Who approved of the spying operation?

And why?

9) The link near the top of the post takes you to this article about how Loretta Lynch and the DOJ granted Russian lawyer Natalia Veselnitskaya special entry to the United States on multiple occasions in 2015 and 2016.

Homeland Security confirms special entry for Russian lawyer

It also said Veselnitskaya eventually won a nonimmigrant work visa around the time she met President Trump's eldest son in New York last summer.

<https://thehill.com/homenews/administration/342118-homeland-security-confirms-speci...>

10) Russian attorney Natalya Veselnitskaya is a murky figure in the Spycgate operation. To understand her part, it will help to create a timeline of events related to her.

11) In October of 2015, (13 months before the 2016 presidential election) Veselnitskaya applied for a visa to represent her client, Denis Katsyv, the owner of Prevezon Holdings, a Cyprus-based company that was being sued by the US government.

Why did Obama's DOJ let Natalia Veselnitskaya into U.S.?

Trump blames former AG Loretta Lynch for allowing Russian attorney into U.S., but timeline isn't so clear

<https://www.cbsnews.com/news/did-the-obama-doj-let-russian-lawyer-natalia-veselnits...>

In October 2015, Veselnitskaya represented Denis Katsyv in a money laundering suit against his company, Prevezon. The U.S. government had accused Katsyv of using $230 million in stolen funds to buy real estate. Veselnitskaya's application for a visa to travel to the U.S. to work on the case was denied, she said in a later court filing.

Instead, the Department of Justice granted Katsyv and Veselnitskaya immigration parole. In later arguments before a federal judge, a government attorney described immigration parole as "a discretionary act that the statute allows the attorney general to do in extraordinary circumstances."

The U.S. attorney's office for the Southern District of New York granted Veselnitskaya immigration parole in October 2015, setting an expiration date of January 7, 2016, DOJ attorneys later told the court. On January 4, Veselnitskaya's request to extend her parole was denied, according to a declaration filed in U.S. District Court on January 5. In that filing, Veselnitskaya asked the judge to allow her to remain in the U.S. to defend Katsyv. She added she had "been harassed by the Government despite being paroled into the United States" when trying to return from a trip to London that November.

12) Veselnitskaya's visa request was denied. The Department of Justice then took a highly unusual step, permitting her to come to the US under "immigration parole" which allowed her to travel here for court proceedings from October of 2015 through January 7, 2016.

13) Veselnitskaya was permitted entry in October by the DOJ (headed by Loretta Lynch) because her client was being deposed.

In March of 2016, US Attorney Preet Bharara denied a second request saying she and her client were not required to appear.

Veselnitskaya, however, wasn't admitted into the U.S. in June 2016 because of her role in the Prevezon case. In fact, then U.S. Attorney Preet Bharara of Manhattan specifically refused Veselnitskaya's request that the Justice Department authorize her trip via a mechanism known as immigration parole, which allows the attorney general to temporarily suspend immigration requirements on a case-by-case basis.

Bharara's office has recommended immigration paroles for Veselnitskaya on three occasions, when her client, Katsyv, was being deposed in the U.S. in the Prevezon case.

But in March 2016, Bharara's office said no. In a letter to Prevezon's U.S. lawyers, prosecutors said such paroles aren't appropriate for foreign lawyers asking to help U.S. counsel prepare for appellate arguments or to attend appellate proceedings. "Since neither Katsyv nor Veselnitskaya are required to appear as witnesses in person at this stage of proceedings, we do not believe that immigration parole is appropriate," the since-fired U.S. attorney wrote.

14) In June of 2016 Veselnitskaya was allowed back into the US, this time by the State Department (under John Kerry). That move was questioned by some since according to the DOJ, Veselnitskaya had no legitimate reason to return at that time.

Nevertheless, three months later, Veselnitskaya not only attended oral arguments in the Prevezon case but also traveled uptown to meet with Trump campaign officials.

Veselnitskaya obtained a visa from the State Department to enter the country in June 2016, according to a government filing last week. The filing, which came in response to a new request by Veselnitskaya to be allowed into the U.S. for a Nov. 9 hearing in the now-settled Prevezon case, cited a Fox News report from last July.

The Manhattan U.S. attorney's office did not disclose in the filing whether it independently confirmed that the State Department issued a visa to Veselnitskaya to allow to her attend the 2nd Circuit argument in June 2016. The prosecutor leading the Prevezon case, assistant U.S. attorney Paul Monteleoni, referred me to a spokesman, who said the office could not supply additional public information on Veselnitskaya's reported visa.

A State Department spokesman declined to comment in response to my email request for comment on whether it approved a visa for Veselnitskaya in June 2016. John Moscow of Baker Hostetler, who was Prevezon's lawyer when the Justice Department denied Veselnitskaya's 2016 request for immigration parole, was subsequently disqualified from the case by the 2nd Circuit because of a client conflict. He did not respond to my phone message asking about Veselnitskaya's visa.

15) Why did the State Department approve Veselnitskaya's return to the U.S. in June when her only legitimate reason for returning would be a hearing she would not be required to attend? The hearing would be held 5 months later & the request would normally be handled by the DOJ.

16) On June 3, 2016, Rob Goldstone emailed Donald Trump Jr. saying Russian pop star Emin Agalarov asked him to arrange a meeting to provide the Trump campaign with opposition research that would incriminate Hillary.

CNN's report that Michael Cohen claims then-candidate Donald Trump had advanced knowledge of the June 2016 Trump Tower meeting has created a fresh wave of scrutiny about the now-infamous gathering.

