BELIEVE IT OR NOT, IT MAY BE ILLEGAL TO GROW YOUR OWN FOOD

Food System

Apr 30th, 2018 | By Amy Leibrock

The city and town names may change, but the stories are strikingly similar. Every year, new tales of urban gardeners who are cited for “illegally” growing food in their yards or on vacant lots bubble up.

One recent high profile case involves Hermine Ricketts and Tom Carroll, a couple in Miami Shores Village, Florida, who was told the front yard vegetable garden they’d tended to for 17 years was prohibited according to a new zoning code that banned front yard vegetable gardens. They had to dig up their plants, which supplied half the food they ate, or face $50-per-day fines.

This happened in 2013, and they’ve been fighting for the right to replant their garden ever since. Last year, the Florida Supreme Court declined to hear the case. A bill inspired by their story, prohibiting local governments from regulating residential vegetable gardens, was introduced in the Florida senate this year, but it died in the house in March. The couple still has an active change.org petition going.

Vegetable garden restrictions aren’t the only food-producing activities homeowners have come up against. Those who want to keep backyard chickens, other livestock or bees can face hurdles. Things can get even stickier if you decide you want to sell some of the food you grow.

GROWING CONFLICTS

Although there's little research about the prevalence of front yard garden bans, disputes over home gardens aren't going away, according to Baylen Linnekin, author of Biting the Hands that Feed Us: How Fewer, Smarter Laws Would Make Our Food System More Sustainable. "These conflicts occur with surprising frequency around the country," he said. "Local zoning laws—which often place aesthetic concerns over the rights of homeowners and renters to raise their own food—are almost always the culprit. As more people look to grow their own food, these conflicts are only likely to grow."

But the benefits of urban agriculture activities are becoming harder for cities and towns to deny. Not only do gardens increase access to healthy food, they can conserve energy, lessen storm water runoff, cool temperatures and sequester urban nitrogen. They can also help foster a sense of community. And telling people they can't grow food on their own property just doesn't sit right with many people.

FIGHTING FOR FOOD

For every head-scratching story of overregulation, there are examples of lawmakers who change their tune when challenged by passionate citizens. Kansas City, Missouri, for instance, lifted a ban on "row crops" in front yards in 2010. After a dispute last year in Toledo, Ohio, over piles of mulch that an urban farmer was using to rehabilitate soil, other urban farmers in the city created the Urban Agriculture Alliance to work with the city to come up with more clear guidelines. The two sides recently came to an agreement on several issues. From now on, home gardeners will be allowed to sell produce to neighbors from small tables. Gardening structures like hoop houses and greenhouses less than 400 square feet will be allowed without a permit.

Sometimes a front yard is the only option for home gardeners who don't have a back yard or have one that doesn't get enough sun. Or, people may simply prefer to grow food instead of grass. There are approximately 40 million acres of lawn in the United States. Considering intensive farming methods can produce a remarkable amount of food a fraction of an acre, the potential for home gardeners to increase local food production is impressive.

Before you embark on your own front yard garden, it's good practice to check your city ordinances, advises Linnekin. Some cities that allow gardens have rules for them, like how far a garden needs to be from a sidewalk. "Remember that even if your city or town allows gardens, you're also subject to state and local nuisance laws, among others," he said.

“If you’re found to be in violation of any law—gardening ordinance or otherwise—consult with a local attorney immediately to learn more about your rights,” said Linnekin. “You may be able to fight back.” There are also nonprofits, such as Institute for Justice, that may be willing to take on your case as well.

If you happen to not have a yard at all and want to start growing your own food, check out Shared Earth, our website that connects people who have land with people who want to garden or farm. Search listings and message with nearby gardeners or landowners to get started on your next garden!

Woman Faces Jail Time For Growing Vegetable Garden in Her Own Front Lawn

ABC News

WATCH Veggie Garden Owner Could Face Jail Time

Julie Bass faces the prospect of going to jail for what she's growing in her front yard.

The illegal growth is tomatoes. And zucchinis, peppers and other edible and what normally would be legal plants.

The officials in Bass' hometown of Oak Park, Mich., have charged her with growing "vegetable garden in front yard space." If convicted, she could spend up to 93 days in jail.

Bass said that the criminal charge "blew my mind." "Sometimes we laugh because it seems so silly and sometimes we cry because it's so pathetic. A lot of times it does not seem real," she told ABCNews.com.

Bass has insisted on a jury trial and a pre-trial hearing is set for July 26. If the case goes to court Bass' attorney Solomon Radner does not believe that a jury will convict his client of a crime.

"Michelle Obama plants vegetables on White House front lawn. I don't think the jury is going to think that it's suitable for the White House, but it's not suitable for Oak Park," said Radner.

The first lady's office, which is encouraging growing fresh vegetables to help fight childhood obesity, declined to comment on the Oak Park vegetable case.

Bass got the idea to plant a garden in front yard after it was torn up over a busted sewage pipe.

"There were piles of dirt outside and we knew we had to do something," Bass said. "We looked into putting in sod but it was shockingly expensive, so we starting looking into other books to do something a little more cost effective. We found pictures in a bunch of different library books of garden beds. It was perfect and we had a blank canvas."

Front Yard Vegetable Garden Called a Crime

In May, Bass started planting green tomatoes, zucchini and baby peppers among other vegetables, in five large, decorative planter boxes in the family's front yard. She claims that she sought and received approval from both neighbors and city officials in her Detroit suburb.

Oak Park's Planning and Technology director Kevin Rulkowski told ABC News affiliate WXYZ, "I told her don't do it, and she went ahead and did it anyway."

Bass said that Rulkowski's claims are "completely not true." She said, "He told me that he found out that we couldn't put fences around the front of the property, but he wasn't able to find anything specific to vegetables...He said the city allows decorative plantings."

According to Bass, the family hired professionals to make the planter boxes, bought tomato trellises, paving stones and a swing at a cost of over $500.

"What I understood is that they wanted something that would look nice," Bass said. "We thought that if we do it in a nice orderly way, we could make it pretty and aesthetically pleasing."

An Oak Park city councilman allegedly received two complaints about the garden resembling a "New Orleans cemetery." After an initial warning, Oak Park code enforcement officer Kevin Jones issued Bass a citation on June 8 for growing a vegetable garden on the front yard of her own property.

"At first we just thought the city was trying to bully us into backing down," Bass said. "There are people all over the city of Oak Park have planter boxes."

The Oak Park city screening and landscaping ordinance states, "All unpaved portions of the [screening and landscaping] site shall be planted with grass ground cover, shrubbery, or other suitable live plant material."

The debate is over what is "suitable."

"If you look at the dictionary, suitable means common. You can look all throughout the city and you'll never find another vegetable garden that consumes the entire front yard," Rulkowski told ABC affiliate WXYZ.

Radner disagrees. "Suitable does not have any meaning," he said. "What one person may think is pretty or suitable another person may think is terribly ugly or not suitable. That's why I think this prosecution is unconstitutional."

Radner also pointed to an exception listed in the city ordinance that specifically allows vegetable gardens: "Exempted from the provisions of this article, inclusive, are flower gardens, plots of shrubbery, vegetable gardens and small grain plots."

"You can't make this stuff up," Radner said.

Stop arresting people for growing their own garden.

Jake P started this petition to Government

Dear Sir/Madam:

In the past year or so, I have seen a growing assault on a specific type of individual freedom. A seemingly innocuous activity has drawn the ire of local officials, and when I tell you what it is, you will think it is so silly you just might laugh. You might even think that paying attention to this issue is a waste of your limited time, but I can assure you from my own personal experience that it absolutely is not.

In June of 2011 I faced a 93 day jail sentence for growing vegetables in my front yard. Yes, you read that correctly. There was no other issue, no hidden criminal mischief, no homeowner's association, no history of any other violations. There was nothing in the municipal code that prohibited growing vegetables in the front yard, nor was there anything, unsightly or even vaguely menacing. Yet I was charged with a misdemeanor. If my case was an isolated incident, we could just attribute it to an overzealous city planner and that would be the end of the story.

But in September of 2011, Memphis high school teacher Adam Guerrero was ordered to dismantle a similar garden. In his case, he used the garden to educate students from the local high school about growing food, making soap and biodiesel, harvesting honey, and giving youth productive and constructive ways to use their time. For this he was dragged into court and labelled a troublemaker.

In June of 2012 Karl Tricamo of Ferguson, Missouri was ordered to tear up his front yard garden in spite of the fact that it clearly violated no zoning ordinance. He chose to stand his ground rather than capitulate to bullying by his city, but it was a difficult fight, and one that a law-abiding citizen should not have to wage. Karl won his fight too, but the city is planning to retaliate by drafting new and stricter gardening ordinances that will prevent him from continuing to plant in the future.

In October, 2012 the Helvenston Family in Orlando, Florida were ordered to remove their front yard vegetable garden, with a citation stating that, "Front yard must be restored to its original configuration and ground covers restored." In spite of the fact that the original complaint was made by a landlord who lived over 1,000 miles away, and in spite of the fact that neighbors in the area were in support of the garden, the City claimed ground cover violations, then ruled that the vegetable garden was agriculture and only allowed it in the rear yard where there is no sun. The Code still has not changed and the case against them is still pending. Up until this point, they have not been allowed to speak in front of the city council, nor been given a fair hearing, despite the city repeatedly telling media that they are working with the couple to find a fair solution to the situation.

Perhaps most egregious, though, is the case of Denise Morrison in Tulsa, Oklahoma. Denise grew a varied garden of herbs, flowers, fruits, nuts, and vegetables. She was cited by her city for violating their zoning ordinances. And while her case was pending, before she had her hearing, city workers came and razed her garden. That's right. No due process. no fair trial. All because some local bureaucrats wouldn't tolerate one woman growing some of her own food.

So what can you do? I am asking you to be courageous enough to sponsor a bill that will protect a citizen's right to grow food. I am asking you to pass into law something that should already be obvious to thinking people: that a free citizen should have the right (barring legitimate concerns over safety and welfare of others, of course) to grow food on their own property. Protect individuals from the petty tyranny of local governments.

Yes, I know we can vote in local elections, and we do. But wouldn't it be wonderful if you took a stand on this issue? I'll tell you who would support you, because they supported me during my fight with the city (which I won, by the way): people who care about: food safety, food rights, water conservation, energy conservation, organics, local politics, human rights, keeping government in check, farming, slow food, eating local, land use issues, environmentalists, water quality, peak oil concerns, saving money, healthy diets, teaching and learning, improvising in a tough economy, self-sufficiency, therapeutic benefits of gardening, creating strong neighborhoods and regaining a sense of community, taking pride in what you work for (a most American value), as well as many other things.

It used to be that Americans were encouraged to plant Victory Gardens. Average people felt they were helping their country and their families by putting their hands in their soil and growing some of what they ate. They took pride in the fact that they were able to see the results of their effort on their very own dinner table. Today many people struggle from paycheck to paycheck. Slogans are thrown around about how best to help people who are just trying to "make it". Here you have case after case of people who are willing to do what it takes to plant what some have termed the new "Survival Gardens". How wonderful it would be for them to be able to flourish in peace!

At the heyday of our battle, we had several hundred thousand visitors following my story on my blog. I'm sure there were at least that many following our story on other websites and through other media. Undoubtedly you would have more than that supporting you in this issue.

I will eagerly await a response from you.

Thank you and best wishes,

Julie Bass

Are Governments attempting to stop citizens from growing their own food?

by Steve | Jan 3, 2012

I have watched and followed with some worry and considerable concern during the last few years at various Governments attempts to ban people from growing organic food and medicinal plants in their home gardens.

No Conspiracies here!

At first glance this looks like something that you would expect to come from conspiracy theorists, in many ways I wish that it was just a conspiracy, but sadly there is no conspiracy here, no half truths with the bits in-between filled in with wild and fantastic stories of New World Orders, and three headed Aliens trying to control us.

The evidence

The first thing I read that started the alarm bells ringing for me was the two Bills S.425 and H.R.875 which were introduced both in the House and Senate of the US Congress by Democrat Rosa DeLauro, this caused immediate controversy as Rosa De Lauro is married to Stanley Greenberg, who is Chairman and CEO of Greenberg Quinlan Rosner Research, who have carried out work for Biotech company Monsanto.

Outwardly these Bills that are currently before the Senate in the US are masquerading as a set of new food safety standards, however these Bills are so vague and open ended that if they were fully implemented there would be a high risk of Organic and Heirloom seeds, and the general production of organic food being banned.

One of the central aims of the Bills is to completely industrialise all food production in America. If implemented it would be illegal to grow food in your garden, and also illegal to give that food away to your friends and family. Other parts of the Bill attempt to restrict and control the usage of valuable minerals and vitamins that have proven beneficial effects on peoples well being.

There have been some successes in stalling and changing bits of these Bills in the US, but the rushed implementation of them is still going on where the Obama Government are pushing the Bills without any public consultation whatsoever in a bid to get them on the Statute books as quickly as possible.

Neoliberals in the US are quick to make claims that the two Bills have nothing to do with banning organic food growing and Heirloom seeds, but there is some very recent evidence that flows contrary to their claims.

The Rawsome food company in California who produce and sell raw organic food have been visited and arrested by armed S.W.A.T Police on two occasions. The two issues that drew armed S.W.A.T teams to the Rawsome Food Company were the sale of naturally produced milk, and the sharing and giving away of surplus food.

In another case, The Police and Nevada Health District team raided Quail Hollow organic farm in Nevada in 2011, with claims that the fresh vegetables which were grown on the farm and were being used to feed a local get together of growers and their families were a toxic bio-hazard, meat that was reared on the farm was also classed as toxic, and all food from the event was confiscated and destroyed.

Similarly the New Zealand Government are currently trying to push through the Food Bill 160-2 onto their statute books, it has already passed through the first stage of going onto their statute books, once fully implemented it would mean that it would be completely illegal for people to grow and share food from the back garden plot or smallholding and only those involved in agribusiness would have the right to grow and produce food.

The New Zealand Bill has developed out of demands from the WTO (World trade organisation) The WTO represent the interests of businesses and companies and is not a Statutory Government body with the welfare of the world citizens at heart. And just like the American Bills that are before their Senate (S.425 and H.R.875) the New Zealand 160-2 Bill also prohibits the use of Heirloom seeds and seed saving.

Europe legislates against Herbal preparations

There have also been developments in Europe, particularly with the use of Herbal plants as medicines, in April of 2011, the European Union set in place rules governing the use and classification of herbs and herbal preparations, these rules have effectively denied thousands of NHS patients the use of traditional herbs, it also puts in place registration rules that enable herbal practitioners to operate under strict licensing rules, the registration process alone costs between £80-120,000, which of course means that only larger more corporate type companies can afford to pay to register.

This European legislation was sold to us as something that has been put in place to protect our health and well being, but research into fatalities from herbal and none herbal medical drugs paints a biased picture, in the US between 75-100,000 people a year die from Proscribed pharmaceutical drugs, whilst Dr. Christianson ND looked into deaths from herbal preparations and found no evidence to suggest that any deaths had occurred other than a few dozen cases where people had either combined prescribed drugs with herbal, or where people died from plain ignorance by ingesting essential oils, his research found that no deaths had occurred from proscribed herbal remedies that were given out by trained herbalists.

What we can do about it?

Protesting is always a very valid and useful strategy to bring about social change, and this case is no exception, as large scale protest and outcry in the US has halted the Bills from becoming enshrined in law up to now, however we believe that the main means of fighting back that we should be employing is disobedience.

