3) #Qanon suggested that a leaker made it publicly known that POTUS was not under criminal investigation. That's new to me. It seemed like he wanted that information made public, but perhaps he discussed it only AFTER it was leaked.

4) #Qanon said Paul Manafort was a plant.
Inserted into the Trump campaign to sabotage it.

Who was arrested?

Dutch lawyer Alex van der Zwaan was sentenced to 30 days in prison for lying to investigators about his relationship to Rick Gates.

That became obvious when it was discovered that he worked as an FBI informant only a few months before the FBI accused him of being a Russian spy as part of the Trump team.

6) #Qanon asked why Robert Mueller is going after people who were planted inside the Trump campaign by the deep state.

Is Mueller working for POTUS?

7) #Qanon said General Flynn is safe.

He asked us to define "witness."

(Someone who observes illegal activity.)

Yes, a witness can still play the game.

Then they would be called an informant.

Part 1

Here is a start:
During the 2017 Democratic National Committee chairmanship election, the Obama administration pushed Tom Perez to run against Keith Ellison.[458] President Barack Obama personally called DNC members to vote for Perez [459]

On March 2, 2017, the John F. Kennedy Presidential Library and Museum awarded the annual Profile in Courage Award to Obama "for his enduring commitment to democratic ideals and elevating the standard of political courage." [460]

On April 24, 2017, in his first public appearance out of office, Obama appeared at a seminar at the University of Chicago aimed at the engagement with a new generation as well as an appeal for their participation in politics [461]

On May 4, 2017, three days ahead of the French presidential election, Obama publicly endorsed Emmanuel Macron: "He appeals to people's hopes and not their fears, and I enjoyed speaking to Emmanuel recently to hear about his independent movement and his vision for the future of France." [462] Macron went on to win the election.

https://pbs.twimg.com/media/DaGqLt_U0AE-AzL.jpg

Part 2

On May 9, 2017, Obama delivered a speech urging civic engagement during a food innovation summit in Milan, Italy, saying in part, "if you don't vote and you don't pay attention, you'll get policies that don't reflect your interest." [463]

On May 25, 2017 While in Berlin, Obama made a joint public appearance with Chancellor Angela Merkel where he stressed inclusion and for leaders to question themselves, Obama having been formally invited to Berlin while still in office as part of an effort to boost Merkel's re-election campaign [464]

On May 27, 2017, Obama traveled to Kensington Palace in England and met with Prince Harry. Obama tweeted afterward that the two discussed their foundations and offering condolences in the wake of the Manchester Arena bombing that occurred five days prior [465]

On June 1, 2017, after President Trump announced his withdrawal of the United States from the Paris Agreement, Obama released a statement disagreeing with the choice: "But even in the absence of American leadership, even as this administration joins a small handful of nations that reject the future, I'm confident that our states, cities, and businesses will step up and do even more to lead the way, and help protect for future generations the one planet we've got." [466]

https://pbs.twimg.com/media/DaGqLt_U0AI59Y3.jpg

Part 4

On September 5, 2017, after Attorney General Jeff Sessions announced the termination of the Deferred Action for Childhood Arrivals (DACA) program, Obama released a Facebook post rebuking the decision [472]

On September 7, 2017, Obama partnered with former presidents Jimmy Carter, George H. W. Bush, Bill Clinton, and George W. Bush to work with One America Appeal to help the victims of Hurricane Harvey and Hurricane Irma in the Gulf Coast and Texas communities [473]

On October 31, 2017, Obama hosted the inaugural summit of the Obama Foundation in Chicago. Obama intends for the foundation to be the central focus of his post-presidency and part of his ambitions for his subsequent activities following his presidency to be more consequential than his time in office [474]

The Zimmermann Telegram (or Zimmermann Note or Zimmerman Cable) was a secret diplomatic communication issued from the German Foreign Office in January 1917 that proposed a military alliance between Germany and Mexico in the prior event of the United States entering World War I against Germany. Mexico would recover Texas, Arizona, and New Mexico. The proposal was intercepted and decoded by British intelligence. Revelation of the contents enraged American public opinion, especially after the German Foreign Secretary Arthur Zimmermann publicly admitted the telegram was genuine on March 3, and helped generate support for the United States declaration of war on Germany in April.^[1] The decryption was described as the most significant intelligence triumph for Britain during World War I,^[2] and one of the earliest occasions on which a piece of signals intelligence influenced world events.^[3]

Here's what Wikipedia has to say about Cohen.