June 3, 2016

Goldstone emails Trump Jr.: Rob Goldstone, the British music publicist, emails Trump's son Donald Trump Jr., saying that Russian pop star Emin Agalarov had asked him to arrange a meeting in order to "provide the Trump campaign with some official documents and information that would incriminate Hillary and her dealings with Russia and would be very useful to your father."

Goldstone says the documents came from a meeting between the "Crown prosecutor of Russia" and Russian oligarch Aras Agalarov, Emin's father, and claims they are "part of Russia and its government's support for Mr. Trump."

Trump Jr. responds: Trump Jr. responds to Goldstone's email approximately 20 minutes later, writing: "if it's what you say I love it especially later in the summer."

17) Worth Noting:

Don Jr. didn't know at the time who he'd be meeting with or what information would be provided.

18) On June 6th, Don Trump Jr. made contact with Emin Agalarov and another party on a blocked number.

Goldstone and Trump Jr. trade emails: Goldstone and Trump Jr. exchange emails to arrange a phone call between Trump Jr. and Emin Agalarov, the pop star son of Aras Agalarov who helped arrange the meeting.

"Let me know when you are free to talk with Emin by phone about this Hillary info -- you had mentioned early this week so wanted to try to schedule a time and day. Best to you and family," Goldstone writes.

"Let me track him down in Moscow," Goldstone responds.

After Trump Jr. provides his phone number, Goldstone writes: "Ok he's on stage in Moscow but should be off within 20 minutes so I am sure can call."

Trump Jr. calls Emin Agalarov: Trump Jr.'s phone records show he received and then called a Russian number in the afternoon and evening, which Trump Jr. said was Emin Agalarov's number, according to the House Intelligence Committee Democratic report.

Agalarov also called Trump Jr. back the following day, according to a Senate Judiciary Committee Democratic memo.

Trump Jr., however, testified that he could not recall whether he spoke to Agalarov, suggesting they might have traded voice mails.

Trump Jr. calls a blocked number: Trump Jr.'s phone records also show a "blocked" number in between the two calls to Agalarov for four minutes, as well as an 11-minute call in the evening following the second Agalarov call, according to the Judiciary Committee Democratic report. Trump Jr. testified to the House Intelligence Committee he did not know who the number belonged to.

Democrats have speculated that the number could be Trump Jr.'s father, as committee Democrats noted in their report: "Corey Lewandowski told the Committee that Mr. Trump's "primary residence has a blocked [phone] line."

19) Trump haters accused Don Jr. of calling Donald Trump Senior that day but in fact, he called a couple of business associates.

June 7, 2016

Trump Jr. and Goldstone confirm the meeting: The meeting is confirmed for June 9 at 3 p.m. between Trump Jr. and Goldstone. Trump Jr. emails Goldstone after the meeting is confirmed that the attendees "will likely be Paul Manafort my brother in law and me."

Trump previews speech on Clintons: Trump secures the Republican nomination and makes remarks following the evening's primaries in which he previewed a speech against the Clintons. "I am going to give a major speech on probably Monday of next week and we're going to be discussing all of the things that have taken place with the Clintons," Trump said. "I think you're going to find it very informative and very, very interesting."

Longtime Trump aide Hope Hicks testified to the House Intelligence Committee that Trump's planned speech was not a reflection of knowledge about the upcoming Trump Tower meeting, but rather was about "an outline of the book Clinton Cash." She said he gave the speech roughly two weeks later than planned because it was delayed by a domestic terrorist attack, according to the House Intelligence Committee Republican report.

21) We now know that Veselnitskaya met with Dem/Clinton operative Glen Simpson (of Fusion GPS) the day before, the day of, and the day after the Trump Tower meeting with Don Jr, Kushner and Manafort.

OPINION: Guest Writer

Trump Tower meeting was an incalculable coincidence — or a set-up - ...
Natalia Veselnitskaya, who orchestrated the Trump Tower meeting, was also working with Fusion GPS founder Glenn Simpson, who created the Steele Dossier.
<http://suindependent.com/natalia-veselnitskaya-trump-tower-meeting-fusion-gps-glenn...>

Veselnitskaya flew into New York from Moscow June 8, 2016 and had dinner with Glenn Simpson that evening. The next day, June 9, she attended a Prevezon court case with Glenn Simpson and then attended the infamous Trump Tower meeting later on the same day. The following day, June 10, Veselnitskaya had dinner again with Glenn Simpson, but this time it was in Washington D.C.

People in the intelligence industry would consider those meetings to be “briefings” and “debriefings” for the Trump Tower meeting. Simpson claims that they did not discuss the Trump Tower meeting at all and that he knew nothing about it.

But that is hard to believe, especially when considering that the man Simpson paid to investigate Trump and his associates in Russia (Edward Baumgartner) was also working closely with Veselnitskaya on the Prevezon campaign — at the same time Baumgartner was investigating Trump in Russia for the Steele Dossier.

22) Why would the head of Fusion GPS (Glen Simpson) meet with Veselnitskaya before and after her meeting with members of the Trump team?

What is a mission briefing?

What is a mission debriefing?

23) Jun 9th:

Don Jr. didn't know he would meet with Veselnitskaya who offered no info on Hillary Clinton. Instead, she made a case for changes to the Magnitsky Act, a cause for which Vladimir Putin had given her virtually unlimited resources as a lobbyist.

