The theme for this series is: "Spread the Message Far and Wide."

2) We'll begin with this post from #Qanon the night of February 12th.

3) Operation Merlin (tech).

- >Iran
- >NK

Operation Merlin was a CIA op, ostensibly designed to give Iran a flawed blueprint for a nuclear weapon. Q suggests the real intent was to give Iran (and then North Korea) a functional weapon.

#Qanon

4) Operation Merlin has been heavily criticized. Jeffrey Sterling was prosecuted for leaking classified information to the press. The prosecution seems to have been a case of retaliation against a whistleblower. (A subject #QAnon has discussed frequently.)

CIA Mission: Destroy the Whistleblower and Perfume the Stench of 'Operation Merlin'
The leak trial of CIA officer Jeffrey Sterling never got near a smoking gun, but the entire circumstantial case was a smokescreen. Prosecutors were hell-bent on torching the defendant to vindicate ...

<https://exposefacts.org/cia-mission-destroy-the-whistleblower-and-perfume-the-stench-of-operation-merlin/>

That bestselling book, State of War, seemed to leave an indelible stain on Operation Merlin while soiling the CIA's image as a reasonably competent outfit. The prosecution of Sterling was a cleansing service for the Central Intelligence Agency, which joined with the Justice Department to depict the author and the whistleblower as scurrilous mud-throwers.

In the courtroom, where journalist Risen was beyond the reach of the law, the CIA's long-smoldering rage vented at the defendant. Sterling had gone through channels in 2003 to warn Senate Intelligence Committee staffers about Operation Merlin, and he was later indicted for allegedly giving Risen classified information about it.

For CIA officials, the prosecution wasn't only to punish Sterling and frighten potential whistleblowers; it was also about payback, rewriting history and assisting with a PR comeback for the operation as well as the agency.

Last week, the jury — drawn from an area of Northern Virginia that is home to CIA headquarters, the Pentagon and a large number of contractors for the military-industrial-intelligence complex — came back with guilty verdicts on all counts. The jurors had heard from a succession of CIA witnesses as well as former Secretary of State Condoleezza Rice, extolling Operation Merlin and deploring any effort to lift its veil of secrecy.

6) #QAnon says:
Iran Deal (funding).
>Iran
>NK
>T cells
>Payoffs

The Iran deal provided more than a billion dollars to fund NoKo and Iran's weapons programs, terrorist cells and necessary payoffs to public officials.

Background on the Iran Deal:

Obama's hidden Iran deal giveaway

By dropping charges against major arms targets, the administration infuriated Justice Department officials — and undermined its own counterproliferation task forces.

7) #Qanon says:

NK Nuclear (mini suc) (icbm suc)

>War engine

>Protection

North Korea succeeds at miniaturization of their nuclear weapon and developing an ICBM. The engine of war is created and can now offer them protection.

8) In previous posts, #Qanon has suggested that the master plan of the CIA is to weaponize rogue states like North Korea to perpetuate war, which gives them both power and money derived from human trafficking, weapons trafficking, drug trafficking, sex trafficking, etc.

In the dream, I watched as Q was posting. There were lots of posts. All of them had to do with Supreme Court judges and cases they were involved in. The posts seemed to point to corruption and conflict of interest. At the end of the dream, the text turned yellow, as if it was highlighted with a yellow highlighter.

Interpretation:

I believe Q will at some point tell us about (highlight) corruption in the Supreme Court.

I Know Why the Caged Bird Sings

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

I Know Why the Caged Bird Sings is a 1969 autobiography about the early years of American writer and poet Maya Angelou. The first in a seven-volume series, it is a coming-of-age story that illustrates how strength of character and a love of literature can help overcome racism and trauma. The book begins when three-year-old Maya and her older brother are sent to Stamps, Arkansas, to live with their grandmother and ends when Maya becomes a mother at the age of 16. In the course of Caged Bird, Maya transforms from a victim of racism with an inferiority complex into a self-possessed, dignified young woman capable of responding to prejudice.

