training sessions with the President or detailed meetings where such knowledge exists.

Legal and Constitutional Knowledge:

Coordinates with the President to provide specialized training in constitutional rights, self-representation, and the nuances of law that affect policy and citizen rights.

Strategic Writing and Drafting:

Resolution Drafting:

Guides members in drafting resolutions, emphasizing succinctness and impact. The chair personally aids members in their first drafting endeavors to ensure quality and efficacy.

Legislation and Sponsorship:

Beyond resolutions, the committee drafts bills, initiatives, and referendums, seeking sponsorship within the legislative branch. This includes forming a subcommittee focused on obtaining bill sponsorships.

Collaborative Introductions and Training:

Joint Committee Meetings:

Organizes a collaborative introduction meeting with the Legislative Accountability PAC, focusing on constitutional rights, court representation, and combating legal overreach. This meeting, held on a Saturday, from 9-6 with a provided lunch, includes lectures from Carl Miller and group discussions helped by the President.

Law Library and Resource Development:

Resource Acquisition:

Actively seeks out essential legal texts, including Black's Law Dictionary, founding documents, and records of pivotal constitutional amendments and jurisprudence, for committee education.

Central Law Library:

- Coordinates with the Legislative Accountability PAC Chair, to set up a law library as a resource for Association members, supporting ongoing legal education and drafting accuracy.
- Coordinates ideas on donors for filling up the law library for the educational means to make the goals of the Association and the Presidents vision for a community wide and inclusive effort to reign the state government back to being under the consent of the governed. Always be sure when receiving donations to take pictures with the committee members and the gifts and send thank you letters to the donors.

Ongoing Legal Education:

Curriculum Development:

Collaborates with the President on developing a curriculum that covers various legal topics, from landmark case law to the truth about the 14th Amendment not being fully ratified, the 13th amendment that was fully ratified being somehow deleted, and other constitutional nuances.

Practice and Application:

Encourages continuous practice in legal drafting and analysis, ensuring members are well-versed in recognizing and applying constitutional rights in their work.

Role in PAC Strategy:

Recognized as a critical figure in the Association's strategy, particularly in legal and investigative efforts, the Drafting Committee Chair holds a position of influence second only to the President and Vice President. This role involves a significant commitment to guiding the Association's legislative and legal challenges, emphasizing the need for comprehensive legal knowledge and strategic foresight.

Collaboration and Accountability:

Ensures collaborative efforts across committees, especially in sharing knowledge and resources for the betterment of the Association’s goals. This includes a focused approach to holding government officials accountable through meticulous documentation and legal scrutiny.

The Drafting Committee Chair's role is foundational to the Associations efforts in advocating for electoral integrity, legal accountability, and the promotion of constitutional literacy among its members. Through dedicated leadership, the chair steers the committee's significant contributions to the PAC's overarching mission, embodying the values of diligence, strategic planning, and unwavering commitment to justice and transparency.

Outreach and Canvassing Committee

The Outreach and Canvassing Committee is the bridge between the association and the broader community, dedicated to fostering engagement, education, and participation in the reformed electoral process. By focusing on in-person voter registration, education, and recruitment, the committee plays a pivotal role in empowering citizens to take an active role in shaping the future of governance.

Operating at the grassroots level, the committee emphasizes face-to-face interactions to build trust and transparency within the community. It seeks to educate the public on the new voting system, ensure compliance with voter registration requirements, and encourage active participation in elections. Through its efforts, the committee strengthens the association’s mission to restore electoral integrity and accountability.

Core Mission and Focus

1. Pre-Election Engagement:
    - The committee prioritizes pre-election canvassing, working directly with voters to:
        - Ensure they are properly registered under the new system.
        - Educate them about the reformed voting process, including paper ballots, precinct-level voting, and the importance of pre-registration deadlines.
        - Foster a deeper understanding of constitutional principles and the need for electoral reform.
2. Post-Election Follow-Up:
    - After elections, the committee conducts post-election canvassing to:

        - Address any community concerns or irregularities observed during the voting process.
        - Gather valuable feedback to refine and improve future election operations.
3. Assisting with Fraud Prevention:
    - At the discretion of the Election Integrity Committee (EIC), the committee may support targeted canvassing efforts to investigate potentially fraudulent or questionable voter registrations.
    - If such assistance is requested, the Outreach and Canvassing Committee collaborates closely with the EIC to ensure thorough and accurate investigations.

Structure and Leadership

The committee is led by a Chairperson, who:

- Coordinates all outreach efforts, ensuring alignment with the association's mission and objectives.
- Manages a team of dedicated volunteers to execute both digital and in-person initiatives effectively.
- Responds to emergent community needs as directed by the association's leadership, ensuring flexibility and responsiveness in all operations.