The Trump Tower meeting: A timeline
CNN's report that Michael Cohen claims then-candidate Donald Trump had advanced knowledge of the June 2016 Trump Tower meeting has created a fresh careless knowledge of the same. But the Trump Tower meeting has created a new wave of scrutiny about the now-infamous gathering.

MR. SCHIFF: Right. How much of the time was spent discussing that [the Magnitsky Act], and how much of the time was spent discussing dirt on Secretary Clinton?

MR. TRUMP JR.: Again, the majority was really split up between -- really started off as Russian adoption, which was sort of the, you know, what I perceive to be sort of the feelgood segue to probably lobbying for something as it related to that Act. So, you know, I'd say we spent less than, you know, 5 minutes of the 20 minutes, again, speaking through a translator about the quote/unquote "dirt", and the rest was a quick segue, bait-and-switch, whatever you want to call it, to speak about Russian adoption and the Magnitsky Act.

According to attendees, Trump Jr. asked for the incriminating information on Clinton but did not receive it.

24) The promise of dirt on Hillary was used as bait to get Trump's people into the meeting. Once there, they were now known to the Obama administration and his intelligence community as having met with a Russian lawyer and intelligence operative.

25) The Trump-Russia conspiracy quickly gained traction thanks to a complicit press corps that pushed that narrative for the next 2 years.

26) The way in which Veselnitskaya was used by the Obama intelligence community to obtain a FISA surveillance warrant on Paul Manafort was just an example.

A similar tactic was used to obtain FISA surveillance on George Papadopoulos, Carter Page, and General Flynn.

Each circle of contacts is called a "hop."

34) There is always a risk that powerful tools will be used for corrupt purposes by evil people.

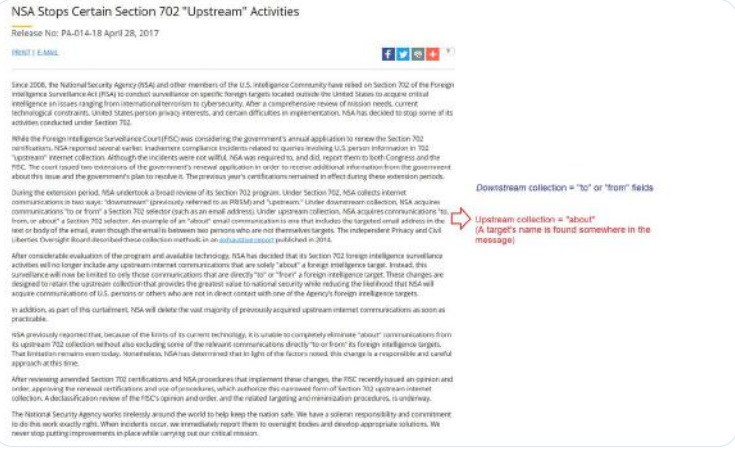

That is what happened to our surveillance tools.

41) Last years' Inspector General report had much to say about the FBI's tendency to leak classified information to the media for political purposes.

(Chapters 10, 11, and 12 of the report have detailed information on that.)

<https://www.justice.gov/file/1071991/download>

As we describe in Chapter Eleven of this report, Lynch and Comey discussed their concerns about leaks on October 31, 2016. Additionally, on October 26, 2016, Lynch raised her concerns about leaks with McCabe and the head of the FBI New York Field Office (NYO), with specific focus on leaks regarding the FBI's high-profile investigation into the death of Eric Garner, as we detailed in our February 2018 misconduct report concerning McCabe.<sup>219</sup> McCabe told us that he "never heard [Lynch] use more forceful language." The head of FBI NYO confirmed that the participants got "ripped by the AG on leaks." These widespread concerns about leaks led Comey, following the 2016 election, to instruct the FBI's Inspection Division (INSD) to investigate whether confidential information was being improperly disclosed by any FBI employees.<sup>220</sup>

Concerns about the impact of possible leaks on the Midyear investigation, particularly in the October 2016 time period, are described in Chapters Ten and Eleven. Several FBI officials told us that their concerns about potential leaks were a factor that influenced them in the discussions about the possibility of sending a notification letter to Congress on October 28, 2016, regarding the FBI's discovery of Clinton-related emails on the Weiner laptop. As then FBI General Counsel Baker starkly characterized that decision to us, "[I]f we don't put out a letter, somebody is going to leak it."

Against this backdrop, and as noted at the time the OIG announced this review, we examined allegations that Department and FBI employees improperly disclosed non-public information. We focused, in particular, on the April/May and October 2016 time periods. We have profound concerns about the volume and extent of unauthorized media contacts by FBI personnel that we have uncovered during our review.

Our ability to identify individuals who have improperly disclosed non-public information is often hampered by two significant factors. First, we frequently find that the universe of Department and FBI employees who had access to sensitive information that has been leaked is substantial, often involving dozens, and in some instances, more than 100 people. We recognize that this is a challenging issue, because keeping information too closely held can harm an investigation and the supervision of it. Nevertheless, we think the Department and the FBI need to consider whether there is a better way to appropriately control the dissemination of sensitive information.

<sup>219</sup> U.S. Department of Justice (DOJ) Office of the Inspector General (OIG), Report of Investigation of Certain Allegations Relating to Former FBI Deputy Director Andrew McCabe, Oversight & Review Report (February 2018), <https://oig.justice.gov/reports/2018/020180413.pdf> (accessed May 14, 2018).

<sup>220</sup> One of those investigations led to INSD raising questions about McCabe's conduct and resulted in the OIG taking over the matter from INSD. Ultimately, the OIG found that McCabe himself had authorized others in the FBI to disclose information regarding the FBI's Clinton Foundation investigation just days prior to the election.

