PORT LOUIS MARINA

Day 1 – Grenada Island Tour

From your berth at Camper & Nicholsons Port Louis Marina, take the day to visit the beautiful island of Grenada also known as the “Isle of Spice”

The Southern Caribbean island has so much to offer such as:

- Fort George and the historical market square – admire the different stalls and the array of fresh fruit and spices
- Etang Nature Reserve, the most popular area for hiking
- Swimming at the Seven Sisters Waterfalls is a must! It’s a great hike to the top of 7 waterfalls, and for those feeling adventurous, you can jump down each of the falls – the highest falls is about 50 feet!
- Lunch and tour of Belmont Estate, a unique and authentic 17th century working spice plantation where they grow the organic cocoa for the famous Grenada Chocolate!
- Visit the authentic River’s Rum Distillery, the oldest working water wheel in the Western Hemisphere for a tour of the plantation and a little rum!
- Visit Bathway and Leverra beaches before going to Mount Edgecombe Plantation for a tour, a swim in the pool and some well-earned relaxation.

Day 2 - Petit St. Vincent

Petit St. Vincent is a superb, private island getaway. A very yacht friendly resort with a sheltered harbour, beach restaurant and bar. Enjoy a meal at the restaurant, drinks in the bar, and take a stroll and a swim before departing for nearby Union Island.

Day 3 - Union Island

A little piece of paradise with some of the best beaches in the world – relax on the white sand and bathe in warm turquoise waters. You will be welcomed to this authentic Caribbean island by their warm and friendly people. From Union Island guests can enjoy SCUBA diving and kite boarding and go to Happy Island, a unique bar built from conch shells in Clifton Harbour.

Day 4 - Bequia

The tiny island of Bequia has a unique, magical charm that offers an immediate feeling of the Caribbean as it was 100 years ago. While here why not visit the Bequia Maritime Museum, especially the locally made model boats; the Firefly Plantation - a working plantation with tours and superb dining available.

There's also the Old Hegg Turtle Sanctuary, private island tours, white sand beaches for swimming, SCUBA diving and then for dining...

Mac's Pizzeria offers a funky atmosphere, great pizza in a relaxed, casual and fun atmosphere or try the Frangipani Hotel Bar on the sea front, a favourite watering hole for everyone, both in Port Elizabeth.

Day 5 - Mustique

Horseback riding, fine-dining, tennis and much more are all possible on this private island.

The Cotton House Hotel and Firefly are both renowned for their dining experiences – both offer candlelit evening overlooking breath taking views.

Basil's Bar is frequented by movie stars and local yachties alike, offering an authentic Caribbean casual mood with live bands at this unbeatable waterside venue.

Take a taxi tour to see more of this exclusive, perfectly manicured private island.

Day 6 - Mayreau

Mayreau is the smallest inhabited island in the Grenadines with a population of about 250. Home to a few bars, restaurants and a small stone Roman Catholic church, Mayreau is only accessible by boat and gives visitors an insight into the charming, traditional village life.

Saltwhistle Bay is the best beach on the island and also offers a beach bar and restaurant.

The island is ideal for relaxing, walking and hiking – there are some quite steep areas!

Day 7 - Tobago Cays Marine Park

Five uninhabited, blow-your-mind islands, the “Jewel in the Crown” of the Southern Grenadines.

The protected marine park provides access to fabulous diving and snorkelling – swim with the turtles but be careful to give them space! Have Reef Fish follow you like younger siblings. Enjoy this fantastic “attraction” and the protected underwater species whose home it is.

Day 8 - Carriacou

Visit the first of Grenada’s sister islands, Carriacou, the largest of the Grenadine islands. There are also many smaller islands off the coast of Carriacou. Famous for traditional boat building and sailing, the islands also provide the perfect opportunity for fantastic diving.

Spend the day further exploring Carriacou on an island tour, explore her small islands by dinghy or diving or just kick back on the beach and make the most of the penultimate day!

Stop by Sandy Beach for lunch or overnight and enjoy the peace and quiet of a deserting white sandy island before heading back to Port Louis Marina.

For those in search of a delicious late-night bite, the kitchen closes at 11pm.

When it comes to the drinks, an extensive wine list has been curated by leading premium wine specialists, Bibendum, with an incredible selection of wines by the glass. With the cocktail menu, versions of loved classics chosen by the team appear like Bradley's take on the original Margarita - Bradley's Margarita with Patron reposado, quiquiriqui mezcal, apricot, grapefruit sherbet and lime.

Unique artworks by internationally renowned artist, Bradley Theodore are displayed within the art-deco basement bar and on the house grand piano. Live entertainment every evening from 7pm until the early hours pays tribute to performances of the past and the club's historical charm. The club combines the elegance of a long-lost speakeasy alongside a hedonistic feel of what Soho originally became known for. There is a refreshing and friendly approach to membership with guests chosen through a panel of creatives and not limited to certain professions. Guests are welcome to use The Court as a communal work space, meeting place, a place to kick back and relax or even dance the night away.

The interiors concept has been kept under lock and key with much excitement over how the space will finally look. The project has involved a design collaboration with award-winning interior designer Michelle Derbyshire and A Styled Lifestyle, with a 'luxurious haven on the racecourse' unveiled. ### Creating and conserving Chinese craftsmanship with the K11 Craft & Guild Foundation

The five major traditional craft areas which will be supported and promoted by K11 ARTUS will be:

- Guangcai: A traditional crafting technique for producing colourful hand-painted porcelain
- Baibaoqian: An ancient craft of inlaying engraved work with precious stones
- Chinese Literature – The Dream of the Red Chamber: Written by Cao Xueqin, the rare edition on display is considered a masterpiece of Chinese literature
- Wooden Architecture: A distinctive craft in Chinese architectural culture, wooden architecture is inscribed on the Representative List of the Intangible Cultural Heritage of Humanity
- Plaster moulding: A technique for crafting shapes with lime on the ridges and walls of traditional Chinese ancestral halls or temples

Rare art pieces that incorporate these traditional craft areas are sourced and produced exclusively for K11 ARTUS in collaboration with K11 Craft & Guild Foundation. One of the most valuable art pieces to be displayed is the “Large Jade and Hardstone-inlaid Zitan Panel” dating back to the mid-Qing Dynasty, featuring Baibaoqian techniques. Guangcai is also reflected in a selection of pieces including the “Guangcai Candy Jar” crafted by Master Zhao Yiming, and the “Guangcai Fruit Punch Bowl” by Master Tan Guanghui, both provincial inheritor representatives of China’s intangible cultural heritage (Guangcai).

K11 ARTUS has also collaborated with Master Xu, the national inheritor representative of China’s intangible cultural heritage for Guangcai, and provincial inheritor, to produce a new series of “K11 ARTUS Guangcai Porcelain Plates” to further promote the Guangcai technique to the K11 ARTUS residents. K11 ARTUS residents will be able to purchase these arts and crafts, with the proceeds going to support a group of Chinese craftsmen.

