My Theme: Future Tripcode Verification

2) Since returning from a three-month absence, some have wondered if the individual posting on 8kun is the same person who posted as Q on 8chan.

There are a number of ways in which Q can verify his identity without showing us his driver's license or passport.

3) When Q first began posting on 4chan on October 28, 2017, his posts looked exactly like those of any other anon.

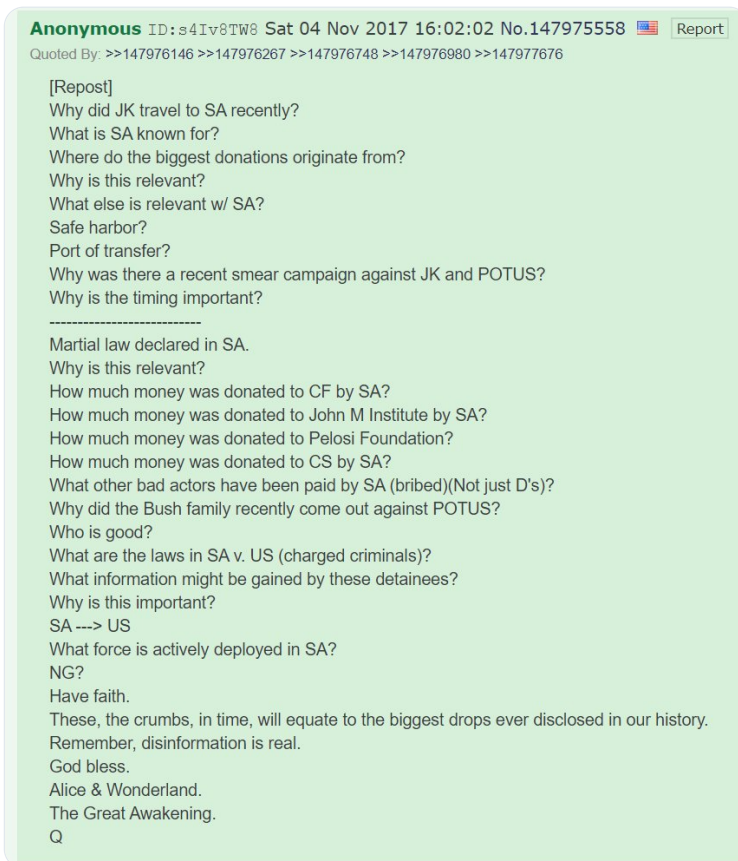

Here's a sample of posts from that day.

If you didn't know which posts was Q's it would be hard to guess just by looking at them.

4) On November 4th, 2017 (on his 70th post) an anon who had been posting on 4chan for the past week, started signing his posts with the letter Q.

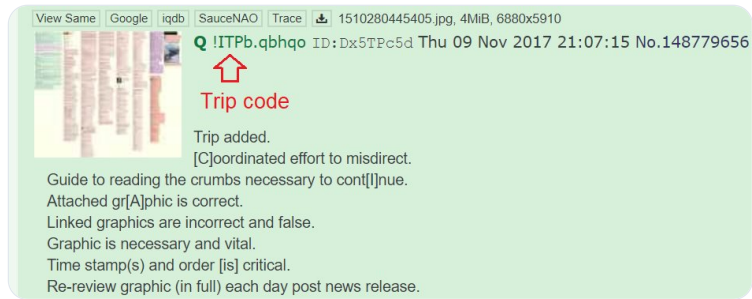

(Prior to that, people had to look for unique features of Q's posts to separate them from those of other anons.)

5) Nearly everyone who posts on 4chan and 8chan prefers to remain anonymous.

You can, however, create a unique identifier that sets you apart from everyone else but still maintains your anonymity.

On November 9th, 2017, Q began using a unique identifier called a tripcode.

