

1) This is my #Qanon thread for April 3rd, 2018.

The purpose of this thread is to shed light on a subject I haven't discussed yet. But it's one that Q has alluded to often:

The magnitude of corruption in government across the globe.

2) On April 29, #Qanon wrote this:

The next phase will bring JUSTICE.

3) The hard part may be coming to an end for some but it's just beginning for others.

I say that because we're not all wired the same way. We aren't motivated by the same things.

4) David Keirsey is a psychologist who made a career out of studying personality types. While personality typing is not an exact science, it does provide a useful tool to help understand why we value things differently and why we're motivated differently.

5) This diagram shows the way in which Keirsey distinguishes personality types. Some of us communicate concretely, some abstractly. Some of us are cooperative in our action. Some are utilitarian (pragmatic). We're also (generally) either extroverted or introverted.

<https://pbs.twimg.com/media/DcRiGMDU8AARgDq.jpg>

6) These three variables divide the population into sixteen types, which correspond to the Myers-Briggs personality types. In this discussion, we'll primarily focus on 2 types: The Guardian and the Idealist.

7) The idealist tends to find fulfillment in searching for wisdom, harmony, peace, love, truth and justice. They tend to be emotionally driven and they tend to trust their instincts.

8) Famous idealists are Martin Luther King, Jr, Mahatma Gandhi and Jimmy Carter.

9) Most people who are considered "truthers" are idealists. Their drive to know the truth causes them to question explanations. Evidence they deem to be flimsy is merely evidence of a coverup. Their instincts often tell them something is fishy.

10) As much as the idealist desires to know the truth, they need to see justice. These virtues are written into their DNA.

11) I would imagine many of the people following #Qanon are idealists. When I look at the accounts that have recently followed me, the word "truth" can be found on most of their profiles.

12) I am however, not an idealist.

I'm a guardian.

I'm wired differently than most of the people following #Qanon.

I'm not doing this because I have an insatiable desire to know the truth.

I'm not doing it because I need to see justice.

13) Guardians value something else.

Guardians value laws, protocols, traditions, societal norms & institutions.

We especially value government. We know its intended purpose is to keep us safe and sane.

14) Guardians need to know that society isn't on the verge of collapse. We see it as our personal responsibility to maintain order.

Guardians are driven by a sense of civic duty.

We feel most fulfilled when serving others.

Most cops, nurses, paramedics and soldiers are guardians

15) I'm not following #Qanon because I need to know the truth.

I do research and build these threads because it's a service I can provide to others and that gives me a sense of fulfillment.

That's how guardians roll.

16) The fact that I'm a guardian also explains why I don't watch the videos people send me.

I don't have a burning desire to know the truth the way many of you do.

(Yes, that was a hint.)

17) As you can see, Guardians and Idealists have different values and priorities.

These differences are about to come to a head as we move into the justice phase of the takedown of the criminal element in government.

18) I've seen people demand that ALL the evidence against the criminals in government be made public.

I've heard people demand that ALL the criminal elements in government be prosecuted.

No exceptions.

No deals.

19) There's a problem with that. And if you're an idealist, you're not going to like the explanation.

But I think you should hear it.

Not from me.

From people inside government who know how bad it is.

20) Let me begin by saying that when #Qanon tells us we can't imagine the depths of evil these people are guilty of - he's not exaggerating.

He's not using hyperbole.

He literally means we can't imagine how dark and how pervasive the corruption is.

21) That should frighten you.

It terrifies me.

It terrifies me because I can imagine a lot of depravity and #Qanon says it's far worse than that.

22) Well okay then... how bad is it?

23) On July 1, 2016, someone appeared on 4chan who claimed to have intimate knowledge of the Hillary Clinton investigation. (They would later be referred to as FBI anon.)

The anons wanted to know if Hillary would be indicted.

There is intense pressure for us not to do so. I am posting from a position of near anonymity and enough plausible deniability to evade prosecution, as we have all been given gag orders.

There is enough for her and the entire government to be brought down. People do not realize how enormous this whole situation actually is. Whether she will be or not depends on how much info about others involved gets out, and there are a lot of people involved.

25) What did he mean when he said there's enough evidence for the entire government to be brought down?

Wasn't he?

Killing HRC would not cause this problem to go away. The problem is with the Clinton Foundation as I mentioned, which you should just imagine as a massive spider web of connections and money laundering implicating hundreds of high-level people. Though I do not have a high opinion of Hillary, she is just a piece - albeit a big piece - of this massive shitstorm.

26) FBI anon was asked to elaborate on the corruption in government.

He said the entire government was guilty of treason.

He was also asked why Comey was considering not recommending prosecution of Hillary and what Loretta Lynch was concerned about.

My opinion is the entire government is guilty of treason, which is why HRC's death would not cease the investigation or prevent further scandals. Many, many people are involved.