Angelou was challenged by her friend, author James Baldwin, and her editor, Robert Loomis, to write an autobiography that was also a piece of literature. Reviewers often categorize Caged Bird as autobiographical fiction because Angelou uses thematic development and other techniques common to fiction, but the prevailing critical view characterizes it as an autobiography, a genre she attempts to critique, change, and expand. The book covers topics common to autobiographies written by Black American women in the years following the Civil Rights Movement: a celebration of Black motherhood; a critique of racism; the importance of family; and the quest for independence, personal dignity, and self-definition.

17) According to Maya Angelou, a bird sings when it's caged.

#Qanon has repeatedly used the term "cage" to refer to jail.

The point is that people are being jailed, even if we aren't hearing about it in the news.

Italian Anti-Corruption Authority (ANAC) Adopts Onion Services

by steph | February 13, 2018

Millions of people use Tor every day to evade surveillance and censorship. Tor's security and privacy protections enable activists to mobilize, journalists to report, and ordinary people to access blocked resources and avoid tracking.

documents from anonymous sources. It was originally coded by the late Aaron Swartz and is now managed by Freedom of the Press Foundation. This page contains a list of active instances.

If you intend to submit information to an organization's SecureDrop, we recommend that you compare the .onion address provided on the organization's Landing Page to the corresponding entry in this list, and verify that the addresses match before continuing. This provides a strong layer of defense against certain types of attacks that might try to trick you into visiting a malicious SecureDrop instance masquerading as a legitimate one.

If you encounter a mismatch, please contact us at securedrop@freedom.press (GPG). This could be evidence of an attempted attack, or it could be a simple failure to communicate between an organization running SecureDrop and Freedom of the Press Foundation. In either case, we will investigate the matter and establish a path to resolution.

Deel veilig en anoniem informatie met Apache

Dankzij Apache SecureDrop kan je in alle veiligheid en zonder sporen achter te laten gevoelige gegevens, berichten en bestanden met de redactie delen.

Het gebruik van Apache SecureDrop vergt wat extra inspanning, maar onze klokkenluiderstool garandeert jou alle anonimiteit. Op voorwaarde dat je alle stappen zorgvuldig doorneemt en uitvoert, natuurlijk. Sowieso is het goed om niet enkel bij het doorsturen van gegevens doordacht en voorzichtig met jouw gevoelige informatie om te springen.

Was Aaron Swartz Really ‘Killed by the Government’?

No, but prosecutors did go too far in pressing felony charges

At the funeral of Aaron Swartz, the 26-year-old Internet freedom crusader, Swartz’s father had a blunt message. Aaron — who committed suicide last week while being prosecuted for hacking — “was killed by the government,” he declared. The elder Swartz fanned the flames of a growing debate: Did federal prosecutors go too far in pursuing Swartz on serious felony charges, and are they in part responsible for his death?

50) Kevin Poulsen, an outspoken internet pioneer with a colorful past. Helped develop SecureDrop and eventually, turned it over to Freedom of the Press Foundation.

#Qanon

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Kevin\_Poulsen

Kevin Poulsen

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

Kevin Lee Poulsen (born November 30, 1965) is an American former black-hat hacker and a current editor at Wired.

Biography [ edit ]

He was born in Pasadena, California, on November 30, 1965.<sup>[1]</sup>

Black-hat hacking [ edit ]

On June 1, 1990, he took over all of the telephone lines for Los Angeles radio station KLIIS-FM, guaranteeing that he would be the 102nd caller and win the prize of a Porsche 944 S2.<sup>[2][3][4]</sup>

When the Federal Bureau of Investigation started pursuing Poulsen, he went underground as a fugitive. When he was featured on NBC's Unsolved Mysteries, the show's 1-800 telephone lines mysteriously crashed.<sup>[2][5]</sup>

He was arrested, sentenced to five years in a federal penitentiary, as well as banned from using computers or the internet for 3 years after his release. He was the first American to be released from prison with a court sentence that banned him from using computers and the internet after his prison sentence. Although Chris Lamprecht was sentenced first with an internet ban on May 5, 1995, Poulsen was released from prison before Lamprecht and began serving his ban sentence earlier. (Poulsen's parole officer later allowed him to use the Internet in 2004, with certain monitoring restrictions)<sup>[6]</sup>

Journalism [ edit ]