Through its focus on education, engagement, and accountability, the Outreach and Canvassing Committee serves as a vital instrument for restoring public trust in the electoral process. Its grassroots approach builds connections with voters, amplifies the association's voice, and reinforces the principles of transparency and integrity at the heart of its mission.

Operational Details

Digital and Social Media Presence:

- The committee manages interconnected social media profiles across various platforms to amplify cohesive messaging.
- Maintains the association's professional website, featuring:
    - Voter registration event details.
    - Updates on canvassing initiatives.
    - Resources and instructions for engaging with the association's committees and mission.

Canvassing Initiatives:

1. Pre-Election Canvassing:

- Organizes outreach efforts to register voters in person, ensuring compliance with the VRDB Committee's physical ledger system.
- Educates voters on the reformed voting process, including pre-registration deadlines, ID requirements, and the importance of precinct-level voting.
- Recruits Precinct Committee Officers (PCOs) and association members committed to the mission of constitutional governance and self-sovereignty.
- Promotes voter awareness of constitutional issues and supports informed decision-making.

2. Post-Election Canvassing:
    - Conducts follow-up canvassing to identify irregularities in the voter rolls, including suspicious voter registration trends, and engages with the community for feedback.
    - Investigates unexplained increases in voter IDs, coordinating findings with the VRDB Committee as necessary.
    - Leverages post-election engagement to recruit additional PCOs and volunteers.

Voter Outreach Materials:

- Designs and produces educational pamphlets, flyers, and other materials that explain:
    - The new voting system.
    - Candidate constitutional scores and their voting records.
    - Critical deadlines and election procedures.
- Secures input from candidates for material content and coordinates logistics for printing and distribution.

Safety and Inclusivity in Canvassing:

- Implements strict protocols requiring all canvassing efforts to be conducted by teams of at least two individuals to ensure safety.
- Promotes respect and Inclusivity during canvassing efforts, fostering a welcoming environment while adhering to community guidelines.

Collaborative Fundraising and Engagement:

- Coordinates fundraisers to support outreach goals, such as hosting community events or organizing social media campaigns.
- Builds lasting community relationships through personal engagement at events and canvassing activities.

Training and Education:

- Provides comprehensive training for volunteers on:

    - Canvassing techniques.
    - Voter engagement strategies.
    - Safety protocols during community outreach.
- Hosts educational sessions on civic responsibilities and the role of PCOs in local and state governance.

Vision for the Committee:
The Outreach and Canvassing Committee is the heart of the association's mission to restore active civic engagement and accountability in governance. This committee exists to reignite the foundational principles of self-governance, empowering citizens not only to vote but to participate fully in the democratic process as informed stewards of their rights and responsibilities. By fostering connections between individuals and their communities, the committee ensures that every person understands their role in shaping a government that serves the people, not the other way around.

Through direct engagement—whether registering voters in person, canvassing neighborhoods to educate citizens, or equipping volunteers with the knowledge and resources to facilitate meaningful participation—the committee embodies the association’s commitment to action. It seeks to dismantle barriers to participation by bringing knowledge, transparency, and accessibility to every corner of the state, ensuring no individual or community is left behind.

The committee’s work transcends mere outreach. It is a force for cultural renewal, rebuilding the trust and relationships necessary to sustain a healthy democracy. Every canvassing effort, training session, and educational initiative strengthens the foundation of self-sovereignty, reminding citizens that they are the ultimate guardians of liberty. In doing so, the Outreach and Canvassing Committee not only ensures electoral integrity but also breathes life into the principle that governance starts with We the People.

Outreach and Canvassing Chair - Media/News Anchor

Communication and Organization:

- Establishes and manages a Telegram, truth social and X channel for timely updates on outreach activities, team compositions, and canvassing assignments.
- Oversees the creation and distribution of educational materials and handouts for candidates aligned with constitutional principles, ensuring materials reflect the association’s mission.

- Coordinates with the Secretary on organizing regular fundraisers, engaging the community, and promoting events across the association's website and social media platforms.
- Serves as the primary organizer for outreach and canvassing schedules, ensuring efforts are aligned with the VRDB Committee's objectives to maintain secure voter registration practices.

Website Development and Maintenance:

- Develops and manages the association's central website, providing:
    - Voter registration event details.
    - Canvassing schedules.
    - Updates on educational initiatives and election processes.
- Maintains an updated repository of legislative updates, association activities, and ways the public can engage with the new voting process.
- Integrates donation functionality into the website, enabling sponsorship of:
    - Voter roll cleanup efforts.
    - Law library acquisitions with donor acknowledgment.
    - Canvassing logistics, including community meals or materials provided by local businesses.
- Regularly uploads content such as candidate interviews, educational videos, and legislative analyses to ensure accessibility and transparency.
- Establishes and maintains Rumble and YouTube channels alongside a dedicated podcast platform, amplifying the association's media presence.