42) Tempted to say "Who cares?"

Consider this:

Deputy Director Andrew McCabe and former Chief Counsel James Baker lost their jobs because they leaked information to the media. Both face criminal prosecution.

DOJ inspector general: Ex-FBI official leaked 'sensitive' info, improperl...

The Justice Department's watchdog said a high-ranking FBI official leaked "sensitive" information to reporters multiple times without authorization and had improperly accepted a gift from the media.

<https://www.washingtonexaminer.com/news/doj-inspector-general-ex-fbi-official-leaked...>

The 2018 report said investigators "identified instances where FBI employees received tickets to sporting events from journalists, went on golfing outings with media representatives, were treated to drinks and meals after work by reporters, and were the guests of journalists at nonpublic social events." Horowitz said "we do not believe the problem is with the FBI's policy, which we found to be clear and unambiguous," but instead "we concluded that these leaks highlight the need to change what appears to be a cultural attitude."

A February 2018 report from Horowitz found former FBI Deputy Director Andrew McCabe had improperly disclosed information to the Wall Street Journal confirming the existence of a Clinton Foundation investigation. That report determined McCabe "lacked candor" when speaking with former FBI Director James Comey, with the FBI's Internal Investigations Section, and with the Office of the Inspector General. Then-Attorney General Jeff Sessions fired McCabe in March 2018 just a couple days before he was set to retire.

Former FBI General Counsel James Baker, who has been making the rounds on cable news shows defending his role in the Trump-Russia investigation and his handling of the Steele dossier over the past few weeks, recently confirmed the existence of a likely criminal leaks investigation into him, but declined to provide many specifics. "I am confident that I did nothing wrong and nothing illegal," Baker said. That probe was handled by U.S. Attorney John Durham, who was recently picked by Barr to head up the investigation of the investigators who ran the Trump-Russia probe.

Besides looking into criminal leaks, Horowitz is also handling a Foreign Intelligence Surveillance Act abuse investigation that is expected to wrap up in May or June.

43) Chuck Grassley and Devin Nunes have made multiple criminal referrals to the DOJ for leaking.

AG Barr has confirmed there are multiple investigations underway.

Barr says 'multiple criminal leak investigations underway'

The Justice Department has opened "multiple criminal leak investigations" related to the handling of the Trump-Russia investigation, Attorney General William Barr said on Wednesday.

SPYING DID OCCUR.

47) FISA abuse was part of an illegal attempt to remove a duly elected President (Trump).

[treason remove DE_POTUS]

The midyear investigation was an attempt to clear Hillary Clinton of guilt regarding the mishandling of her emails so she could be President.

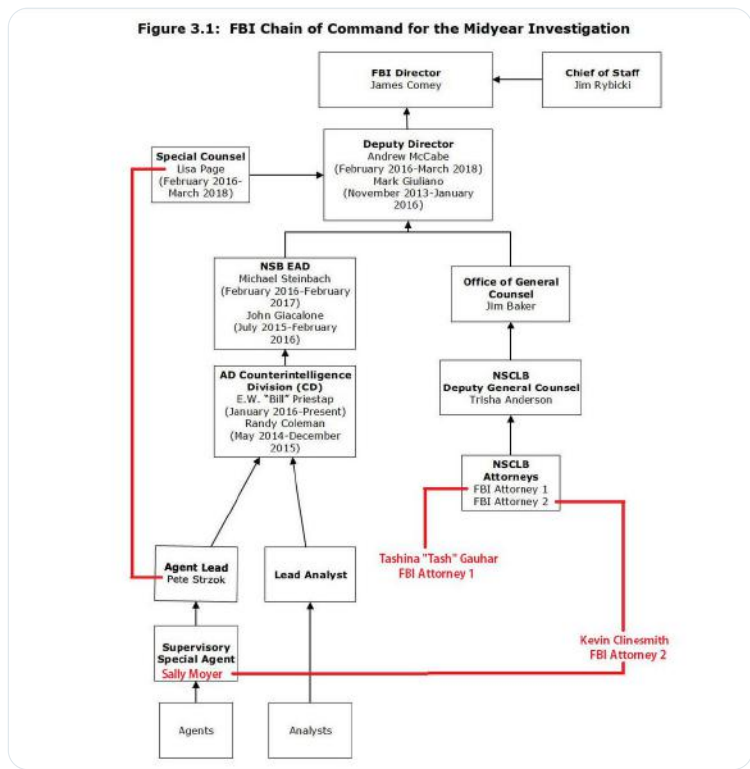

48) Many people were involved in both investigations.

If you want a predetermined outcome, the best way to guarantee it is to make sure people are on the case who can deliver the desired outcome.

49) The graphic in the above post shows the chain of command for the FBI's investigation of Hillary's emails — the so-called "Midyear Exam."

Everyone in the chain of command was loyal to the predetermined outcome.