Poulsen has reinvented himself as a journalist since his release from prison and sought to distance himself from his criminal past. Poulsen served in a number of journalistic capacities: California-based security research firm SecurityFocus, where he began writing security and hacking news in early 2000. Despite a late arrival to a market saturated with technology media, SecurityFocus News became a well-known name in the tech news world during Poulsen's tenure with the company and was acquired by Symantec. Moreover, his original investigative reporting was frequently picked up by the mainstream press. Poulsen left SecurityFocus in 2005 to freelance and pursue independent writing projects. He became a senior editor for Wired News in June 2005, which hosted his recent (as of 2006) blog, 27BStroke6,<sup>[7]</sup> which has since been renamed Threat Level.<sup>[8]</sup>

In October 2006, Poulsen released information detailing his successful search for registered sex offenders using MySpace to solicit sex from children. His work identified 744 registered people with MySpace profiles and led to the arrest of one, Andrew Lubrano.<sup>[9]</sup>

In June 2010, Poulsen broke the initial story of the arrest of U.S. service member Chelsea Manning and published the logs of Manning's chats with Adrian Lamo regarding WikiLeaks.<sup>[10][11]</sup>

SecureDrop [ edit ]

Poulsen, Aaron Swartz, and James Dolan designed and developed SecureDrop, an open-source software platform for secure communication between journalists and sources. It was originally developed under the name DeadDrop.<sup>[12][13]</sup> After Swartz's death Poulsen launched the first instance of the platform at The New Yorker, on 15 May 2013.<sup>[14]</sup> Poulsen later turned over development of SecureDrop to the Freedom of the Press Foundation, and joined the foundation's technical advisory board.<sup>[15][16]</sup>

All but Assange are (or were) members of the Board of Directors of Freedom of the Press Foundation.

#Qanon
freedom.press/about/board/

John Cusack

John Cusack is an actor, director, producer, and screenwriter who has appeared in over 60 films. He's also a political activist and regularly speaks out and writes on issues of human rights, government transparency, and accountability—amongst other things.

Daniel Ellsberg

Daniel Ellsberg is a co-founder of the Freedom of the Press Foundation. He is best known as the whistleblower who gave the Pentagon Papers to the New York Times in 1971. Ellsberg is also the author of three books: Papers on the War (1971), Secrets: A Memoir of Vietnam and the Pentagon Papers (2002), and Risk, Ambiguity and Decision (2001). In December 2006, he won the Right Livelihood Award, known as the "Alternative Nobel Prize," in Stockholm, Sweden, "for putting peace and truth first, at considerable personal risk, and dedicating his life to inspiring others to follow his example."

Glenn Greenwald

Glenn Greenwald is a lawyer, journalist, and founding editor of First Look Media's The Intercept. He has previously worked as a constitutional and civil rights litigator, a contributor to Salon, and as a columnist for The Guardian. He is the author of three New York Times bestselling books, including his latest, With Liberty and Justice for Some. Greenwald was named by The Atlantic as one of the 25 most influential political commentators in the nation. He was the recipient of the first annual I.F. Stone Award for Independent Journalism, and won the 2010 Online Journalism Association Award for his investigative work on the arrest and oppressive detention of Bradley Manning. Along with Laura Poitras, he received the 2013 EFF Pioneer Award and a George Polk Award for chronicling NSA spying. He also shared in the 2014 Pulitzer Prize for Public Service for his work with The Guardian US, as well as a Hugh M. Hefner First Amendment Award for Journalism.

"Among the leaked documents are details of foreign-intelligence gathering that do not fall under the heading of unlawful threats to American democracy — what Snowden described as his only concern. Binney, generally a fervent Snowden supporter, told USA Today that Snowden's references to 'hacking into China' went too far: 'So he is transitioning from whistle-blower to a traitor,'" George Packer of The New Yorker, who spent time with Poitras and co. in Germany, writes in his detailed review of the film and overall situation.

"This is a distinction that Poitras might have induced Binney to pursue," Packer adds. "Because Poitras is so close to her subject, politically and psychologically, 'Citizenfour' is not the tour de force it might have been."

Earlier this year, Binney described Snowden as a "patriot," but he has not retracted or clarified his comments to USA Today.

And we know even more about the second part of Snowden's epic theft.