With something as important as the food that we eat, our disobedience should be that we continue to grow our own food, and save our own seeds, and also help and encourage others too, we should accelerate this process where ever possible

If any of this legislation does become enshrined in law, it will mean that our efforts to live an ecologically sound life whilst reducing our reliance on fossil fuels also becomes illegal, we must resist these measures at every level!

It has been reported that Monsanto has been coating its corn seed in nicotine, to prevent spoilage from rodents. One small problem, the corn (in growing) will ingest the nicotine; which is poisonous to bees. And we wonder why were having Bee Hive Collapse. A stalk of corn has how many ears?? Each ear will cost a bee his life.

If these laws pass, then there will be a big underground business in growing food in the same way it is for marijuana now. And selling “illegal” food will be a big underground business—maybe for organized crime—in the same way that illegal drugs are a big business now. Did anybody read about bootleg liquor sales in the 1920s?

If this were to happen in the Netherlands, it wouldn’t really come as a surprise, but the US.... I mean, wtf?? How long do they think people will take this? One day my generation is going to turn off the television and will start looking around. And on that day my generation is going to get really pissed off. I mean REALLY pissed off. So Mr. Montesanto and all you’re corrupt puppet-politicians... Remember the lines of this poem. We are many, but you are... few. So come and arrest me in my front yard garden. I will be expecting you.

Much love to you all, fellow revolutionists, from the Netherlands.

“Stand ye calm and resolute,
Like a forest close and mute,
With folded arms and looks which are
Weapons of unvanquished war.
And if then the tyrants dare,
Let them ride among you there,
Slash, and stab, and maim and hew,
What they like, that let them do.
With folded arms and steady eyes,
And little fear, and less surprise
Look upon them as they slay
Till their rage has died away
Then they will return with shame
To the place from which they came,
And the blood thus shed will speak
In hot blushes on their cheek.
Rise like Lions after slumber
In unvanquishable number,

Shake your chains to earth like dew

Which in sleep had fallen on you-

Ye are many — they are few”

They tried to arrest me for planting carrots

In 2003, long before a warrant was issued for my arrest for the crime of planting vegetables, I remember going to a store in South Central L.A. and picking up some tomatoes. The stickers on them read: “Coated with shellac.” I thought to myself: Isn't that the stuff we used to coat wood in my high school woodshop? Why is it on these tomatoes? That's when it really hit me.

There was a complete lack of healthy food in my community. Growing up in South Central L.A., we had restaurants where you could sit down. But some time in the late '70s or early '80s, those places shut down and were replaced by fast food joints. Later, when I was raising my kids, I used to drive damn near an hour round-trip to places like Culver City to find fruits and vegetables that hadn't been grown with pesticides.

I wanted to change all of that. I wanted to rid the streets of trash. I wanted people walking down the sidewalks of my neighborhood to smell jasmine, lavender, sweet basil, and lemongrass. And I wanted healthy food options and organic fruits and vegetables for my family, my neighbors, and myself.

So, in 2010, I planted towering sunflowers, kale, and pomegranates in the 10-foot-wide, 150-foot-long parkway in front of my house—the space between the curb and the sidewalk. The beauty and color of that garden quickly attracted people (and insects).

When people saw this food literally growing along their streets, they began to see the possibilities. That same year, I founded a group with like-minded people who wanted to grow and share their own food and show others how to do it. It's a simple concept: If food is not there, put it there! It's our responsibility—if we want to change our neighborhoods, it has to come from within.

We started planting gardens around the neighborhood and in peoples' yards for free. But I learned the drawbacks. When people get something—like food in their garden—without having to do the work themselves, they don't assign such things the same value.

People need skin in the game. Unfortunately, we found that a lot of the gardens we planted weren't being maintained.

Then, in May 2011, I got a citation to remove my garden from the city's Bureau of Street Services—it said that, since the city has jurisdiction over parkways, I had two options: clear the “overgrown vegetation” or purchase a $400 permit. I didn't do either, of course. The citation turned into a warrant. I got an arrest warrant for beautifying my street—a warrant for planting a carrot!

My first thought was: Bring it. It's a stupid, antiquated law that needs to be changed. There was no healthy food in the neighborhood—and those parkways were the only land where people could grow food. Plus no one was being cited for the discarded old toilets, couches and used condoms on the street—but I got a citation for bringing nature, beauty, pride, art, and a sense of peace and calm to the neighborhood. It just made no sense.

But the police never came for me. The warrant was suspended. Over the summer, LA Times columnist Steve Lopez got interested and wrote about the garden. There was a petition started in support. Then Councilman Herb Wesson got involved. In 2013, the L.A. City Council voted to change the law—it is now legal to grow food on your parkway in Los Angeles.

There has been a shift in the paradigm. Now the city is encouraging more green spaces and there are plans to utilize its 26 square miles of vacant lots to benefit underserved communities—to turn them into green space and urban farms.

The last few years have been incredible. I've had the opportunity to travel to Greece, Qatar, the United Kingdom, Stockholm, and Hawaii to speak publicly about food injustice. It all started in 2012 when the nonprofit TED invited me to a worldwide talent search in Vancouver, Canada. I gave a talk the next year at a big TED conference that has more than two million views to date. I'm contacted every day by people who saw the talk and want to know how they can get involved.

The message is getting out. People across L.A. (and around the world) are planting gardens at home, in schools and businesses. It changes people's lives when they are able to see beauty instead of concrete and asphalt.

These days, I'm focusing on raising funds for the Ron Finley Project, a plan to acquire an acre of land in South Central L.A. behind the city's oldest operating library and turn it into an urban garden oasis. When it's done, the Vermont Square library garden will consist of a greenhouse, a café in a shipping container, and a community garden where people can grow, exchange, and sell their food at a bi-weekly food stand. We'll also offer gardening and art classes and a program to use the thousands of pounds of fruit from people's yards that go to waste each year. We want to use the fruit in the café and donate it to shelters. We want to teach people how to turn that fruit into income—to make preserves and other items. The idea is to help people become self-sustaining and healthy at the same time.

Teamwork is essential to making change—and it helps to have an ally or two in City Hall. It's been great to be surrounded by like-minded people with common goals because 1,000 shovels can get work done much faster than one shovel.

If you want something changed, you have to stop waiting for someone else to do it. You are the change! This is your canvas, you should paint it. Your health, and the health of your community, is your responsibility and no one else's. Once we're done transforming South Central L.A., the next move is to transform the world.

Ron Finley, who was raised in South Central, started a horticultural revolution. He spends most of his time working on changing an unjust food system by showing people the art of growing their own food. His message is simple: "Change your food, change your life!" He wrote this for Thinking L.A., a partnership of UCLA and Zócalo Public Square.*

Agenda 21 converted into 2030

War on terror:

The "war on terror" that never did seem to end turned out to be the perfect tool to rationalize permanent war against all citizens, everyone, anywhere, everywhere, at anytime. Essentially setup to kill the human species, for the benefit of a tiny group known as the Illuminati, alias globalist, Rothschild Khazarian Mafia, in general the Archon bloodline families, acting in our today's society as the financial elite.

If you didn't like Agenda 21 that originally was planned for implementation by 2050 then you really are not going to like the 2030 Agenda, because the 2030 Agenda takes things to an entirely new level.

The original plan for Agenda 21 and now 2013 was written by Professor Weishaupt when he founded in 1776 the Order of the Illuminati; actually a fascist Nazi organisation, which employs as their frontman, government leaders, being their visible acting puppet. – Most of our 'elected leaders sold their soul to the satanic bosses to keep them hidden from the public. Those leaders that commit treason or resign are disciplinary penalized by premature death.

Illuminati and the Agenda:

The Illuminati's final objective is to obtain the planet for them, and being served by maximal 500 million people that are left alive to act as their serfs, the rest of the existing populace will be exterminated.

By recognizing what already is part of our daily live, you will be impressed how far they have succeeded.

- The creation of racism offences
- Continual change to create confusion
- The undermining of schools and teachers' authority
- The teaching of sex and homosexuality to children
- Huge immigration to destroy national identity
- The promotion of excessive drinking
- The promotion of drugs abuse
- Emptying of churches – undermining any form of social cohesion

- Legal system with bias against victims of crime
- Dependency on the government or government benefits – and erasing these as is happening now
- Control and dumping down of the media
- Encouraging the breaking down of the family

The points about 'huge immigration to destroy national identity' – 'teaching sex to young children' – 'undermining teachers' authority' – 'emptying churches' – and 'controlling the media', are clearly seen everywhere in the western world.

The recent most significant steps forwards were taken at the end of last month, during the 70th United Nations Assembly where all well-coordinated actions toward the one-world government were presented, but yet barely anyone is even talking about it.

Basically Agenda 21 has been converted and renamed in a “new universal Agenda” for humanity. Officially now known as the program of Agenda 2030, being hyped as a way to get the whole world to work together to make life better for all of us. And presented as an admirable new agenda the world is waiting for, with more globalisation and more centralisation!

Under the guise of interest for nation-states, the one umbrella of the New World Order, which must create sustainable life on the planet, and stop climate change. – Unfortunately today too many people are too complacent and squarely ignorant to the many warnings that are visible all around them. They still think that authorities are taking care of them, so, above view would be impossible and consequently are dismissed as conspiracy.

However importantly, the Pope gave his stamp of approval for this insidious new Agenda 2030. He is probably the most politically powerful religious leader on the entire planet, and so his endorsement is huge, because hundreds of millions of people follow him with unquestioning faith. But please do not let the Pope's endorsement fool you. The 2030 Agenda is a tool that the elite plan to use to push us toward a one-world system, to be implemented not later than by the year 2030. Mind you 15 years from now!

The UN says that this new Agenda is “voluntary”, and yet virtually every single-puppet-nation on the entire planet is willingly signing up for it. In the official document that all of these nations are agreeing to, there are 17 sustainable development goals and 169 very specific sustainable development targets. Read them for yourself here. The phrase “new universal Agenda” is right near the end of the preamble.

The program is being hyped for; who wouldn't want to end global poverty? But look deeper into what the UN is trying to do; you'll find some very disturbing trends.

Major alarm bells should start going off once stuff like this is read. People are now witnessing the last stages of the rise of the one-world regime, and eventually much of the planet is ultimately going to embrace it.

As Paul McGuire writes in his new book "The Babylon Code"

The UN is not asking permission, but issuing a command that the entire planet will commit to 17 sustainable development goals and 169 sustainable development targets designed to radically transform our world by 2030. The UN 2030 plan promoted by the Pope will advance Agenda 21 on steroids. Through a controlled media the mass populations will be told that this is all about saving the environment and "ending poverty." But that is not the true agenda of Agenda 21. The true agenda of Agenda 21 is to establish a global government, global economic system, and global religion. When UN Secretary General Ban Ki-Moon spoke of "a dream of a world of peace and dignity for all" this is no different than when the Communists promised the people a "workers paradise." (Emphasis is mine).

WAKEUP IMMEDIATELY:

Despite many private initiatives by bloggers, independent journalists, truth seekers, revolutionaries, and alternative news sources that for many years are warning about dangers, the discrepancies, the out of control top-down financial and governmental corruption, all engineered by lies, and deception, the suffering of millions of people as result of the unnecessary austerity measures, culminating in today's deliberately created economic crisis, etc. Too many people still are unworried and ignorant to see these warning signs. – If action is not taken NOW; we the people that live today are responsible for allowing the killing off of the human species in the billions, by not being alert and incompetent to undertake significant proper engagement to stop this agenda.

The Agenda: Agenda 21 was primarily focused on climate change and the environment, but the 2030 Agenda goes far beyond that. The 2030 Agenda addresses in far more depth economics, agriculture, education, gender equality, healthcare and a whole host of other issues. There are very few forms of human activity that do not fall under the goals of the 2030 Agenda.

The Illuminati want a one-world government, a one world economic system and a one-world religion, being implemented by not later than 2030!

They aren't going to get there without some major bumps in the road, but this is what we are moving toward.

Sadly, we all are too preoccupied with so many other things than the Agenda 2030, so it isn't seen that all this is starting to happen right in front of our eyes.

Sustainable Development Agenda:

The UN's "Sustainable Development Agenda" is Basically a Giant Corporatist Fraud. It's not a joke – Saudi Arabia is chosen to head the UN Human Rights Panel! – King Salman killed more than 70 of his close relatives in order to seize the throne; there may be more deaths in his immediate circle over the coming days, intelligence sources predict.

The official significance of the Agenda is expressed as:

This Agenda is a plan of action for people, planet and prosperity. It also seeks to strengthen universal peace in larger freedom. We recognize that eradicating poverty in all its forms and dimensions, including extreme poverty, is the greatest global challenge and an indispensable requirement for sustainable development. All countries and all stakeholders, acting in collaborative partnership, will implement this plan...

Innocent wording to take away any suspicion by the public, but it is a blatant lie and a total deception regarding the importance and implications for humanity, everyone living on the planet. – More precisely the UN Agendas 21 and 2030 “sustainable development” is an UN-led program where individuals will be stripped of personal rights and freedoms, cars will become scarce and the masses will be herded into large hellish cities and forced to live in tiny “sustainable” dorm-like apartments.

Further: “The United Nations seeks to co-opt, via individual governments, and eventually, a “one-world government,” confiscate privately held land under the auspices of “sustainability.” Worse still, the UN’s Agenda 21 has even laid out plans for “depopulation” or rather, “population control.”

United Nations:

The United Nations is an infinitely corrupt body founded by the Rockefeller family in charge to enforce a new and centralized global order on behalf of the Archon bloodline families. However the Internet has dealt grievous blows to the secrecy that the cabal needs to carry out its centralizing plans. But the cabal still exists without doubt and despite defections controls the world's money supply and most of its military forces.

The Trans-Pacific Partnership (TPP), the "free trade" agreement between the United States and 11 other Pacific Rim nations, was finalized last week after years of knockdown, drag-out, and behind-closed-door negotiation. Not a single Politician that had to decide over its implementation has been allowed to read the content of this agreement!

This deal is a naked corporate bonanza. "Labor unions, among many others, have lined up to oppose the TPP based on concerns over a number of issues, including currency manipulation, environmental and health protections, food safety, pharmaceutical monopolies, offshoring of jobs, Internet privacy, government transparency and local control," says RT. It adds, "Leaked drafts of TPP negotiations have suggested that corporations would be allowed to sue governments in private courts over lost profits due to regulation, elevating corporate entities to the status held by sovereign nations."

Global corporations will tap taxpayers' wallets if regulations cut into the bottom line. And deals will be set up to let that happen!

And last but not least: Fresh off the scene from those epic embarrassments, the UN now wants to tell governments of the world how to censor the Internet.

“The elite do not announce radical changes overnight. They prefer to make small moves, year after year, through boring technical changes that few notice or understand.”

Democracy:

In preparation for the implementation of the Agenda, and stripping every nation of its sovereignty, since the Cold War and its aftermath, democracy is not how U.S. politicians have used the term. When an American president uses the word “democracy,” he means a pro-American country following U.S. neoliberal policies, no matter if the country is a military dictatorship or its government was brought in by a coup (euphemized as a Colour Revolution) as in Egypt, Tunisia, Georgia, or Ukraine.

A “democratic” government has been re-defined simply as one supporting the Washington Consensus, NATO and the IMF, with a privately cabal-owned Central Bank implemented. It is a government that shifts policy-making out of the hands of elected representatives to an “independent” central bank, whose policies are dictated by the oligarchy centred in Wall Street, the City of London and Frankfurt.

