Who's At The Helm Of Your Vessel?

Arthur Cristian
Love For Life

You are lost in the reflections of the imaginary self where you have defined the fake persona you believe that you really are, and it is only there, as the memory of this "self-obsession", that you play out the conflict you believe goes on with others but all of it is a fantasy.

All you are really doing here is kidnapping and impersonating others, under "NAME" (definitions), to use them as fictional characters to play out the defined pantomime game of this fake persona you are performing, the "self-obsession", no different to the kid performing as Superman but trying to make Superman fit in with the daily life of the kid's real family life.

In "The System", the "self-obsession" is the kid believing that he/she really IS Superman and, as we grow up, the "self-obsession" becomes the belief that who we really are IS the "NAME" we have been given in "The System", in your case, "Don Caire".

Just as Superman was defined to the child so that the child becomes bonded to the image of Superman, so you have become bonded to the image of "Don Caire" that has been defined to you which is everything that makes up the personality of "Don Caire" in "Don Caire's" system life. This includes your opinions, your likes and dislikes, your career, your body image, your intelligence, your e-motional feelings, etc, etc, all of it inside the matrix of the alphabets where the egregore of the occultists has been accessed for you to form this fake e-go.

And because this "self-obsession" has been going on since so early in life, there is no demarcation between reality and fantasy and you have allowed fantasy and reality to merge into a fog of confusion that is the fake persona you have arisen in "The System" of this fantasy with a good heart still there.

This "self-obsession" is an imaginary battle over the helm of your vessel that you have brought onto this Facebook wall and the whole of "The System" supports this battle because the intention of the occultists is to dominate your vessel by creating distractions that keep you occupied in the reflections of your "self-obsession" that you call out as the pantomime of "Don Caire" and "Don Caire's" defined life in "The System" of definitions that you have become obsessed with, causing you to call out to the demonic possession that now possesses you.

Everything has been pre-determined for you because this is what alphabets do, distracting you from creating your unique, original living soul.

Everything going wrong in everyone's lives in "The System" today is the result of the intention of the occultists determination to board your vessel and take control of the helm for the whole of your life, causing massive conflict in your thinking because the sentiments of your good heart are being over-ridden by the directives of the occultists who have you wake up to the clock, go through school and university, choose a career, get married, have children, retire and die, always under the power and control of the occultists, always under their definitions, the distractions of "self-obsession".

None of it is real or authentic, all of it is defined. What a woman is is defined, what a man is, what a mother is, uncle, aunt, brother, sister doctor, nurse, CEO, mechanic; all of it is defined. And when we have defined parents, there can only be defined children who grow up learning the definitions of "The System" of "self-obsession" from their parents, extended families, peers, communities and outward to the "global community" of mass indoctrination through the media, Hollywood, etc.

Thus we learn defined personalities, defined sexualities, defined intellects, defined physiques, defined diets, defined housing, defined "norms", defined rights and wrongs, defined relaxation, defined habits, hobbies, interests and lifestyles. Every different expression of system life is a cult within a cult, within a cult, within a cult....., all in conflict with each other because there is no living (live in) soul there in any of it.

It is only in "The System" of "self-obsession" that people gloat, become jealous, greedy, selfish, argumentative, lonely, suicidal, arrogant, ignorant, righteous, vindictive, controlling, e-motional, repressed, depressed, lost in states of fantasy/illusion and delusion, etc, etc, etc. All the destructive e-motions happen only inside "The System" and they are all the symptoms of men and women trapped in cults, defined into herd mentalities that perform the "self-obsession" of that cult.

In this "Don Caire" pantomime of your imagining, the cult of your "self-obsession", you have set it up to have your persona perform the thinking that we are attacking you, the MAN, when none of this is actually going on. Your role playing of our characters in this pantomime of your imagining is not proof of fact that anything you are claiming out of this role playing are actually coming from us. These imagined sleights are not coming from us, the living MAN and wombMAN. There is no ill will coming to you from us in any way, past, present or future.

Because we say something said/written is bullshit does not mean or imply or validate fictitious evidence that we are attacking the MAN. What we are doing is scrutinising what has been said and pointing out where we see the fantasy in it. This is not the same as attacking the MAN. The reaction comes from the deep attachment you have formed to the fake persona so an observation on the fantasy still ruling your thinking is perceived as an attack and leaves you unable to sense the intentions of where we are coming from.