Q: There's a question being debated whether Snowden is a hero or a traitor.

Binney: Certainly he performed a really great public service to begin with by exposing these programs and making the government in a sense publicly accountable for what they're doing. At least now they are going to have some kind of open discussion like that.

But now he is starting to talk about things like the government hacking into China and all this kind of thing. He is going a little bit too far. I don't think he had access to that program. But somebody talked to him about it, and so he said, from what I have read, anyway, he said that somebody, a reliable source, told him that the U.S. government is hacking into all these countries. But that's not a public service, and now he is going a little beyond public service.

So he is transitioning from whistle-blower to a traitor.

addicts were enticed into participating in LSD experiments in order to get a reward—heroin.

Perhaps most disturbing of all was the fact that the extent of experimentation on human subjects was unknown. The records of all these activities were destroyed in January 1973, at the instruction of then CIA Director Richard Helms. In spite of persistent inquiries by both the Health Subcommittee and the Intelligence Committee, no additional records or information were forthcoming. And no one—no single individual—could be found who remembered the details, not the Director of the CIA, who ordered the documents destroyed, not the official responsible for the program, nor any of his associates.

We believed that the record, incomplete as it was, was as complete as it was going to be. Then one individual, through a Freedom of Information request, accomplished what two U.S. Senate committees could not. He spurred the agency into finding additional records pertaining to the CIA's program of experimentation with human subjects. These new records were discovered by the agency in March. Their existence was not made known to the Congress until July.

The records reveal a far more extensive series of experiments than had previously been thought. Eighty-six universities or institutions were involved. New instances of unethical behavior were revealed.

The intelligence community of this Nation, which requires a shroud of secrecy in order to operate, has a very sacred trust from the American people. The CIA's program of human experimentation of the fifties and sixties violated that trust. It was violated again on the day the bulk of the agency's records were destroyed in 1973. It is violated each time a responsible official refuses to recollect the details of the program. The best safeguard against abuses in the future is a complete public accounting of the abuses of the past.

I think this is illustrated, as Chairman Inouye pointed out. These are issues, are questions that happened in the fifties and sixties, and go back some 15, 20 years ago, but they are front page news today, as we see in the major newspapers and on the television and in the media of this country; and the reason they are, I think, is because it just continuously begins to trickle out, sort of, month after month, and the

*"MKULTRA" redirects here. For other uses, see MKULTRA (disambiguation).
Not to be confused with Edgewood Arsenal human experiments.*

Project MKUltra, also called the CIA mind control program, is the code name given to a program of experiments on human subjects, at times illegal, designed and undertaken by the United States Central Intelligence Agency.<sup>[1]</sup> Experiments on humans were intended to identify and develop drugs and procedures to be used in interrogations and torture in order to weaken the individual to force confessions through mind control. Organized through the Scientific Intelligence Division of the CIA, the project coordinated with the Special Operations Division of the U.S. Army's Chemical Corps.<sup>[2]</sup>

The operation began in the early 1950s, was officially sanctioned in 1953, was reduced in scope in 1964, further curtailed in 1967, and officially halted in 1973.<sup>[3]</sup> The program engaged in many illegal activities,<sup>[4][5][6]</sup> including the use of unwitting U.S. and Canadian citizens as its test subjects, which led to controversy regarding its legitimacy.<sup>4[7][8][9]</sup> MKUltra used numerous methods to manipulate people's mental states and alter brain functions, including the surreptitious administration of drugs (especially LSD) and other chemicals, hypnosis,<sup>[10][11]</sup> sensory deprivation, isolation and verbal abuse, as well as other forms of psychological torture.<sup>[12][13]</sup>

Project MKULTRA

The CIA convinced the Allan Memorial Institute to allow a series of mind control tests on nine patients in the Montreal school, as part of their ongoing Project MKULTRA.[7]