>>79482342

There already is enough to indict. Comey has been trying to stall because he does not want to face the Clinton Machine, as well as the rest of Washington D.C. But this case would explode into a million other cases if fully brought to light, and then we would be one agency competing against the entire government and a hoard of other interests. It is a very tense and uncomfortable position.

What Lynch is saying is she will accept whatever they do and make her determination as she will. Nothing about her responsibilities has changed, she is simply trying to keep her hide intact.

https://pbs.twimg.com/media/DcR_C1HV4AEvmxi.jpg

27) FBI anon said they really had only 3 choices:

A) Turn over all the evidence of corruption and watch the entire government implode.

B) Indict those already in the public eye to prevent the government from catastrophic failure.

C) Do nothing and wait.

I will put it to you this way: You have three choices,

A) turn over all of the information to the DOJ, make public a recommendation, the truth comes out, the entire world realizes how much the US is meddling in foreign affairs and we go to war, the civilian population realizes how much foreign money influences our government, and a civil war begins.

B) You cherry-pick the data to implicate the people already in the eye of public opinion, so the chips fall on the heads of a select few and the whole system does not crash.

C) you do nothing and watch the unstable political climate to gauge how you will respond.

I am confident if Trump wins she will be going to jail.

<https://pbs.twimg.com/media/DcSBPdhU0AADpsX.jpg>

28) An anon knew that making public ALL the evidence on ALL the corrupt people was unrealistic. Collapsing the government just to have the truth exposed was an unacceptable option.

I'm guessing the anon wasn't an idealist. Probably a guardian.

Option B is the only acceptable scenario, and it needs to be done so that Trump can sweep in and clear the entire establishment of corruption. That is what you are being given the chance to do. If you fail in this, you doom us to a second Rome.

Everyone already knows and suspects option A. The patriots in the deep state need to hang this shit over Washington's head and force them to do the right thing.

<https://pbs.twimg.com/media/DcSCriwV4AASQBB.jpg>

29) A second anon agreed that option B was the only realistic way to approach the problem. He even suggested indicting government officials slowly perhaps 3-5 people a year.

Quoted By: >>79486408 >>79486971

>>79485989

At bare minimum, you need to do B. If you can't at least make examples of people, the existence of the FBI is pointless.

Start with the most corrupt, like Clinton (and, I presume Feinstein), and each year, choose 3-5 new people with any level of power to indict. Do this until people start retiring.

Don't RICO the entire federal government. You have the option to do it slowly, so do it slowly.

<https://pbs.twimg.com/media/DcSFDO0V4YA2ut.jpg>

30) FBI anon knew if they slow-walked the prosecutions, people would be angry.

He addressed a question about SAPs (special access programs) that Hillary had illegally possessed.

He said they were working on option B.

>>79486178

All I can tell you about the SAPs is HRC had them, and she did not have proper authority to have any of them. They were leaked to her by someone, and she did sell them to overseas donors. Possessing them alone makes her guilty of treason.

>>79486317

We are working on option B.

33) It will be difficult for some to accept that much of the evidence proving guilt can never be brought to light. Equally troubling is the fact that not all the guilty can be prosecuted.

34) Q said it's for the sake of our own existence, that the full extent of the corruption can't be exposed.

What would happen if 90% of the attorneys, cops, judges, doctors and other government employees were put on trial for corruption?

35) The removal of those people from the government would devastate our ability to respond to a crisis. We'd be left weak and vulnerable. Other nations would invade and overpower us.

36) As much as we want ALL the corruption to be prosecuted, when there's this much of it, to do so would literally destroy our country.

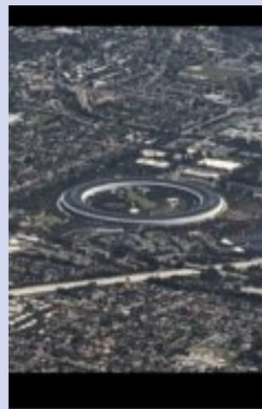

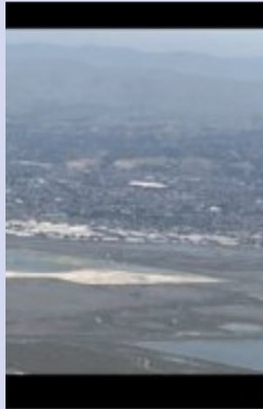

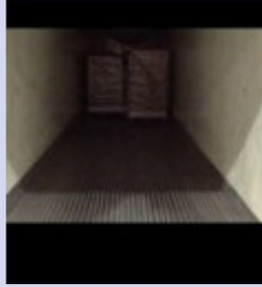

And for guardians, like me, that would be the worst nightmare imaginable.

37) As we enter the justice phase of the takedown of the global crime syndicate, be patient. It's going to take time and it's worse than anyone can imagine.

Keep our leaders in prayer. They'll need great wisdom to know how to proceed.
