2) At 03:48 EST this morning (the timestamps are important) #Qanon posed this.
Q has been telling us since April 2nd that Rod Rosenstein has problems.
It looks like action will be taken soon.

(Who in the heck gets up before 4 am?)

(I do not believe we'll see arrests until Trump has been cleared by Mueller. Arrests at this point would look like retaliation.)

Strike Package 111V-B.

Q

<https://pbs.twimg.com/media/DbBvzvVAAAIBj4.jpg>

25) If you rearrange the words, you get this:
Package Q Strike

The largest air strike in the Persian Gulf war.
(Note the F-111 participated.)

Looks like the clowns can expect a little trouble from #Qanon and his team.

Package Q Strike

The Package Q Airstrike was the largest airstrike of the Persian Gulf War,^[4] and the largest strike of F-16s in military history. Many aircraft including the F-117 were used to attack targets in Baghdad, which was the most heavily defended area of Iraq. The same target was hit several times by F-117, and the last package consisted of 17 F-111F on the 19th day of the war.

The main target of the strike was the Tuwaitha Nuclear Research Center near Baghdad, which was the site of the Osirak Nuclear Reactor that was attacked by the Iranian Air Force in 1980 and again by the Israeli Air Force in 1981, along with many other military sites across the city. Two aircraft were shot down, with two pilots becoming POWs. This mission goal was not met, with the reactors of the research facility only slightly damaged, although many of the secondary targets were hit. F-117 aircraft re-attacked the facility later causing significant damage.^[5]

The attack was the largest of the war and represented an attempt to strike Iraqi defenses a serious blow. The raid illustrated how a number of small incidents or stresses, none by themselves necessarily serious, could contribute to an unsatisfactory outcome,^[4] which eventually convinced USAF commanders to call off further airstrikes against downtown Baghdad by conventional (non-stealth) aircraft.^[2]

Prelude [edit]

The air campaign against Iraq was going very well for the Coalition; thousands of sorties had been flown around the clock across targets in Kuwait and Iraq. The Iraqi Air Force had proven to be very reluctant to attack the overwhelming Coalition air power. Fifty-six F-16s from the 388th Tactical Fighter Wing and 401st Tactical Fighter Wing, along with some F-4s from the 561st Fighter Squadron and F-15Cs from the 53d Fighter Squadron were organized into the largest strike of the