You really believe that the definition of the daffodil is yellow is true, in the same way that you believe that everything that you e-motionally perceive to be happening to "Don Caire" is real and who you really are when none of it is you and it is all fake, just as the "daffodil is yellow" is fake. You have not created any of the defined-dreams that you are living (live in) as "Don Caire". They have all been defined for you by others.

This "self-obsession" is MAN'S fallen "state".

Unless our brothers and sisters heal this damage and walk away from the occultist's influence of covert power and control, they will remain as willing, contracted slaves of "The System" under "name" and continue supporting the murder of MANS' souls and devastation to the unique, original, undefined living dream of undefined MAN'S life.

Your "Don Caire" is running script upon script upon script upon script of e-motionally charged definitions that you have fed with the current of your life energy which is why the mirage (matrix) of "The System" is so strong and mesmerising for you. Everyone trapped in "The System" is doing it too. The cults grow big and fast as they ebb and flow across the enslaved generations.

You are clinging to the scripts of your experiences as "Don Caire" in the kaleidoscopic mirage of defined apparitions, talking to God, having spiritual experiences, talking about freedom and consciousness on social media, law, the Supreme Court, religions, etc, etc, everything of "The System".

You are not alone here, Don, it is the malaise of everyone still trapped in "The System", all performing the pantomime of "The System" together, all at the effect of everything of "The System" that we believe to be true that has us still trapped in "The System" as "self-obsession" slaves of the alphabet definitions that we worship, in spite of the sentiments of our good hearts that get lost in the apparitions of "The System", and we call them cars and children who we send to preschool and school and old people that we send to retirement homes, and property and careers, etc, etc, etc.

Most men and women are really good people but they keep defaulting to "The System" mirage because they are not in control of the helm of their vessel and they no longer remember how to - this is how we can prove to you that we are right in what we are saying; just how often are you defaulting to everything of "The System" in your life to live your system life? What steps are you taking to completely walk away from "The System" in this life as you begin to create your undefined living soul (dream of MAN'S life)? Are you dropping the contracts and walking away? Or is your vessel still being dominated by the occultists.

If you have already created a unique, original, living soul, then you are not going to be here on social media discussing freedom while you are still e-motionally tied to "The System". Unless, like us, you have made the choice to keep using "The System" in reaching out to wake up brothers and sisters, in which case you would not be fighting for the continuation of the fantasy of "The System" in what you write.

A living soul is an undefined MAN of peace and if you are a MAN of peace, you would not have a battle with us or anyone else because now you are a man of peace and there are no e-motions of "self-obsession" to be played out between you and other brothers and sisters of peace who have also walked away from "The System" in this life because you no longer have any cultish attachment to the conflict played out between brothers and sisters that stems from their cultish attachment to their fake personas.

Currently, you are showing up as still being very attached to the fantasy of "Don Caire" as "Don" presents himself to the world but you are not aware of this and have not yet worked out how to free your undefined thinking (dreaming) from the scripts. Most men and women are in denial that this is what they are doing. Their bond with their fake persona is so strong that they have to fight for the existence of "The System" because this is the only place where the fake persona can appear to reside.

Your difficulty resides in the ongoing attempt to make us fit into the boxes of your imagining that we don't fit into. This sets off the conflict you are performing inside this fantorgasmic box of non-sense which you have become very skilled at doing because you would have repeated these trauma-based patterns over and over and over again throughout "Don Caire's" system life.

You were taught to practice anthropomorphising the living that you come into contact with, and you do this to humanise them with your e-motions so they meet the criteria of the perceptions of reality you have defined for them to fit into to be inside the fantasy of your everyday pantomime that you use to survive the persona's doubt, uncertainty, distrust and fear that steers the helm of your vessel throughout "The System" of this fantasy you are contracted to under "NAME".

This man-made phenomena is no different to other forms of anthropomorphism where someone is placing the attribution of their human characteristics or behaviour on to cat, dog, weather, tree or a god, animal, or object, imagining something that is not there.