“BE RELEVANT OR BE DEAD”

The story of Timothy Oulton started back in 1976 with an antiques shop near Manchester, owned by Tim's father, Major Philip Oulton. After graduating from Ampleforth College in Yorkshire, a boarding school run by Benedictine monks, Tim went to work for his dad, and about 3 months in he was hooked on antiques, falling in love with traditional craftsmanship and enduring design. It was an obsession that would lead him to create his own line of furniture, lighting and accessories, inspired by the past yet relevant for today.

Since opening its first gallery in 2008 in L.A., the company now has over 40 galleries worldwide from New York to Sydney, New Delhi, Hong Kong and London. Last year saw the opening of its global flagship at Bluebird on the King's Road.

Sharing the ground floor with the iconic Bluebird Café, the 7,200 square foot gallery is a distillation of everything Timothy Oulton stands for – heritage, creativity, innovation, and hosting...all under one roof. Collections are showcased in a portfolio of different 'worlds' including the glamorous Age of Elegance, urban slick Metro, eclectic Beat Generation, laid-back Loft Living, and tranquil Coastal Drift. And if you're not sure where to start, the gallery offers a 3D Room Planning service, so you can visualise your favourite pieces in your own home, all under the expert guidance of the gallery's experienced ambassadors.

Going by the mantra “Be Relevant or Be Dead” Timothy Oulton exudes the perfect balance of tradition and modernity in its creative collections, blending a passion for time-honoured handcraftsmanship with a fearless quest for innovation.

Rooted in the ethos of hosting, the brand's interiors and construction leg, Timothy Oulton Studio, has delivered hospitality projects across the world including the recently opened 1880 members' club in Singapore, and Timothy Oulton's first restaurant, Gough's on Gough in Hong Kong. Everything is designed around giving people a great hosted experience, as Tim explains, “Our aim is to create an experience which deeply touches people. The stores, the furniture, our hospitality projects, everything is a vehicle for delivering a visceral experience.”

L'ART DU LUXE

We traveled to the haute couture capital to understand France's answer to the luxury car market.

DS AUTOMOBILES

Written by Benjamin Dubois

France has long enjoyed a strong reputation for creating luxury brands which are the envy of the world. Dior, Chanel, Yves Saint Laurent, Cartier, Givenchy the list goes on. But in the Automotive industry, before 2015 you would have been hard-pressed to name a luxury vehicle manufacturer in France. Today, the answer is DS Automobiles.

Now, let's get this out of the way nice and early, because I can hear the collective question... "You mean Citroen?". DS Automobiles began in 2009 as a premium brand of Citroen, enjoying great success. This was until in 2014 Yves Bonnefont, the then Director of Strategy, along with three colleagues busily worked on a plan to truly allow the creative designs to flourish and show off the savoir-faire they knew their team boasted, all with one aim in mind. To grow DS Automobiles into one of the top 10 luxury brands in the world.

What is luxury? This is a very personal question, is it exclusivity? The latest technology? The heritage of a brand? Or simply how you feel when you experience the craftsmanship that goes into creating a luxury product. I believe luxury is an illusion.

Without getting too deep, there is no universal rule book or guide to adhere to.

There are only versions of luxury created in the heads of the consumer; it's a deeply personal experience, and one that DS Automobiles taps into with a product range that is hard to ignore.

What better way to see the haute couture influence embedded in DS Automobiles cars than visiting the timeless city of Paris. This trip wasn't going to be to simply stroll down the Champs-Élysées, we were heading to round 8 in the Formula E calendar.

The mode of transport was the DS 3 CROSSBACK, a B-segment SUV oozing style and sophistication.

Upon first thoughts you instantly recognise certain styling elements from the Citroen DS 3, such as the shark fin in between the front and rear glass on the side of the car, but this is where the similarities end. The CROSSBACK 3 is a far taller, more confident car on the road. The presence it holds on the road is notable. With 10 different body colours, and 5 different DS Inspirations to choose from, you are certainly encouraged to make your mark with the materials inside and outside being completely customisable – which at this price point really does feel original.

I was keen to get to grips with the technology that DS Automobiles quite rightfully champion. The first, and possibly most obvious being the DS MATRIX LED VISION, a block of LEDs divided into 15 segments that illuminate the road ahead. What's more, the headlamps can be left on full beam even against oncoming traffic due to an in-built camera in the windscreen that detects oncoming cars. The segments then individually dim to leave the oncoming driver in a void of light that floats by as they pass. It really must be seen to be believed.

Like many people, I've always grown up being slightly terrified of a robot revolution. I've always imagined one of the biggest differences between mine and future generations would be the level of trust in technology, and I most certainly never imagined I would be comfortable with a computer system taking control of my car.

2019 marks the year I threw all of that to one side and allowed a level 2 autonomous driving system to complete the vast majority of the 200-mile journey to Paris.

By linking Adaptive Cruise Control and Lane Keep Assist, it automatically adjusts its distance from the car in front, staying in lane and following the flow of traffic independently. Was it nerve wracking? Not one bit. It felt like real progress. It felt luxurious.

Having arrived in Paris the feeling of witnessing a pioneering step forward remained. Les Invalids, the site home to Napoleons sarcophagus lent itself as the historic background for a very modern sport. The Formula E grid lined up with the Techeetah-DS drivers Jean-Eric Vergne and Andre Lotterer starting 14th and 8th respectively. DS Automobiles entered the sport in season two partnering with Virgin Racing but have since moved to the title sponsor Techeetah and with their combined efforts propelled Vergne to win the 2018 championship. At the time of writing this, they are currently first in the team championship, with Vergne looking to take his second championship in a row – the first back to back winner. The race was spectacular and chaotic with the first wet race in 5 years happening before our very eyes. Lotterer managed to take full advantage moving up from 8th to 2nd.

For many, motorsport is simply a case of “boys and their toys”, but this all has real world applications making huge waves in our every day lives. The knowledge built up from Formula E has allowed DS Automobiles to commit to all new vehicles being exclusively electric. The statement is as bold as it is ambitious.

While at the race DS Automobiles showcased their all new E-TENSE range. A hybrid 4x4 CROSSBACK 7, and an all-electric CROSSBACK 3 with a range of up to 200 miles. Both of which are built using the same monocoque as their less ecological counterparts. To own an electric vehicle with DS Automobiles means you can choose the car, styling and trim first, with the decision of which engine to run being as interchangeable. It's your choice, diesel, petrol, or electric.

When in Paris I was lucky enough to experience a ride along in the CROSSBACK 3 E-TENSE round the circuit as the car was unveiled to the crowds. This was the first time the car had been seen in motion by the public and to experience it from the inside was surreal. The feeling of luxury was only heightened by the lack of sound from any engine, the only sound being that off a soft whirl from the electric motors. The impression it left with me was one of progress - the tipping point with EV's finally seems to be approaching.