Given this American re-definition of the political vocabulary, when President Obama says that such countries will not suffer coups, violent revolution or terrorism, he means that countries safely within the U.S. diplomatic orbit will be free of destabilization sponsored by the U.S. State Department, Defence Department and Treasury. Countries whose voters democratically elect a government or regime that acts independently – or even simply use the power to act independently of U.S. directives, will be destabilized, Syria-style, Ukraine-style or Chilean-style under General Pinochet. As Henry Kissinger said, just because a country votes in communists doesn't mean that we have to accept it. This is the style of the "colour revolutions" sponsored by the National Endowment for Democracy.

As blatant examples look at the destruction the US has inflicted in former Yugoslavia, Ukraine, Georgia and South Ossetia, in various African countries, in Afghanistan, in Iraq, Tunisia, Egypt, Libya, and now in Syria that hopefully thanks to Russian intervention could be saved. Most people are too brainwashed by lies and political impotence to do anything about it, while Washington's vassal states in Europe, UK, Canada, Australia, and Japan pretend that this policy of international murder was bringing freedom and democracy!

The UN Reaction from Putin:

In his United Nations reply, Russian President Putin warned against the "export of democratic revolution," meaning by the United States in support of its local factotums. ISIL is armed with U.S. weapons and its soldiers were trained by U.S. armed forces. In case there was any doubt, President Obama reiterated before the United Nations that until Syrian President Assad was removed in favour of one more submissive to U.S. oil and military policy, Assad was the major enemy, not ISIL.

Agenda 21 Program:

21 Truths About Agenda 21 And Sustainable Development

The Archon bloodlines want us to accept the Agenda 21 program. Unfortunately for the people of the world so far everything is going according to the New World Order Plan. But what is this New World Order Plan?

Agenda 21 is called 'the agenda for the 21st century' and that refers to global fascism/communism. Here is a summary of what Agenda 21 includes: 'Sustainable' development – don't use more than can be replaced – sounds sensible enough at first, until is realized what this and 'biodiversity' really mean in the context of the conspiracy. As, 'Sustainable Development' and 'Biodiversity' is seeking to impose:

- Termination of national sovereignty
- State planning and management of all land resources, ecosystems, deserts, forest, mountains, oceans, and fresh water; agriculture; rural development; biotechnology; and ensuring 'equality' – equal enslavement
- State define the role of business, and financial resources
- Abolition of private property – as it is not 'sustainable'
- 'Restructuring' the family unit
- Children raised by the State

- Telling people what their job will be and where to live
- Major restrictions on movements
- Creation of 'human settlement zones'
- Mass resettlement as people are forced to vacate their land; homes, where they currently live
- Dumbing down education – achieved
- Mass global depopulation in pursuit of the above.

Agenda 21 termed already over two hundred years ago – indicates the completion phase during this century. The secret plan of the New World Order is to reduce the world's population to a "sustainable" level "in perpetual balance with nature" by a ruthless Population Control Agenda via Population and Reproduction Control. A Mass Culling of the People via Planned Parenthood, toxic adulteration of water and food supplies, release of weaponised man-made viruses – like AIDS, EBOLA, etc. – man-made pandemics, mass vaccination campaigns and a planned Third World War.

Then, Agenda 21 will impose upon the drastically reduced world population a global feudal-fascist state with 'one' World Government, World Religion, World Army, World Central Bank, World Currency and a micro-chipped population. – In short, they will kill 90% of the world's population in order to control all aspects of the human condition and thus rule everyone, everywhere from the cradle to the grave.

The world of Agenda 21:

This is the world of Agenda 21. People would exist, not live, in cashless poverty under Agenda 21 while the few that controlled them live in unimaginable high-tech luxury on for example Greek islands, obtained on the cheap. Children would be owned by the state and brought up in the way that Aldous Huxley foresaw from his inside knowledge in Brave New World. They would be technological bred in genetic caste systems and the idea of biological parents would be a page of the past – symbolically – that is, because history would be deleted.

Parents, were the father and mother... These are unpleasant facts, as I know it. But then most historical facts are unpleasant... In those days... children were brought up by their parents and not in State Conditioning Centres. Wrote Huxley.

Huxley described how these State Conditioning Centres programmed children to accept whatever the State decreed and anyone not conforming would be electroshocked until they did.

He described babies crawling towards pictures of flowers and birds only to be shocked because the State didn't want them to like nature. Children in Brave New World are also brainwashed even when they sleep with subliminal messages. Huxley said that eventually the child's mind becomes, through psychological suggestions, the State 's mind, or, 'Suggestions'' from the 'State'.

How many people are like that today? The constant erosion of parental rights to make decisions about their children, are the stepping-stones to the world that Huxley describes and Agenda 21 demands. As a transition to children being produced technologically by the state, parents would require state permission to have children according to strict genetic criteria. There would be no cars in this Archon world and the only transport would be local rail transit systems connecting homes and work places and high-speed trains between mega-regions.

People need permission to travel on the latter and even then they would be sitting in carriages amid wireless mind control fields and watched by the uniformed thugs of the State. People would work where they are told to work with no choice. The word 'choice' would be deleted from the vocabulary along with others like freedom, just as Orwell envisaged from his inside knowledge.

Robotic humans:

There is a massive attempt to program people to make them easier to control, and to bring an end to any vestige of the spiritual, religious, conscious human. The so-called 'post-human race' is being developed as slaves in the world of Agenda 21.

The Archons want a 'machine controlled' world, to be merged with technology into 'robotic humanity', creating sub-human robots with no compassion, empathy, or ability for free thought. The idea is to produce a robot military that will always follow orders and be part human and completely technological. Contracts are already awarded for robots that could search and detain 'uncooperative people'. Watch this short video to understand what is meant, and how far development has come.

Among preparations everyone must make is getting out of electronic currency and into precious metals. Adding silver and gold to your private safe depot is the only way to ensure that your currency will be accepted following the collapse.

It starts with the surrender of national sovereignty of all nations, already fact for the EU-nations, which will culminate in the one-world government, with by the IMF issued world currency that devalues existing fiat currencies with up to 90%. – Imagine that you have to pay ten times more for everything, instead of €2 now, then €20 for a bread. Your € 200,000 mortgage would become a 2 million euro mortgage!

Because of the publicity over the Internet, the cabal must speed up this process, as the monetary system is completely failing too, and consequently runs out of their control.

It virtually means the push of the human population into giant "megacities" under arguments to allow nature to recapture much of what has already been settled by humanity. These factually is a blueprint for the transformation of global society and takes away people's freedom.

Now it is of the highest importance to choose either way:

WAKEUP and SHAKEUP

Or otherwise accept a premature death, or indefinite enslavement.

To underline the urgency, the Pope announced at the UN the definite implementation of Agenda 21 for an orderly transition of the surrender of national sovereignty of all nations, which will culminate in the one-world government, with IMF issued world currency that devalues existing fiat currencies with up to 90%.

Be assured this is going to happen unless we the people wake up en masse to reverse this trend. Send the link of this site to all your friends and contacts en ask them to read the articles and forward doing the same, as your first step in waking up the people. Good luck and lots of success. We really have to mobilise at least over 50% of the public.

This sounds like a better plan, looking at the chaos right now. Multiculturalism doesn't seem to be doing good. We need some sort of an organised society with one religion one economy. I am rooting for this

Wow!!! Maybe you should thoroughly research all of this before you decide you are for this. You will not be free. They are going to kill most of the population before there is an organized society. So the people who are left after a possible genocide will live in this society. This is an evil plan!

You can not stop this it's too late we could in the millions turn round and oppose this but the wheels have already been put in motion and this has been in play for 200 years now and it's in the final 15 years of the end game judgement day is upon us and there is absolutely nothing we can do to stop it even if one billion people uprising and oppose one deadly toxin in the atmosphere and it's over the have not done this as they have been setting everything up like mass coffins new cities and putting the contingency plans in place and the final days are here. I mean come on take a look around I mean take a real look around and what do you really see stop your everyday rat race life and take a real look around on what's going on do some research

all I can say is just hope and pray you are one of the half of million people they are actually planning to leave on this planet just hope and pray

We as the human race are of great intelligence and of great dumbness.

I'm a 32 year old bricklayer living in London with 3 children so take with what say in this next thread and think about it deeply and I mean actually sit down for an hr and think about it with great thought and take into account I'm a person of not no importantence so what I'm about to say and what I think about what is going on is I have no role in the motion of what is about to happen it's just my eyes have been open to what's been going on since I was around 14 we'll here goes listern.

we the human race are of great intelligence but are of great dumbness we are the ones or have caused judgment day to happen we the human race take a look what we have done to this planet as a whole

The planet is seriously over populated and I'm talking seriously over populated there was a study not so long ago that the population by 2025 if we carried on the way we was going was going to double in size do you understand what that actually means

As it stands today il put it in to perspective some days going to work by driving 13miles to work it would take 4hrs by car to get home from work could you imagine what it would be like if there was another 6 million cars on the streets of London I would not like to know how long it will take

The transport system is bursting at its seams train and buses now I know you guys have been on the transport system in rush hr it is terrible and to be honest god dam dangerouse and frustrating could you imagine what it would be like if the population of the planet doubled

We are consuming resources at an alarming rate like wood,water destruction of the planet like the rain forest to sustain the planet and it's population for its everyday needs like that couch you sit on or that table you use or just simply when you flush the toilet we are not replenishing the supply quick enough as we are destroying it could you imagine what it would be like If the population doubles

Take a look up in sky and tell me what you see I see masses of pollution in the sky and this is why we have to do cloud seeding to manipulate the weather or the sun will not get in and crops etc will not grow

if we keep the pollution up at he rate we are going 1000 years from now we will not have no sun crops will die animals will die then inevitable so will the human race

We as humans are a very sefish organism and only really care about ourselves and what is going on now or what we have like all of the items we take for granted or want for ourselves for our life's and the destuction it's causing for us to have these items what about the future generations in a 1000 years time but we don't care about that we don't care that we are fundamentally killing ourselves and our future destuction of the entire human race foolish and god dam selfish

This planet is in so much caos and disorder take a look around people are just doing what they want killing people,raping people, people robbing people,drugs, violence etc etc etc, it's complete caos out of controll and complete and utter madness

Fundamentally if we don't kill ourselves through pollution anarchy or that person who makes that ultimate weopan of mass destruction and releases I toxic in the air that will completly wipe out the human race we are on a course of complete extinction of the human race.

The is utter dumbness and selfishness of the human race to set a path of complete extinction I mean COME ON WHAT IS WRONG WITH US

So this comes to the conclusion of what needs to be done the they have put this in to place.

THIS IS SAD FOR ME TO SAY THIS BUT THE DEPOPULATION OF THE PLANET NEEDS TO HAPPEN

Or there will not be a human race in 1000 years time you mark my words

New world order needs to happen to ensure our survival

One governmant one currency one set of rules one language that don't sound to bad to me to be honest

There will be no crime everyone would have a place to live there will be controll instead of disorder there would be no illnesses like swineflu etc

The pro's certainly out weigh the cons of what is going to happen

Think about it but I mean really think about it do some research and make your own mind up

THIS NEEDS TO HAPPEN FOR THE SURVIVAL OF THE HUMAN RACE

I'm afraid you're a bit off on the ending of the human race, instead of 1,000 years I believe it's more like 50 years from now Sept. 2018. The reason I say this is , when Jesus was asked about the end times He told them, if those days were not shortened no flesh would survive on the earth, but for the sake of the elect { God's people } those days will be shortened. And I think He meant exactly what He said. We still have 365 days in a year, 24 hours in a day but they are flying. And if He is true to His Word, and I know He is, He will have to come back and soon or most of us will be wiped out in the elite's NWO agenda.

Jesus is the SUN. The New Testament was originally a Greek play about the SUN, moon, planets and constellations.

The Greek word for the SUN is IESOUS.

IESOUS...JESUS...do you see what they did there? Changed the I to J and added an O. There was never a man named Jesus in Jerusalem. Jesus is a Spanish name, not Hebrew. Hebrew is a language, not a race of people.

They left hints throughout the old and new testaments. In the book of Job you'll find reference to the Mazzaroth, the Hebrew word for the constellation clock in the sky. The Greek word is Zodiac. Also in Job is a reference to the "sweet influences of the Pleiades, and the "mother bear and her cub", Ursa Major and Minor. You'll find a reference to Castor & Pollux in the NT, the primary stars of the constellation Gemini. "Galilee" means circuit.

The bible is entirely symbolic of astrology and physiology, how the cosmos affects us here...as above so below says the bible.

The days of the week are named after the planets...7 planets/7 days. Months are the constellations. Your entire reality is based on the relationship between you and the heavens.

Sunday, people go to church to worship IESOUS/JESUS/THE SUN. SDA's and Jehovah Witnesses and Israelis worship SATurn...Saturday. The planets were considered gods by the ancients who paid attention to what happens here below when planets were in ruling positions. So they designated days to honor each planet/god and ask for blessings and to be preserved from harm.

Mars is the planet of war. Venus the planet of love. They all have their influences. Uranus is the very benevolent god/planet. Saturn is not like Mars.

The Old Testament is the same story as the NT except the OT is in Hebrew. The NT is Greek. If you know and understand word etymology the Bible reads entirely different than what the liars told you it says.

Yes, the same liars with the agenda have lied to you about EVERYTHING. Christianity was started by the Emperor Constantine in 325 AD. He horrifically killed his mom and wife and was pissed the priests would not give him absolution. So he made up his own religion and ever since has been taking millions of people with him.

I was raised Presbyterian till my parents switched to SDA when I was 11. They all think they're the "right" religion but they're ALL wrong.

Can you see why you've been taught to stay away from astrology and numerology? The universe is numbers and math. Frequencies with measurable vibrations/wave forms. When you learn how it all works you can get control of your life and reality.

They've got people waiting for the return of a fictitious person who is NEVER coming to save them. What better way to control a dumbed down population than to make them apathetic so they forever wait to be rescued? Why fight back and take matters into your own hands if someone else will do it for you? So they continue to control and manipulate endlessly.

The ETERNAL SUN is our savior. We would not exist without it. It's light is omniscient and omnipresent. Scientists have measured the frequencies of the sun. Those frequencies heal. That's why they've scared you from spending time in the light of the SUN of God...separated you from JESUS/IESOUS/THE SUN.

I'm still not sure about the intention of chemtrails. I initially suspected they are blocking the sun's frequencies to stop the evolutionary awakening. But they contain a LOT of the same contents as diatomaceous earth. Food grade DE contains largely aluminum (not confused with sodium fluoride which is made from aluminum, changed from original form), strontium (stronger bones than calcium), barium and a list of things said to be in chemtrails.

DE is advised as a pineal detox. So either they're trying to detox and awaken pineal glands or the promotion of DE to decalcify pineal glands is a lie. The chemtrail program is called "Indigo Skyfold." The pineal gland is the 6th chakra and the color is...INDIGO. So the spraying could be for either good or bad. So much disinfo on the net it's hard to say.

I've also wondered if they are trying to stop the pole shift with the spraying. Airport runways had to be changed by one degree several years ago due to a shift in the Earth's position. Because if there is a pole shift, millions if not billions will die and be displaced. The pole shift could be the reason for maintaining a population after the great cataclysm occurs, a natural event, not manmade. Edgar Cayce, a real prophet, saw this event in the future.

The Mayans are the best known calendar keepers, watchers of the cosmic clock. They calculated accurately when cycles would occur, resets if you will. Native American tribes as well. This may be what the Georgia Guide Stones plaque and granite 10 Commandments are about, a natural "catyclism" and the coffin holders are in preparation for what's to come.

Just bear all this in mind. I'm keeping an open mind to all possibilities while visualizing what I want to happen.