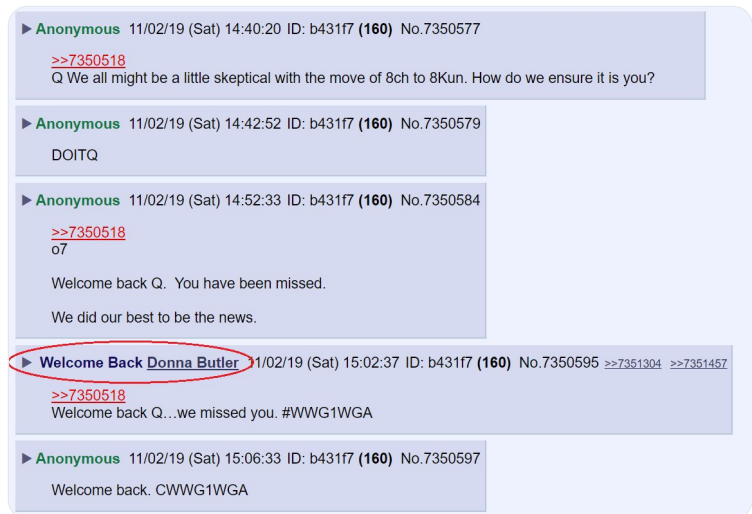

6) A tripcode is a combination of letters, numbers and symbols that create what is known as a hashed password—a coded password that does not disclose the identity of the user.

Board owners and administrators use tripcodes so we know who they are.

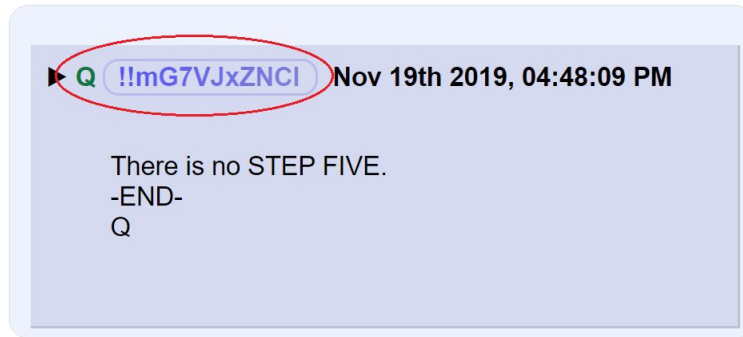

7) In most cases, there's no reason to use a tripcode but some people can't resist the temptation to stand out from the crowd.
(It's considered bad etiquette to use a tripcode if you don't have a good reason to do so.)

8) The sensitive nature of Q's mission requires us to know if the person sending these messages is the same person who sent them in the past.

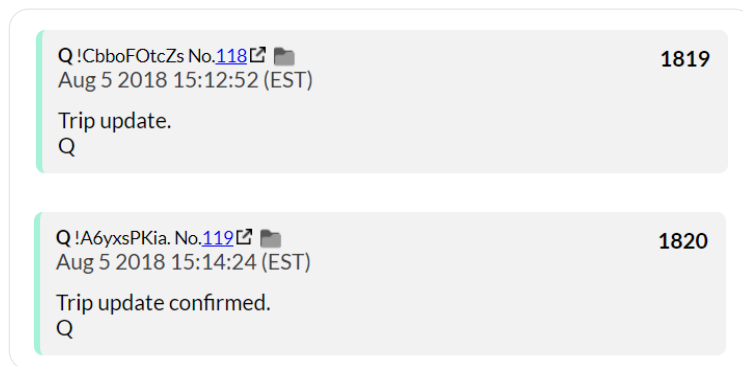

For that reason, Q uses a tripcode that is known to us.

9) At times, it's necessary for Q to change his tripcode.