With the world changing around us, congestion zones being adopted by almost every major city in the world and the public concerns surrounding diesel, DS Automobiles have firmly planted their flag in the sand. Electric vehicles can have individualism, expert craftsmanship and most of all, can be luxurious.

THE CAVALCADE BRINGS THE WORLD OF FERRARI TO CAMPANIA

AN EXCLUSIVE TOUR TO DISCOVER CAPRI, THE AMALFI COAST AND THE INTERIOR

Over 100 Ferraris from all over the world met in Campania for the 8th edition of the Ferrari Cavalcade.

The event offered Ferrari customers unique driving experiences again this year, along fascinating routes, enabling them to fully appreciate the performance of our contemporary cars: from the latest models, such as the Ferrari Portofino and the 488 Pista Pilota, to limited edition special series like the Ferrari Enzo and the LaFerrari Aperta.

More than 200 collectors and enthusiasts made up the crews, from over 20 countries around the world, including a large representation from Europe, the USA, the Middle East and many participants from East Asia, New Zealand and Australia. These numbers reflect the global attraction of the Maranello brand.

This international convoy embarked on a journey which was full of surprises and had a rich variety of landscapes that only Campania can offer. The participants explored the unmistakable views of the Amalfi coast and the interior of Campania, behind the wheel of their Ferraris, from the Parco del Partenio to the slopes of Vesuvius.

The tour began on Tuesday, 18 June, with a visit to the city of Benevento where the Ferraris were admired in Corso Garibaldi. The next day, the cars were on display along the Salerno waterfront, before taking the Amalfi Coast's hairpin bends to Sorrento. On 20 June, the Royal Palace of Caserta and the centre of Naples were the backdrop for the Cavalcade, with a stop in Piazza del Plebiscito. The fourth and final day of the tour was dedicated to one of the jewels of the Gulf, with a parade of cars from Capri to Anacapri.

An exceptional programme and a great show, not only for the Ferrari owners but also for local people and tourists, linking the most famous car maker in the world to these locations, emblematic of Italian beauty.

ROLLS-ROYCE UNVEILS WRAITH EAGLE VIII COLLECTION

Rolls-Royce Motor Cars unveiled its latest Collection Car, Wraith Eagle VIII, on the shores of Lake Como at this year's Concorso d'Eleganza Villa d'Este, 24-26 May. Created by the Bespoke Collective at the House of Rolls-Royce, a Collection of just 50 Wraith Eagle VIII motor cars will tell the epic tale of one of the most pivotal moments of the 20th century.

Captain John Alcock and Lieutenant Arthur Brown braved uncharted skies to make the first non-stop transatlantic flight in June, 1919. Contemporaries of Sir Henry Royce, Alcock and Brown flew non-stop from St. John's, Newfoundland to Clifden, Ireland in a modified First World War Vickers Vimy bomber aircraft. The bi-plane was powered by twin 20.3 litre, 350 bhp, Rolls-Royce Eagle VIII engines. It is from this remarkable engine that this Collection takes its name.

Rolls-Royce marks the 100 year anniversary of this feat with a highly contemporary Collection that speaks to today's adventurers, whilst honouring those who changed the course of history.

"I do not know what we should most admire - their audacity, determination, skill, science, their aeroplane, their Rolls-Royce engines - or their good fortune", commented Sir Winston Churchill, following the perilous journey that brought unfathomable advancement to 20th century society.

Alcock and Brown established a legend and gained a place alongside Donald Campbell, CBE in the most select club in the world; those who push beyond previous conceptions of human endeavour to achieve seemingly impossible records on land, water and now, air. Their one binding characteristic? Rolls-Royce power.

The duo suffered every conceivable challenge an aviator could face. The Rolls-Royce Eagle VIII engines were the only components that proved indestructible. The engines propelled the aerial voyage at previously unimagined speeds, averaging 115 mph. Their peril cannot be underestimated. Their radio and navigation instruments failed almost immediately, leaving the pilots flying unaided at night through dense cloud and freezing fog for many hours, sometimes upside down. Eventually they emerged from the cloud and using Brown's extraordinary skill as a navigator, flew by the stars to the coast of Ireland.

Torsten Müller-Ötvös, Chief Executive, Rolls-Royce Motor Cars, commented, "Wraith Eagle VIII is at once an object of desire; an homage to heroes and a protagonist to today's visionaries. This Rolls-Royce Collection demonstrates the extraordinary skill of our Bespoke Collective at the Home of Rolls-Royce in Goodwood, West Sussex. Bespoke remains the jewel in the crown of the marque, creating luxury items that defy the trend of mass luxury manufacturers using 'tick-box' options to answer customer demand."

The exterior of the Wraith Eagle VIII Collection Car is evocative of Alcock and Brown's compelling night time adventure. Swathed in Gunmetal with a Selby Grey upper two-tone, the colours are separated by a brass feature line, a hint at the detailing that lies within. The black grille vanes draw immediate reference to the Rolls-Royce Eagle VIII engine cowling on the Vickers Vimy aircraft, the wheels are part polished with a translucent shadow finish.

Within, the finely executed interior mirrors the exterior hue. Selby Grey and black leather are accented by brass, redolent of the brass sextant so integral to the success of the transatlantic journey. Executed in a contemporary fashion, the material populates key areas throughout the cockpit of the Collection. Brass speaker covers depict the estimated flight distance of 1,880 miles and 'RR' monograms are embroidered in brass coloured thread onto headrests. A flash of brass complements the navigator door paniers, whilst the door of the driver includes a brass plaque with Churchill's quote commending the duo's remarkable achievements.

Inspired by the night time flight of our intrepid heroes, the fascia represents a modern-day abstract interpretation of the view the pair would have enjoyed as finally, their craft cleared the thick fog and cloud. In a fusion of contemporary and traditional practises, Smoked Eucalyptus wood is vacuum metalized in gold before being inlaid with silver and copper, to depict the rich detail seen in night time images of the Earth from above. The scene extends to the centre console providing both an emotive and immersive experience for today's occupants – the cockpit is in perspective with the headliner. Below, the brass-stitched quilted sides of the centre tunnel provide a direct nod to the V12 engined Vickers Vimy.

The clock of a Rolls-Royce is frequently viewed as jewellery, with many patrons choosing this canvas to tell the story of their motor car in miniature. Wraith Eagle VIII is no exception. Our intrepid pioneers recounted that their instrument panel was frozen from the high altitude and the poor conditions, referring to the only illumination coming from the green glow of the control panel lighting and the burst of flame from the starboard engine. In homage to this, the Rolls-Royce Bespoke Collective has masterfully fabricated a clock with an iced background effect which glows a faint green in night time driving conditions. The red hour hand sits atop compass inspired lines on the clock's fascia, whilst the landing location coordinates are engraved below.