Educational Material and Public Engagement:

- Designs informative pamphlets to educate voters about the reformed election process, constitutional governance, and candidates' "Constitutional scores" based on their voting history and adherence to constitutional principles.
- Conducts candidate interviews that are made available on the website and media platforms, focusing on their stances on critical issues, constitutional alignment, and vision for governance.
- Ensures that educational materials serve as tools for public empowerment, emphasizing integrity and neutrality by presenting all candidates while omitting campaign contribution data.

Strategic Media Presence:

- Acts as the media spokesperson for the association, maintaining professionalism in all public appearances and communications.
- Launches a media show providing legislative updates, offering analysis of proposed bills and their constitutional validity.
- Produces video content to highlight key legislative issues, advocate for the association's mission, and counter misleading narratives.
- During legislative sessions, maintains close communication with the President, the Legislative Accountability PAC, and the Drafting Committee to disseminate urgent and strategic updates to the public.

Interviews and Content Creation:

- Regularly interviews committee chairs and the President to provide updates on the association's activities, goals, and advocacy efforts.
- Prepares and conducts key interviews with the President and other leaders during pivotal moments such as legislative sessions, elections, and advocacy campaigns to ensure clarity and alignment with the association's goals.

Technical and Professional Expertise:

- Demonstrates proficiency in website management, graphic design for outreach materials, and video production for interviews and educational content.
- Maintains strong communication skills, ensuring all public-facing content aligns with the association's mission and adheres to constitutional principles.

Adaptability and Leadership:

- Evolves into the primary public face and voice of the association, prioritizing media engagement, content creation, and public advocacy as the association's influence grows.
- Delegates operational tasks related to canvassing and material distribution to sub-committee chairs as needed, allowing a greater focus on media, public engagement, and legislative advocacy.

Safety Committee

The Safety Committee is dedicated to fostering safety, preparedness, and self-sufficiency within the community. By equipping members with essential skills and resources, the committee ensures that individuals and the broader association are prepared to respond effectively to emergencies, protect themselves and their families, and build resilience against unforeseen challenges.

This committee prioritizes proactive measures in firearm safety, emergency communication, sustainable living practices, and community support. It serves as both a training hub and a rapid response team, addressing the safety needs of association members while promoting long-term self-reliance through education and resource development.

Purpose and Focus

1. Promoting Safety:
    - The committee emphasizes responsible firearm ownership and safety training, ensuring all members can handle firearms responsibly and effectively without promoting militia activities.
    - Regular workshops and training sessions equip members with the knowledge and skills to protect themselves and their communities.
2. Emergency Preparedness:
    - The Safety Committee focuses on creating robust emergency communication protocols to ensure swift responses in times of crisis.
    - Volunteers are trained to monitor HAM radio emergency frequencies, assess the level of threats or emergencies, and coordinate the appropriate response from the committee’s rapid response team.
3. Sustainable Living and Self-Sufficiency:
    - Recognizing the importance of long-term resilience, the committee promotes initiatives such as organic food cultivation, off-the-grid energy solutions, and water filtration systems.
    - These efforts not only empower individual members to become more self-sufficient but also strengthen the community's collective ability to thrive in challenging conditions.

Structure and Rapid Response

- The committee is composed of dedicated volunteers who are ready to act at a moment's notice, responding to emergencies faced by association members, whether they involve threats or other urgent needs.
- A rotating team of volunteers takes HAM radio monitoring shifts, ensuring constant coverage of emergency frequencies and enabling the committee to react swiftly and efficiently.

Through its commitment to education, preparedness, and support, the Safety Committee plays a vital role in safeguarding the well-being of association members while fostering a culture of resilience and self-reliance. It is both a proactive and reactive body, working to address immediate safety concerns while equipping members with the tools to face future challenges confidently.

Firearms Safety and Education:

General Safety:

- Provides basic firearm safety training to ensure all members handle firearms responsibly, without promoting any form of militia training.

Maintenance:

- Teaches the disassembling, reassembling, and cleaning of firearms to keep their condition and functionality intact.
- Demonstrates how to react quickly and fix a firearm that gets jammed.

Emergency Communications:

HAM Radios:

Establishes a network of HAM radio operators within the Association for emergency communications.