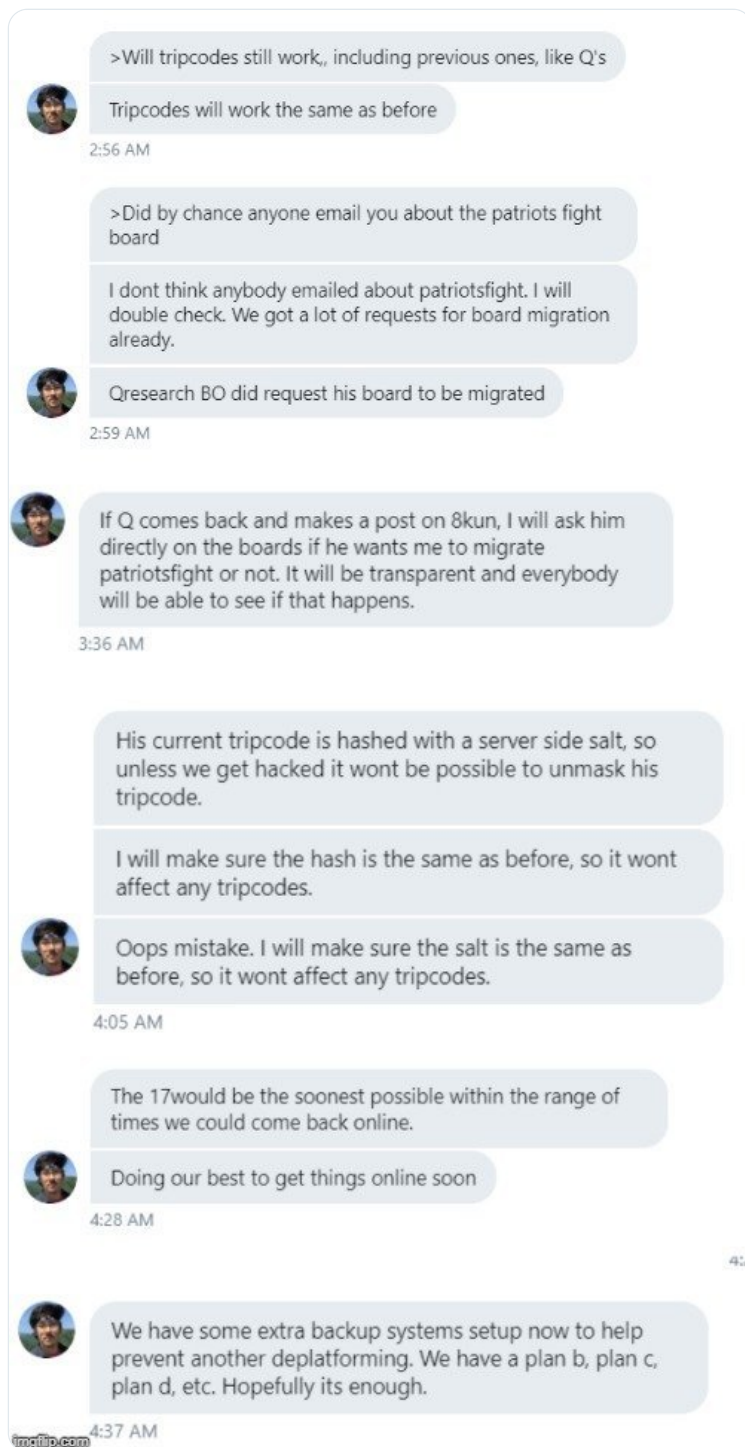

So as not to cause confusion, when Q changes his tripcode, he notifies us in advance and then confirms the trip code change afterward.

(Note the two different tripcodes.)

10) 8kun administrator Ron Watkins informed us that the tripcode Q used on 8chan will work on 8kun.

As far as tripcodes are concerned, I think there is good reason to believe that the person posting with Q's tripcode now is the same person who previously used it on 8chan.

11) Q's mission is so important that redundant positive identification is necessary from his perspective, even if it is not necessary from ours.