Perhaps the most alluring feature of the Collection is the extraordinary unique starlight headliner. 1,183 starlight fibres show the celestial arrangement at the time of the flight in 1919, the flight path and constellations are embroidered in brass thread, whilst the exact moment the pair left the cloud to navigate by the stars is indicated by a red fibre optic light. Clouds are embroidered and a plaque reading, "The celestial arrangement at the halfway point 00:17am June 15th 1919, 50° 07' Latitude North – 31° Longitude West" shows the half-way point of the momentous journey.

Just 50 of these highly collectable motor cars will be created for discerning collectors at the Home of Rolls-Royce in Goodwood, West Sussex – a Centre of Global Luxury Manufacturing Excellence.

PERCY STRIDE IS MAKING STRIDES IN THE FOOTWEAR INDUSTRY

Bringing a breath of fresh air into Britain's long-established Men's footwear Industry, young entrepreneur and Footwear graduate Danielle Wathes has taken her brand Percy Stride to the luxury market after only 2 short years.

With a footwear design degree from De Montfort University Danielle is able to apply design flare and construction knowledge to her range of classic Goodyear Welted footwear; enabling her shoes to be both comfortable, functional and contemporary. When asked why Danielle decided to design for men rather than the more obvious women's shoes she responded "There is far more to be discovered and explored within Menswear. Men's footwear can be seen as massively undeveloped in places, without any true variety.

There is no longer a connection to the product and rather shoes are being brought for convenience rather than style and quality. This isn't the case in fashion so why should it be the case with footwear?"

Danielle wanted to create a brand which would connect the wearer to the designs, promote British construction as well as help encourage and educate those on the design industry, in doing so she created her first range "Timeless" using roman numerals and clock details throughout to clearly link in with the theme. With a range of coloured leathers to choose from Danielle has made the collection to "suit every need or occasion". Simplifying the shopping experience even further all shoes within the collection are the same shape, meaning if you like them in one colour you know the fit will be consistent throughout the range.

Percy Stride shoes are handmade by skilled craftsmen and women in a small Northampton spanning a history of 138 years in the industry, with Danielle designing each shoe and overlooking all technical specifications. Danielle states "Without the support I receive from my friends at the factory Percy Stride wouldn't have been able to achieve the success it has done in such a short time. Their professionalism and incredible skill has provided the quality I was adamant to achieve within the range."

Working from home and promoting her brand Danielle Wathes is thrilled that the last 5 years of developing and building Percy Stride is reaching new heights.

Since the company launched in Winter 2017 Danielle and her brand Percy Stride have gone on to win the society of shoefitters award and Danielle herself was nominated as Entrepreneur of the year for 2019's South West Business awards.

The South West business awards elect their nominees by stating they are "Entrepreneurs who had innovated unique solutions to the problems they faced, put their heart and soul into making their industry better, overcome personal and professional hardship to triumph in business, and more."

The initial struggle has paid off. In the first 2 years of business Danielle has been a member of the British Footwear Association headed by Robert Perkins the Chief Operations Manager at Hotter Shoes and of the Worshipful Young Pattenmakers Society.

The road has not been smooth Danielle stated "It's extremely challenging to enter the industry as a new brand. Brands already established in this field have hundreds of years of heritage behind them, and a strong base of loyal customers."

Percy Strides first range of Goodyear Welted Northampton made footwear will be seen at other prestigious events this year such as Goodwood Revival and Fairfords Air Tattoo.

RELEASE JAMES BOND COLLECTION IN CONTINUING COLLABORATION WITH EON PRODUCTIONS

Following the successful launch of the limited-edition Bond swim shorts in July 2018, men's resort wear brand Orlebar Brown are releasing an exclusive capsule collection inspired by iconic looks from seven classic James Bond films.

The second instalment expands from swimwear to offer pieces including polo shirts, jackets and espadrilles.

Referencing outfits worn by Sean Connery, Roger Moore and George Lazenby as British Secret Service agent 007 in Dr. No, Goldfinger, Thunderball, On Her Majesty's Secret Service, Diamonds Are Forever, The Man With The Golden Gun and A View To Kill, the collection fuses Bond's classic and refined style with Orlebar Brown's resort wear in signature fabrics.

COPYRIGHT EON PRODUCTIONS 2019

Orlebar Brown's attention to detail extends even to the labelling inside the towelling robe which reads 'The Property of Dr. Julius No, Crab Key,' recalling a scene from Dr. No (1962) where Sean Connery as James Bond and Ursula Andress as Honey Ryder are imprisoned on Crab Key island outfitted in similar robes.

The campaign has been fittingly shot by English photographer Greg Williams, who has a long-standing relationship with the 007 film franchise and is also known for his film and editorial work featuring stars such as Meryl Streep, Tom Hardy, Jake Gyllenhaal and Kate Moss. Shot at Villa TreVile in Positano, Italy, the campaign captures all the adventure and glamour of a typical Bond destination.

Available exclusively at Orlebar Brown in-store and online from £145.

FROM THE BIG SCREEN TO REAL LIFE: TAG HEUER UNVEILS NEW MONACO LIMITED EDITION AT EXCLUSIVE EVENT IN LE MANS

Engines revved this weekend in Le Mans, France, where watch aficionados set their sights on the latest Monaco anniversary edition. The setting for the exclusive big reveal couldn't have been more fitting – in the 1971 film Le Mans, actor and “King of Cool” Steve McQueen sported the iconic timepiece, securing its place in horological history. As a tribute to the Monaco's cinematic debut, guests – including Steve McQueen's son, Chad McQueen – enjoyed a special screening of the famous film in the place where it all began.

Every aspect of the Monaco timepieces design was radical, and went where no other watch had ever gone before in terms of design and technology. Not only was the TAG Heuer Monaco the first ever water-resistant square watch, it was also the first to feature an automatic-winding chronograph movement.

In honour of the Monaco's 50th anniversary, five limited editions will be successively revealed throughout the year. These new models are inspired by the different decades from 1969 to 2019 and pay tribute to a style icon now more contemporary than ever. The special collector's editions unveiled in 2019 pay tribute to the Monaco's timeless design and TAG Heuer's never-ending innovation.

After the unveiling of the first model at the Monaco Grand Prix in May, TAG Heuer was proud to reveal the next limited-edition model celebrating the period from 1979 to 1989 in Le Mans, France. The first model took inspiration from the years 1969 to 1979 – the first decade of the Monaco's history.

Red-hot racing through the 1980s

Hot on the heels of the first of the five timepieces, the second model reveals a fiery design with a bold red dial synonymous with cutting-edge design and racing victory. Presented on a black calfskin strap punctured with holes lined in red, this special edition captures the speed and style of the Monaco's second decade. The stainless-steel model, with its iconic square case, features a red sunray dial and two rhodium-plated subdials with curved edges. Black and white accents on the dial perfectly complement the black-tipped hour and minute hands. The hands and indexes are coated with Super-LumiNova® for improved legibility.