He's a mover and shaker with Google and the Council on Foreign Relations.

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Jared_Cohen

Jared Cohen

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

For the eighth President of Carnegie Mellon University, see Jared Cohon.

Jared Cohen (born November 24, 1981) is the CEO of Jigsaw^[1] (previously Google Ideas^[2]) and an Adjunct Senior Fellow at the Council on Foreign Relations.^[3] Previously, he served as a member of the Secretary of State's Policy Planning Staff and as an advisor to Condoleezza Rice and later Hillary Clinton.^[4] Initially brought in by Condoleezza Rice as a member of the Policy Planning Staff, he was one of a few staffers that stayed under Hillary Clinton later referenced in an article entitled "Tweeting While Tehran Burns".^[5] In this capacity, he focused on counter-terrorism, counter-radicalization, Middle East/South Asia, Internet freedom, and fostering opposition in repressive countries.^[6]

According to The New York Times Magazine, right before his departure Cohen was one of the participating architects of what was labeled in 2010 as "21st century statecraft" along with Richard Boly and several foreign service officers in the Department of State's Office of eDiplomacy^{[7][8][9]} In 2013, Cohen was named by Time Magazine as one of its 100 most influential people.^[10]

Jigsaw Projects:

Opsec and information / narrative control for the DeepState

Perspective

Perspective is an API that uses machine learning to spot abuse and harassment online. Perspective scores comments based on the perceived impact a comment might have on a conversation, which publishers can use to give real-time feedback to commenters, help moderators sort comments more effectively, or allow readers to more easily find relevant information. We'll be releasing more machine learning models later in the year, but our first model identifies whether a comment could be perceived as "toxic" to a discussion.

Project Shield

We've met news organizations around the world who suffer crippling digital attacks when they publish something controversial or that questions powerful institutions. Project Shield uses Google's infrastructure to protect independent news sites from distributed denial of service attacks (DDoS), a type of digital attack that exploits thousands or even millions of computers to overwhelm a website's servers and take it offline.

Password Alert

For the activists we've met, having their password stolen can be devastating. Password Alert is a Chrome extension that alerts you if a website is trying to steal your password. For most of us, stolen passwords can be a nuisance or result in the theft of sensitive information, but for journalists and activists who work in sensitive environments, the consequences can be far more severe.

Conversation AI

Few things poison conversations online more than abusive language, threats, and harassment. We're studying how computers can learn to understand the nuances and context of abusive language at scale. If successful, machine learning could help publishers and moderators improve comments on their platforms and enhance the exchange of ideas on the internet. The first product to come out of Conversation AI is Perspective.

Digital Attack Map

One of the easiest ways to silence someone online is a distributed denial of service attack (DDoS). But it's difficult to solve a problem you can't see. Digital Attack Map visualizes the most powerful DDoS attacks happening in the world right now, using data from our partner Arbor Networks. DDoS attacks sometimes relate directly to events in the real world such as conflicts or political disputes.

Unfiltered.News

One of the greatest threats to free expression is censorship you can't see. Unfiltered.News maps what important news stories might not be covered in your country, using the Google News corpus to allow internet users to discover which stories are being covered in certain locations, how different countries cover stories differently, and how issue coverage changes over time.

Outline

Journalists need safe access to information to research issues, communicate with sources, and report the news. Outline makes it easy for news organizations to set up a virtual private network (VPN) on their own server. This gives news organizations the power to provide anyone in their organization safer access to the internet and keep their communications private.

Share the Facts

Share the Facts offers a new way for professional fact checkers—like Politifact, The Washington Post, and FactCheck.org—to spread their work across the Internet. This product was developed by the Duke Reporters' Lab and Jigsaw. Additionally, fact checks are now globally available in Google Search and News.

43) Julian Assange said Cohen worked with the White House and State Dept (under former administrations) and did what the CIA couldn't do.

"Cohen is effectively Google's director of regime change."