Thanks Kirk for your thoughtful contemplation. It is not that bad as you may think. Most of your conclusions are purposely indoctrinated into you by the cabal. That is the mind control they apply through your digital TV and other gadgets. There doesn't exist an overpopulation, all the people on Earth put together could easily live in an area the size of the state of Florida, to give you an idea. They want to reduce the population via wars, chemtrails, food poisoning, pharmaceuticals, designed diseases like Ebola, etc etc. to better control the 500 million that are allowed to live on as their slaves. Read some of the more recent essays on this site and especially the transformation update posted this week. You'll see that forces are working together to change all this. If more people like you awake the sooner the transformation is going to happen. Let it be known to all your contacts and you'll see what is going to happen in the near future. That is the very reason why I do not watch television as it and the media are fundamentally used for brain washing.

This planet is in complete and utter despair and is undoubtedly in a state of chaotic madness.

There are some real serious issues currently at hand here with everything in play at the moment and the forthcoming years should have everyone very concerned we have been slaves to the man for many years now nothing has changed for years and I mean centuries we have been using slaves for our purposes like building the pyramids etc

We have been using slaves for years just look at history and this will never change but the ultimately underlying fact is there has never been any real control.

Maybe there should be full control I don't know maybe the planet will be a safer and happier place

All I know is slavery will never be abolished really and we will always be enslaved to mankind one way or another this is called modern day slavery

And the planet will always be a dangerous and unsafe place to be if something is not done to remedy to destruction we have caused

The first chemtrails in central FL appeared in March 2009. I have monitored them ever since. What doesn't make sense to me is that Al Gore said on the Ellen D show in 2013 (clip on YouTube) that it gets cooler every time they spray but what happens here in FL is that it gets hotter every time and the heavier the spraying, the hotter it gets.

He's one of the nazis...those with the agenda...so why is Al Gore saying we need to stop the chemtrails? Why is he asking people to contact their reps and demand they stop the spraying?

Also research the occultist Alister Crowley. He is Barbara Bush's biological father. He said in his own words that Islam should be used to destroy Christianity/America. Well what have his grandsons done?! Can you say "9/11"? Can you say, "War on terrorism/Islam"? Can you say, "Patriot Act"? Put Americans in fear of a rival false religion to create more hate energy and fear, of which they feed from.

Prescott Bush SCHERFF funded Hitler's experiments on the Holocaust prisoners. This is a well known fact. They were looking for mind control substances and techniques. WW2 ended and two years later sodium fluoride started being dumped in public water supplies under the lie that it prevents cavities. All the research done proves that sodium fluoride causes bone and dental fluorosis...cavities and brittle bones. The Nazis put sodium fluoride in the prisoners food and water and discovered it made them docile...apathetic to their situation...easier to control.

It took 7 years for my pineal gland to decalcify and heal after moving from a home with public water to a home with a private well. I have since activated my pineal and it sure does bring more clarity, dots connect, puzzle pieces fit. Waiting for the Hundreth Monkey Effect to kick in.

If you don't know about Nikola Tesla and how Prescott Bush SCHERFF (their real last nazi name), Prescott Bush was Tesla's Secretary. He filed Tesla's patents as well. Tesla was probably killed by the same vatican henchmen as killed Lincoln and JFK. ALL presidents and monarchies work for the vatican is how dots have connected. It is known the papal guard killed Abraham Lincoln. Whoever breaks rank from their agenda is taken out.

The Bush SCHERFF family history was burned in a fire at the National Atchives. They tried to cover their tracks but diligent researchers have gone above and beyond to expose the lies...this is the apocalypse, the uncovering of what has been hidden. After all, everything is temporary, their reign of abuse and terror WILL end at some point, and the more people learn and wake up, the sober those bastards are gone.

Thank you. I've devoted 20 years full time trying to figure out this reality in which we're all entangled. Too many things never added up in either school or church. I would ask truly thoughtful questions from a very young age and would be told I could ask God when I got to heaven what the bible was saying because pastors and teachers couldn't answer because they don't really KNOW anything. They only know what they've been told to believe.

When the flat earth conversation appeared and started picking up steam, I was ignoring it. But the more I am seeing about it the more it confirms the feeling I've had since I was four or five years old that there's no way we are on a ball/globe planet. Very early I asked adults how water can hang upside down and was told it's gravity. But what really is gravity. It's a theory. The Sumerians and Egyptians referred to the sun, moon, planet and stars as disks.

In 1 John it says "God is light". This is the image in which we are created. In Numbers 19 it says God is NOT a man. It is men who have created God in their physical image. "God"/Source Energy is in everything and everything is immersed in this Energy Field. So that means everything that exists is light and that's what quantum physicists are discovering.

So this seems to indicate that the cosmic bodies are also light. In our body temples in which God/Source Energy resides, we have 5 sensors that allow us to translate light frequencies into physical experiences. But EVERYTHING is a wave form, translated by the sensors.

"If you want to know the secrets of the universe, think in terms of energy, frequencies and vibrations."

-Nikola Tesla

Thoughts are frequencies. Beliefs are frequencies.

"If you knew the power of a thought, you would never have a negative one."

-Anonymous

Read Biology of Belief, by biologist Bruce Lipton and watch his vids. Also neurologist Joe Dispenza. WE CREATE OUR REALITY INCLUDING OUR BODIES WITH OUR THOUGHTS AND BELIEFS! This is all in the bible in its true interpretation.

“More than anything you guard, protect your mind for a life flows from it.”

-Proverbs 4:23.

SO BELIEVE WHATEVER IT IS YOU WANT TO HAPPEN/EXPERIENCE. This is the secret they have kept hidden to maintain control. Fact. DOES NOT MATTER what has or is happening due to their manipulation of the mass consciousness. CHANGE IT BY REPROGRAMMING YOUR THOUGHTS AND BELIEFS. The more people who start doing this and become united in one accord, the quicker we end the controllers' reign of terror.

Google Princeton's Global Consciousness Project. Consider them facilitators for the truth, princes, if you will, as opposed to the occultists Yale nazi skull & bones black magicians, including the Bush SCHERFF presidents. Google the republican logo from 2000 when GWB SCHERFF was elected president. I will explain:

In 2000, the stars in the logo were inverted upside down. The pentagram is not evil. It represents the 4 earth elements- Earth, fire, water and air that is your body temple and elements of this reality. These are the 4 lower points of the pentagram/star. The top point is consciousness and freewill thinking. So inverting the stars symbolized their further dumbing down and control of the mass consciousness and agenda to destroy freewill/free thought/open minds. Just bare this in mind as you review the history they have created.

BTW, “occult” simply means hidden knowledge. It can be used for good/white magic/Glinda the good witch, or bad/the wicked witch of the west...a reference to the western world...America, perhaps?

Now I have come to the current conclusion that our entire reality, every single aspect of it, has been created and engineered by the greedy hoarding control freaks in order to control the mass consciousness. The only way they can maintain control is to have one acceptable thought on every part of this existence.

They do not like free thinkers. They hate alternative thoughts and ideas that differ from their programming. Open minds are the most dangerous thing to them because an open mind is a creator mind and cannot be brainwashed. Only a closed mind, one under their control, can be controlled.

Just today I saw a YouTube vid from Jeranism providing infrared proof of flat earth:

<https://youtu.be/N5RJhRNWCMo>

I'm choosing to just believe what I want to see...be the change I want to see in the world...believing is seeing...manifest the reality I want to experience. Everything is light and we are the lightbearers...latin word for lightbearer is lucifer, not a surname or "fallen angel". See how the romans/vatican/nazis have manipulated your existence? They date back to the roman empire, babylonian empire, they took over Egypt from the benevolent pharaoh Akhenaton, and back to the Sumerian age, the beginning of recorded HIStory...should be called THEIRstory.

The Bush SCHERFF's are cousins to the Windsors...no, we've never been free from England. Every single US president is blood related to a single king of England except VanBuren. A 12 year old girl made the discovery....and a little child shall lead. They all bow to the vatican Jesuit vipers. They invaded this continent and slaughtered 200+ MILLION natives in their takeover and occupation of my Cherokee ancestors' land in SE America.

They took children from families and forced them into their CATHOLIC orphanages and schools and abused them horribly. The military FORCE was led by the stars and stripes as they savagely brutalized men, women and children. This is why I will NOT pledge allegiance or salute the flag, it represents tyranny and terrorism in its most brutal ignorant form. If you know what they've done here and in so many other countries in their NWO agenda takeover you can see all the fraud and deception that has occurred. They've lied from the beginning of recorded history....our reality is the lie from the beginning.

Whenever you see or hear they have to go take out a dictator, KNOW that they are merely implementing their own disguised dictator. They have to remove every leader not on board with the agenda and replace with their pawn. They are handsomely compensated for their compliance but karma will take care of them. Sam Walton managed the prison camps in the Holocaust and you see what they gave to him. I will NEVER EVER shop there again, not since learning this and I'm meeting more and more people who know about this.

Google Frederick Taylor Gates. Find his quotes about what he thought about humanity. It took a great deal of searching to discover he is Bill Gate's father. "Gates" was dropped from his name to hide the truth and ol' Bill's genocidal history. Vaccines are poisons, known fact, the aluminum adjuvant blocks neurons that prevents neurons from firing as does sodium fluoride. You can't free think if your neurons are blocked.

They're creating an entire generation of robotic programmed humans. Autism. Parkinson's and Alzheimer's is also the result of blocked neurons. They cannot regenerate. By 2030 it is estimated that 1 in 3 kids will be diagnosed with autism. This is FREAKIN' HUGE and will have a devastating impact on everything. There won't be enough people working and paying into social security so, no more retirement. You'll work till you drop like they do in Japan and elsewhere.

It is IMPERATIVE that the masses awaken RIGHT NOW. Stop watching "the news" because it is all scripted PROGRAMMING. That's why shows are called, "PROGRAMS". Dream your OWN dreams like Cinderella. Most people miss the message in this (and all other fairytales).

Watch the Cinderella film from 2015. I watch it over and over. At the end the narrator explains that the magic of Ella is that she chose to see the world as it could be, not as it is. She's free of programming/controlled thought.

Also super important is that she forgives her wicked stepmother. When that moment happens, I gasp as Spirit rains down on me every time I watch. If you feel hate for the controllers, you are doing exactly what they want you to do. You are feeding them. Forgiving them steals their power. Hate is energy. Love is energy. Compassion is energy. Forgiveness originates from compassion. All emotions are energetic frequency vibrations.

Right now, our reality yin yang is imbalanced. There is way too much negative energy weighing everything down. Hate, fear, jealousy, competition, arrogance, depression, guilt, feeling a sense of lack, are just some of the dark energy emotions.

Counter that with GRATITUDE for what you do have. Gratitude is a magnet for more of which to be grateful. Any emotion magnetizes more of the same. See how they've programmed you down?

By raising your vibes with good thoughts, positive beliefs, listening to uplifting music like Dr Masaru Emoto's Water Crystal Music, being good, feeling good, doing good, doing what makes you HAPPY, JOYFUL/LIFTS YOU UP (you are ENERGY), you are raising your vibes and helping rebalance with positive light energy.

Now you KNOW the secret. Start practicing gratitude and all the fruits of the Spirit. "Spirit" is just the historical term for Energy. Do not judge...really negative energy that just brings the same energy to your self. The top 3 traits that raises/energizes/crucifies/gives power to your christ/christos/christ oil in your cerebral spinal fluid are:

UNconditional LOVE
NONjudgement
FORGIVENESS

This is how you become magical. This is how you change your reality.
“Be the change you want to see in the world.”

Correction:

“More than anything you guard, protect your mind for life flows from it.”

-Proverbs 4:23.

For some reason Siri had thrown an “a” in there. I’m ocd about details because it’s important that the message be conveyed accurately. That “a” was a significant enough change in meaning. It probably should read:

More than anything you guard, protect your mind because your entire life, experiences and reality is created by your thoughts and beliefs.

Anyone who has researched this machine will fully understand its true potential and it’s underlying role in its future in the further enslavement and control over the future population.

If anyone is interested in what’s going on look into psychotropics and psychotronics and look into the underlying effects of what HARRP can do and what it’s radio waves are actually doing to us and most of us are oblivious to this

It can tune into our low frequency brainwaves and send frequencies out that can induce suicide, depression, hypnosis can even turn cancer cells on and off

THATS RIGHT CAN MAKE YOU GET CANCER BUT CAN ALSO TURN CANCER CELLS OFF

Make you see and here things

And we are oblivious as a whole that this is actually going on

People think we are wack jobs but we are not WHY WONT YOU PEOPLE WAKE UP AND SEE BUT THATS PART OF THERE PLAN

This goes deep and I could go on for days weeks months on the enslavement of mankind

Rubbish Kirk! There is no overpopulation but rather just greedy and self centred corporations, politicians and bankers (evil bankers) that have herded the populations into megacities for $$$$ because they have made life dependant on $$$, imaginary fiat coin and paper (now plastic) that is worthless and now shifting to a completely electronic currency (numbers on a screen) that they (the bankers) control. Resources are not limited but have rather been hijacked and abused, as has technological advancement that can, or could, reduce the dependency on many natural resources. There's much more land that is untouched/unoccupied than that that has been developed and occupied so don't even dare go down the path of overpopulation! It's a myth, a globalist myth pushed through the msm. The globalists, via their banks and puppet governments (that they control by using bribes of their bs worthless $$$) have nothing in mind but control over, and enslavement of, all the people of the earth!

Basically you're agreeing with what's been said. We know the population figures are a myth, as is lack of food. We have been stock piling food in 'deep freeze' for years, to maintain prices. I used to drive the trucks back in 1973, to these deep freeze units, recommissioned after they were closed down when docks closed. These Corporations make more GDP than some medium sized nations, they control everything, at least 147 do [google it] along side the bankers and they use their supporters neo-cons / Zionists to push their agenda.

I've been following this for some time now, it's quite clear the Zionists and neo-cons are pushing this Agenda. They exist in all parties, both sides of the pond and push the agenda as they hide behind their respective parties. This is how they have managed to progress so far, though they are still way behind. Agenda 21, was written by Gro Brundtland [ex Norwegian PM] and Maurice Strong, ex 'rice for oil' scammer. It was supposed to be implemented by now, as Agenda 2030 came out, but they are way behind.

They were held up in Vietnam war, Yugoslavia and now Syria has thwarted them, but all the time their plan is being pushed. Most nations now have Para-Military Police Forces, these will be interchangeable, as they wont fire on their own people. They still need to go to war with Russia, China & Iran, in order to complete their agenda.

The good news, people are fighting back, the 'white hats' are taking these Elites to task and they're on the ropes. Pedophiles being arrested by the hundreds in America and now the corrupt officials being indicted. Italy, Hungary, Poland, Czeck and Slovenia are all rejecting the EU 'refugees', a product of the elite bombing. Even UK PM May is under pressure and a left wing Corbyn Government would see their plan die!

You are wrong in your statement ; there is no Jesus. Jesus is real, my uncle Bill had a massive heart attack, and had to be shocked back from death multiple times on the way to the hospital. I went to see him soon as he got home. He told me that he stood in a beautiful courtyard with the most beautiful green grass he'd ever saw, and talked to a being of light, that he felt was God or Jesus. And told me, you could feel the Love flowing out from Him. My uncle said a hobo could have walked into his hospital room after that and he would have loved him.

