My theme: Mission Forward.

2) If you choose to follow Q, that's fine.
We're glad to have you aboard.
If not, I hold no ill will against you.
There are many good people who do not follow Q.

3) We all have to make decisions.
Some decisions are harder than others.
Some have greater consequences.
These decisions are deeply personal.
If you want it, I'll give you the information I have but I will always respect your right to make your own decisions, free of pressure.

4) On the evening of the election, after it was clear that conservatives would increase their lead in the Senate, the President tweeted this.

<https://pbs.twimg.com/media/Drf-wGQUcAEQGHd.jpg>

5) Q said the [undisclosed] plan was to jump-start investigations in the House for 2 years then switch them to Senate Judiciary.

Losing the House will not negatively impact them.

Senate approves cabinet & court appointments.

Declass will remove/prevent obstructions in the House.

<https://pbs.twimg.com/media/Drf-02JUwAEvRBg.jpg>

6) There is evidence to suggest that the President's plan took into account the likelihood of losing the House. (It's extremely hard for a new President to hold it.)

7) If holding the House was critical to the success of ongoing investigations, why did Bob Goodlatte (chair of House Judiciary) and Trey Gowdy (Chair of House oversight) step down from their positions?

Q told us in May their departure was important but he did not explain why.

Q

<https://pbs.twimg.com/media/DrgCb8TVsAAF3l2.jpg>

8) The departure of Goodlatte and Gowdy were a sign that corruption investigations in the House would be moving to another venue. The only other committee we can trust is the Senate Judiciary, which has direct oversight of the DOJ & FBI.

<https://pbs.twimg.com/media/DrgFVhWU4AAmYgc.jpg>

9) House Judiciary announcement (April 2018) of agreement with DOJ for the release of requested documents.

<https://judiciary.house.gov/press-release/goodlatte-gowdy-reach-agreement-with-the-department-of-justice/>

10) Q noted that the Senate will be stronger with the departure of Bob Corker and Jeff Flake and the addition of new pro-Trump Senators. POTUS will be able to get his nominations approved with less resistance.

11) Q confirmed that the President's strategy took into account the likelihood of losing the House majority so a plan was set in motion to move important investigations to the Senate Judiciary under the watchful eye of Chuck Grassley.

We are at war.
Think logically.
Why was winning the House majority the primary goal for them?
To this point, what chamber is currently directing the DOJ/FBI investigations?
To this point, what chamber do they feel most threatened by?
While the focus was on the House for them (due to above), our underlying focus was adding PRO_POTUS members to the Senate and safely securing a PRO_MAJORITY.
THE SENATE IS WORTH SO MUCH MORE.
THE SENATE CONTROLS JUDGES & CABINET POSITIONS W/O HOUSE APPROVAL.
THE SENATE JUDICIARY COMMITTEE HAS DIRECT OVERSIGHT OVER THE DOJ&FBI [MORE POWER THAN THE HOUSE].
While we had a senate majority on paper, in reality, we never did, nor could we count on bringing investigations to that body until it was safely in our full control.
THE SENATE WAS ALWAYS THE PRIMARY OBJECTIVE.

October Revolution

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

"Red October" redirects here. For other uses, see Red October (disambiguation) and October Revolution (disambiguation).

The October Revolution (Russian: Октябрьская революция, tr. Oktyabr'skaya revolyutsiya, IPA: [ɐkˈtʲabrʲskəjə rɐˈvɫʲʊtsʲɪjə]), officially known in Soviet literature as the Great October Socialist Revolution (Великая Октябрьская социалистическая революция, Velikaya Oktyabr'skaya sotsialističeskaya revolyutsiya), and commonly referred to as Red October, the October Uprising, the Bolshevik Revolution,^[3] or the Bolshevik Coup, was a revolution in Russia led by the Bolsheviks and Vladimir Lenin that was instrumental in the larger Russian Revolution of 1917. It took place with an armed insurrection in Petrograd on 7 November (25 October, O.S.) 1917.

It followed and capitalized on the February Revolution of the same year, which overthrew the Tsarist autocracy and resulted in a provisional government after a transfer of power proclaimed by Grand Duke Michael, brother of Tsar Nicolas II, who declined to take power after the Tsar stepped down. During this time, urban workers began to organize into councils (soviets) wherein revolutionaries criticized the provisional government and its actions. After the Congress of Soviets, now the governing body, had its second session, it elected members of the Bolsheviks and other leftist groups such as the Left Socialist Revolutionaries to important positions within the new state of affairs. This immediately initiated the establishment of the Russian Socialist Federative Soviet Republic, the world's first self-proclaimed socialist state. On 17 July 1918, the Tsar and his family were executed.

The revolution was led by the Bolsheviks, who used their influence in the Petrograd Soviet to organize the armed forces. Bolshevik Red Guards forces under the Military Revolutionary Committee began the occupation of government buildings on 7 November 1917 (New Style). The following day, the Winter Palace (the seat of the Provisional government located in Petrograd, then capital of Russia) was captured.