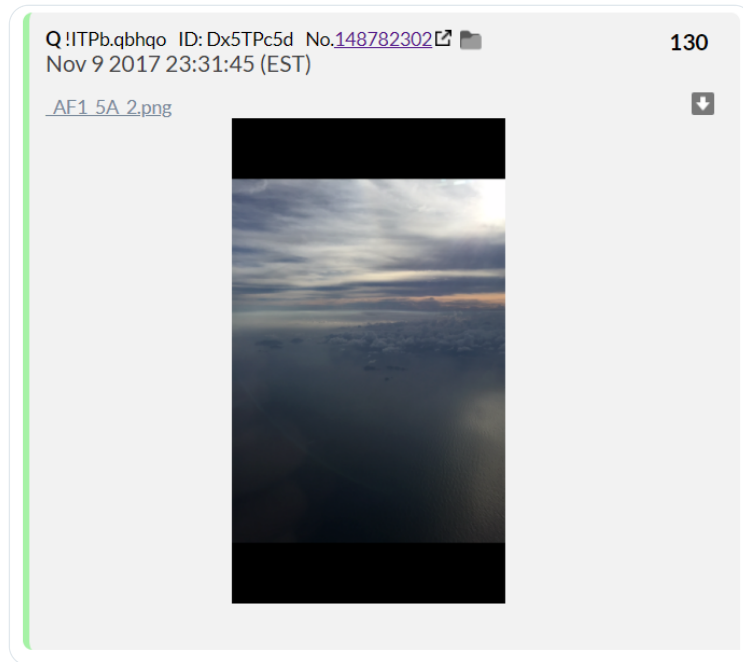

For that reason, Q devised various other ways to prove his identity if it ever came into question.

12) On November 9th, 2017, Q posted this picture.

POTUS was overseas at the time, visiting Asia.

Many people took this photo as evidence that Q was on Air force One.

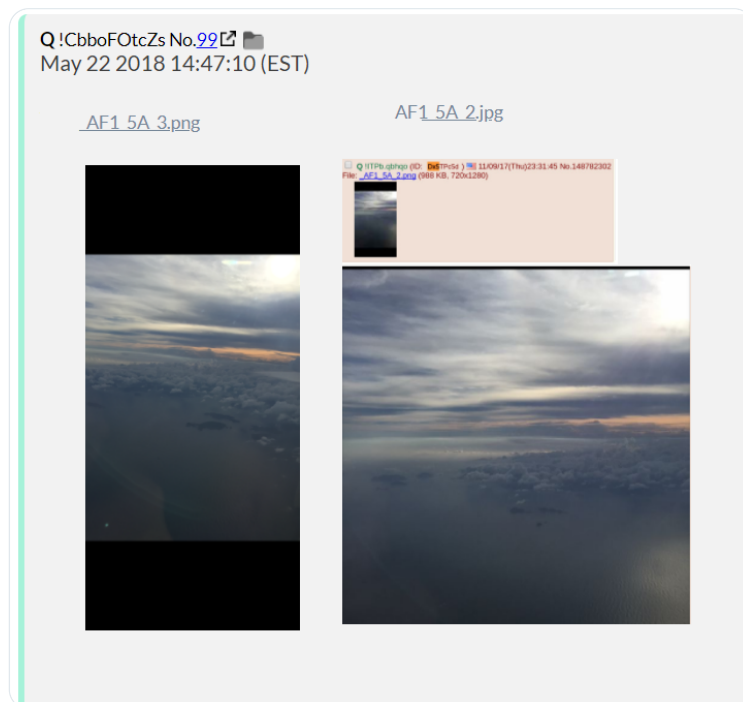

(It cannot be determined with certainty that he was on AF 1, but that was what people believed at the time.

13) In May of 2018, several people including Jerome Corsi (a leading Q researcher at the time) claimed that the person posting as Q was not the same Q who posted in November of 2017. They claimed Q's operation had been taken over by bad actors.