I thought this was quite and eye-opening article of what is really going on in the world right now. Everything written here is the truth. Some would try to call all of this a "conspiracy theory" or just a plain lie, but it is all true. I have been following this information for some time and I'm thankful that more people are waking up vs. some that are still asleep. That's why you notice what Facebook, Twitter, Google, Instagram, YouTube, etc., are doing to shut down the conversation and the dialogue, because the word is getting out. There are still people though, who don't want to hear and no matter what is presented before them as fact/truth, they still will not believe it. That's why Jesus said: "This generation today is likened to the days of Noah" when Noah was sent by God to tell the people of his day that it was going to rain and a flood was coming. Because the people didn't know anything about rain or never saw it before, they weren't going to believe that they were going to be wiped out by it (except Noah and his family). They laughed at Noah and continued on as usual in their lives until the day came when it really did rain. They knew what rain felt like and looked like at that point, but it was too late—the ark doors were closed and they were left outside—in the rain—and there was no where to go!

Please keep informing people and sounding the alarm, and don't let anything stop you. Agenda 21 implementation is happening right now. Just look at California where I live. Jerry Brown and his communist cronies are moving at a fast pace to implement the plans of Sustainable Development in every county from the north end to the south end and everywhere in between. California has been destroyed in so many ways by these globalists and their agenda. Even all the fires are very suspect by the way they are burning: how long they're burning, where they're burning; almost every house is burning down in what seems to be to me in strategic areas—rural areas. FEMA is telling the homeowners that they cannot return to their property, not even to check to see if maybe they can retrieve some of their personal items that may not have burned. People have died in these fires and homes have not only burned, they seemed to have almost “disintegrated”, melted like something hotter than fire was used—like a laser or laser heat. You can't make this stuff up folks! The fires of last October were horrendous and this year they're even worse. It just doesn't seem right to me. These homeowners have absolutely nothing left of their possessions. How is that possible? My heart goes out to these people because now, they are homeless, and they're told that they may not be able to rebuild their homes or get enough insurance money to cover the loss. They are devastated, just devastated. I'm sorry guys, it just sounds to me like this was all planned to happen to move these people out of the rural areas and into the city—the excuse to continue to build those ugly “mega-city stack-and-pack” apartments (yes, I listen to Gary Galino on grindall61 too, and I have seen these units coming up all over LA county now).

Thank you again for your article, keep up the good work that you are doing. Believe me, it will pay off in the end.

Illegal to Grow Own Food

Congress is about to make it illegal to grow your own food, or for "any farm" not to purchase and use government mandated chemicals, additives, and pesticides on all food consumed in the United States. Violations are subject to a fine of up to $1,000,000/day.

UPDATE: Due to a large amount of interest in this post, I got some legal clarification. The bill says it applies to "any food establishment" or "any farm."

Clarification on "food establishment." These are described in the Definitions section of the bill. Description (8) expands the bill to cover "a food establishment that processes all other categories of food products not described." The bill covers almost anything an interpreter wants it to cover.

Clarification on "any farm." A farm is legally defined in the U.S. as "any place from which $1,000 or more of agricultural products were produced and sold, or normally could have been sold during the census year." The use of the word "any" in front of farm eliminates the financial test.

Clarification on fines. Up to $1,000,000 per day. All penalties are final unless you file a petition for judicial review in the United States Court of Appeals within 30 days of each citation and simultaneously serve a copy by certified mail to "the Administrator."

All judicial reviews shall be decided in favor of the Administrator unless citations are found to be "unsupported by substantial evidence on the record as a whole." In other words, you are liable unless you (1) file in the proper US Court of Appeals and simultaneously notify the Administrator for each citation within a 30 day time limit, and (2) you present "substantial evidence" that the Administrator's claims are unsupported as a whole for each citation. Multiple fines are limited to $1,000,000/day.

As a side note, the Legislative branch cannot declare itself a conditional winner of Due Process challenges in advance, as that is a direct violation of Due Process itself. Due Process guarantees U.S. citizens that the Legislature alone cannot restrict Judges from affecting the result of matters concerning the confiscation of life, liberty, or property. But that is the quality of thinking you get from a woefully undereducated U.S. congress.

(my comments in red)

SEC. 401. PROHIBITED ACTS.

It is prohibited--

(1) to manufacture, introduce, deliver for introduction, or receive in interstate commerce any food that is adulterated, misbranded, or otherwise unsafe;

(growing an organic tomato in your backyard is now illegal)

(2) to adulterate or misbrand any food in interstate commerce;

(as is transporting your organic food to another state)

(3) for a food establishment or foreign food establishment to fail to register under section 202, or to operate without a valid registration;

(you are prohibited from growing a tomato in your backyard without purchasing a license then submitting to the following:)

(4) to refuse to permit access to a food establishment or food production facility for the inspection and copying of a record as required under sections 205(f) and 206(a);

(growing a tomato in your backyard without regular government inspections and the purchase and use of mandated chemicals and pesticides from government-approved suppliers)

(5) to fail to establish or maintain any record or to make any report as required under sections 205(f) and 206(b);

(failing to document compliance for all food you produce)

(6) to refuse to permit entry to or inspection of a food establishment as required under section 205;

(growing a tomato without submitting to search and seizure of your personal property)

(7) to fail to provide to the Administrator the results of testing or sampling of food, equipment, or material in contact with food, that is positive for any contaminant under section 205(f)(1)(B);

(growing a tomato without submitting samples to the government to test for mandated additives)

(8) to fail to comply with a provision, regulation, or order of the Administrator under section 202, 203, 204, 206, or 208;

(failure to do whatever you are told)

(9) to slaughter an animal that is capable for use in whole or in part as human food at a food establishment processing any food for commerce, except in compliance with the food safety law;

(same applies to farm animals)

(10) to transfer food in violation of an administrative detention order under section 402 or to remove or alter a required mark or label identifying the food as detained;

(failure to comply with any arbitrary restrictions placed on organically grown food)

(11) to fail to comply with a recall or other order under section 403; or

(12) to otherwise violate the food safety law.

(any reason the government wants to jail or fine you)

The gall of these people knows no bounds. I really hope we don't wind up like Argentina where they can grow enough food to feed their people but the government instead sells it on the international market because there's no profit in feeding their own. Revolution anyone?

I am afraid that a revolution is coming. It has become clear that the current Coup is aimed at discarding the U.S. Constitution as written, to maximize private profits of our congress members, their international financiers and corporate owners.

Our Union is aggressively being torn apart.

The next 50-100 years of steep downside are going to be a brutal time in human history, you can watch it take shape before your eyes. I knew we were approaching an Elliott Grand Supercycle top, a multi-thousand year cycle, as we exited the roaring 1990's. But back then, it was impossible to envision what could possibly happen to end our seemingly endless prosperity. I wondered how anything could take us back into the depths of broad-based natural selection Hell, as nature's inevitable patterns always ordain after a population flourishes.

10 short years later - it has been laid in front of me.

I have watched long enough to realize that it is all, in the end, a beautiful and good thing. Natural cycles of boom and bust, of growth and selection, shore up the mental and physical gene pool. The survivors will carry our torch of life into the ages. But I have to say, it is a bummer being on the leading edge of the largest ABC in civilized history. More so, for our children.

I think Darwinism is probably one of a near-infinite number of natural mechanisms that play in God's Universe.

Elliott's succinct "Nature's Law" is a spectacular insight in this respect as it requires, mathematically quantifies and predicts, and fully explains the exact nature and role of evil in our world. It shows us in unequivocal terms that the overall natural progression is one of never ending goodness, at all degrees and scales.

We just happened to be born onto the back slope of civilization's greatest recorded decline.

Revolution (of the violent sort, anyway) can't/won't happen without the support of the U.S. military. If the U.S. military sides with the government then the civilians haven't a chance. The disparity in firepower between the military and the civilians is far too great.

I haven't a clue what it would take to get the military to side with the people, but I expect it would be a lot. The majority of the military leadership at all levels except perhaps the very top would have to disbelieve what they are being told by their superiors, including the commander in chief and the civilian leadership itself. In other words, the military leadership would have to see the lie for what it is and decide to act against it.

I think that's highly unlikely.

Overall, a good review of a highly relevant and suspicious bill. However, there are a few items needing expansion/correction.

The danger in (1) lies in the definition of "unsafe." As of yet, organic is not necessarily unsafe and thus is left open to administrative whim. However, the "food establishment" in section (3) is elsewhere defined to exempt farmers and growers, so no license is required to grow food in your backyard.

It still leaves farmers open to unconstitutional search and seizure, so I encourage everyone to write their congressman and letters to local editors demanding that this bill be revised to exempt anyone who produces food for direct sale or transfer to the end consumer. Safeguards are great when we're talking about megaproducers that receive only delayed and diluted feedback/repercussions, but free market competition supports honesty and accountability in farmers that sell their products locally and face-to-face.

Also, I expressed my outrage at the level of cynicism that socialists have reached in order control the people, all of us.

The government of Argentina (and many other countries in Global South) is forced to grow food for export to pay off their huge debts to the World Bank. That is why people are starving in the world, poor nations need to pay debts and interests to the richest nations. (Or formerly rich nations, until the same bankers and power-elite did to their own what they did to Global South.)

Are there any legal interpretations of this act? I am not saying I don't believe the author, it is just that he does seem to make jumps. Perhaps not unrealistically considering how Monsanto and its ilk manipulate our laws for their own benefit. But I would still like to be referred to an expert opinion.

I think someone went a little overboard with the analysis, and the tomato analogy seems a bit silly and dramatic.. In fact in almost every section your tomato analogy does not even come close to being an accurate depiction as to what the law is about.

The more I go back and read it, the more it seems to me to be a sensible law written to protect consumers from foods that have been mishandled, inappropriately grown, distributed or transported. It also prevents people from slaughtering animals in the backs of restaurants, and if you grow or sell food, you have to let someone in to make sure you are doing it according to the law, all of which are rules that were probably already around in some form or another anyway.

Truthfully, when you obtain a drivers license, you are probably locked into much scarier laws and rules, some of which you probably are not aware of.. maybe we should look at this food thing a little bit more rationally and with slightly less paranoia.

I also think that these rules are probably not fair to small conscientious growers as they probably do a good job at growing. Just following the rules probably costs them as much as they make growing the food, but it looks like for the time being this is the way it is going to be. The rules are designed to save lives, not control them, although I am sure it looks pretty confusing at times, and the little guys are probably getting the shortest end of this deal and probably have the least to do with the problems that have resulted in these laws in the first place.

Not that I trust the government or that I think they are above making such things illegal, but I think this blog posting is a little on the alarmist side and jumps to conclusions. Nowhere did I see where it said a person could not grow their own food. It said that people could no engage in interstate commerce with food that isn't inspected by government agencies, whcih has basically always been the case.

Is this a backdoor way for Monsanto and other big corporate farms to gain an even larger advantage over the average local farmer? Probably so. But I doubt very seriously that anyone is trying to say you can't grow a tomato in your yard. You just can't send it across state lines and you can't sell it.

I'm not sure how the author arrives at the conclusions (interpretations) laid out here. Of course, it is very likely that this is but the first salvo in an effort to outlaw the growing of traditional, non-terminator gene, varieties of plants, but that is not what the legislation outlined here mandates. I do agree, however, that the bill's sponsor has a serious conflict of interests.

If it should turn out to be but a foot in the door for some future legislation in favor of big business, then people should be worried - especially those in government. The fact that people in the former USSR had grown their own food for years prior to its collapse went a long way to mitigate the effects of that collapse. Should Americans be required by law to purchase seeds from Monsanto, or its ilk, there would undoubtedly be millions who would starve should other considerations, like high fuel prices and disrupted transportation prevail. Right now, it just looks like the government is playing catch up with all of the salmonella outbreaks which have occurred, but it does bear watching.

Colonel Edward Mandell House is attributed with giving a very detailed outline of the plans to be implemented to enslave the American people. He stated, in a private meeting with Woodrow Wilson (President 1913 - 1921), Very soon, every American will be required to register their biological property (that's you and your children) in a national system designed to keep track of the people and that will operate under the ancient system of pledging. By such methodology, we can compel people to submit to our agenda, which will affect our security as a charge back for our fiat paper currency. Every American will be forced to register or suffer being able to work and earn a living. They will be our chattels (property) and we will hold the security interest over them forever, by operation of the law merchant under the scheme of secured transactions. Americans, by unknowingly or unwittingly delivering the bills of lading (Birth Certificate) to us will be rendered bankrupt and insolvent, secured by their pledges.

They will be stripped of their rights and given a commercial value designed to make us a profit and they will be none the wiser, for not one man in a million could ever figure our plans and, if by accident one or two should figure it out, we have in our arsenal plausible deniability. After all, this is the only logical way to fund government, by floating liens and debts to the registrants in the form of benefits and privileges.

This will inevitably reap us huge profits beyond our wildest expectations and leave every American a contributor to this fraud, which we will call "Social Insurance." Without realizing it, every American will unknowingly be our servant, however begrudgingly. The people will become helpless and without any hope for their redemption and we will employ the high office (presidency) of our dummy corporation

I suspect what will happen is that farmers markets would be the first to go because of the food gestapo. This would be very bad indeed because many farmers markets are the only places where the public can get organic fruits and vegetables.

One thing I am also puzzled by is under the SEC. 401. PROHIBITED ACTS. It says that it is prohibited--

(1) to manufacture, introduce, deliver for introduction, or receive in interstate commerce any food that is adulterated, misbranded, or otherwise unsafe;

Monsanto and other GMO food manufactures are adulterating and misbranding food all the time. For instance: is your tomato really a tomato when it has fish genes in it?
When you start mixing genes from a completely different species that should never belong in another you are adulterating food.

In Jeffrey Smith's fabulous book "Seeds of Deception" he has shown how genetically modified foods and vitamins were the cause of thousands of deaths and illnesses. The fact the FDA does nothing about GM food is because the regulatory agency is a revolving door for biotech industry personnel.

By the way Monsanto was originally called IG Farben back in the days. If you know anything about this Nazi company you wouldn't allow them anywhere near your food.

- 1) If I grow an organic (or any other kind of) tomato for my own personal use, or even the use of my freinds, I am first of all not "manufacturing" it, I am growing it. It will not be introduced, delivered for introduction or recieved in interstate commerce. So the act of growing the tomato in and of itself is not illegal. It may indeed make organic foods illegal, but not my own food.
- 2) since it's organic, it is not adulterated, nor is it misbranded since it is not branded at all
- 3) I am not a food establishment, this does not apply to me.
- 4) I could be considered a "food production facility", but really... I am a home - nothing else. My primary focus is not food production.
- 5) Since I am not a food production facility, this does not apply to me.
- 6) Again... not a food establishment
- 7) This clearly states that food, or material in contact with it, that tests positive for contaminants must be submitted for what I must assume would be further testing.

- 8) not fully versed in these sections - the assumption is invalid
- 9) Growing my tomato plant has nothing to do with slaughtering animals.
- 10) Again, there's no way to restrict my moving my tomato from my backyard to my kitchen.
- 11 & 12) assumption invalid.

Dude, thats the whole point. Processed food isnt safe or healthy, thats why we need local fresh organic food. This bill will give the gvt. the tools to bankrupt our local farmers so we can't get safe food, or if we can it will be prohibitively expensive. Notice how they don't exempt small farms. And the title is so orwellian double speak it would be funny if it wasn't so serious. "food safety act". Even if the massive processed food production plants were actually investigated and run safely, they still would be pumping out processed genetically modified garbage with no nutritional content. If you trust the fda, why did they let aspartame and gmos get into our food supply then? The fda is run by monsanto and cargill and conagra through the revolving door between gvt. and industry.

While this won't make it illegal to grow your own food, it is a major step toward making growing your own the only way to find healthy food.