#Qanon

<https://wikileaks.org/Op-ed-Google-and-the-NSA-Who-s.html>

Documents published last year by WikiLeaks obtained from the US intelligence contractor Stratfor, show that in 2011 Jared Cohen, then (as he is now) Director of Google Ideas, was off running secret missions to the edge of Iran in Azerbaijan. In these internal emails, Fred Burton, Stratfor's Vice President for Intelligence and a former State Department official, describes Google as follows:

Google is getting WH [White House] and State Dept support and air cover. In reality they are doing things the CIA cannot do... [Cohen] is going to get himself kidnapped or killed. Might be the best thing to happen to expose Google's covert role in foaming up-risings, to be blunt. The US Gov't can then disavow knowledge and Google is left holding the shit-bag.

In further internal communication, Burton subsequently clarifies his sources on Cohen's activities as Marty Lev, Google's director of security and safety and... Eric Schmidt.

WikiLeaks cables also reveal that previously Cohen, when working for the State Department, was in Afghanistan trying to convince the four major Afghan mobile phone companies to move their antennas onto US military bases. In Lebanon he covertly worked to establish, on behalf of the State Department, an anti-Hezbollah Shia think tank. And in London? He was offering Bollywood film executives funds to insert anti-extremist content into Bollywood films and promising to connect them to related networks in Hollywood. That is the Director of Google Ideas. Cohen is effectively Google's director of regime change.

That Google was taking NSA money in exchange for handing over people's data comes as no surprise. When Google encountered the big bad world, Google itself got big and bad.

The screenshot shows the Wikipedia article for "Jeremiah Wright controversy". The article text reads: "The Jeremiah Wright controversy gained national attention in the United States, in March 2008 when ABC News, after reviewing dozens of U.S. Presidential candidate Barack Obama's pastor Jeremiah Wright's sermons,^[1] excerpted parts which were subject to intense media scrutiny.^{[2][3]} Wright is a retired senior pastor of Trinity United Church of Christ in Chicago and former pastor of President Obama.^[4] Obama denounced the statements in question, but critics continued to press the issue of his relationship with Wright. In response to this, he gave a speech titled "A More Perfect Union", in which he sought to place Wright's comments in a historical and sociological context. In the speech, Obama again denounced Wright's remarks, but did not disown him as a person. The controversy began to fade, but was renewed in late April when Wright made a series of media appearances, including an interview on Bill Moyers Journal, a speech at the NAACP, and a speech at the National Press Club.^[5] After the last of these, Obama spoke more forcefully against his former pastor, saying that he was "outraged" and "saddened" by his behavior, and in May he resigned his membership in the church.^[6]"

Hey Q,

Thank you for making my terrible day a little better. Feeling a bit like POTUS today. Had a coworker lie about his screw up and blame it on me. My heart goes out to President Trump. The attack made on me is minuscule in comparison to the attacks our president and now the Q team experiences on a daily basis.

I wish I could give all of y'all a big hug and express to you how grateful I am for what y'all are doing for us and our country. I am so thankful we have a president now who calls out the media and KNOWS his people are smart enough to discern the truth for themselves. We are sick of the conjecture and half assed journalism!! So thank you again for everything. It means worlds more than you could ever know for us to have a president who believes in the greatness of WE THE PEOPLE! Do you think POTUS could give us a confirmation? Kind of like a symbolic hug?

Sending my love and prayers <3

God speed.

The connection is simply chlorine...not false flag.

Keep in mind that every crumb is not meant to be solved before the event. Some of the drops are things for anons to dig on and make connections with, others are markers for future reference.

>[future proves past]

Some drops are just simply communication to the anons.

What needs to be understood to appreciate whats going here is the fact the Q is basically creating a circular flow diagram that can be referenced and cross-checked with news releases. Q can't just disclose specifics about a situation or operation without violating security protocol. Instead they drop questions and statements that lead to answers that can be understood once the subject becomes public. This provides the validation necessary for the public to believe The Great Awakening is legit. Disinformation and misdirection with Q is real. In other words Q is pointing over there but really the focus is here and only until you publicly get the news can you go back and understand. (Think SA drops) All of this is accomplished without giving up specific details about the operation. It's quite genius.