This Facebook wall is all about getting to the bottom of what keeps us trapped in "The System" and, if we are not all prepared to examine everything that we are thinking and feeling without any attachment to e-motions or outcomes, we will remain trapped, despite our fake personas brilliantly pretending that we are not trapped, or coming up with justifications as to why we cannot change, etc.

The Superman is the e-motions that come with the definitions that are the intentions of others that you have learned to hold onto as the model of this persona you believe you are, the e-go that you present in the world of "The System" and that you may bring into every relationship with others that you have.

To us, you cannot see/sense yet that this is still part of a broken will where the domination of others has taken control over your helm - your head is constantly spinning scripts of definitions after scripts of definitions after scripts of definitions..... You, along with the vast majority of us, are still under the control of the definitions of the alphabet egregore that is being broadcasted by the occultists for you to adopt and form the "Don Caire" e-go that you keep bringing with you wherever you go in "The System", including here.

This is just the fake persona you formed to survive everything that happened to you from the womb onwards, all the invalidation, etc, that is handed out in "The System", used as a shield of fake confidence and pride to present to others so as not to show the broken will. The e-go is the kid playing Superman amongst reality, unable to distinguish between the e-motions of the egregore that are still at the helm of the vessel driving the MAN and the undefined soul of the undefined MAN formed from the unique, original living (live in) dreams of life created by being brought up in undefined nature with no one inside their heads defining reality for them.

This is where the occultists have still got control over you.

The e-motions of "self-obsession" are the fake consciousness that is all the information that makes up system life, the dream invented (imagined) by another man whose intention is to take over the vessels of all men, women and children and have them live out of the fake persona that they project and illuminate to be at the helm of the vessel, ruled by the e-motions, not realising that they are unconsciously living the intentions of the occultists who conceived the compelling e-motions that form the information of the direction of a hijacked MAN'S life, possessing the MAN to the point where the MAN has so fully absorbed these directions that the MAN imagines them to be of the MAN's creation.

Every one brought up in "The System" has been trained to forget the good heart for the persuasive, "self-obsessive" powers of the e-motions, which is the basis of all law, all the religions, all commerce and the statute rulings that come with them, and all the commercial and non commercial values derived from the measurements of the compass and square that have formed the imaginary dream world of "The System" for the fake persona to sail the vessel of the dominated MAN across the seas of fantasy, because this sea is all they see through the spelling of the black magic of the alphabets that has destroyed them. The "self-obsession" brings the fake person into the law, into Facebook, into the conflicts, etc.

They still sense their good heart in everything of creation (reality) all around but they bring the e-motion of the definitions in with what remains of the soul, or the good heart, and there is the confusion. They grow up as adults and say "I'm conscious, I'm of the truth" not realising that a huge part of it is this fake, e-motional darkness of definitions that carries the intentions of the will of another MAN who conceived the e-motions that are used to attack the vessel of a child's life to take control of the helm.

Growing up in "The System", rote learning the definitions, we form the intellect that is the intelligence of the e-go's e-motions, the defined thoughts/dreams streaming through the housing of the alphabet egregore in our heads that has nothing to do with the unique, original, undefined dreams formed in undefined nature and we become confused between the two, unable to work out who is at the helm.

These days, almost all of MAN across Earth have broken wills where the undefined good heart is no longer in control of the helm of the vessel because the vessel was attacked and bordered by pirates (Occultists/Satanists/Freemasons) from so young. The deep programming of the pirates is now in control of the helm of the vessel, and the will of the pirates' agenda (Luciferianism) is far stronger and more powerful than the conscience of MAN'S good heart to do good hearted work.

Most of MAN is selling out the good heart because MAN now worships money, economic security, man-made laws to protect commerce, etc, far more than the good heart gifted to all of MAN. The good heart is the consciousness of the living creator (God) who holds the living dream of MAN'S life (Nature, Earth, Celestial Bodies) in present sense (focus). Life is the consciousness of God set into motion as MAN and MAN'S living (live in) paradise (dreams of life).

The good heart has been thrown out for the dream of "The System" of enslavement to "self-obsession", and this fallen "state" of worshipping definitions over the good heart is already hell, better known as "The System" of keeping the consciousness of the good heart (the soul) out of the vessel of every MAN'S life.