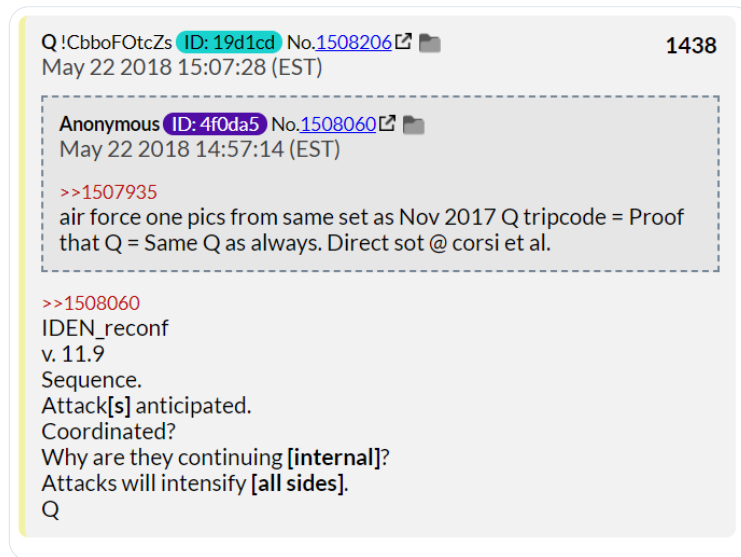

14) On May 22nd, Q posted a new photo that was similar to the one posted on November 9th, 2017.

The two photos appeared to be taken just a few seconds apart.

15) An anon figured the new photo was intended to prove that the person posting as Q was the same person who posted in November.

Q confirmed the anon's conclusion, noting that he anticipated that people would question his identity.

16) Q indicated last night that more verification of his identity and tripcode [trip(c)] is coming.

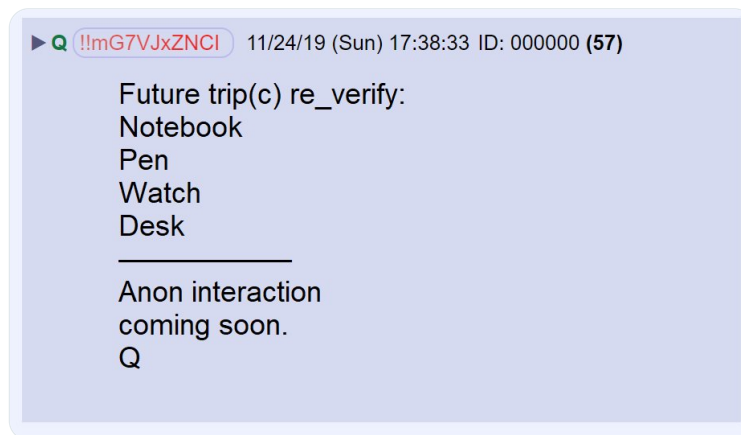

It will involve photos of:

Notebook

Pen

Watch

Desk

17) Since his return, Q has not interacted with anons. Part of the reason may be that it has been difficult for most people to post with the board being unstable.

But I think the main reason is that Q wants to offer proof of his identity before he interacts with anons.

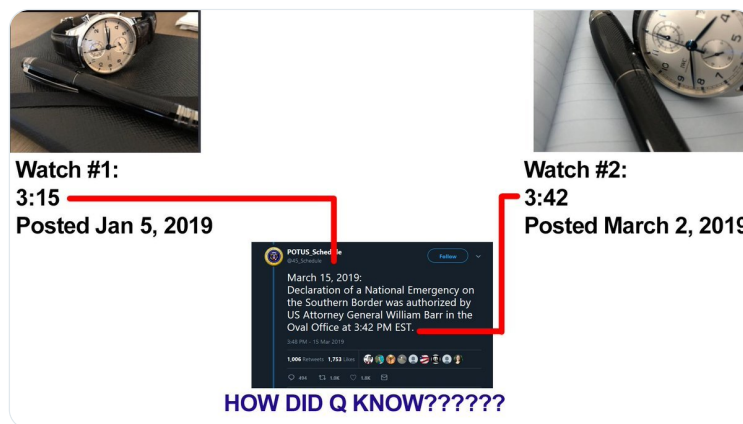

18) What might we expect in the way of proofs?

On January 6th, 2018, when POTUS was at Camp David, Q posted this photo

It is believed that the pen belongs to POTUS and that the desk is at Camp David. We might expect something like this in future posts.

19) In the past, Q used watches to set up proofs.

20) In March, Q set up a new watch proof with images of two watches labeled Marker 1 and Marker 2.

21) This watch proof has yet to be completed.

Perhaps a future proof is coming.

22) It's possible we might see a proof that includes a pen, a folder and an Executive Order.