The experiments were exported to Canada when the CIA recruited Scottish psychiatrist Donald Ewen Cameron, creator of the "psychic driving" concept, which the CIA found particularly interesting. Cameron had been hoping to correct schizophrenia by erasing existing memories and reprogramming the psyche. He commuted from Albany, New York to Montreal every week and was paid $69,000 from 1957 to 1964 to carry out MKULTRA experiments there. In addition to LSD, Cameron also experimented with various paralytic drugs as well as electroconvulsive therapy at thirty to forty times the normal power. His "driving" experiments consisted of putting subjects into drug-induced coma for weeks at a time (up to three months in one case) while playing tape loops of noise or simple repetitive statements. His experiments were typically carried out on patients who had entered the institute for minor problems such as anxiety disorders and postpartum depression, many of whom suffered permanently from his actions.[8] His treatments resulted in victims' incontinence, amnesia, forgetting how to talk, forgetting their parents, and thinking their interrogators were their parents.[9][10]

When lawsuits commenced in 1986, the Canadian government denied having any knowledge that Cameron was being sponsored by the CIA.[11]

CIA activities in Canada

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

It has been traditionally believed that any U.S. Central Intelligence Agency activity in Canada would be undertaken with the "general consent" of the Canadian government, and through the 1950s information was freely given to the CIA in return for information from the United States.<sup>[1][2]</sup> However, traditionally Canada has refused to voice any anger even when it was clear that the CIA was operating without any authorisation.<sup>[3]</sup>

Apologists have noted that Canada was vital to CIA operations as it "physically occupied the territory between the United States and the Soviet Union."<sup>[4]</sup> However, on May 28, 1975 Solicitor General Warren Allmand directed the Royal Canadian Mounted Police (RCMP) to begin investigating the levels of CIA involvement in Canadian affairs.<sup>[5]</sup>

Today, the country continues to cooperate with the CIA, enabling their black sites, allowing ghost planes to land and refuel in Canada, en route to delivering prisoners to unknown locations.<sup>[6]</sup> The Canadian counterpart of the CIA is the Canadian Security Intelligence Service (CSIS) and its agency heavily cooperates with the CIA.

CANADA WILL PAY 50's TEST VICTIMS

By CLYDE H. FARNSWORTH
Published: November 19, 1992

Correction Appended

TORONTO, Nov. 18— In a footnote to an unusual chapter of the cold war, Canada has agreed to compensate victims of psychiatric experiments carried out mainly in the 1950's and financed in part by the Central Intelligence Agency.

The experiments began after some prisoners returned from the Korean War brainwashed, and Western intelligence agencies began studies and experiments on the nature and possibility of mind control.

An institute at McGill University in Montreal, headed by Dr. D. Ewen Cameron, a psychiatrist who died in 1977, was one of the centers where such experiments were carried out.

Now, the Canadian Government says the 80 or so patients who underwent the so-called "psychic driving" treatment in Montreal, intended to wipe the brain clear of all trauma, can receive almost $80,000 each.

1957-1961, Canada: MKULTRA Experiments in Montreal

By Joseph Rauh, Jr. and James Turner, the lawyers who litigated against the CIA in the 1980s.

Early in 1957, Dr. D. Ewen Cameron, Director of the Allan Memorial Institute in Montreal, formally applied for funding from the "Society for the Investigation of Human Ecology," a CIA front at Cornell University Medical School, New York City. Cameron described his brainwashing experiments as follows:

- "(i) The breaking down ongoing patterns of patient's behavior by particularly intensive electroshocks (depatterning).
- (ii) Intensive repetition (16 hours a day for 6-7 days) of prearranged verbal signal.
- (iii) During this intensive repetition the patient is kept in partial sensory isolation.
- (iv) Repression of the driving period is carried out by putting the patient, after the conclusion of the period, into continuous sleep for 7-10 days."

Cameron also proposed testing "LSD and similar agents" in "depat-terning" his patients. Sidney Gottlieb and other CIA officials approved the application and over four years, provided $60,000 for the experiments.

Imagine being trapped in a small room. Your hands covered in gloves, your sight blocked by translucent glasses, and your head covered by a pillow. You cannot touch, taste, see, smell, or feel. You are totally deprived of your senses. This is the imagery of torture in foreign wars, of espionage blockbusters, of terrible nightmares. It seems hardly something that would occur in Montreal. But it did occur, right here at McGill.

Just throwing out a little more info, don't even know if it has relevance.

Cell phones were originally analog. The switch over to digital was very gradual. Digital signals allow for much greater distance to be covered on much less power (thus miniaturization of phones) because of the nature of square (digital) waves. Much more effective at filtering noise and interference.