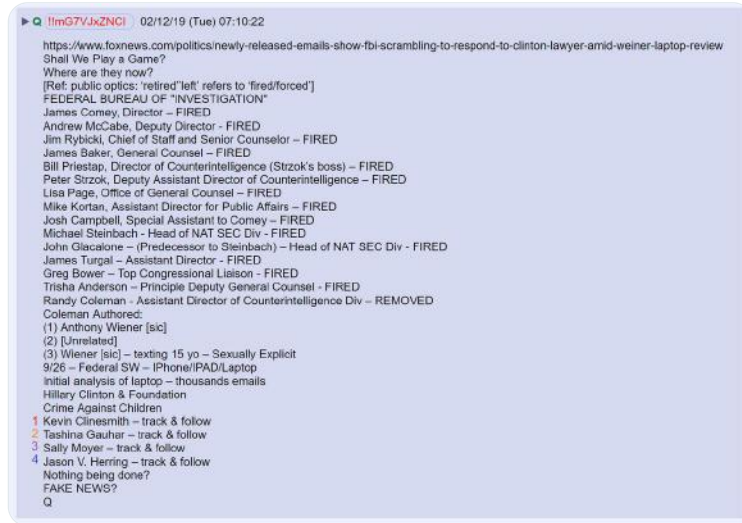

Most of these employees have been fired.

50) Spycgate conspirators from the FBI & DOJ and their employment status as of February.

Some people refuse to believe anything is being done about corruption in these agencies but the mere fact that all these people have been removed stands as evidence that things are happening

51) In February, Q highlighted 4 remaining people to track and follow.

3 of them were in the chain of command on the Hillary email investigation.

As far as I can tell, all 4 are still employed with the bureau.

52) In April of 2018, Q said Bill Priestap, Peter Strzok, and Lisa Page were still employed by the FBI, but their power had been removed and they were cooperating witnesses.

(It is easier to get an employee to cooperate with an investigation if they're still employed.)

53) Since then, Strzok, Page, and Priestap have left the FBI.

I would assume that any Spycgate conspirators who are still employed at the FBI or DOJ are cooperating witnesses who will be fired and perhaps prosecuted once their cooperation with the investigation has ended.

54) According to Conservapedia, Kevin Clinesmith was Attorney #2 listed in the OIG report. He worked on the Clinton email investigation and as part of the Mueller team, interviewed George Papadopoulos.

The screenshot shows the top portion of a Conservapedia article for Kevin Clinesmith. At the top, there are navigation tabs for 'Page', 'talk page', 'Read', 'View source', and 'View history', along with a search box. The title 'Kevin Clinesmith' is prominently displayed. The main text describes him as a lawyer and FBI agent involved in the Hillary Clinton email scandal, the Trump-Russia collusion hoax, and the Mueller team. It mentions he is reportedly one of four investigators fired from the Mueller probe for extreme bias, alongside Peter Strzok and Lisa Page. A reference is provided: 'Clinesmith questioned George Papadopoulos on February 16, 2017; Clinesmith asked no questions about Prof. Joseph Mifsud, whom Papadopoulos told the FBI in his previous interview claimed the Russians had Hillary Clinton's emails.' At the bottom, there are category tags: 'Obama Administration', 'Hillary Clinton email scandal', 'Clinton scandals', 'Trump-Russia Collusion Hoax', and '2010s'.

55) According to Conservapedia, Tashina Gauhar is a Deputy Assistant Attorney General with the DOJ National Security Division.

The screenshot shows the top portion of a Conservapedia article for Tashina Gauhar. The title 'Tashina Gauhar' is at the top. The main text states: 'Tashina "Tash" Gauhar, also goes by Tashina Guahar, is the Deputy Assistant Attorney General (DAAG) in the Department of Justice National Security Division (NSD). Gauhar is a FISA lawyer.' Below this is a 'Contents' table of contents with links to sections: '1 2006: Office of Intelligence Policy and Review', '2 2009: DOJ-NSD', '3 2015-17: Hillary whitewash, FISA abuse, and Sessions recusal', '3.1 Adm. The '2006: Office of Intelligence Policy and Review' section contains text from a 2006 Washington Post report: 'Office of Intelligence Policy and Review handed applications for secret surveillance warrants in intelligence investigations. "We were separate in almost every way," said George Z. Tosca, who is the deputy assistant attorney general over counterterrorism and counterespionage. The new division, launched on Sept. 26, 2006, was designed to change that. Intelligence lawyers and criminal prosecutors now work together when a threat is identified - in partnership with U.S. attorney offices and the FBI - in what are considered broad national security investigations. Tosca and Tashina Gauhar, the deputy assistant attorney general for intelligence, have offices next to each other and say they are in constant communication. The division is the liaison between Justice Department headquarters and the intelligence community.<sup>[1]</sup> The team of Tosca and Gauhar, under President Obama, took revisions of the Foreign Intelligence Surveillance Act and processes enabled by the Patriot Act<sup>[2]</sup> - intended to target al-Qaeda - and applied them to a Republican presidential candidate, labeling the candidate and his organization a "threat to national security".' The '2009: DOJ-NSD' section contains text from a 2009 Atlantic report: 'In Obama's first year Marc Ambinder of The Atlantic reported: "In a press conference today, the Justice Department's National Security Division (NSD) released the names of its leadership today. Reporting to David Kris, the assistant attorney general in charge of the NSD, are several credentialled national security lawyers with significant connections to the Democratic Party. But there are also officials — Brad Weigman, Sheryl Winter, Tashina Gauhar [sic] Leonard Bailey, Carol Cordero and George Tosca — who have served more than one president."<sup>[3]</sup>

56) According to Conservapedia, Sally Moyer works in the FBI General Counsel's office.

conservapedia.com/Sally\_Moyer

Sally Moyer

Sally Moyer is an attorney in the FBI General Counsel office. Moyer is a partisan who worked on the Hillary Clinton email investigation.