- Detailed training on HAM radio operations, including establishing frequencies for emergencies.
- Organizes members into shifts, ensuring 24/7 monitoring of emergency channels to ease rapid response to any member in distress.

Sustainable Living Initiatives:

Organic Food Cultivation:

- Encourages the cultivation of organic food to ensure the community can sustain itself in any situation.
- Supports initiatives for cloning plants and operating greenhouses.
- Seeks funding for multiple greenhouse locations or arable land acquisition through the clerk's office for community farming projects.

Off-the-Grid Energy Solutions:

Gasifiers (Pellet burning apparatus that runs generators):

- A subgroup shall construct gasifiers to provide sustainable energy solutions for community areas and greenhouses. There shall be a comprehensive guide, including materials and procedures for replication.
- Needs someone who can do some basic welding and is willing to teach others how to do the same.
- There shall be Gasifiers after construction delivered, to members of the Association’s homes that can accommodate them and desire to have one.

Water-Powered Batteries (free energy from the earth-self sustaining greenhouses):

Explores innovative energy generation through water-powered batteries, using earth as a medium with copper and zinc in a system of 55-gallon drums, connected to solar panels for greenhouse operations.

Water Filtration:

Implements water filtration systems across community locations to ensure access to clean drinking water for all committees and community members.

Operational Structure and Logistics:

Communication and Shifts:

- Develops a structured sign-up sheet for HAM radio shifts, clearly showing member responsibilities and schedules to avoid any confusion and ensure constant coverage.

Community Education and Workshops:

- Hosts regular workshops on the practical aspects of safety, emergency preparedness, sustainable living, and off-the-grid solutions, empowering members with the knowledge and skills to support themselves and the community.

Resource and Knowledge Sharing:

- Compiles and shares detailed guides, material lists, and instructional materials on sustainable practices, emergency communications, and safety protocols to help knowledge transfer and self-sufficiency across the Association.

This comprehensive description of the Safety Committee outlines its key responsibilities and initiatives aimed at enhancing community resilience, safety, and sustainability. Through a combination of practical education, emergency preparedness, and the promotion of self-sufficiency, the committee plays a crucial role in supporting the Association's overarching mission while ensuring the well-being and preparedness of its members.

Safety Committee Chair

Comprehensive Oversight:

- The chair oversees all committee activities, ensuring a cohesive approach to safety, preparedness, and sustainability initiatives.
- Sub-committees are necessary for the variety of ability and skills that we shall need to carry out these tasks, and the appointed leadership of the sub-committees shall consider who trained or is skilled to be able to effectively get the jobs done.

Meeting Organization:

- Responsible for organizing regular committee meetings and added meetings for various subcommittees, reflecting the hands-on nature of the committee's work.
- Given the diverse areas of focus—such as gasifier manufacturing, plant cultivation, firearm safety training, and HAM radio operation—the chair may coordinate two to four meetings a month to address specific subcommittee progress and needs.

HAM Radio Coordination:

- Manages the sign-up sheet for HAM radio shifts, ensuring continuous monitoring and emergency response capabilities.
- Ensures the sign-up sheet is accessible to committee members, via a dedicated Telegram channel, easing clear communication and scheduling.
- Emergency Frequency Establishment and dissemination for HAM radio communications within the Association, ensuring to inform all members and preparing them to use this critical channel.

Hands-On Involvement and Expertise:

- Actively involved in the hands-on aspects of the committee's work, from the technical manufacturing of gasifiers and setting up sustainable energy solutions for greenhouses to guiding the cultivation of organic foods.
- Possesses or develops ability in each area of the committee's focus to effectively lead and provide knowledge in firearm safety, emergency communications, sustainable living, and off-the-grid technologies.

Research and Development:

- Spearheads research into sustainable power solutions, particularly in developing and replicating battery-operated solar panel systems for greenhouse operations, ensuring they are self-sustainable.
- Stays informed on best practices, innovative solutions, and advancements in areas relevant to the committee's goals.

- The chair can create more sub-committees that improve the Association’s member’s lives.

Educational Leadership:

- Facilitates educational workshops and training sessions for committee members and the broader Association community, sharing knowledge on safety protocols, sustainable practices, and emergency preparedness.
- Cultivates a culture of learning and skill development within the committee, encouraging members to become proficient in various preparedness and sustainability techniques.

The Safety Committee Chairperson plays a pivotal role in steering the committee towards achieving its goals of enhancing community resilience, safety, and sustainability. Through dedicated leadership, organization of educational and hands-on activities, and a commitment to research and innovation, the chair ensures the committee not only meets its goals but also contributes significantly to the overarching mission of "WA Rights Renewal: Empowering Electoral & Political Change."