The good heart in almost every MAN is ignoring the good heart speaking through any man, woman or child doing the work of the good heart. For most of MAN today, the good heart is a complete stranger to them and they don't sense when the good heart has come their way and into their lives.

Currently, in this life, there is a separation of the ways at play and all those who have used their free will to reject the good heart will be forever lost from the eternal living dream of the undefined good hearts' consciousness of paradise, the living dream of eternal life that is creation (reality). The living lights of the celestial bodies are the eternal souls of MAN, MAN'S families and tribes (soul groups) looking over the undefined, living dreams of life they naturally hold forevermore.

The Love For Life work is to remove the confusion about the demarcation between fantasy and reality so everyone has the opportunity to choose which way they want to go and "walk-the-talk" (so to speak), whether they choose eternal life, the living (live in) soul of REALITY, or whether they prefer "The System" of eternal death to MAN'S soul (FANTASY), the genocide dream of all of MAN that has been planned from so long ago by the psycho-occultists who covet the vessels that every MAN'S soul is gifted with on creation.

Most men and women in "The System" who imagine that they have a soul and an after life to go to after the "death" of their vessel have been deeply deceived and misled, just like the tribes of MAN all across earth who were visited by the lackeys of the occultists with seeming good will and then brutally invaded so that they were broken down and all those that remained were indoctrinated into the definitions of "The System".

The alphabet languages and everything coming out of them are just the will of the intentions of a MAN ON LAND to control another MAN ON LAND, and from there expanding to control all of MAN ON LAND across earth, and it is here that the law sits, the religions, government, politics, commerce, etc, because it is all here to control ALL OF MAN ON LAND, and it is here that all the defined thoughts that you have used to form your fake persona sit too.

From this intention to control another MAN ON LAND have blossomed orders, societies, fraternities and sororities, the leaders, most of which all come from the same defined bloodline, the abomination of a defined family whose sole purpose is the domination of all of MAN ON LAND and who are bred through the generations to continue this malevolent work (dream). They control the law, the media, education, religion, entertainment, sport and every aspect of system life because all of it is designed to distract MAN ON LAND from creating a living (live in) soul.

We are all on land here and now but "The System" of "self-obsession" disconnects us from land by distracting us away from the natural undefined connection with land that we naturally use to create an undefined soul. We forget the instincts of creating a unique, original, living soul, the undefined MAN.

This is why almost all of land is under the "ownership" of private corporations (governments, countries, nations, states, principalities, commonwealths, etc) that are "persons" controlling the natural access of MAN to the LAND, denying MAN the inherent opportunity of freedom to dream peacefully, undisturbed in calm nature, far away from the myriad temptations and seductions of system life, the distractions of "self-obsession", with all its unnatural noise, music, radio, TV, Hollywood, media, technology, artificial frequencies and waves, computers, internet, advertising, excitement, technology, entertainment, alcohol, drugs, sport, fashion, unnatural sensations, restrictions, contracts and obligations that persuade us to give up taking full responsibility for creating an undefined soul to be the live-in master of the vessel, unconsciously allowing the occultists to step in and take over the helm, steering the vessel of the MAN ON THE LAND as a robot-drone-slave that is programmed to think it has freedom when it only has choice for the whole of its life.

This is the only reason that the distractions of "The System" were created.

This is why we are heading to a globalised, one world government system where there will be defined-choice but never any undefined-freedom.

This is what privatisation does and everything of "The System" is gradually being privatised so that a very few men and women have complete control over all of land, water, soil, air, all across earth and control what you have access to and what you don't and it is the choices that they offer us that is the slave system of our automated system lives and the inculcation programming that has us accept it as the "norms" of our reality.

They all interfere with MAN ON THE LAND and the invasion of all of MAN ON LAND by sending in occultic lackeys in to live amongst the tribes, mapping out all their customs, languages, etc, before sending in the warships to invade and decimate the tribes.

All the wars, chaos and disruption across earth repeated over and over since the attempt to control all of MAN ON LAND began, is about this wacky dream to control the vessels of MAN ON LAND, not realising that, in doing so, they are dreaming of an earth-wide Armageddon that brings in the apocalypse that they are naturally bringing upon themselves, their families and all their loved ones, no matter how many underground bunkers they have built, or however many secret hideaways they have.

