My Theme: Nothing Can Stop What Is Coming

2) It's not unusual for Q to take breaks for weeks at a time.

On November 2nd, after returning from a 3-month period of silence, Q told anons to rig for red.

3) The term rig for red is used by submarine commanders to signal to crews that the vessel will be surfacing.

In Q's vernacular, it's a heads up to anons that his period of silence is over.

"Rig for Red" is normally a command used in the Control Room. It is normally used when the boat is going to be surfacing or coming to Periscope Depth at night. The purpose is to give the lookouts and the officer designated to head to the bridge upon surfacing a chance for their eyes to adjust to darkness, or the OOD the same thing before looking through the Periscope. However, with the change to Blue, often times Red glasses are also used to provide the same effect and then Control is changed when the command is given to surface or come to PD.

During Battle Stations and at night, many spaces are rigged for red in order to simulate night conditions. While submerged underwater during normal operations, the only real reference for the time of day is the meal being served, since most boats operate on an 18 hour rotation and not a 24 hour rotation (6 hours on watch, 12 off). The red/dark conditions are more so people can sleep rather than to simulate night. Underway, the sleeping areas are always dark unless it's a cleanup day, a drill is going on, or Battle Stations has been sounded.

The term "Rig for Red" is actually an older term, since most submarines today use broadband blue lighting for night operations. (Many spaces on older boats still have red lighting).

4) Q returned today and told anons to rig for red.

The period of silence is over.

After Dan Scavino posted a tweet on March 7th with the famous Q statement "Nothing Can Stop What Is Coming," an anon posted on the board asking Q+ (POTUS) to retweet Scavino.

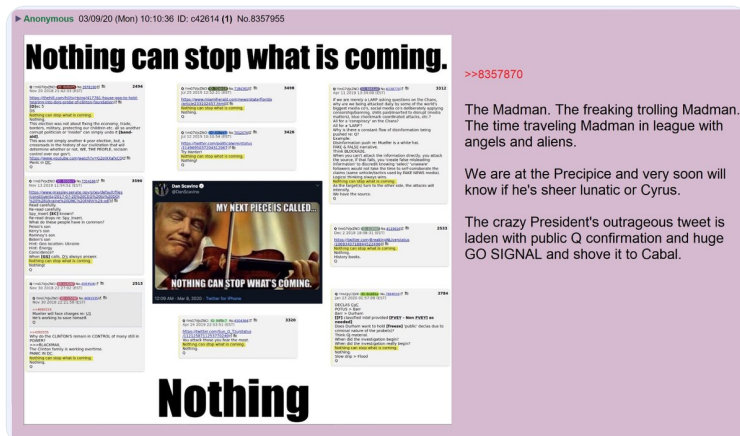

5) 17 hours later, POTUS retweeted Scavino.

(The number 17 is significant in that Q is the 17th letter of the alphabet.)

6) From the board.

10) Q sometimes goes silent when sensitive operations are underway. For example, Q went silent from May 22nd, through June 3rd, 2018. his first post upon returning explained that his time of silence was necessary.

Q

11) On June 12th, Q explained that his time of silence was related to a recent operation.

Silent running is a tactic used when....

13) His silence had to do with the President's claim that the Obama/Biden administration was the most corrupt in the history of our country.

18) When I look at the vast number of personnel changes in the Trump administration during the last few weeks, I see a White House preparing for a storm.

I've made an attempt to gather as many Q -related photographs from around the world as I can. Anons with signs, signs standing alone, all with identifiable landscape/architecture/location. This is not about Trump rallies. That's a different thread.

20) The mainstream media claim that Q is a baseless conspiracy. For all we know, this LARP is being perpetrated by a lonely person posting from their parent's basement.

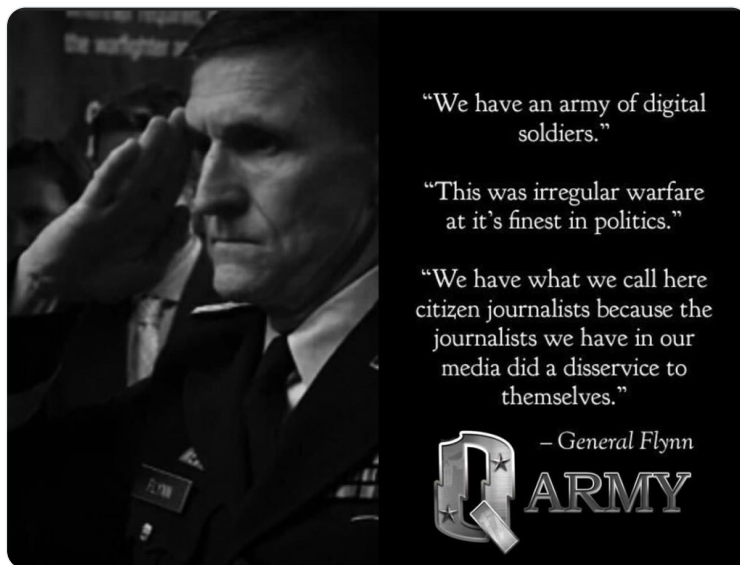

Is that assessment logical, given Q's worldwide following?

21) Q is a backchannel communications operation authorized by the White House to counter the mainstream media's false narrative.

22) Q provides clues that guide the research of anons and patriots on social media. Digital soldiers disseminate their research, providing a view of the world and current events different from that of the mainstream media.

23) Can confirm.