24) Q posted a link to General Flynn's tweet and suggested that he was silenced because he had information that powerful people wanted to keep hidden.

25) The Breitbart article General Flynn posted was based on an interview with former Blackwater CEO Erik Prince who said he had insider information on NYPD's investigation.

26) Prince said NYPD found compromising information on Weiner's laptop including evidence of money laundering and sex crimes.

"I mean, it's not like the foreign intelligence agencies leave a thank-you note after they've hacked and stolen your data," Prince said to SiriusXM host Alex Marlow.

Prince claimed he had insider knowledge of the investigation that could help explain why FBI Director James Comey had to announce he was reopening the investigation into Clinton's email server last week.

"Because of Weingate and the sexting scandal, the NYPD started investigating it. Through a subpoena, through a warrant, they searched his laptop, and sure enough, found those 650,000 emails. They found way more stuff than just more information pertaining to the inappropriate sexting the guy was doing," Prince claimed.

"They found State Department emails. They found a lot of other really damning criminal information, including money laundering, including the fact that Hillary went to this sex island with convicted pedophile Jeffrey Epstein. Bill Clinton went there more than 20 times. Hillary Clinton went there at least six times," he said.

"The amount of garbage that they found in these emails, of criminal activity by Hillary, by her immediate circle, and even by other Democratic members of Congress was so those 650,000 emails. They found way more stuff than just more information pertaining to the inappropriate sexting the guy was doing," Prince claimed.

27) According to Prince, NYPD told the FBI they wanted the case reopened. If the FBI refused, NYPD threatened to go public with the information.

"They found State Department emails. They found a lot of other really damning criminal information, including money laundering, including the fact that Hillary went to this sex island with convicted pedophile Jeffrey Epstein. Bill Clinton went there more than 20 times. Hillary Clinton went there at least six times," he said.

"The amount of garbage that they found in these emails, of criminal activity by Hillary, by her immediate circle, and even by other Democratic members of Congress was so disgusting they gave it to the FBI, and they said, 'We're going to go public with this if you don't reopen the investigation and you don't do the right thing with timely indictments,'" Prince explained.

"I believe – I know, and this is from a very well-placed source of mine at 1PP, One Police Plaza in New York – the NYPD wanted to do a press conference announcing the warrants and the additional arrests they were making in this investigation, and they've gotten huge pushback, to the point of coercion, from the Justice Department, with the Justice Department threatening to charge someone that had been unrelated in the accidental heart attack death of Eric Garner almost two years ago. That's the level of pushback the Obama Justice Department is doing against actually seeking justice in the email and other related criminal matters," Prince said.

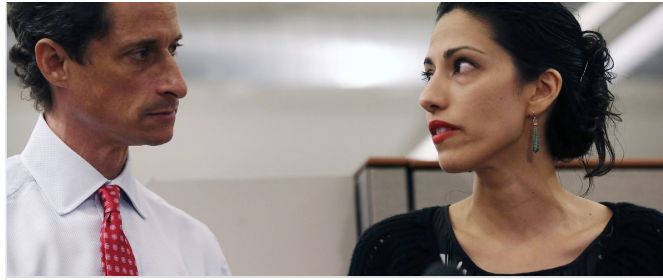

28) Prince said the FBI and Department of Justice pushed back by threatening to bring charges against NYPD personnel for the death of Eric Garner.

"I believe – I know, and this is from a very well-placed source of mine at 1PP, One Police Plaza in New York – the NYPD wanted to do a press conference announcing the warrants and the additional arrests they were making in this investigation, and they've gotten huge pushback, to the point of coercion, from the Justice Department, with the Justice Department threatening to charge someone that had been unrelated in the accidental heart attack death of Eric Garner almost two years ago. That's the level of pushback the Obama Justice Department is doing against actually seeking justice in the email and other related criminal matters," Prince said.

"There's five different parts of the FBI conducting investigations into these things, with constant downdrafts from the Obama Justice Department. So in the, I hope, unlikely and very unfortunate event that Hillary Clinton is elected president, we will have a constitutional crisis that we have not seen since, I believe, 1860," Prince declared.