This inherently means that the phones of today are going to be square wave signals and very low power. If that alone were enough, Q would not exist. They would simply shut him (them) and/or us down. So they may act as a trigger but are not enough by themselves to completely program a human. And Parkland would suggest that you really need somebody who is largely predisposed toward moving in the desired direction to begin with. You can't just flip a switch and a born pacifist suddenly becomes Rambo. Talk to me, Johnny!

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

Iridium Communications Inc. (formerly Iridium Satellite LLC) is a publicly traded American company headquartered in McLean, Virginia. Iridium operates the Iridium satellite constellation, a system of 66 active satellites used for worldwide voice and data communication from hand-held satellite phones and other transceiver units. The Iridium network is unique in that it covers the whole Earth, including poles, oceans and airways, with 95 satellites launched so far. The satellites are frequently visible in the night sky as satellite flares, a phenomenon typically observed as short-lived bright flashes of light.

Iridium manages several operations centers, including Tempe, Arizona and Leesburg, Virginia, United States. The U.S. Department of Defense, through its own dedicated gateway, relies on Iridium for global communications capabilities.<sup>[4]</sup> The company derives its name from the chemical element iridium.

"There is no allegation in this indictment that any American was a knowing participant in this illegal activity," Rosenstein said. "There is no allegation in the indictment that the charged conduct altered the outcome of the 2016 election."

Future proves past:

In an effort to preserve the integrity of all U.S. elections, as ordered by the President of the United States, after an extensive investigation in select counties (the 'sampling'), the DHS has concluded that while Russian entities (as outlined within SC Mueller's investigation were complicit in attempting to undermine the presidential election of 2016) had no direct impact or bearing on the outcome of the presidential election, nor were any U.S. person(s) knowingly part of such an attempt to sabotage as it relates to the Russian investigation, U.S. and other foreign entities (as further described within DHS[XXXX]), acting outside of Russian agents, did attempt on numerous occasions, and were successful, in interfering w/ the presidential election of 2016, senate elections of [x, y, z], [x] elections, whereby several million of illegal, non-resident ballots (the "irregularities") were counted, while legal ballots were improperly tabulated and/or intentionally mishandled. Q, Anons, I've been following these drops since day one, but this is the first I'm hearing of this "Behold a Pale Horse" book from 1991, by Bill Cooper. It actually describes clowns planning to use school shootings as a way to disarm the citizenry.

Behold a Pale Horse — Milton William (Bill) Cooper, 1991

http:// a.co/0lZY9ra

"Bill Cooper, former United States Naval Intelligence Briefing Team member, reveals information that remains hidden from the public eye. This information has been kept in topsecret government files since the 1940s. His audiences hear the truth unfold as he writes about the assassination of John F. Kennedy, the war on drugs, the secret government, and UFOs. Bill is a lucid, rational, and powerful speaker whose intent is to inform and to empower his audience. Standing room only is normal. His presentation and information transcend partisan affiliations as he clearly addresses issues in a way that has a striking impact on listeners of all backgrounds and interests. He has spoken to many groups throughout the United States and has appeared regularly on many radio talk shows and on television. In 1988 Bill decided to "talk" due to events then taking place worldwide, events that he had seen plans for back in the early 1970s. Bill correctly predicted the lowering of the Iron Curtain, the fall of the Berlin Wall, and the invasion of Panama. All Bill's predictions were on record well before the events occurred. Bill is not a psychic. His information comes from top secret documents that he read while with the Intelligence Briefing Team and from over seventeen years of research."

programs were put into place to create a dependent, nonworking element in our society. The government then began to remove these programs to force people into a criminal class that did not exist in the '50s and '60s.

The government encouraged the manufacture and importation of military firearms for the criminals to use. This is intended to foster a feeling of insecurity, which would lead the American people to voluntarily disarm themselves by passing laws against firearms. Using drugs and hypnosis on mental patients in a process called Orion, the CIA inculcated the desire in these people to open fire on schoolyards and thus inflame the antigun lobby. This plan is well under way, and so far is working perfectly. The middle class is begging the government to do away with the 2nd amendment.