The long-awaited Constituent Assembly elections were held on 12 November 1917. In contrast to their majority in the Soviets, the Bolsheviks only won 175 seats in the 715-seat legislative body, coming in second behind the Socialist Revolutionary Party, which won 370 seats, although the SR Party no longer existed as a whole party by that time, as the Left SRs had gone into coalition with the Bolsheviks from October 1917 to March 1918. The Constituent Assembly was to first meet on 28 November 1917, but its convocation was delayed until 5 January 1918 by the Bolsheviks. On its first and only day in session, the Constituent Assembly came into conflict with the Soviets, and it rejected Soviet decrees on peace and land, resulting in the Constituent Assembly being dissolved the next day by order of the Congress of Soviets.^[4]

As the revolution was not universally recognized, there followed the struggles of the Russian Civil War (1917–22) and the creation of the Soviet Union in 1922.

48) There has been some discussion about whether the President can use the military to defend the border and under what conditions Martial Law can be declared.

Sadly, many people are ill-informed.

49) The constitution gives broad power to the President to use the military to keep the peace.

Martial Law permits the suspension of civil rights, civil law and the right of habeas corpus, placing citizens under the Military Code of Justice.

Martial law

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

Not to be confused with Marital law.
For other uses, see Martial law (disambiguation).

Martial law is the imposition of direct military control of normal civilian functions of government, especially in response to a temporary emergency such as invasion or major disaster, or in an occupied territory.^{[1][2]}

Martial law can be used by governments to enforce their rule over the public. Such incidents may occur after a coup d'état (Thailand in 2006 and 2014, and Egypt in 2013); when threatened by popular protest (China, Tiananmen Square protests of 1989, 2009's Iranian Green Movement that led to the takeover by Revolutionary Guards); to suppress political opposition (Poland in 1981); or to stabilize insurrections or perceived insurrections (Canada, The October Crisis of 1970). Martial law may be declared in cases of major natural disasters; however, most countries use a different legal construct, such as a state of emergency.

Martial law has also been imposed during conflicts, and in cases of occupations, where the absence of any other civil government provides for an unstable population. Examples of this form of military rule include post World War II reconstruction in Germany and Japan, the recovery and reconstruction of the former Confederate States of America during Reconstruction Era in the United States of America following the American Civil War, and German occupation of northern France between 1871 and 1873 after the Treaty of Frankfurt ended the Franco-Prussian War.

Typically, the imposition of martial law accompanies curfews; the suspension of civil law, civil rights, and habeas corpus; and the application or extension of military law or military justice to civilians. Civilians defying martial law may be subjected to military tribunal (court-martial).

50) Contrary to what many people think, the Posse Comitatus Act doesn't prohibit the President from using the military to enforce the law. Rather, it specifies that only the Congress or the President may do so.

Posse Comitatus Act

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

The Posse Comitatus Act is a United States federal law (18 U.S.C. § 1385^g, original at 20 Stat. 152^g) signed on June 18, 1878 by President Rutherford B. Hayes. The purpose of the act – in concert with the Insurrection Act of 1807 – is to limit the powers of the federal government in using federal military personnel to enforce domestic policies within the United States. It was passed as an amendment to an army appropriation bill following the end of Reconstruction and was subsequently updated in 1956 and 1981.

The act only specifically applies to the United States Army and, as amended in 1956, the United States Air Force. While the act does not explicitly mention the United States Navy and the United States Marine Corps, the Department of the Navy has prescribed regulations that are generally construed to give the act force with respect to those services as well. The act does not apply to the Army National Guard or the Air National Guard under state authority from acting in a law enforcement capacity within its home state or in an adjacent state if invited by that state's governor. The United States Coast Guard, which operates under the Department of Homeland Security, is not covered by the Posse Comitatus Act either, primarily because although the Coast Guard is an armed service, it also has both a maritime law enforcement mission and a federal regulatory agency mission.

The title of the act comes from the legal concept of posse comitatus, the authority under which a county sheriff, or other law officer, conscripts any able-bodied man to assist him or her in keeping the peace.

51) It's important to note that unlike in cases where Martial Law is imposed by despots to punish freedom fighters, if Martial Law is declared in the US, it will only be implemented as long as necessary and only to restrain lawlessness.

For those of you who haven't been around for a long time, here is little reminder: Q has said dozens of times disinfo is necessary and most of the things Q promises will happen on date x, are false. Q has reminded us so many times that blackhats have tons of eyes watching his every post. However blackhats know what happens behind the scenes and they can't possibly know if one day Q promises something big and then actually delivers. This forces them to react on everything Q promises and thus show all their cards which in return gives Q team more intel on them each time.

This is a risky game for Q too because it eats his credibility amongst anons so to counter this he shows us proof of progress through news so anons don't lose hope.

Oh and the midterms, did you guys see the amount of Q confirmations we had few days before it? Trump's campaign manager for 2020 elections gave us a password which added to number 17 and 17th letter on the alphabet is Q. How about Trump's air Q or 3 BOOM BOOM BOOMS on his final rally? All this was done beforehand because they knew Dems would win the House and this would start "Q is a larp" bullshit again. It never made sense why they'd give so many Q confirmations in a short period of time until I saw the midterms results. Dems had to win the House by any means necessary and Q team and mil allowed it to happen and were recording all that election fraud which occurred.