The living soul of the good heart is undefined and cannot be contained in time, space or measurements that form safe house locations amongst creation. The apocalypse comes to you wherever you are and you will receive the rewards of your creation and all the beneficiaries of your creation will also receive those rewards, cream and all.

The occultists have turned their dream of domination over MAN ON LAND into the Grim Reaper who comes to them wherever they are. The magnificence of the living (live in) dream of life is that you have the undefined free will to fully experience the consequences of what you have created (dreamt and lived/worked for). This is the apocalypse and all those who currently have power and control over titles, tribunals, courts, governments, corporations, institutions, societies, etc, are implicit in the intention to control and have complete power over MAN ON THE LAND because this is what they are there for.

PRIVATISATION MEANS SLAVERY.

GLOBALISATION MEANS EARTH-WIDE SLAVERY.

"THE SYSTEM" OF PRIVATISATION IS A CULT OF MEN AND WOMEN WHO LIVE TO MURDER MAN'S SOUL IN THIS LIFE BECAUSE PRIVATISATION IS DEFINING A MAN.

Earth-wide slavery always leads to an earth-wide apocalypse in every life that it is dreamt for.

It is all a bluff as those who con us into believing they have power and control over us have power ONLY when we accept the authority of their system (more self-obsession at play). They cannot kill us all as they need some of us to be their slaves but they are going as close as they can to re-modelling MAN ON THE LAND into soulless zombies with just enough life left in us to do their bidding but not enough to question what we are doing and why.

At the high levels, all of the occultists/freemasons are complicit in genocide, paedophilia, ritual sacrifice and black magic. They are all complicit in the murder of MANS' souls because every vessel has the inheritance of the good heart to create an undefined soul. The occultists are lost in the belief that they will move on to distant galaxies as gods over their domains, not realising that they have made a pact to kill the creation of their undefined souls too. To do what they do, they cannot be conscious and, if you are not conscious, you have no living soul, so when the vessel stops working, there is nothing else there to continue on. There is no escaping this abuse of MAN'S free will.

There are only a very few at the top who know the big picture of what they are doing. Most of the men and women involved are just lackeys working for the rewards of wealth, privilege, exclusivity, status, titles and standings, enjoying positions of power and control over others because most men and women do not want this power and, as we are trained from very young to give over the responsibility for their lives to those that do want that power, we can't really imagine what it is like to have the full responsibility for our lives. We spend our system lives practising the "choice habits of slavery" rather than the undefined instincts of freedom, which is why we don't know how to be free and have to actively practise these skills.

Our enslavement is covert, in that the methods used to keep us enslaved to maintain power and control over us are hidden in the brainwashing programs that we call psyops that are coming at us from every direction in "The System", through the media, advertising, entertainment, current affairs, politics, war, chaos and confusion, homelessness, poverty, mental illness, etc, all of it coming together to form the image of it all being too hard to handle, too big to fix and anyway, we are working too hard to be able to really give it all much attention. Yawn. We don't see/sense the occultists rubbing their hands together in glee because they have us exactly where they want us.

There is nothing of the undefined soul in the coveting of another MAN, nothing of the soul in "ownership", whether of land or anything else. There is nothing of the soul in any of the defined thoughts that you are currently using to create your fake system life. All the thoughts created with alphabet concepts and constructs are contributing to the creation of mirages that form the fantorgasmic Big Broadway production of apparitions of the ghosts, spirits, alien abductions and any form of after life experiences and contact with the other side that con us into believing what we have been told about such things.

The battle is within you, Don, not with us. We don't know you and have no motive to injure or harm you. The reactions you are having are e-motional reactions that you learnt as a child and as you grew up. Are you here because you seek truth and to get out of this crippling mess that we have all arrived into? Or do you want to keep the blinkers on for the rest of the "time" that you occupy the vessel that is under the control of the occultists? Why else are you here?

We do not seek to dominate you or have you "believe" anything we share - that is not our intention. We are just pointing out what is still keeping you stuck. We do this to each other often. It is called being sincere and pure in intention, straight shooting from the good heart, unadulterated.