The FBI, in contravention of regulations, redacted Moyer's name for 17 months from subpoenaed documents. The claim was Moyer worked in the Counterintelligence Division, when in fact she worked in the General Counsel's office. Divulging her name supposedly is a breach of national security.

Moyer is listed by Devin Nunes as one of the individuals he wants to interview.

By Stephen Dinan - The Washington Times - Tuesday, August 16, 2016

The FBI went to bat for Hillary Clinton on Tuesday, saying that handling emails with classified information — even when it's marked — isn't enough to prove she had "knowledge or intent" to break the law.

Even as it turned over agents' interview notes and other files from the investigation into Mrs. Clinton to House investigators, the FBI defended its conclusion that Mrs. Clinton wasn't likely to be convicted of mishandling classified information, despite appearing to have broken the letter of the law.

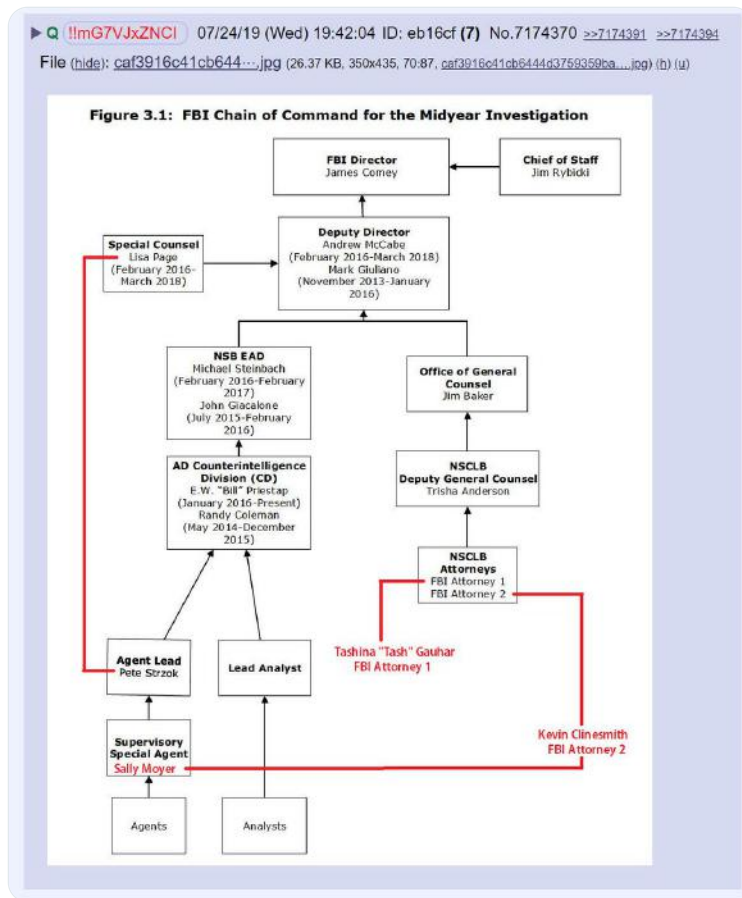

Instead, Jason V. Herring, the FBI's chief liaison to Capitol Hill, said the Justice Department has long questioned whether the law against "grossly negligent" handling of classified material would stand up in court, particularly when the person being charged swears he or she didn't intend to break the law.

In particular, Mr. Herring explained that three messages Mrs. Clinton handled that were marked with a "(C)" indicating classified information weren't enough proof to justify a prosecution. He said it's unclear whether the information was secret at the time, despite the markings, and that Mrs. Clinton merely handled it and wasn't the original sender.

"The fact that Secretary Clinton received emails containing '(C)' portion markings is not clear evidence of knowledge or intent," Mr. Herring said in a letter to House Oversight and Government Reform Committee Chairman Jason Chaffetz, Utah Republican, and Rep. Elijah E. Cummings of Maryland, the panel's ranking Democrat.

Stunning new information just released by the American Center for Law and Justice (ACLJ) shows that the Obama administration stepped up efforts – just days before President Trump took office – to undermine Trump and his administration.

The ACLJ, where I serve as chief counsel, has obtained records that show the Office of the Director of National Intelligence, under Director James Clapper, eagerly pushed to get new procedures as part of an anti-Trump effort. The procedures increased access to raw signals intelligence before the conclusion of the Obama administration, just days before President Trump was inaugurated.

By greatly expanding access to classified information by unelected, unaccountable bureaucrats, the Obama administration paved the way for a shadow government to leak classified information – endangering our national security and severely jeopardizing the integrity and reputation of our critical national security apparatus – in an attempt to undermine President Trump.

105) On the first page is information about classification.

114) The President stressed, as he's said repeatedly, that the things done to him can never be allowed to happen again.

115) The full interview.

116) In February, Q explained in clear terms what would be necessary to assure that these things never happen to another President.

Text in tweets to follow 🗨️

117) POTUS: "This can never be allowed to happen again (in our Country or to another President)."

How do you deter & prevent this from happening again?

Simply by terminating employment of those responsible?

118) Simply by conducting a few 'non-threatening' investigations?

Or by:

Prosecuting those responsible to the fullest extent of the law?

Setting up new checks & balances and oversight designed to increase transparency?

119) Provide OIG office(s) w/ funding inc (size) ++ authority?

120) Provide select committees w/ access and in-house viewing of non NAT SEC CLAS material?

121) Provide a check on Directors/Dep Directors/Asst Directors of all such ABC agencies?

122) Establish 'financial checks/reviews' of those in senior (critical) positions (audits) + direct family (close proximity)?