As with the original, the pushers are on the right of the case while the crown is on the left – an unconventional feature that has distinguished the Monaco over the past 50 years.

The caseback of this 1980s-inspired wristwatch is engraved with the “Monaco Heuer” logo as well as “1979-1989 Special Edition” and “One of 169”. Sporting a design inspired by the original model, the stainless-steel caseback has vertical and circular brushed patterns. The case houses the renowned Calibre 11, a modern version of the automatic-winding chronograph movement that made its debut inside the original Monaco in 1969. This watch has been produced in an edition limited to 169 pieces.

Looking back on 50 years of the TAG Heuer Monaco and Calibre 11

When the Heuer Monaco (TAG was not part of the company name at the time) was introduced at simultaneous press conferences in New York and Geneva on 3 March 1969, journalists and watch aficionados around the world were amazed. With its never-before-seen water-resistant square case, the Monaco's daring and iconic design made it instantly recognisable.

The watch's design was the perfect complement to the advanced technology being presented by the Swiss watchmaker at the time. Developed and commercialised by Heuer, the Calibre 11 was the world's first automatic-winding chronograph movement.

CEO at the time Jack Heuer believed that this groundbreaking innovation required a design that would demand attention. The Monaco did exactly that.

In 1971, the Monaco was worn by Steve McQueen, the “King of Cool”, in the movie Le Mans.

TAG Heuer and Le Mans

Was it luck or was it destiny? Jack Heuer once explained that the world's first self-winding chronograph, called the Chronomatic in 1969, was not about luck but rather filling a clear need on the market for chronographs. “But if the Monaco is a first in design, its success is owed almost entirely to luck,” he has said. As the story goes, Jack Heuer sent stopwatches and chronographs to the set for the filming of the movie Le Mans, and he was also able to send six identical Monaco watches (a move made possible by the watch's poor post-launch sales). It was this watch that was chosen for Steve McQueen to wear. The watch might not have been successful in 1970, but today it is a TAG Heuer icon. Jack Heuer himself has said that he could never have imagined the watch would be as successful and coveted as it is today. He went to the set of Le Mans after the watches had been delivered, but McQueen was not there that day. They never even met!

HUBLOT AND MARC FERRERO CELEBRATE WOMEN, HEROINES OF MODERN TIMES

BIG BANG ONE CLICK MARC FERRERO

Hublot, Swiss luxury watchmaker and Marc Ferrero, the artist behind Storytelling Art, unveil the Big Bang One Click Marc Ferrero. Paying homage to the 21st century woman, who distinguishes herself through the multiplicity of her roles, in this exclusive timepiece she is embodied as the heroine of modern times. This collaboration marks an exploratory approach to art and watchmaking.

“When I am asked ‘What innovative and modern idea develops your painting?’ Without hesitation, I answer fusion... Using different graphic styles (cubism, impressionism, surrealism, figurative, etc.) on the same plane or over my works—just like a film director uses special effects to tell a story—will always represent an extremely exciting challenge for me.”

Marc Ferrero

A Muse, the 21st century woman

In turn wife, mother, friend, lover, business woman, femme fatale, fashion icon or night owl, for every hour of the day the modern woman sets herself apart as unpredictable, multifaceted and unique. She is disarming and makes light of the simple or complex adventures that she comes up against; drawing upon her charm, she juggles the lives that fill each of her days.

Big Bang One Click Marc Ferrero

The dial tells the story of this heroine of modern times with 'Lipstick', an iconic work by the artist. Enigmatic behind her dark glasses, she remains majestic in the face of the unexpected and affirms her femininity, armed with her lipstick. Spinel in shades of red, topazes for the turquoise version, and forty-two fine stones decorate the bezel of the new 39-mm case, which is adjusted to her feminine wrists. With one touch of its "One Click" patented fastening system, the leather strap makes way for a version in alligator and rubber, a touch of sophistication appropriate for the moment. Available in red and turquoise, the special series will be available in 50 copies of each tone.

Watchmaking and painting in movement: fusion

Hublot and Marc Ferrero cultivate the art of exploration in their respective fields, with fusion as the guiding principle. For the watchmaking house, it is the unexpected blend of rare and innovative materials and for the artist and friend of the brand, it is the combination of different graphic styles on the same plane. It was therefore natural for their innovative spirits to find a shared expression, with watchmaking as a vehicle for art. A story of timeless adventures is embodied by the Big Bang One Click Marc Ferrero timepiece. A flagship announcement linking to the "Hublot loves Art" series.

CRÈME DU LOCH®

LUXURY AGE-DEFYING MOISTURISER

For most people, the skin's youthful elasticity starts to diminish as early as their 30s, which would be the best time to start adding age-defying moisturiser into your routine – one tip is to look at your parents for a clue to see when fine lines and wrinkles may start to appear. It's partly your genetics as well as outside elements that affect your skin.

Crème Du Loch's Age-Defying Daily Moisturiser is full of active ingredients that promise to maintain a fresh and vibrant look by providing nutrients for your skin. The effective formula is sure to inspire devotion with its surprisingly light texture and the lingering fresh scent of cucumber essence in conjunction with its wrinkle-fighting properties.

The crème has been expertly created by skincare experts, with over 40 years of expertise, in collaboration with leading UK biochemists. They came together with one thought in mind - to make you look as young as you feel.

Each of Crème Du Loch's active ingredients has been specially chosen for their age-defying properties and what they each contribute to maintain a healthy and radiant facial appearance.

A key ingredient and one many of you would have heard of is retinol. This ingredient boosts collagen in the skin and reduces the appearance of fine lines and wrinkles; this works in conjunction with rose hip oil, which is a rich source of vitamin A and vitamin C and cranberry seed oil, which is a rich source of vitamin E.

Both of these ingredients are renowned for their anti-oxidant properties, and are essential in hydrating the skin as well as assisting in firming. Say bye-bye to those furrows around the brows, dark spots and uneven skin tone.

The main element of Crème Du Loch is the kelp extract, harnessed from the Sea-Lochs of Scotland – hence the name. It protects against UVA rays and external pollution, keeping your skin looking and feeling nourished all day.

This luxury anti-aging moisturiser aims to deliver noticeable results from the very first use. With continued usage, the long-term benefits will convert even the most cynical. The product matches high-end quality moisturisers, whilst remaining affordable and paying homage to its strong British roots. Crème Du Loch is easily absorbed by all skin types and will leave your skin feeling fresh, renewed and healthy and for those who value long lasting make-up, it creates an excellent primer.

RESTORE YOUR ESSENTIAL YOU

HERITAGE

Olverum's original bath oil was created in 1931 by winemaker Franz Otto Klein and his wife Edith, an accomplished pharmacologist. Passionate devotees of natural wellness, they curated an enviable library of the world's finest essential oils. Inspired by the therapeutic blends at their favourite spa in Baden Baden, Franz and Edith combined these with their professional expertise to create the definitive therapeutic oil.

