Turning Dreams into Reality

Media Pack 2019

About Us

The Archetech magazine is a beautifully designed, editorial led publication that is directly delivered to accredited Architects, Architectural Technologists and Interior Designers working on various projects and sectors throughout the world.

Included within each issue are written articles from the world's leading architects and designers, industry news and comprehensive product galleries from the world's leading manufacturers and show previews keeping our readers informed and inspired.

This prestigious publication maintains a clear focus: to sell its advertisers' products, and does this by offering a complete marketing package for advertisers which includes print advertising six times a year, plus online opportunities that will guarantee to generate more traffic to your website.

With a cutting-edge design, informative written style and published as a perfect bound magazine with 300gsm cover and 115gsm white paper throughout, the quality of the publication reflects the quality of our circulation.