123) Transparency and Prosecution is the only way forward to save our Republic and safeguard such criminal and treasonous acts from occurring again.

124) While some want to quietly remove those responsible and go about our business (save face on the World Stage), those in control, understand, this band-aid will simply not work.

125) Nobody should be above the law (no matter how massive the spider-web is (entangled)).

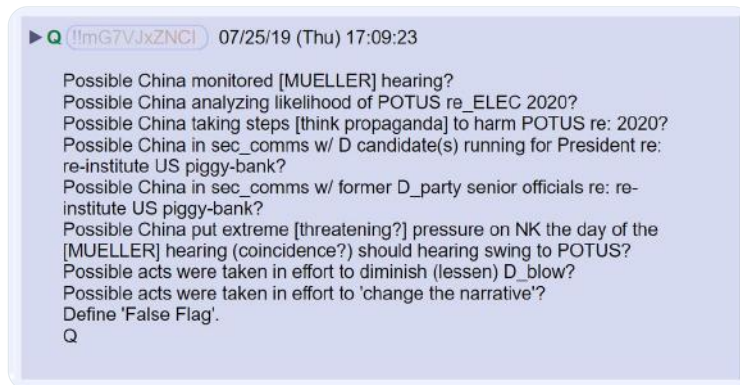

This will never happen again.

TRUTH WORKS.

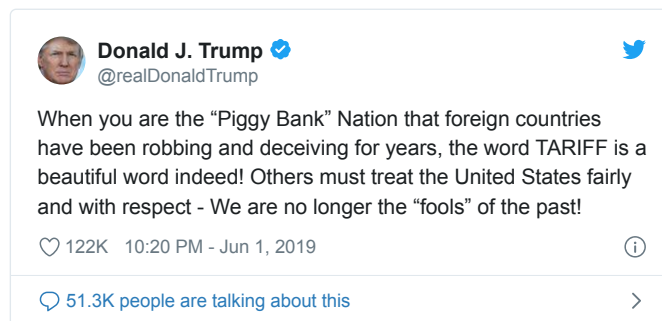

FACTS MATTER.

126) Q suggested China has been busy watching the Mueller investigation and communicating with US politicians in an attempt to restore the benefits they had under previous Presidents.

127) For many years, corrupt politicians allowed China and other nations to rip us off.

128) America was the world's piggy bank.

129) Q suggested North Korea's missile test the day of the Mueller hearing was due to extreme pressure from China.

If China can prevent Trump's re-election, it benefits them greatly.

130) After a failed investigation and Mueller's disastrous testimony, puppets in Congress like Jerold Nadler insist the information they need to prove Trump colluded with Russia or obstructed justice is hidden in the Grand Jury material that was redacted from Mueller's report.

 How do you attempt to keep the 'narrative' in play [control the 'sheep']?

 Key sentence:
 Nadler called the grand jury materials "critically important" for their investigation.
 Does Nadler understand that the 'critically important' material requested would be illegal for AG Barr to disclose?
<https://www.nationalreview.com/2019/04/mueller-report-attorney-general-grand-jury-information/>
 "This means Attorney General Barr must redact grand-jury material from the Mueller report before disclosing it to Congress. Democrats will complain long and loud about this, but I don't see how Barr can be reasonably faulted for following the law. Congress, after all, has the power to legislate an amendment to Rule 6(e) that would permit disclosure of grand-jury materials from a special counsel investigation to appropriate congressional committees."
 Will members of the D party Congress attempt to amend Rule 6(e) in order to obtain grand jury material deemed 'critically important'?
 No?
 Logical thinking, why?
 Why paint a narrative that the one item you cannot possess is the one item you need in order to justify your argument?
 People elected 'knowingly' spreading false-information [disinformation]?
 Puppets follow orders.
 Think for yourself.

136) This morning, it was reported that AG Barr has authority not only to declassify whatever he wants but to give the information to anyone he chooses. This article specifically mentions Barr giving Devin Nunes access to classified information.

<https://news.yahoo.com/trump-admits-allowed-devin-nunes-115209807.html>

Donald Trump has given the US attorney general permission to share classified information about the Russia investigation with Devin Nunes, the Republican House Intelligence Committee ranking member who has called for Justice Department and FBI officials to be jailed over the probe.

The US president said he had given William Barr "a total release" of documents relating to the investigation into Moscow's interference in the 2016 election, and had also "given him authorisation to release it to whoever he wants".

"He's got everything; everything he needs, he's got," he told Sean Hannity in an interview on Fox News on Thursday night.

Mr Trump added: "He's the attorney general of the United States, he's has got a lot of very good people under him that I guess are involved and I gave them a total release. So, all of it's been released and he has all of it.

"I've also given him authorisation to release it to whoever he wants, whether it's his people or frankly perhaps people like Devin Nunes, who is a star."

Mr Nunes, the former chair of the House Intelligence Committee, this week portrayed allegations that Mr Trump's presidential campaign team colluded with Russia as a "hoax" comparable to "the Loch Ness monster".

Earlier this month, he described officials who triggered Robert Mueller's Russia investigation as "a bunch of dirty cops".