We refuse to sell out to appease your e-go, just as parents who insist that the child playing Superman puts the costume aside to have dinner, have a bath and go to bed. As adults, with no parents to insist that we drop the persona, we go to bed with the Superman costume still on.

You choose to call our sincerity abrasive and then make claims about us that you cannot back up. Can you not comprehend that perhaps you are just caught up in the mannerisms of the MAN and how this MAN expresses what this MAN has to say rather than sensing the intentions behind what is being said.

Are we really so weak that we need to have our hands held and our e-gos stroked and sidled around to be able to hear what a brother or sister is trying to tell us? Do we really need to be constantly validated and assured that we are alright? Or can we not speak straight to each other without all the bullshit?

This comes across as abrasive to you and that there is no sensitivity when dealing with the fake persona you re-present here but it is just that we don't want to have to waste "time" buttering you up and selling out in doing so because to do this is to be part of a cult with acceptable and unacceptable ways of behaving, talking, walking, dressing, etc. Can we not cut to the chase, get straight to the point and be sincere, just like young children do?

You say, "you should be open to the possibility you might not know everything and may even be wrong about some of the things you know. you have a strong and aggressive personality and you should factor that into the equation as it seems to be prevalent."

Where do we say we know everything? Where do we say we are never wrong? Have you lived with Arthur to know his "strong and aggressive personality"? Are you psychic? Do you have an all seeing eye? Are you in this room with us, always watching? Are you skilled in the black magic of remote viewing, remote control and remote projection? Just how do you really know Don?

"just because you have not experienced something does not mean it is not real, it just means you have not personally experienced it."

We never tell anyone that they have not experienced whatever they have experienced - how would we know? What we do say is to be aware of how easily we attach the definitions we have been brainwashed into ON to whatever we experience, thus often losing the real intention of whatever of reality was coming to you, thereby missing the real meaning of the experience.

Just as "the daffodil is yellow" blocks out the sensory experience with the life form, the "I saw aliens/God spoke to me", or whatever, experience has instantly been blanketed with system definitions of aliens, God, etc, that block out the opportunity for the direct sensory experience intended. This is the confusion that forms the e-go because the MAN cannot sense the undefined soul that has yet to be created (held in focus).

At best, we have become so far removed from the undefined soul that it is a tiny blimp on the distant horizon, ready to drop into darkness as we look across the ocean of system life that is all the memories of the battleground over the control of our vessel where the will of MAN ON LAND is seeking to dominate the will of another MAN ON LAND by breaking their will. This is the conflict that you have been in all your life, just like most of us and is the conflict that we have to resolve if we are ever to raise our heads above the clouds of brainwashing.

Don, you are seeking to implicate us in this battle, thinking that we are seeking to dominate and harm you, when the battle has nothing to do with us. Was the battle not already raging long before you arrived at the Arthur Cristian Facebook wall, where both of us do this Love For Life insight work, and it is both of us writing here now? We are not in this battle and are not about right or wrong, best or worst. You have set us up on the pedestal of being abrasive and wanting to control you.

If you had not set up the pedestal, you would just see us as "equals" on the path of getting "The System" out of our lives. We have no desire to tell you how to think, feel and act. What we do is point out areas where we see a brother is trapped, still lost in the fake persona and still, as yet, unable to see/sense the difference between fantasy and reality. What you do about it is entirely up to you. If you were to start asking us how to go about living your life, we would tell you to keep contemplating until you work it all out. The full responsibility for your life resides with you. We cannot tell you who your undefined soul is but we can show you the difference between your soul and the peacock strutting around the yard performing the fake persona that shows that you have not created your living soul yet.

What you have brought to this discussion is the bluff that every man and women still trapped in "The System" practices because their sense of pride has them not wanting to admit to the emptiness inside that comes from not having created a soul. This is all part of the Superman costume creating the conflict with those around them. If everyone knew who they really were, no one would be wasting their lives having discussions on the internet about creating do no harm communities. They would be out there doing it, living the do no harm, living the unique, original dreams of their undefined soul.