This law is all about destroying the organic food market and local farmer's markets to surrender complete control of our food (and therefore health) to the major corporations like Monsanto (who wrote most of the law to kill off competition)

The mere fact that they're pushing a Million Dollar Fine (per instance?!?!) shows very clearly that this is nothing more than a government intimidation & control move.

Terrorist governments work that way.
Not surprising for a government that now demonstrates the belief that America was wrong in the past, Nazi Germany & the Soviet Union had it right. That's the basis of nearly all laws coming out of DC now.

The only debate left, as far as they're concerned, is whether we are government property or corporate property.

And if the lack of healthy food or drinkable water tends to kill off millions - so what? There's billions of us and we're a renewable resource.

Our government hates us.

To the folks that think that this bill is OK because YOU can still grow food at your own house... Hmmm.. WHAT about your local organic farmer, and your local Farmer's Market!? What about their livelihoods? Local food is more than just local, it binds communities together. Everyone ought to be suspicious of a person with such close ties to big agri-business that introduces a bill of this type (Rosa DeLauro). Rosa DeLauro's husband is a lobbyist for Monsanto for crying out loud. You folks seriously need to do a little research. Youtube 'The future of food', 'The world according to Monsanto' or Democracy Now's 'Monsanto's Harvest of Fear' to start. Do you honestly trust your Gov't enough to think that they have good faith in this bill? IF this passes they will take more, outlaw more, regulate this more, invade your life and property more.

This quoted from an article:

It is our farmers who stand between us and this outrage which masquerades as science, as food, as normal business, as government. And it is or farmers who need not only protecting and but actual freeing from government intrusion, control and harm.

Vegetarians and vegans do not identify with farmers who raise animals but what is at stake here is critical for all of us. "First they came for the Jews" is an apt reminder of what matters in standing with each other because the overwhelming bureaucratic burdens, the recording over every single thing done on a farm, the warrantless inspections, the end of farmers markets, the criminalization of seed banking, the ten years in prison for stepping out of line in any way, will next be applied not to animals breaking out of fence onto a neighbors' farm, but for such things as not spraying pesticides on an organic farm to eradicate earthworms (now listed as an invasive species) because the government's "food safety tsar" has deemed it necessary. It is totalitarian control (and HR 875 epitomizes it) which we stand against, and now it is aimed with ferocity at farmers with animals. Stopping it now keeps all farmers safe.

Rosa DeLauro and Stanley Greenburg have a great deal to account for in attempting through a mislabeled bill with hidden intent to wipe out our farmers and harm all of us."

Being able to grow organic means a cleaner environment, rich productive soils FULL of life, and staying as far away from genetically modified foods as we CHOOSE TO. The KEY word being CHOOSE here.

This House bill & its companion Senate bill are both in committee - most bills in committee never see the light of Congress, and those that do are rarely successful. This is good news - go to <http://www.govtrack.us/congress/bill.xpd?bill=h111-875> for the names of the sponsors and co-sponsors & shout at them NO! Let's Get This TRAVESTY STOPPED NOW!

Note: The rep who introduced this bill is Rosa DeLauro, whose husband is Stanley Greenberg who either works for Monsanto or Monsanto is client of Greenberg's Democratic polling & consulting firm that sets left-leaning political strategy. Is it any wonder?

The only time government is truly inept and incapable of doing anything well is when it is controlled by ideological followers of Milton Friedman, Ayn Rand, and Leo Strauss.

Katrina/New Orleans, Iraq, Pinochet's Chile, Argentina, post-Soviet Russia, Poland, etc are all results of Friedmanite/Straussian philosophies. Eliminate their followers from the picture and government does just fine.

>> "First they came for the Jews" is an apt reminder of what matters in standing with each other because the overwhelming bureaucratic burdens <<

Actually, "they came for the Jews" was the second stanza in Niemoller's famous poem. See: http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/First_they_came...

Which reads:

"In Germany, they came first for the Communists, And I didn't speak up because I wasn't a Communist;
And then they came for the trade unionists, And I didn't speak up because I wasn't a trade unionist;
And then they came for the Jews, And I didn't speak up because I wasn't a Jew;
And then . . . they came for me . . . And by that time there was no one left to speak up."

So, in fact, the first sign is anti-communist fervor followed by anti-unionist activity. So watch out for those who express anti-socialist and anti-union sentiments...

Sorry, FDR, but you need to be a little more careful with your claims.

I doubt very seriously that it is ILLEGAL to grow an organic tomato in your own backyard.

It is probably illegal, however, to take that tomato to market and try to SELL it COMMERCIALY as an ORGANIC tomato - because you have no evidence that it is ORGANIC except your own claim that it is.

That selling tactic is as old as snake oil.

On average, every forty-six years, for the last two hundred and seventy years, there has been a commodity peak in the world's stock markets, followed by a crash, followed by a depression and the theft of a generation's wealth. (From "The Great Reckoning" by James Dale Davidson and William Rees-Mogg, Sidgwick & Jackson, yes, 1993). There is a nine-year period between the commodity peak and the depression. Look around you and do the math: The last depression is called The Great Depression.

I call this one 'Grand Theft Planet' ©.
First question: Given that Bernie Madoff will not be tried, the question, "where is the money?" will not arise – Why?
Change is essential to the development of any thinking and there is really no answer to originality:
'A new idea is first condemned as ridiculous and then dismissed as trivial, until finally, it becomes what everybody (already) knows.
Here then is a new idea, one which you are already fully aware of, and therefore (already) know: Hence a certain arrogance on my part in the presumption that you are already here with me in this observation of the obvious:
I call it the General Field Theory of Economic Behavior, for lack of anything more worthy, simply because no economic thinking that I am aware of has ever been applied to repetitive global economic behavior ('boom-bust cycles') in this light – all studies, observations and theses have been just that, from Smith's "hidden hand" to Keynes' "use it to fiddle with the system" – theories.
Nothing more, and certainly never applied to the real world of actual economic behavior in the marketplace where I buy corn, pork bellies, sorghum, potatoes, grapes, oranges and sometimes antique collectables called Credit Default Swaps.
As far as I know there have been no attempts in universities or in any other think tank type establishments at an understanding of the how of which in a million ways people complicate the use of money and, again which, until now, remains a field that appears to be untilled, unplowed and unharvested.
Untill this observation of mine opens it to at least some gleaning.
Economic literature is much like the literature of psychology where 'Freudian' theory, the theory of 'Existentialist phenomenology', (Neurolinguistically speaking), and so on make people think that there is substance in the writing down of speculation.
Theory.
Nothing wrong with theory, and, like any other uniform 'theory', my General Economic Theory has to apply to every aspect of the complications people can possibly make in the use of money.
And it has to be just as simple as $E=Mc^2$:
And it is: Money = Food.
From Peasant to Prince: In all of history, food must be on both tables for any society to function.
From here, I could discourse at length; go into discussions involving philosophy, politics, religion, even the Ten Commandments on family matters, and then argue for some time in every one of those categories and more.
But not for too long, because without a good breakfast, you will not be capable of rebuttal however unintelligently I might seem to persuade.
Food.
Equals.
Life.
What is food, really?
Aristotle's belief that touching was required for one object to exert a force on another object together with his ideas that a constant velocity requires that a constant force be exerted held back ideas of gravity for nearly 2000 years.

Held back?
Yup. Gravity does not touch you, so great philosopher's thinking actually held back the arrival of a great truth – Newton's theory of gravity – for two thousand years. Most of history is what the winners of the last war want you to believe – after all, they write it.

So: Life equals energy, which equals matter multiplied by the speed of light squared, a truth that arrived about a hundred years ago in the mind of one Mr. Albert Einstein, who also observed (since this is a discussion on economic reality) that “the greatest force in the universe is compound interest.” Einstein's theory of gravitation was completely different to Newton's, and certainly in opposition to Aristotle's: Rather than believing gravity to be a mysterious force that simply attracted objects towards one another he saw gravity as a warping of the shape of space and the flow of time (commonly referred to as the space-time continuum). He described a gravitational field as a curvature of space-time caused by the mass inhabiting that continuum.

He also believed that as energy is equivalent to mass (from $E = mc^2$) it would be possible for a gravitational field to interact with the energy of light in the same way that he saw it interacting with mass, with the result being the bending of light in strong gravitational fields.

One physical, abrupt, observable and applicable function of this theory: Hiroshima.

Money is much simpler but should not blow you up. What happens instead is that it gets stolen every fifty years or so because the victim generation somehow 'forgets' to tell next one.

This written with the idea that the next generation, the one we hope will not suffer another Grand Theft Planet, will finally be educated and hold on to their wealth.

Money equals the solar energy contained in food. Money is a vehicle of transaction from one state of energy to another state. Everything else money is used for that does not walk on a direct path from the peasant farmer's produce to the Priest / Prince who eats that farmer's wealth, is speculation on the nature of money which, by itself, is nothing more than a temporal transactional smoothing substance equivalent to a good lubricant – and, “you can't take it with you” so it's essentially worthless inasmuch as one agrees that the most valuable thing you can own is your next breath. A given.

Also, If you like, an inevitability, considering the nature of human beings, which is a conclusion I believe you may come to as you follow this simple argument.

Food is everything.

Carbon dioxide is the food of our food, the plants we eat, which eat carbon dioxide, so 'global warming is just another scam, a way to take some of your wealth in 'carbon taxes'.

In support of this, please read what remains of Hammurabi's Code. And then, in the light of Hammurabi's contribution to my theory, consider the Ten Commandments.

And then, with those two suggestions in mind, think about this: The Law we live under today is based on one, and only one, principle - embedded in Hammurabi's Code, the Ten Commandments and in today's harsh remnants of Roman Dutch law: it boils down to the reality of living: Thou shalt not interrupt commerce, nor the myriad games that the money commerce gives us leave to play with. Thou shalt not interrupt the chain that brings the farmer's produce – our collective wealth – to the prince's table. That is the fundamental law of economics. The 'gravity' that makes us obey the fundamental law? Two French words: Mort (death) gage (cage).

E=mc².
QED.

"I doubt very seriously that it is ILLEGAL to grow an organic tomato in your own backyard."

That's right, it would only be illegal to eat your own tomatoes, not to grow them.

It is home grown, life sustaining food produced by American citizens outside the corrupt, illegal, international corporatocracy in firm control of our congress and the executive, that is to be outlawed, not the innocent red tomatoes themselves.

Our Founding fathers would blow a gasket. Their once proud nation, founded upon the very principle of rugged individual freedom from forced federal profiteering, has been disgraced by a congress loaded with swindlers and horse thieves, led by a string of presidents feverishly working to sell American sovereignty to the international financial interests that own them.

We are a nation in peril.

Perhaps you could point-out where this bill, denies a person from growing their own food; it appears that this bill is for food producers whom "distribute (sell)" their food products. However, it is just the first step in criminalizing food production, which will carry a higher penalty than growing tobacco or pot. While it does appear that farmers' markets and people with produce stands in their front yards will be affected by the draconian provisions of this bill, I fail to see where a person will come into contention by growing porch tomatoes for their own consumption. But in all honesty I only skimmed the legalese terms of this proposed bill. Perhaps Rosa, whose husband works for one of the biggest culprits of GM-Frankenfruit seed products needs to find a way to cut off the head of the beast... after all he is current employed in its belly. I am curious as to why Rosa would "out" her husband's name in this matter... this blog article may surely be the end of her husband's employment with Monsanto.

This bill is aimed at commercial food processors. It has nothing to do with folks growing their own food..ie, tomatoes. Unfortunately, only a small portion of the bill is posted here...the enforcement portion, and I would guess that this was done in order to establish the claim that folks will no longer be able to grow their own "tomatoes" if this bill is passed. I personally read the ENTIRE bill, which is why I was able to see the "Agenda" here. This is not only dishonest, but deceitful...It is designed to instill fear. Unfortunately the author missed a great opportunity to expose the REAL danger of a bill like this...This bill is specifically designed to give agribusiness an advantage over the small and moderate sized family food producers...The American Farmer. It is also designed to let the Federal Government decide what you and I should be eating, and since they hit one out of the park with water flouridation, I wouldn't trust them as far as I could throw them, when it comes to the food we eat.

A red herring. This seems a lot more of interest to farmers using seeds from Monsanto and having to label them as such, than anyone growing produce in their backyard. Even reselling home grown veggies doesn't appear to be a "crime" so long as they're noted to be homegrown/organic, or whatever else. Which is actually a marketable item.

While I'm all about freedom, I'm more concerned with the health and safety of my children. The new head of the fda is implementing these regulations to prevent things not to control things... everyone complained when the spinach, tomatoes and peanuts were tainted, and blamed the government for not taking appropriate measures, well they can't babysit the companies, but they can regulate what products they us and give themselves the right to make sure they are abiding at any time. This article is nothing but paranoia in the wrong direction. Hmm... safety versus the freedom of people who produce food for the public, I'll take safety.

No, Congress is not considering a bill that would "make it illegal to grow your own food, or for any farm not to purchase and use government mandated chemicals, additives, and pesticides on all food consumed in the United States, violations are subject to a $1,000,000 dollar fine." Sigh. Some people will believe anything. H.R. 875, the Food Safety Modernization Act of 2009, is a well-intentioned effort to improve food safety standards (which became effectively non-existent during the Bush-Cheney era). It ain't great lawmaking, and it needs a rewrite to ensure that its regulations for factory farming aren't applied to small mom and pop farms, but a fair reading of the bill's text reveals that it just plain wouldn't do the horrible things that panicked emails and worried bloggers claim it does. And if you're still concerned, here's a more thorough explanation of what the bill does and doesn't do. <http://www.foodandwaterwatch.org/food/foodsafety/background-on-h-r-875>

So I haven't read all the comments. I'll put in a small producer's two cents: small producers are fiercely independent and wily bunch. I've seen the goat dairy's in Texas turn in their licenses because of intense regulation and fines on what tends to be a labor of love rather than a money maker. I've seen livestock maintenance fees so that Californians can get their raw milk. I've seen raw milk sold as pet food to comply. I've seen dairies require customer pickup so as to remove farm liabilities that come with these type of legislations. Technically your baby bottle filled with Horizon is illegal except on private property (it's an unmarked dairy container). Animal chipping is more of a concern to me than this bill. This bill is however alarming. I of course want any food that I sell to be safe, but I'll never be of a scale that I would be able to afford the testing to gross a few thousand per year. I'll never be able to afford a butcher and state approved butchering facilities - I'd be better off selling the animals live and reducing my returns. I'd happily walk anyone that buy's our food through our "production facilities". We do our best and are always open to doing it better. We won't open ourselves up to the kind of fines that this sort of legislation imposes- too massive for the little guys - too small for agribusiness. This law is in fact far too broad. I for one am tired of this rouse of the land of the free and more rightly call it the land of regulation and litigation.

If the military sides with the government the citizens haven't a chance? Baloney! After 7 years the cream of the US Army, and Marines could not control 23 million people in Iraq. What chance do they have at controlling 300 million over here? Answer: None. Oh they could hold some key cities, protect certain infrastructure, but by and large, if "the people" decide to rise, the Army won't be able to stop them. No amount of firepower will stop an asymmetrical insurgency. Iraq has taught us that.

Not only Iraq, but also Vietnam, where a bunch of peasants in pajamas held back the full might of the US military until it went home with its tail between its legs.

In fact, the US military hasn't won a war against a competent opponent since WWII, and even then they required the assistance of the majority of the world's nations to beat a nation the size of Montana and a nation with a 19th century industrial base.

The US has not won a war against an opponent of equal or greater capability since the Revolutionary War. Recently, about all the US military is capable of defeating are nations like Panama, Granada and Saddam's Iraq in 1991, with the help of a coalition of nations including the UK and France.

