How Does Wifi Blast Work?

Anytime you're in the market to make a purchase it's always best to research and learn how the product works. In this case the Wifi Blast amplifier does not function as its own router or modem. It works in conjunction with your current router and when the WifiBlast is plugged in and will boost the signal from your existing router.

The reason why you are having trouble with maintaining a strong internet signal in your home is because the signal is weak in that particular area of your home. The Wifi Blaster will amplify the signal making it stronger in that area.