Addiction Recovery and Sobriety Outreach Program

The Addiction Recovery and Sobriety Outreach Program is a vital initiative of the association, dedicated to supporting individuals as they overcome addiction and reclaim their lives. This program provides a welcoming and empowering environment for those seeking freedom from addiction, offering a structured pathway to recovery rooted in faith, community, and personal transformation. It is designed to move beyond the traditional model of perpetual struggle, focusing instead on celebrating victories and fostering long-term sobriety.

At the heart of the program is the belief that recovery is not just about acknowledging a problem but about proclaiming freedom and renewal through faith in God. This initiative encourages participants to transition from identifying as addicts to recognizing themselves as recovered individuals, equipped to inspire and support others on their journey to recovery.

Purpose, Focus, and Structure

Purpose:

- To provide a faith-centered recovery community that emphasizes personal transformation and lasting sobriety.

- To create a supportive environment where individuals can proclaim victory over addiction and serve as encouragement for others.
- To offer a structured meeting schedule with dedicated leaders who have firsthand experience and success in recovery.

Focus:

1. Recovery Through Faith:
    - Centered on spiritual renewal and reliance on God as the ultimate source of healing and strength.
    - Encourages participants to develop and deepen their relationship with God, recognizing Him as the foundation of their recovery.
2. Empowerment and Victory:
    - Transitions participants from identifying as addicts to proclaiming themselves as recovered individuals after achieving 90 days of sobriety.
    - Emphasizes praise reports and celebrations of progress to inspire others within the group.
3. Support and Community:
    - Provides a safe, non-judgmental space for individuals to share experiences, challenges, and successes.
    - Builds a network of encouragement and accountability within the community.

Structure:

- Meetings are held on Tuesday, Thursday, and Saturday evenings from 7:00 PM to 8:30 PM.
- Each meeting is split into segments:
    1. Opening Reflection and Prayer: Setting a spiritual tone for the meeting with a focus on God's guidance and healing.
    2. Group Sharing: Participants share challenges, victories, and experiences. Those who have achieved 90 days or more of sobriety are encouraged to offer praise reports instead of identifying as addicts.
    3. Support and Encouragement: Group members provide feedback, encouragement, and prayer support for one another.
    4. Closing Reflection: Ends with prayer and affirmations, focusing on gratitude and hope for continued sobriety.

- Meetings are divided into Alcohol Addiction (AA) and Narcotics Addiction (NA) groups, each led by a recovered individual who has overcome the specific addiction and is passionate about helping others do the same.

Leadership and Responsibilities

The program is overseen by a Chairperson, whose primary responsibilities include:

- Organizing and maintaining the meeting schedule, ensuring consistent availability for both AA and NA sessions.
- Selecting and supporting group leaders for the AA and NA programs who have demonstrated long-term sobriety and spiritual growth.
- Ensuring the program remains faith-centered, with each meeting reinforcing God's role in the recovery process.
- Promoting the program within the community, encouraging individuals struggling with addiction to attend and find hope.
- Coordinating with community partners and resources to expand outreach and provide additional support when needed.

Vision for Impact

The Addiction Recovery and Sobriety Outreach Program redefines the path to recovery by focusing on transformation through faith and celebrating milestones as achievements of freedom. It fosters a culture of support, gratitude, and accountability, empowering individuals not only to overcome their own addictions but also to become a source of inspiration and guidance for others.

This program aims to provide a beacon of hope for those in the grip of addiction, proving that through faith, community, and perseverance, complete recovery is not only possible but attainable and worth celebrating.

Empowering Self-Governance: The WA Rights Renewal Vision

WA Rights Renewal stands as a testament to the enduring power of collective action and constitutional fidelity. By addressing systemic vulnerabilities and empowering individuals to reclaim their role in governance, the association embodies a transformative vision for a future rooted in transparency, justice, and the principles enshrined in the Constitution.

Through the establishment of structured committees, clear operational guidelines, and an unwavering commitment to integrity, WA Rights Renewal has crafted a blueprint for sustainable change. This association is more than an organization—it is a movement dedicated to ensuring elections are free and fair, legislatures are accountable, and communities are equipped with the tools and knowledge to safeguard their freedoms.

At its heart, WA Rights Renewal is a beacon for citizens who believe in the power of self-governance and the necessity of holding public officials to the highest standards of accountability. By fostering community resilience, promoting transparency, and championing constitutional principles, the association ensures a legacy of empowerment and justice for generations to come.

As we move forward, let this framework serve not only as a guide but as a call to action. Together, united under the principles of liberty and self-governance, we will restore faith in the democratic process and build a future where the voice of every citizen is heard, respected, and protected.