The couple spent two years obsessively experimenting, until they finally arrived at a formulation with the preternatural restorative properties they sought.

They gave their creation to friends as Christmas presents and the response was universally rapturous. As word spread, the OLVERUM brand was born and the Kleins became among the earliest pioneers of green beauty. Eighty-seven years later, their closely-guarded recipe has earned its reputation as a cult beauty classic.

THE BODY OILS

INNOVATION & DEDICATION

In the spirit of the original creators, Dominic Hawksley, founder of the relaunched OLVERUM brand has been similarly uncompromising when it comes to the genesis of the new line. "When your first product is near perfection, it's daunting to embark on developing your second. Over the past four years, we have tested iteration after iteration until we arrived at formulations we believe are worthy of the OLVERUM brand. The fruits of our endeavours are two innovative body oils – simply called THE BODY OIL and THE DRY BODY OIL."

Carefully crafted with over 30 premium essential oils, cold-pressed botanical oils, and botanical extracts, each OLVERUM body oil features the unique aquatic botanical Alaria Esculenta Extract to boost the synthesis of Collagen and Hyaluronic Acid and leave your skin feeling smooth, plumped and rejuvenated.

KEY BENEFITS

LONG-LASTING HYDRATION FROM WITHIN

OLVERUM's non-greasy oils are easily absorbed into the skin, improving epidermal barrier function to promote natural skin hydration, leaving it feeling exquisitely soft and pampered. When used on cleansed, damp skin, moisture is further and more intensely locked into the skin.

RESTORE BODY AND MIND

In keeping with the original bath oil, and drawing inspiration from its universally adored essential oil blend, each and every OLVERUM ingredient is carefully considered for both its topical and aromatherapeutic benefits. For best results, lightly massage the oil into your skin to revitalize your body, then breathe deeply from your cupped hands to revive and soothe the mind.

PREMIUM BOTANICAL ACTIVE INGREDIENTS

The OLVERUM credo is that authentic wellbeing can only be achieved when working in harmony with nature. Our premium botanical actives are diligently extracted from natural sources and delivered in the purest elemental forms for maximum benefit.

NATURALLY BEAUTIFUL SKIN STARTS HERE

Our story

Ever wondered what the results could be if you went beyond organic skincare?

If capturing nature's living powers right at their life-force and combining them with ground-breaking technical expertise, could actually be the answer to your most beautiful skin yet?

These are the questions our founder Vicky Wall and her esteemed collaborator Mike Booth were intuitively inspired to answer. And the result is AEOS – born in 2010 – the next generation in advanced organic skincare.

Radiant skin – as if lit from within – soft, smooth and nourished to the touch. Your skin – the best it can be. Your wellbeing – enriched. No arsenal of products. No chemicals or synthetics. Just nature at its most powerful, reminding your skin what it once knew.

Transform your skin

By excluding all synthetic fertilisers and pesticides – while adhering to strict biodynamic farming principles and respecting a diverse ecosystem – we ensure there are no toxic residues in our products. Such a holistic approach to cultivation results in a balanced, happy and self-sustaining environment – where plants thrive and reach their full and powerful potential – delivering optimum nourishment to your skin.

Why it works

By balancing the different aspects of the soil without using man-made chemicals, we increase the strength and vitality within our plants and herbs. This attention means that when a plant is harvested, its energy force has been nourished through well-tended soil, rewarding us with a more potent essence.

We grow and harvest as much as we can to be used in our products, sourcing all other ingredients from exceptional organic and biodynamic farms across the world.

Our awards

Hailed by the beauty press as a truly ground-breaking natural skincare solution that doesn't compromise on results, a mounting collection of beauty industry awards, plus an ever-growing loyal following across the world – AEOS is visibly transforming the way people's skin looks and lives – women and men of all ages and skin types, wherever and whoever they are.

Michelle's story

'I was 39 years old when my hair first started falling out. Although I'd never been a vain person or too caught up with my image, you can't underestimate the mental impact losing your hair can have...I was very unhappy and suffering from severe anxiety when my family stepped in to help.'

'I invested in one wig, which made me feel like 'me' again and then I came across the amazing people at Mandeville. Quite simply, if you want your own hair back, you see these guys. I can't begin to explain how great their wigs are. Not only that but also how kind, understanding and thoughtful they all are.'

'When I tried on my made-to-measure wig for the first time, I felt incredible. Having my hair replaced really did improve my mood and I started to feel a little better inside. Now I have three wigs from Mandeville – the team has always shown me how to look after each of my wigs and I've got really good at styling them myself. You can't underestimate what a positive impact the feeling of having your own hair back has. It's life changing.'

goop x Chloé RELEASE EXCLUSIVE TESS AND CHLOE “C” BAGS

Chloé and goop have reimagined two Chloé bags—the small Tess and mini Chloé “C”—exclusively for goop.

The new style showcases the Maison’s classic bags in natural-white and blondie-beige smooth calfskin contrasted with an embossed croco-effect calfskin in autumnal brown.

The small Tess (£1,619) features a round silhouette and a front loop displaying the Chloé “O,” with double straps secured by gold-brass hooks. The Chloé “C” (£2,001) has a compact day-to-evening silhouette, its sleek lines embellished with a gold “C” and oval ring attachments for adjustable, removable straps.

To complement the exclusive bags, goop has curated a collection of Chloé summer staples by Creative Director Natacha Ramsay-Levi. The pieces echo the Mediterranean-inspired Chloé Spring-Summer 2019 collection, reintroducing foulard prints, light separates, and accessories for the summer traveler.

Bandana prints on washed silk twill are seen on tiered dresses in mini (£2,485) and ankle lengths (£3,112). A Western cotton shirt (£1,049) with guipure lace shoulder details and pearlized snap buttons is balanced with high-rise flared denim pants (£857) featuring front and back pleats and finished with the Maison's signature Chloé "O" back pocket.

The look is completed with Aria sandals (£814) inspired by the Chloé archives. The stacked heel is juxtaposed with semishiny and suede calfskin in cacao brown, adding a sensual and feminine touch.

SHAPESHIFTER: THE MULTIVERSE OF WALLACE CHAN

Renowned jewellery artist and innovator, Wallace Chan, will be presenting his first solo show in the UK, SHAPESHIFTER: The Multiverse of Wallace Chan, at Asia House in London from 14-17 September 2019 (Preview 13 September). The exhibition will feature 20 jewellery pieces realised in Wallace Chan's latest groundbreaking innovation – a super-strength porcelain that is five times harder than steel – and 10 titanium sculptures, demonstrating the jewellery artist's mastery of both materials.