Most men and women practise setting up pedestals because they have been dominated for the whole of their lives. The battle for the will starts from young so this is what they learn. "The System" is full of broken willed men and women setting up pedestals to stand on from which to do battle with each other, all of them thinking that they have the higher ground that gives them the righteous justification for their current e-motional "state". "My pedestal's higher than your pedestal, nah, nah, na, nah, nah."

They are all still confused between reality and fantasy so they cannot clearly sense the intentions of those they are having the battles with, which is why the conflict and confusion continues indefinitely throughout their system lives. The props, settings and characters change but the conflict is always the same.

Have you ever lived with us, Don? Had long term, intimate dealings with us, private or not, commercial or not? Do you really think that we have the intention to hurt you? Have we injured you in any way, that gives you the justification to start a battle with us? Can you show us a non-fantasy hurt in your real-life that we are responsible for, that gives you the excuse to be righteous about us and to impersonate our characters by performing all these claims about us, still strangers to your real life?

What is your grievance, your complaint against us that gives you the justification to be righteous about us? Or is this all just a fantasy that you are playing out inside the Superman costume of your e-go?

We do not make any claims about you, the MAN, apart from pointing out what we see in the words you write, which clearly show this confusion. This does not mean we have the intention to be abrasive or to do you harm. Indeed, if we were not sincere in our intentions to help others, why would we put in the hours that we do on the internet when we would both rather be living a simple life amongst nature?

Yes, we get it, and it's unfair, but you are still the injured, little boy in the Superman costume who becomes petulant, and even has a tantrum when asked to put away the Superman costume and personality. You still want to bring all the fantasy into the reality, even though it has no relevance to what is being discussed. We have Superman here in this thread, playing out the victim game, when we would prefer to deal with the real MAN being honest and sincere. Do you not want the full support of your brothers and sisters in taking off the Superman costume and stepping out as the magnificent undefined MAN we all have the potential to be, in this life? If not, why are you here?

The sad thing (so to speak) is that all the little boys and girls brought up in "The System" are walking around with their heads constantly spinning with "the daffodil is yellow" and all the other definitions that they have been force fed until they are completely broken willed and at the mercy of the scripts of definitions that formed the Superman costume and each staged event involving Superman, taking their pedestals with them wherever they go to perpetuate the battle of their chaos, the reaction to the intention of others to dominate their vessel.

We are not involved in the battle over the helm of your vessel and have no desire to take over the helm. Are you telling us that you are coming onto this Facebook wall without definitions spinning in your head, without a broken will, without a Superman costume and without your pedestal to set up another battle over your vessel? This is why you have never had real peace and calm. We are not saying that you have never experienced true peace and calm but you have not allowed it to be a constant in your vessel in this life because you keep defaulting by proxy to the battle that comes with the Superman costume you wear.

You have learnt to be the good heart to appease others, to be the "good guy" pleasing both sides because you don't want the conflict but this "sitting on the fence" leaves you in a flux of what could be right and could be wrong, which leads to immense confusion and is the conflict, the battle. You seem to put a lot of effort into how you show up to others which means that you are still driven by the Superman costume, the "self-obsession", that you want others to admire. You bring the malady of all this confusion to this FB wall and claim that we are being abrasive, which is to claim that we are injuring you, or have the intention to injure you.

This is why we said at the beginning of this reply "You are lost in the reflections of the imaginary self where you have defined the fake persona you believe that you really are, and it is only there, as the memory of "self-obsession", that you play out the conflict you believe goes on with others but all of it is a fantasy".

You can write off everything we are saying here and choose to have nothing more to do with us but you will be doing so as a broken willed slave still fantasising that "The System" is real.

We live in a world where to make money out of the sickness, unhappiness and misfortune of others is the "norm"! How deep is our heartlessness?

It is impossible to make a move in "The System" without already walking over the downtrodden who were used and abused for you to make that move.

Money is the illusion of abundance, peace, joy, truth, etc, but all you are really buying is a Roman Colosseum celebrating the brutality of a slave system that props up this illusion. The fruits of money are built on the foundations of genocide and devastation.

Alphabets and Commerce are the sword and axe of blatant brutality already swinging, thrusting and chopping at the living all before it. You must be completely outside of "The System" to do no harm and therefore be charitable.