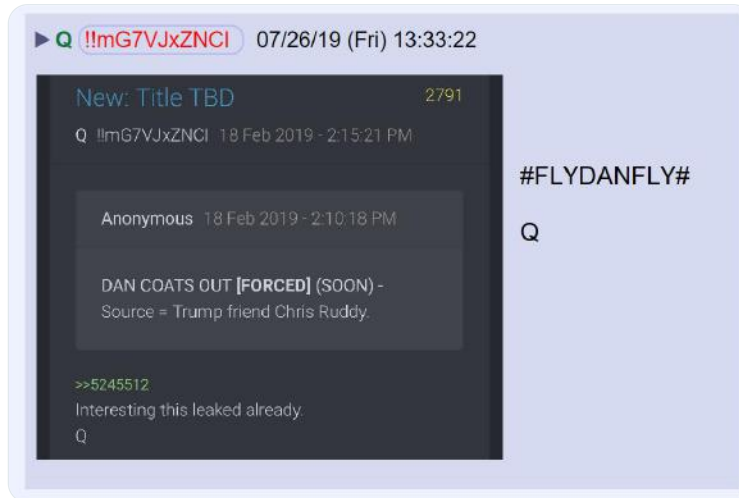

"Some of them better go to jail, or we're going to go down in a spiral in this country because you will not have a Republican that will trust the FBI or the Department of Justice for generations to come," he told Fox News presenter Bill Hemmer.

Mr Mueller, giving testimony on Capitol Hill on Wednesday, rejected Mr Trump's claims to have been exonerated by the special counsel's report.

"That is not what the report said. The president was not exculpated for the acts that he allegedly committed," he told congress.

114) Q confirmed a previous post that indicated Director of National Intelligence, Dan Coats would be replaced.

(When someone is about to leave their current job, Q indicates their departure with hashtags and the word "fly" before and after their name.)

115) An anon heard John Solomon say on Hannity's radio show that next week:

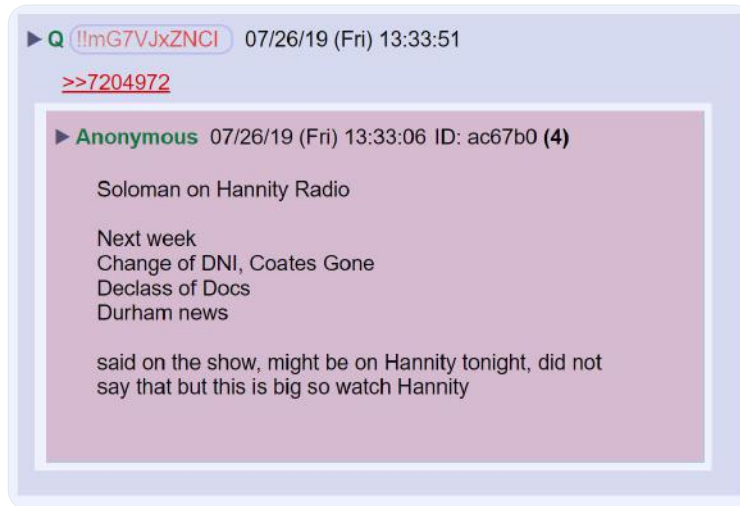

- Dan Coats would be gone.

- We'll get news from US Attorney John Durham.
- We can expect documents to be declassified.

Q reposted the anon's comment.

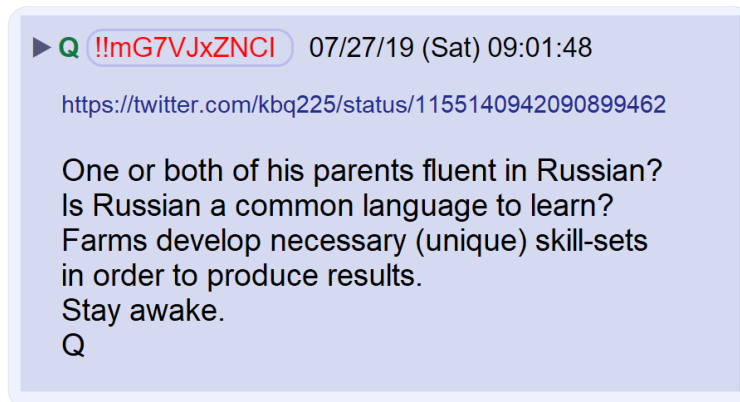

(Solomon may have news on Hannity tonight)

118) Information on Obama's family and the CI_A.

President Obama's own work in 1983 for Business International Corporation, a CIA front that conducted seminars with the world's most powerful leaders and used journalists as agents abroad, dovetails with CIA espionage activities conducted by his mother, Stanley Ann Dunham in 1960s post-coup Indonesia on behalf of a number of CIA front operations, including the East-West Center at the University of Hawaii, the U.S. Agency for International Development (USAID), and the Ford Foundation. Dunham met and married Lolo Soetoro, Obama's stepfather, at the East-West Center in 1965. Soetoro was recalled to Indonesia in 1965 to serve as a senior army officer and assist General Suharto and the CIA in the bloody overthrow of President Sukarno.

Barack Obama, Sr., who met Dunham in 1959 in a Russian language class at the University of Hawaii, had been part of what was described as an airlift of 280 East African students to the United States to attend various colleges -- merely "aided" by a grant from the Joseph P. Kennedy Foundation, according to a September 12, 1980, Reuters report from London. The airlift was a CIA operation to train and indoctrinate future agents of influence in Africa, which was becoming a battleground between the United States and the Soviet Union and China for influence among newly-independent and soon-to-be independent countries on the continent.

From 1983-84, Barack Obama worked as Editor at Business International Corporation, a known CIA front company.

This is an old aeronautical radio term. Radio signal strength and clarity were measured on a scale of 1 to 5. Today the term "Loud and Clear" is preferred to "5 by 5".

In slang use "5 by 5" means things are well, good, or as expected.