SHAPESHIFTER: The Multiverse of Wallace Chan is the last in a series of three international exhibitions, following presentations at Crosby Street Hotel, New York in November 2018 and Christie's Gallery Hong Kong in January 2019. It is the first time that 'The Wallace Chan Porcelain' will be introduced to art lovers and connoisseurs in the UK.

Tracing the development of his practice over the past 45 years, the exhibition features never before seen works and will demonstrate the jewellery artist and innovator's ceaseless ambition to push boundaries through creative innovations. The exhibition will also offer an unprecedented insight into Wallace Chan's work as a sculptor, a medium in which he has been working since 1973.

Highlights include a two-metre sculpture, titled Lotus Children, of a blooming lotus flower made of titanium resting on a glass plinth. The flower's pistil is citrine, surrounded by four rotating figurines of small children symbolise each season. A second sculpture, Memories, from Death to Life, is a skull formed of titanium and The Wallace Chan Porcelain. The skull, while naturally reminiscent of death, is equally a celebration of life.

The exhibition will also include an intricately designed series of jewellery, including brooches titled Garden of Dreams and Mind Puzzle, that beyond being beautiful objects are also an exploration of deep philosophical questions such as the origins of the universe.

The pieces in the exhibition incorporate a wide range of materials including titanium, The Wallace Chan Porcelain and are adorned with a multitude of gems and precious stones such as rubies, pearls, sapphires, opals, amethyst, topaz and lapis lazuli, among others.

Wallace Chan said, "I look forward to introducing The Wallace Chan Porcelain to London – one of the most innovative cities in the world – in the beautiful setting of Asia House that speaks to the historical and cultural importance of porcelain in China and its influence in Europe. I always feel that I have a responsibility to innovate, whether through the invention of a new idea, technique, tool or material. My porcelain allows me to realise many new creations that defy the limits of wearable art, just as titanium did in the past decade. Perhaps, like titanium, it will serve to inspire others to explore the possibilities of jewellery creations and sculptural art."

Wallace Chan is a self-taught jewellery artist and innovator. His curiosity and thirst for knowledge has led to the creation of numerous innovations combining art, science and alchemy, including: The Wallace Cut, an illusionary three-dimensional carving technique invented in 1987; the mastery of titanium; a patented jade technology; the invention of elaborate gemstone settings without metal claws; and most recently, The Wallace Chan Porcelain, a material five times stronger than steel.

The exhibition will be accompanied by a public programme of events, including talks, guided tours and handling sessions, more details of which will be announced soon.

Coinciding with this London exhibition, one of Wallace Chan's creations is currently on view in the exhibition, Jewels of Nature, at Naturama in Svendborg, Denmark, running until 30 December 2019

ETHICAL FINE JEWELLERY FROM ZIORVA

With sustainability at its heart, Ziorva is an ethical fine jewellery brand for the modern woman. A woman with both style and substance. A woman who values quality materials and expert craftsmanship. A woman who cares about how things are made and the impact of all our actions on the environment.

Raised in Ireland, Lorna Gaughan (Ziorva's founder) was fortunate to be surrounded by the most beautiful, natural landscape. Vast skies, wild seas and rolling hills have all given her inspiration. She hopes future generations can similarly enjoy nature in all its splendour. To do this, she feels we must all do our bit for the environment. For her, this meant creating precious pieces of jewellery which wouldn't damage our planet or the people on it. Pieces that were designed to last, made precious through their form and content. With this in mind, she named her company "Ziorva", which means "graceful gold". It is derived from "Zi", a name of Chinese origin which means "graceful" and "Orva" which means "worth gold" in French.

Every Ziorva piece is designed and crafted right here in the UK to reduce carbon footprint and ensure high quality standards of production. Items are purposefully cast from recycled gold to minimise adverse impact on the environment. Each gemstone is responsibly cut and hand-selected for its radiance and meaning. Only conflict-free diamonds feature which adhere to the Kimberley Process. Even the Ziorva gift boxes have been specially crafted from FSC certified card to ensure our forests are protected for future generations.

Entitled “Skyset”, the first collection takes its inspiration from the skyline. Architectural outlines against the backdrop of dynamic skies. Mesmerising shades of pink and blue that illuminate the sky as the sun rises and sets. From daybreak blue to dusk pink and twilight pink to midnight blue, each Ziorva piece reflects a glimpse of that captivating sky. All elegantly captured in geometric forms. Featuring gemstones imbued with meaning and radiance, this is a collection to inspire and empower.

Ethical Credentials

All Ziorva jewellery is crafted right here in the UK. This ensures that the finest quality materials are used, and fair production methods are in place. It also minimises carbon footprint. The gold used in the casting process by Ziorva is 100% recycled, 9ct solid gold (with the option to create bespoke items in 14ct or 18ct recycled gold). It is cast with the utmost care in a boutique facility in the UK. The recycled gold is sourced from a member of the Responsible Jewellery Council who only uses “conflict-free” minerals, ensuring that the recycled gold is produced in a socially correct as well as ethically & environmentally sound manner. Any additional solid gold components required to finalise Ziorva designs are also responsibly sourced.

Once the items are cast, expert craftsmen in London’s iconic Hatton Garden carefully finish and polish each piece. Each gemstone is set by hand with the utmost care and precision. Gemstones have been responsibly cut and are hand selected for their radiance and meaning. They are sourced from a reputable company who has taken the time to visit the factories where they are produced, confident that employees are treated well and fairly. Only conflict-free diamonds, which adhere to the Kimberley Process, are featured in Ziorva jewellery.

After the pieces are beautifully finished, they are hallmarked by the iconic Goldsmith’s Assay Office in London (or the historic Birmingham Assay Office), certifying that they are 9ct solid gold. They are then packaged in luxurious boxes which have been specially crafted from robust paper and card which is both acid-free and FSC certified to ensure our forests are protected for future generations. The protective tissue paper which surrounds the jewellery for transit is created using water-based ink. It is also FSC certified and fully recyclable, as are the compact packaging boxes used for transportation.

As you can see, a lot of thought and care goes into crafting Ziorva jewellery in the most sustainable way. I like to think every piece is doing its own little bit for our environment.

YOTHA LAUNCHES WORLDWIDE INNOVATIVE

NEW PLATFORM WILL MAKE
YACHT CHARTERING SIMPLER, FASTER AND FAIRER

YOTHA, the new digital yacht charter platform connecting owners, charterers and yachting professionals, has launched worldwide with a promise to bring trust and transparency to the yachting market.

YOTHA's digital technology will make yacht chartering faster, simpler and more straightforward and www.yotha.com will become an invaluable tool for everyone involved in the industry.

YOTHA offers a unique chartering experience, allowing customers to negotiate directly with the owner's representative, book their trip online and then benefit from a free concierge service which helps them to create their own bespoke itinerary.

More than 150 of the world's finest luxury yachts are available for charter on the platform, which has launched worldwide for the 2019 season after a beta version was successfully tested last summer. Hundreds more yachts from the global charter fleet will be added to the platform in the coming months.

