2) In the wee hours of the morning, Q posted this.

I have no solid leads on the meaning of the letter/number string.

But Q was letting someone know they're on the radar.

A picture is worth many sentences.
Has POTUS ever made a statement that hasn't been proven to be correct (future)?
Think timing.
Think Senate lock.
Think SC lock.
Locked & (who is) Loaded.
Q

<https://pbs.twimg.com/media/DtN6VvHvYAAAnnY.jpg>

12) Note that Q adapted the well-known phrase: "A picture is worth a thousand words" to "A picture is worth many sentences."

What KIND of sentences was Q referring to?

13) I believe it was a reference to criminal sentences—the kind that result from guilty verdicts.

<https://www.federalcharges.com/treason-laws-charges/>

Treason Crimes & Charges

- Espionage: This is the obtaining of classified information that is related to national defense for use by a person from another country. If you help a US ally, the charge would not be treason but espionage.
- Terrorism: One of the major differences between terrorism and treason is that terrorism statutes can apply to any foreign national and do not require that the US be involved in a war.
- Seditious conspiracy: This consists of trying to overthrow or destroy the government by force. This does not require that the defendant owe allegiance to the US.
- Conspiracy to levy war: This is a precursor to treason but does not require that people must be assembled and ready to use force.

Treason Sentencing Guidelines

Treason is the only crime that is mentioned in the US Constitution, and the maximum penalty is death. However the Constitution also states that someone convicted of this crime can receive five years in prison.

The testimony from two witnesses must prove the overt act, but the intent to betray can be shown just like with any other crime.

Treason is related to other federal crimes, and more than one criminal statute may apply to the same conduct. So, something that is not proven as treason can constitute another type of offense:

<https://pbs.twimg.com/media/DtNSUsHVAAAAmcp.jpg>

14) Why Treason?

POTUS retweeted this yesterday.

Why would the President retweet a meme like this and risk the inevitable backlash unless he had already decided to have these people tried for treason?

15) Q asked, "Has POTUS ever made a statement that hasn't been proven to be correct (future)?"

I believe the retweet was a warning to the world about his plans.

That covers the first 2 statements in Q's latest post.

16) Q also wrote:

Think timing.

Think Senate lock.

Think SC lock.

Locked & (who is) Loaded.

17) The prosecution of the deep state needed to wait until the Senate was locked into a more favorable majority, which will help Trump's judicial and cabinet appointments.

18) The prosecution needed to wait until the Supreme Court was locked into a more favorable majority. The addition of Justice Kavanaugh will help when military and civil trials are challenged in the Supreme Court.

19) Q wrote:

Locked & (who is) Loaded.

First, we need to know what "locked and loaded" means.

20) It's a term used for preparing an M1 Garand for firing.

(The M1 Garand is a .30 caliber semi-automatic rifle that was the standard U.S. service rifle during World War II and the Korean War.)

"Lock and load" refers to "the procedure used for readying an empty M1 Garand for action, not because he said it backwards. In order to prepare the weapon for firing, the bolt must first be 'locked' back to the rear so that the en bloc clip can be 'loaded' into the fixed magazine.

https://pbs.twimg.com/media/DtN_hHxV4AEIHMh.jpg

21) Some have decoded Q's question this way:

If you put brackets around the two letter Ls, you get this:
[L]ocked & (who is) [L]oaded

That would mean Loretta Lynch is locked and loaded.
She may be a witness against the deep state as this post suggests.

22) Q has recently suggested that the weapon to be used against the deep state is Acting Attorney General Matt Whitaker.

(Their attempts to neutralize Whitaker reveal just how much they fear him.)

23) There is more to know about the reference to Chongqing but it will require digging into some older posts like this one.

Out of the blue, without context or explanation, Q posted this message about Chongqing on April 7th.

24) Three days later, on Tuesday, April 10th, Ford announced its plans to build many new models for sale in China. The new models are to be built in Chongqing.

25) The same day, China's President XI announced that he would lower tariffs on imported cars in an attempt to cool down the trade dispute between China and the US.

26) It's probably just a coincidence that Q posted about Chongqing three days earlier.

<https://pbs.twimg.com/media/DtOKu-BU8AMAd65.jpg>

27) Yesterday, on the eve of the G20 summit, before Q posted about Chongqing, the President posted a thread about General Motors' decision to close down auto plants.

(I take the Q post and the President's tweets as a signal about what is most on his mind right now.)

28) There's a lot at stake in the trade talks between the US And China.

29) POTUS has landed in Buenos Aires.

We'll have to wait and see what comes out of the G20 meeting.
