This thread covers posts by Q from January 21 - 24, 2018.

It's a screenshot of an email from Todd Macklerr to Donna Brazille and John Podesta informing them of his current work on voting machines.

Subject: The Dogs Are Loose

Hey guys, as you can see from the subject - The Dogs Are Loose. I repeat - The Dogs Are Loose. Loose dogs, guys. You know what to do from here. I'll be meeting with Soros later this week for some "pre-programming" of machines.

We're also going to check out a Collective Soul concert. Never knew George was a fan, but he is and so am I, so we're going. That isn't code or anything so don't bother looking for the corresponding code - this just means we're actually going to see Collective Soul in concert.

More to come. But yeah, these machines will be humming in November, just like I'll be humming a few Collective Soul songs next week.

11) In a not so obvious move by #Trump & Sessions, Dana Boente was named Chief Legal Counsel for the FBI.

Some fear that Boente is a black hat. Mostly because he's considered to be an "Obama appointee."

#Qanon

http://www.wtva.com/content/national/470780613.html?

offer

12) Obama appointed Boente to be US Attorney for the Eastern District of Virginia in 2013. But he's been with the Justice Department for 33 years. Calling him an "Obama appointee" doesn't paint an accurate picture of him.

#Qanon

13) Consider this:

In January 2017, a week before leaving office, President Obama quietly signed an executive order that removed Boente from the DOJ's line of succession, effectively removing him from the list of people to succeed the Attorney General.

#Qanon

14) Obama didn't trust Boente, who served as acting AG under Trump before Jeff Sessions was confirmed. Since then he's served as head of the DOJ's National Security Division.

#Qanon

15) Trump & Sessions have had time to road test Boente. If there were problems, they should have identified them. If they trust him, there's no reason why we shouldn't.

16) It's only Wednesday and moves by the deep state are signaling concern if not outright fear. #Qanon

17) Continuing with #Qanon:

SNOW WHITE [1, 2, and 5] offline.

From previous posts, we know that Snow White is a nickname for the CIA, due to the fact that they named their 7 supercomputers "The Seven Dwarves." Three of them are offline. (Gee, I wonder why.)

26) Sundance (@TheLastRefuge2) just tagged me in a post. Looks like more maneuvering—or panicking—by the deep state. DOJ is officially begging the House Intel committee not to release the memo because they know it will nuke everything within 15 miles of Main Justice.

#QAnon

The Honorable Devin Nunes
Chairman
Permanent Select Committee on Intelligence
U.S. House of Representatives
Washington, DC 20515

Dear Mr. Chairman:

Recent news reports indicate a classified memorandum prepared by House Permanent Select Committee on Intelligence (HPSCI or Committee) staff alleges abuses at the Department of Justice (Department) and the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) in the FISA process. We understand many members of the House of Representatives have viewed this memorandum and that it has raised concerns.

As you know, we have provided HPSCI with more than 1,000 pages of classified documents relating to the FBI's relationship, if any, with a source and its reliance, if any, on information provided by that source. Media reports indicate that the Committee's memorandum contains highly classified material confidentially provided by the Department to the Committee in a secure facility.¹

The Department takes any allegation of abuse of our justice system by Department employees seriously. Further, we assume that HPSCI members want to provide evidence of any specific allegation of misconduct to Department officials so that we may take appropriate action. The rule of law depends on the confidence of the American people that our prosecutors and investigators apply the law fairly and without bias or regard for political influence. Though we are currently unaware of any wrongdoing relating to the FISA process, we agree that any abuse of that system cannot be tolerated.

¹ To date, the Department has provided detailed briefings and made available to HPSCI documents requested as part of its investigation into Russian influence in the 2016 election. The terms of access stipulated that review of the documents would be limited to the Chairman or his designee, the Ranking Member or his designee, and two staff members each. (Mr. Gowdy reviewed the documents for the majority. Mr. Schiff reviewed the documents for the minority.) Other committees of jurisdiction—the Senate Select Committee on Intelligence, the Senate Committee on the Judiciary, and the House Committee on the Judiciary—have accepted similar procedural safeguards to protect against improper dissemination of information.

https://pbs.twimg.com/media/DUWsY2mUQA1c_A.jpg

In addition, we have also heard that HPSCI is considering making the classified memorandum available to the public and the media, an unprecedented action. We believe it would be extraordinarily reckless for the Committee to disclose such information publicly without giving the Department and the FBI the opportunity to review the memorandum and to advise the HPSCI of the risk of harm to national security and to ongoing investigations that could come from public release. Indeed, we do not understand why the Committee would possibly seek to disclose classified and law enforcement sensitive information without first consulting with the relevant members of the Intelligence Community.

Seeking Committee approval of public release would require HPSCI committee members to vote on a staff-drafted memorandum that purports to be based on classified source materials that neither you nor most of them have seen. Given HPSCI's important role in overseeing the nation's intelligence community, you well understand the damaging impact that the release of classified material could have on our national security and our ability to share and receive sensitive information from friendly foreign governments. We know that committee members take this responsibility seriously, and would not risk damage to our intelligence community or the important work it does in safeguarding the American people. Additionally, we believe that wider distribution of the classified information presumably contained within your memorandum would represent a significant deviation from the terms of access negotiated in good faith by the Department, HPSCI, and the Office of Speaker Paul Ryan.

The Department renews its request—as previously made in a personal appeal by the Director of the FBI—for an opportunity to review the memorandum in question so that it may respond to the Committee before any vote on public release. In the alternative, should you wish not to provide the memorandum to the Deputy Attorney General and the FBI Director, we encourage you to provide it to Michael E. Horowitz, the Department's Inspector General. His office would appropriately investigate any alleged wrongdoing by the FBI or other Department personnel and independently assess whether prior public release of the memorandum would impair its ability to do so.

Very truly yours,

Stephen E. Boyd
Assistant Attorney General

McCallum's interest was piqued. She asked Gowdy for additional details.

"You have this insurance policy in the Spring of 2016 and then the day after the election ... there's a text exchange between these two FBI agents -- these two (supposed to be objective, fact-centric) FBI agents saying, 'perhaps this is the first meeting of the secret society,'" Gowdy explained. "So of course I'm gonna want to know what 'secret society' are you talking about -- because you're supposed to be investigating objectively the person who just won the Electoral College."

The allegations #Qanon has made are serious. And he wants to be taken seriously.

How do we know someone posting on 8chan is who he claims to be?

The pen image is an opportunity to prove he's a phony.

71) It's pretty simple. #Qanon is suggesting that the photo of the pen was taken in close proximity to the President. He's suggesting that this is in fact, Trump's pen. If he was able to take an original photo of it, he must be close to POTUS.

72) All you need to do is search the internet for the image. If you find it somewhere else, we know Q probably didn't take it.