YOTHA was founded by Philippe Bacou, who has owned and chartered luxury yachts for more than 15 years. Frustrated by his own experiences as an owner, he decided to create a unique digital platform that would enrich the charter experience, shaking up the market in the same way that Booking.com has revolutionised the hotel industry.

By making chartering easier, YOTHA will expand the market and attract a new generation of charterers.

Its unique features include:

- A facility to negotiate the charter price online, supervised by a 24/7 customer care service
- Substantially reduced commissions - YOTHA takes an 8% commission if a yacht is booked directly through the platform, or 4% if the booking is made through a broker, compared to the standard industry commissions of 15% to the broker and an additional 5% to the central agent
- A simple, fair electronic charter contract balancing the interests of charterers, owners and professionals
- All financial transactions secured and guaranteed under the supervision of FINMA, the Swiss banking regulator
- Partnerships with luxury brands, including award-winning concierge service Quintessentially Switzerland, and leading yacht service providers

YOTHA will encourage more owners to charter their yachts because they will have greater flexibility, including shorter charters and more off-season deals. It will empower their captains, allowing them to connect with charterers through the YOTHA app in advance of their trip to plan the perfect itinerary whilst providing all their favourite food and drink on board.

Amongst the 150 yachts currently registered for charter on the online platform are some of the best-known super yachts in the global fleet, including the 90m Lauren L, the award-winning 50m Vertige and the 55m Mustique. Smaller motor yachts and sailing boats are also available on the platform. Yachts are available for the end of the Winter season in the Caribbean and the upcoming Summer season in the Mediterranean.

Philippe Bacou, Owner and Founder of YOTHA says:

"I am excited that YOTHA now opens the way for the digital transformation of the luxury yachting industry. Our ambition is that our innovative new solution for chartering will improve the customer experience, offer new services and help attract new customers to luxury yachting. We are keen to explore fresh ways of expanding the charter business and want to form partnerships with investors, brokers and other key industry players."

"At YOTHA, we hope to increase the size of the market both in charter volume and services through in-depth industry co-operation"

"It is an exciting time to be involved in the Yacht charter industry and we hope to improve the experience for everyone involved in the industry: charterers, brokers, agents, captains, crews and owners."

BORROW A BOAT ANNOUNCES FIRST OF ITS KIND PARTNERSHIP WITH OCEAN INDEPENDENCE

The UK's leading and fastest growing boat charter platform Borrow A Boat has announced the launch of Borrow A Boat Plus, welcoming a partnership with Ocean Independence. The collaboration between a digital platform and superyacht central agent is the first partnership of its kind in the market which will bring an unprecedented level of ease and access to superyacht charter. Ocean Independence, who operate the largest luxury fleet available for charter in the world of over 100 superyachts, will add a huge range of diversity to Borrow A Boat's current line of over 17,000 boats.

Borrow A Boat Plus is a further expansion of the company's objective to make boating more flexible and accessible with a wide choice of luxury crewed charter boats and superyachts to cater for the top end of the market. Borrow A Boat Plus will offer fully-crewed and catered charters around the world, from 60-foot sail or motor yachts right up to world's most expansive superyachts, for those seeking a truly luxurious charter.

Borrow A Boat CEO Matt Ovenden comments "We're excited to offer this new range of luxury crewed and catered boats around the world, and through our partnership with Ocean Independence this allows us to help realize our goal of becoming the most inclusive, accessible boating platform worldwide. Relying on the experience and wealth of knowledge of Ocean Independence in this market, our customers can now have their ultimate dream vacation on the water, at both ends of the spectrum and all points of the compass!"

Head of Sales & Marketing Toby Macaurin comments "There has been much hype recently over disruptors, or those who are claiming to be, entering into the charter market. Indeed, the yacht charter industry should not be complacent and should embrace technology whilst reaching out to a younger audience, but not at the expense of quality of service and excellence of experience. This is where the current disruptors have got it wrong.

In partnering with Borrow A Boat, and the creation of Borrow A Boat Plus, we see an innovative approach to the question of evolution within the charter market, towards an end goal. Working alongside a technology leader whilst retaining the essential elements of high quality, expert advice, depth of knowledge plus financial security will ultimately result in being of the greatest benefit to the consumer."

AMEL CHAMANDY

ARTIST, DESIGNER AND BUSINESS WOMAN

Amel Chamandy is a multi-disciplinary artist, designer and accomplished business woman. She began her career at a very young age as an artist, painting and drawing. Her passion for creative evolved into photography where she documented urban space – simple scenes in the city using black and white film digitally altered images that she exhibited internationally. With her powerful creative drive and her talent, she began designing Murano Vases as well as accessories under her own brand, Amel Chamandy® Designs.

About her photographic work

Her images are poetically transformed from the simple and familiar into a complex and anomalous, almost mysterious underlying theme, challenging the viewer's relationship with their surroundings. The photographic work is an attempt to change the way individuals connect with the world around them and through her images, she looks to create the kind of experience that cues investigation.

Combining traditional medium with contemporary technique, Amel digitally transforms small black and white film negatives to produce photos of expanded scale of up to four by six feet. These large images, taken from the essence of the scene, are displayed in sometimes fragmented, sometimes shifting juxtaposition that defines distorted perception and so reveals and otherwise cloaked message.

About her paintings

Her passion for the arts never ceases, painting and experimenting with every possible medium she executes her creative on canvas without boundaries. There is always an intent to provoke her viewer and challenge they're perception. She only paints large scale to deliberately engage the viewer to experience the color as an overwhelming field with intensity and richness. The pigments draw the viewer in a hypnotic way and her brush movements on canvas are lyrical, subtle and delicate creating an imagery with fluid shapes that create meditative effect.

About her Sculptural work

Amel Chamandy made her sculpture debut a few years ago when she was commissioned to create a piece (Marie & Jean for a newly renovated building in Quartier du Musée in the downtown area of Montreal. Since then she has been commissioned to produce large scale sculptures for private collectors in Montreal, U.S. and the Caribbean. "Hope", "Flying Flower" and "Bijou" are to name a few. Her latest installation which is taking her art to a new level is an urban sculptural installation. "Rock your Art World" river rock street art project which was created to change the viewers relationship to urban life, enlighten, inspire and motivate us to approach everyday mundane landscape in a holistic way, thus allowing all who come across these to take a seat and transcend, reflect, destress and find tranquility in chaotic urban setting.

About her design

After completing various major interior design projects, her passion for design objects ignited her next creative. Her passion for Murano and its rich history of glassmaking and unparalleled craft and art led her to create her new line of Murano vases under her brand Amel Chamandy® Designs. Now in its few years of development, the AC® brand has expanded into jewelry, stemware and home décor collection.

Amel Chamandy is represented by Galerie Nuedge located in Montreal's prestigious Museum Quarter.