29) Epoch Times wrote an article with information on the DOJ and FBI reaction to NYPD's insistence that the truth be made public.

Search Warrant for Anthony Weiner's Laptop Unsealed

District Judge Denise Cote unsealed the search warrant for the laptop and other devices of former Congressman Anthony Weiner ...

https://www.theepochtimes.com/search-warrant-for-anthony-weiners-laptop-unsealed_...

But it was not clear why the New York prosecutors would call Justice Headquarters about a search warrant. They'd had a search warrant for their investigation since Sept. 26. There's no sign they had anything to do with the Clinton investigation because that was run by the team at the FBI headquarters.

It is also not clear whether Toscas' call was motivated by the NYPD threat of disclosure Prince talked about. Prince said the NYPD received strong pushback from Obama's Justice Department—a threat to push charges against the NYPD in an unrelated civil rights case (the death of Eric Garner caused by use of force during an NYPD arrest). The IG learned from McCabe that the head of the New York field office was chastised by then-Attorney General Loretta Lynch on Oct. 26, 2016. Lynch “ripped” the field office for leaks regarding the Garner case, possibly related to the leaks cited as a source of an Oct. 24, 2016, New York Times story.

Meanwhile, the Strzok texts reveal the team had another contingency on its hands. On Oct. 24, 2016, The Wall Street Journal reported that after the Clinton probe started in July 2015, McCabe's wife, Jill, received some $675,000 for her Virginia State Senate campaign from Clinton associate Gov. Terry McAuliffe's political entities.

On Jan. 29, 2016, Comey appointed McCabe deputy director, putting him in charge of the Clinton investigation.

On the day Comey was briefed by the team on Oct. 27, 2016, his chief of staff, Jim Rybicki, wanted McCabe to recuse himself, the Strzok texts suggest, apparently because the public learned McCabe's wife was getting money from the Clinton camp.

30) Tracy Beanz wrote a thread that further explains the FBI/DOJ response to NYPD's investigation of Weiner's laptop.

DNC Fashion: Hillary Clinton looked presidential in an all-white pantsuit
Updated: JULY 20, 2016 - 9:52 PM EDT

Trump's foreignness stands in stark contrast to her husband's "Make America Safe Again" and "Make America Great Again" sloganeering, which he plans to accomplish with his anti-immigrant, anti-Muslim, anti-Black Lives Matter platform. In other words, anti-all things brown, so some might say.

In white Trump appeared flawless on the Cleveland stage Monday night, whether she intended it or not, her all-white ensemble displayed the kind of foreignness that is accepted by her husband's political party. To many, that outfit could be another reminder that in the G.O.P. white is always right.

by Elizabeth Wellington, Fashion Writer @ewellington1

Clinton loves monochromatic looks. She's worn nearly every color of the rainbow. On Wednesday night she seemed to rebuke her two-piece number. But it's rare we see her in all white. While it's true that's both soft and strong, but it was appropriate. Her acceptance speech was a coming out of sorts. Clinton's white pantsuit is telling us she has arrived. This is surreal. A dream come true.

Most importantly Clinton's white suit told America loud and clear that she joyfully accepted the opportunity to run for president of the United States of America.

Storyline

A morality tale for the 21st century, Official Secrets tells the true story of British Intelligence whistle-blower Katharine Gun who, during the immediate run-up to the 2003 Iraq invasion, leaked a top secret NSA memo exposing a joint US-UK illegal spying operation against members of the UN Security Council. The memo proposed blackmailing smaller, undecided member states into voting for war. At great personal and professional risk, journalist Martin Bright published the leaked document in The Observer newspaper in London, and the story made headlines around the world. Members of the Security Council were outraged and any chance of a UN resolution in favour of war collapsed. But within days, Bush declared he no longer needed UN backing and invaded anyway. As Iraq descended into chaos, Katharine was arrested and charged with breaching the Official Secrets Act. Martin faced potential charges too. Their legal battles exposed the highest levels of government in both London and Washington ...