About the only thing the US military is really capable of doing is spending vast quantities of taxpayer money on gaudy high-tech gadgets.

Understand that the "Bill" would impose rules and regulations that can and will be applied to anyone growing food for sale or barter. The enforcement and inspections will be paid for by those who produce/Grow the food, hence the giant Agro-cons who can afford the inspections and facility's will have no problem.

On the other hand we have small farmers who cant afford to put in specialized facility's or put a full time inspector on the payroll, and will be seen as unable to comply.

If you don't think this will happen look at the meat processing industry were small slaughter houses and processors have been put out of business by just this method. This allowed the big corporations to monopolize the meat production industry at the expense of our health and choice. (large corporate packing plants have caused more illness and death from unsanitary conditions than all the little home town slaughter houses and butcher shops combined)

Now they look to do the same thing with our produce, shrinking our choices to only their highly profitable processed foods. With care only for profits they sacrifice our health and nutrition. Do they own stock in the pharmaceutical company's??? The Government of the United States of America is the best that money can buy, its to bad that only a very few have enough money to have much of a share.

"I'm astounded at the LACK OF READING SKILLS amongst you guys. NOWHERE does it stop you from growing your own food. LEARN TO READ."

It doesn't STOP you, it makes it illegal to "to manufacture, introduce, deliver for introduction, or receive in interstate commerce any food that is adulterated, misbranded, or otherwise unsafe."

Since Orwellian government doublespeak has, in the very same bill, officially defined the meaning the term "adulterated" to mean "non-adulterated" or "not first touched by government" eating any natural food is clearly and explicitly illegal.

That doesn't STOP you from eating natural food un-touched by government, but you risk losing your freedom if you chose to do so.

it says it prohibits "manufacture of food that is adulterated, misbranded, or unsafe." adulterated means modified, say, with chemicals or genetically. misbranded means false label, not disclosing the right ingredients, withholding, say, aspartame from the label. unsafe is clear though impossible to regulate cuz it can be argued sugar is unsafe and so on. but unsafe means expired date on some foods.

now, where do you get that you cannot grow a tomato?

I say that if a Revolution does break out within the United States, we'd better damned well win it, because if we don't, we're going to see the end of our great country, mark my words. And also, in the event of Revolution, we must not forget to prosecute the Financial and Military powers behind the curtain, lest we face a continuation of their goals of Global Tyranny, and we will have the same problems again, because they will just buy the new government, as they did with the old.

Hello, I am Paul Turner and have been involved in organic gardening for many years. I am a past President of the Central Ohio Organic Gardeners Club. I have all the back issues Rodale Press Organic Gardening and Farming magazine. Perhaps this dates me, I am hoping so.

Concerning the Food Safety and Tracking Improvement Act S424 and Food Safety Modernization Act of 2009 HR875; I have read both these Bills and they both contain vague and overlapping definitions which can easily be applied to the smallest grower.

H.R. 875 would essentially transfer all state control over food regulation to the Food Safety Administration (FSA), a newly-established federal bureaucracy to be created within the Department of Health and Human Services (DHHS). Its implications point to the elimination of independent, family farms as well as organic farming operations due to overbearing federal regulations subjectively determined by FSA in favor of corporate factory farms.

Do we really want or need further government intervention on the growing of food?

Right, the bill explicitly applies to "a farm" that could normally retail produce for $1K per year. That requires one a tomato plant. Check out the Mortgage Lifter:

<http://monticellostore.stores.yahoo.net/600066.html>

But the term "any farm" likely covers all food production operations of any scale, in addition to all the other categories of food introduction or delivery that it mentions, and also those in (8) that it says it doesn't mention.

It is "for the public safety" so it must apply to everyone or it wouldn't protect citizens equally under the law.

Imagine the law suits, if someone was producing their own food without paying the registration taxes and buying the requisite government chemicals, filed by those those who were shut down.

There is obfuscating language in this bill designed to confuse and redirect your attention to thinking by implication rather than specification. This is cleverly illustrated using the words "include(s)", "exclude(s)" and custom definitions. So let's take a look at an example.

(a) In General- Any food establishment or foreign food establishment engaged in manufacturing, processing, packing, or holding food for consumption in the United States shall register annually with the Administrator.

Notice that annual registration is limited to a Food Establishment or foreign food establishment. One cannot imply that this extends beyond these two entities as defined in the definitions section and only those that engage in manufacturing, processing, packing or holding food for consumption.

Before I get to what is a Food Establishment or foreign food establishment, let me give you an example of the use of include and typical efforts employed to muddy the waters.

To start with we must recognize that if a word is meant to be understood as having its common meaning, there is no need to define it at all. It is axiomatic that if a word is explicitly defined, it has a restricted meaning. If language such as the term "Fruit" is used and defined as "includes, apples, oranges, and pears", it can only be understood as restricting the definition to those things listed, or no definition would be required; the word "fruit" would be understood to include apples, oranges and pears, as well as all other fruits. If the word "common" is left out of the definition, then the things used in the definition are what establish the class to which belong, and as the word is being deliberately defined, the common meaning of the word must be excluded.

Under the definitions section:

(13) FOOD ESTABLISHMENT-

(A) IN GENERAL- The term 'food establishment' means a slaughterhouse (except those regulated under the Federal Meat Inspection Act or the Poultry Products Inspection Act), factory, warehouse, or facility owned or operated by a person located in any State that processes food or a facility that holds, stores, or transports food or ingredients.

(B) EXCLUSIONS- For the purposes of registration, the term 'food establishment' does not include a food production facility as defined in paragraph (14), restaurant, other retail food establishment, nonprofit food establishment in which food is prepared for or served directly to the consumer, or fishing vessel (other than a fishing vessel engaged in processing, as that term is defined in section 123.3 of title 21, Code of Federal Regulations).

(14) FOOD PRODUCTION FACILITY- The term 'food production facility' means any farm, ranch, orchard, vineyard, aquaculture facility, or confined animal-feeding operation.

So a Food Establishment is not a farm, ranch, orchard, vineyard, aquaculture facility, confined animal-feeding operation. This is a custom definition, is specific and no other implications can be drawn as meaning something else. Note that farm, ranch since not custom defined, have a common definition without exclusion or inclusion. I do not have cites to their common definition.

In addition to the above, a Food Establishment is not a restaurant, retail food establishment, nonprofit food establishment or fishing vessel (as limited in definition to section 123.3 of title 21 of CFR). Again, restaurant, retail food establishment have a common definition without exclusion or inclusion.

There is a specific class of actions as custom defined by 'Process', all of them being Commercial.

(19) PROCESS- The term 'process' or 'processing' means the commercial slaughter, packing, preparation, or manufacture of food.

Note this means Commercial slaughter, commercial packing, commercial preparation, commercial manufacture of food.

There is another specific class of actions not defined but listed as holds, stores, or transports. Common definitions apply here.

Also, there is a geographical constraint that limits this to any State. What is a State?

(20) STATE- The term 'State' means--

(A) a State;

(B) the District of Columbia;

(C) the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico; and

(D) any other territory or possession of the United States.

This is important since we move to the only other entity required to register annually, a foreign food establishment.

(16) FOREIGN FOOD ESTABLISHMENT- The term 'foreign food establishment' means any category 1 through 5 food establishment or food production facility located outside the United States that processes or produces food or food ingredients for consumption in the United States.

Look at what has happened here. The Food Establishment custom definition does not apply since the location is specific and "located outside the United States" and does not fall within the confines of a 'State'. Therefore the exclusions of "(14) Food Production Facility" do not apply.

This makes this particular entity far more reaching than the restrictive entity of a "Food Establishment" located in a 'State'.

What does all this mean?

If you do not fall under the custom definition of a "Food Establishment" you are not required to register. If you are not required to register then there is no categorization of you as a Category 1 thru 5, you can't be assigned a registration number, there is no inspection, monitoring, or reporting requirements. This is however not a statement that you are not obligated to practice good health standards.

Yes, we have that right. And with the system as it is right now, it is essentially useless.

You can only vote for someone whose existence you're aware of, and you're likely to vote only for whichever person is least distasteful to you.

Everything then depends on how you become aware of a candidate and what influences your opinion of that candidate. In the U.S., the single greatest determining factor for both is the mass media.

And the mass media is owned by people who have an agenda of their own. An agenda that you would almost certainly disapprove of.

The end result is that the only candidates that (a) get reasonable (if any) amounts of media exposure, and (b) aren't universally made to look like fools by the media, are those candidates which are willing to do the bidding of those in real power.

A vote is a choice. With the system as it's arranged right now, your choice is worthless, because it's a choice between people who are the same in all the ways that really matter.

The only way out of this is for the influence of the mass media, and all those entities that those in power control, to wane before the ability to vote is removed or neutered.

I have very little hope that will happen.

@FDR: Darwinism simply does not work. One example (of many) is the Mantis Shrimp, which distinguishes polarised UV light. In marine conditions. Where there is none at all of either to provide selection pressure.

With that distraction set aside, we need to ask the first important question: “Why?”

Billions of years are imagined without any real evidence. A white-hole cosmology fits the Real Life™ observations much better. Why?

Self-development is imagined against quite literally impossible odds, where the evidence speaks only of decay, extinction & collapse. Why?

Random numbers & “coincidence” are empowered to produce functional structure which must work first time, every time. This has never been observed, in fact the Miller & Urey experiments demonstrated that it does not work. Why?

The basic answer appears to be big-time OCP Disorder. People imagine that things are a certain way, then insist on them being so, & work to make the products of their imagination seem real.

Genuine fairy tales are quite ugly & painful. Stand by to be forced into one.

The second (always second) important question to ask is “How?” & this resolution seems to be one of the answers.

I'd have to disagree with the assumption that a revolutionary war requires total cooperation between the U.S. military and civilians. First and foremost; we are the ones who hold our government and nation up. The government killing that many innocent people would not be a very feasible move in my opinion because of that fact.

Secondly, the majority of the military is comprised of your average joe/young adults who enjoy eating McDonald's and driving a Mustang while listening to rap music, growing their own tomatoes, and generally enjoy doing whatever they want in a free world just as much as the next person. They all have normal friends, they all have normal families. My family members were almost all members of the navy, a friend of mine is a member of the navy right now, another friend of mine a member of the air force right now. I can tell you without a whisper of doubt they'd all rather face capital punishment then blow up their own homes and people.

Let us also not forget what we did to the British so many years ago (admittedly with some help).

Resorting to violence as the answer aside, I don't understand why if people are so terrified of this big bad government, that they don't simply write and complain to their government. Let them know you don't appreciate being pushed around and repressed. Better yet, if you truly think it's so damn important, were that sure something that cataclysmic would happen, and really cared about the issue, you'd run for an office yourself and do what you can to change things. Not scamper around like chickens with all your doomsday preachy blabber while obviously doing what all the other "brainwashed" are doing - going about your daily lives and hoping for the best.

“Dear loveforlife,

There is an article on the internet re the Trussell Trust who run food banks.

This is a ruse for 'intervention'.

i.e.: you get a certain number of food boxes (I think it is three) and after that you are deemed unable to properly care for your children and social services then step in.

Hence, they won't like it if people grow their own food, they won't be able to get social services in the door.

thebridgelifeinthemix.info

Because of the fact we are dealing in a very sensitive arena, that of poverty and desperation, it is important that we understand the back-end program dealing with all things deprivation, as the private corporate empire moves to the takeover of Britain's entire domestic and social system.

Mix this with the sinister changes in what is termed Evangelical Christianity, headed by Vatican II, then one can understand why poverty has been placed into the lap of the Evangelicals, it attracts genuinely good and decent people to front the real agenda going in the back room.

So, to cover the Masonic inference the whole affair they set it thus : "Attack the Food Banks and you are attacking Christianity itself." What they fail to present is the fact, the Evangelical movement as a global whole, is what we term Masonic Christianity, or, the Mystical Body of Satan.

"During the Second World War, international communism must become strong enough in order to balance Christendom, which would then be restrained and held in check until the time when we would need it for the final social cataclysm." Albert Pike in a letter to Mazzini presenting the three world war strategy to takeover the world

In 2010 when we first put this report together, while investigating the then proposed changes to the unemployment and benefit system, at the time synonymous with Ian Duncan Smith, what we saw reading between the lines, was the aim to first install the Food Bank system and then some time in the future, turn it into a means of procuring children from desperate British parents. It went like this :

- desperate you turn to the food banks for food
- you are offered food with your signature to what they term an intervention order
- they will give you three handouts then declare you unfit as parents to care for your children

When you consider that the corporate social workers offer schools £12.000 for each referral of a child to social services, and, that care homes receive £50.000 per child to take into their care, then you can see that the corporate agenda when it comes to your children is to make money.

In 2019, it is a clear fact that this corporate governance we suffer is hell bent on removing white British natives off their own social system and out of the homes they own as taxpayers, now under housing association control, (which means the council hiding behind a charitable status) in order the open borders and weaponised mass immigration has home here with our tax money. The fact it is the Evangelicals at the helm shows the white natives who this bunch of slave traders actually serve...they serve the Zionist agenda.

The Trussell Trust

It was very easy to look up the Trussell Trust on the Internet, but what first caught our attention was a very sinister high level commissioner of this agenda, the Dulverton Trust, big in all things charitable, especially around children, but the most revealing aspect was the ties to British Intelligence through a very sinister company called; Hakluyt & Company Limited.

If we look at a correspondence between Hakluyt and Enron in 2001, we get insight as to what Hakluyt is :

Hakluyt's Christopher James wrote to Enron's Jeff Skilling In an apparent follow-up to the email in August of 2001, James expanded on what Hakluyt could offer :

Quote :

“Your office has asked me to outline Hakluyt’s services. Rather than fall back on the usual corporate information that we have sent to your people previously, I would say simply this; Hakluyt is what you make of it — it places an unparalleled private intelligence network at the personal disposal of senior commercial figures.”

So not your ordinary operation and worse is the fact this company connects with possibly the worst facilitator to genocide, I would cite the Yugoslavia conflict and the Rwanda genocide, we find Hakluyt ties in with Kissinger Associates. This is not just something we need to kock a wink at, this is serious, serious information here.

The most striking connections (probably more) with foodbank operations under the franchise of the Trussell Trust come in four areas :

Alpha is the overriding doctrine under which these networks operate they are all part of the Evangelical Alliance and the Newfrontiers Church planting, agenda, a very big medical affiliation by some of it’s Trustees and big in recycling-landfill.

We also get a very revealing insight as to how these Trust pseudo-Churches spend the money they collect. 40% of the monies collected goes to pay big salaries to those who administer the operation while only 11% goes to the poor. But this in itself is rather hazy as the 11% goes directly to the operation Newfrontiers, and as such we are none the wiser as to what the money is actually used for. Also we find that the majority of operations franchised by Trussell, are brand new operations, which exposes a rather dark ‘mass planning,’ for a very bleak future, especially so given we are speaking of all things food and the control of, particularly relating to the poor.

Certainly not to be missed is the fact what is presented on the Trussell website as the extent of its size, with deeper study we find the operations presented are but the front for something much greater...Insight for such a claim is seen in the fact, the Church of England diocese is very involved and as such, this tiny little franchise is set to grow to gigantic proportions as the cuts hand people over to this super network across the country.

The Queen of England is the head of the Anglican Church, I give you the Anglo Methodist Covenant : On 1 November 2003, the Archbishops of Canterbury and York and the General Secretary of the General Synod , together with the President, Vice President and Secretary of the Methodist Conference signed the Covenant at Methodist Central Hall, Westminster, in the presence of the Queen.

The ceremony continued at Westminster Abbey with a short service of thanksgiving and dedication.
<http://www.anglican-methodist.org.uk/>

And for an older model :
<http://www.the-grassmarket.com/history/covenanters.html>

The above in the first instant is a clear breach of the Queens Coronation oath in the upkeep of the Protestant religion, the Evangelical movement is not Protestant, it is a Jesuit construct promoting Futurism with Methodism being the oversoul. A prime example of this methodical nature comes in the form of Margaret Thatcher.

Second issue would be the fact the handing of all things poverty to the Evangelicals is backed from the monarch herself, while the power base for the Evangelical movements is clearly American.

The current monarch took a differing oath at her coronation, not sanctioned in law. I brought a case against the DWP in 2010 which asked the court to examine and make judgement as to the validity of this monarch in taking a false oath, and asked if the reason we find our nation under the control of the corporations, was a direct result of the fact, Queen Elizabeth II is not the constitutional monarch but an acclaimed monarch representing not the realm, but the international corporate realm. The case was dismissed by Deputy District Judge Thomas Andrew Lewis Greensmith from Dickson Haslam Ltd Winckley Square Preston. Case Number : 1AC00469

The judge resigned his position on September 1, 2011, eight days before he determined the jobseeker agreement is not a contract as he sat my case. On September 9, 2011. He was promoted after the decision on September 9 to District Judge. During the hearing he strongly advised me not to take this matter to the high court as it would cost me the earth, clearly a move to ensure I continue to bring the case in Accrington to which he and two other shifted Judges to the Burnley circuit would be able to cancel my case, and all others, every time. As a part of the oath taken by the Judiciary they are not allowed to hear any case against Queen Elizabeth II.

We are indeed witnessing the forced rise of all things Theosophical Christian Zionism, in direct control of food for those who are to fall below the poverty trap as the Jobcentre Plus kicks people off benefits to become displaced persons.

Given this food control agenda is showing itself first in America, we have a sneak preview as to the power this Evangelical control of food shall wield, and how it is to be used. They are removing particular foods from the menu of food given out, therefore they are controlling the nutrient intake of the people who are dependant upon these food banks to eat. The following report made the hairs stand on the back of my neck as we see the removal of a prime crop, perhaps the most versatile of easily grown food, the humble potato, we last saw this move play out in Ireland as the Crown starved and displaced the Irish.

Codex Alimentarius is part of this micro management of nutrients and vitamin intake, but as we soon see in the following report, Climate has the biggest share at this point in determining life or death for the poor :

Ag Secretary Defends Dropping Potatoes From Federal Food Program for Low-Income Mothers

Food banks means food control under the fraudulent climate change dogma, and given it is the command of the Evangelical Jesus, what better people to administer such command than the Nonconformist cults.

As we ran up to last years general election lifeinthemix investigated the real power behind UKIP, Conservative and New Labour, we found all to be 'influenced' by the Alpha Lodges, also operations such as ARK Schools, we find to be very influential in all things British politics. ARK of course is Military Industrial Complex, Alpha is a serious Crown level network which fully controls and now operates out of Australia, for the same Crown.

It is important at this point that you fully understand that those in control of UKIP through Lord Malcolm Pearson, are big in all things nonconformist Evangelical Christian Zionism, with the Methodist Church seemingly in the shadows and in the controlling position. This also pans out when one enters the Westminster Temple area in London, which has the main Methodist Hall, very connected to our African brothers and sister and presents in its architecture what we already know as the revived Roman Empire under the emperors, Methodist Hall has six fasci adorning the entrance.

So I ask you keep the above information in mind as you look at the Alpha operations pushing to take full control of all things food in sync with the supermarket chains that also happen to be run by Evangelical families.

Basically you get three free food packages and then in come social services to sort out your whole life, and of course if you have children....They will be removed as Barnardos demands :

Cazenove re-staffs UK wealth management team

09 Jan 2001

Cazenove Fund Management has hired two staff to replace the wealth management team of three that left one of its regional UK offices last year.

Jamie Joicey-Cecil, formerly a partner of James Capel, has been appointed to head the office in Salisbury, replacing Bertie Gore-Browne. Joicey-Cecil will be joined by Richard Firth, formerly at Greig Middleton, on January 29. Cazenove runs its wealth management business in the UK out of three regional offices, which are located, apart from Salisbury, in Chester and Oxford. Richard Atkinson left with his boss Gore-Browne and the two are believed to be setting up their own business, said a Cazenove spokeswoman in London. The third team member has not yet been named to replace Elisabeth Pollard who also left. She is believed to be joining Gore-Browne and Atkinson, she said.

Patrick Dalby, private client partner, said : & quote, "Joicey-Cecil and Firth will have the full backing and support of our London office while David Pegler from London will continue to operate out of Salisbury until the new team is fully established."

Cazenove manages over £5bn on behalf of private individuals : Link

The Partners :

Elizabeth Pollard
Elizabeth is a founder partner (and a colleague of Bertie's since 1987), who specialises in UK investments. A member of the Securities & Investment Institute, she is primarily engaged in looking after clients and their investment portfolios.

She has worked in the investment industry for over 25 years. After eight years in the City with Brewin Dolphin and Raphael Zorn, she moved to Salisbury in 1987 and joined Cobbolds. In 1991 Elizabeth helped set up Cazenove's first regional office. She left in early 2001 along with other Cazenove colleagues to become a director of a small new investment management company.

Elizabeth is also a director of the Trussell Trust, a Salisbury-based charity bringing humanitarian aid to people in crisis in England and Bulgaria : Link

Public Adjournment

The Chairman invited William Trinick the Manager of the Wiston Estate to take part in the discussion on:- DC/08/WS – Halo Recycling, North Farm- continue the use of Flint Barn as a workshop for the purpose of a plastics recycling business. County application. The Chairman had attended a site meeting with William Trinick, County and District Officers and County Councillor Frank Wilkinson, and gave an update on the meeting, Halo recycling deals with 400 tonnes of plastics and cardboard that would otherwise go to landfill, the raw materials are collected from farmers etc and put into bales to be taken away for recycling . The service that is provided to the local farmers and businesses is good but the present location is not appropriate. Alternative accommodation has been sought but none found, Wiston Estates are therefore prepared to offer another building on North Farm which is in a better location and larger than the present one, and would allow better vehicle movements. Wiston Estates have asked for an extension to the present approval of 1 year to allow time for the transfer. Cllr Wilkins asked if the flint barn was to be reallocated to another business, once Halo had moved, Mr Trinick said there were no plans at present to do so. Cllr Wilkins said that the plans for the site were spasmodic and Halo had caused a lot of concern. Mr Trinick said that the Wiston Estate was very concerned about the rubbish at Halo, but had they asked him to leave he would have gone out of business, and they did not wish this to happen. Cllr Turley asked if Mr Trinick thought it was ok to put something into a building when you don't have permission to do so? Mr Trinick said no obviously not, but the planning process takes time and sometimes they have to move before that : Link

Are you Objecting or Supporting?

Object

If you consider the DPD is unsound, please identify which tests of soundness your representation relates to:

7. The strategies/policies/allocations do NOT represent the most appropriate in all the circumstances, having considered the relevant alternatives, and they are founded on a robust and credible evidence base.

9. The plan is NOT reasonably flexible to enable it to deal with changing circumstances.

Changes to the document

The Core Strategy envisages the vast majority of new development being near Crawley and Horsham/Broadbridge Heath. Whilst this general approach is supported, it is considered that the balance is tipped too far towards these areas and away from the smaller towns and villages where proposed development is negligible (314 out of 10,575 new homes during the Plan period).

This is at odds with Policy CP5 which identifies settlements capable of "some expansion, infilling and development" as it allows virtually no scope for such development in these settlements.

It is therefore submitted that greater provision should be made for new housing in smaller towns and villages. This provision should be made both for additional site-specific allocations and for small scale development proposals to be considered on their own merits during the plan period.

Wilton Park, a conference organising entity of the Foreign & Commonwealth Office, leases Wiston House from Wiston Estate. Here, members of government host high-level conferences on topics such as energy security in Europe and forests and climate change. Wilton Park is the partner in a plan suggested by Wiston Estate's Foreman, Toby Askew. If successful, the plan will help generate an income to kick start the process of bringing the estate's 1200 acres of woodlands back into commercial management and help reduce a Government department's carbon footprint. Estate Manager William Trinick began working at Wiston in 2001 : Link

Wiston Estate has announced today that Veolia will not appeal against the decision of WSCC to refuse permission for landfill at Rock Common Quarry. Notification of Veolia's intent was outlined in a brief email from William Trinnick (Wiston Estate Manager) which was sent this morning (23rd March 2009) to Washington Parish Council, CLAG and local newspapers.

In its letter to the Parish Council, the estate talks of 'forming a closer rapport'. Certainly there is a need for bridges to be re-built with the community, as relations have been quite badly damaged by Veolia and Wiston's actions : Link

The letter was swiftly followed by a letter from Wiston Estate manager William Trinick, which said: "Wiston Estate has accepted Veolia's decision not to proceed with a planning application for landfill at Rock Common. The estate is now left with the challenge of finding the best use for Rock Common once the remainder of the sand has been extracted and the agreement we have with the current user has ceased : Link

Welcome to my fundraising page. There's still time to support me!

To celebrate my 50th year I set myself an ambitious '5 at 50 Challenge': to run 5 classic race distances including a marathon and a mountain challenge, before my 51st birthday. Having never run more than a half marathon before I was expecting this to test my endurance and stamina to the limits and it did. I am delighted to have successfully completed each run with the knowledge of your support to spur me on (particularly the marathon and Lake District runs). My fundraising target of £50k is no mean feat, and I still need all the help I can get! Please dig deep and help The Trussell Trust to continue restoring dignity and reviving hope in 2009.

Donating through Justgiving is quick, easy and totally secure. It's also the most efficient way to sponsor me: Trussell Trust gets your money faster and, if you're a UK taxpayer, Justgiving makes sure 25% in Gift Aid, plus a 3% supplement, are added to your donation.

So please sponsor me now! Thank you. Link

HOSPITAL staff in Salisbury will be looking to crack open a real bottle of bubbly in celebration, after they complete a marathon 500-mile cycle ride across northern France for the Ace of Hearts appeal.

Members of the eight-strong team from the radiology department, start their three-day ride from the Normandy port of Le Havre on October 17, finishing in the French town of Epernay in the Champagne region, east of Paris.

As they follow a steady course through the beautiful Loire Valley, the team hopes to raise about £1,500 for the appeal.

Consultant radiologist and team leader Jonathan Annis said: "This is a marvellous opportunity for us to do our bit for the Ace of Hearts appeal and take on a rather different challenge from what we would normally be used to.

Supporting the Invasions

After a march for the armed forces in Worthing yesterday, mayor of Worthing, Councillor Noel Atkins said: "My hearts go out to the soldiers but they are doing a tremendous job in effectively preserving our freedom from potential terrorist threat."

"They are keeping terrorism at bay by being in Helmand and in Iraq. It's a critical time in Helmand, so at this stage we have to keep the Taliban at bay otherwise we risk a greater threat of insurgency." Link

A WHILE back we brought to your attention the antics of a proselytising prat called Cllr Lt Cdr Noël Atkins, who happens to be the Mayor of Worthing.

This numpty is a True Believer, which is fine by us so long as doesn't use the trappings of his office to foist his piety on others.

Cllr Lt Cdr Noel Atkins imagines his duties include bringing the 'Good News of Jesus Christ' to the residents of Worthing

But no. Atkins – writing as Worthing's Mayor, and not as a private individual — provided the intro, and a photo of himself all dolled up in his mayoral finery, to the publishers of some silly religious tract that was shoved through residents' doors earlier this year.

One resident who was not prepared to take this annoying intrusion by the Gloria Deo Trust and International Bible Society lying down was Elaine Ansell, a member of the Brighton and Hove Humanist Association, who first wrote to the Worthing Herald, then to the council itself. Link

From SANO, the Sussex Association of Naval Officers :

A SANO party of ten were guests of His Worship, the Mayor of Worthing, Councillor Lt Cdr Noël Atkins RD RNR, for a drinks reception in the parlour at the Town Hall in Worthing on Thursday 25 March. Noël, who has been a member of SANO for many years, made us most welcome, showing us the Council Chamber, the official mace, and the scroll conferring the freedom of the Borough on HMS SUSSEX, much to the delight of the former members of the Division who were present. The photograph on the home page shows our Vice Chairman, Dr Brian Baker, presenting Noël with a SANO tie, so filling what the Mayor agreed was a gap in his wardrobe.

The Presented Trussell Trust Operations Administering Food

The Alpha operations thus far presented to control food outside the use of money from the supermarkets :

Andover St. John The Baptist RC

They say on their website :

The Andover Food Bank provides food for local people in crisis. It issues food vouchers which can be exchanged for emergency food boxes.

Each box contains 3 days supply of nutritionally balanced tinned and dried food. This is a short term measure providing breathing space until additional help is offered by professional agencies.

Families and individuals within the Andover area may require food boxes for a variety of reasons. These can include debt, benefit delay, low income, unemployment, homelessness and domestic violence. We provide support, whatever the reason. Donations are given through Harvest Festival School collections, via local church gifts, Company staff collections and by individuals to our volunteers during Supermarket collection days.

What I find very revealing is the fact although the supermarkets below are involved in this food collection, it is not the supermarkets giving the food, the supermarkets allow these operations to collect food from people who are shopping .

Supermarkets of course are not in the business of giving anything for free, take note here.

BLACKWOOD Tab life centre Pontllanfraith

Run by : Sarah Trinder Age : 54 years More Info : Meet the Team

Blackwood Street Pastors Blackwood Street Pastors has been operating since October 2009. Tab Life Centre is one of 12 local churches involved in this initiative and out of 27 Blackwood Street Pastors, 13 are from Tab Life Centre. David Hatch (formerly of TLC, who is now pastoring a church in North Wales) was actually the chairman of the steering committee. Street Pastors was established in 1993 in London, but has quickly spread nationally and continues to grow. In South Wales many towns are already in or have expressed an interest in training.

Here we can see though only one Church is presented on the Trussell website, this church represents more, why are they hiding such?

The site itself is not giving anything away, I presume one has to be a member to gain access to their links, very secret society doctrine while preaching all inclusive brotherhood, this is the MO of all things Alpha and as such through the issuance of food they aim to recruit more to the satanic energising which Alpha offers, of course they will tell you it is Jesus energy.

BICESTER Emmanuel Church (CE)

Run by : Chris Boyce Vicar

They say :

Emmanuel Church is a lively Church of England Church based in Bicester. Emmanuel was formed in December 2002 as a plant from St Aldate's and St Ebbe's Churches in Oxford and offers all-age worship and fellowship in a relaxed and friendly atmosphere.

What is very concerning to my good self, and found to be the case with a few of these operations, they are housed inside Primary Schools? When I began my work of exposure of what I had learned while in the mystery school, I began by showing how such satanic networks used the schools to create chaos amongst the pupils who are there five days a week, so the following insight needs to be fully understood.

They give address as :

Bure Park Primary School Lucerne Avenue Bicester Oxfordshire OX26 3BP

Under such the children who attend this school also suffer the energies brought forth by this enterprise which will then pass to the parents of the children, this is known on occult circles as energy exchange. This church is big on Alpha : Link

BOURNEMOUTH Vineyard

Run By : Robert Clark

They say :

"God has called us to Bournemouth to love and develop people who need Jesus Christ. A slogan that you'll hear a lot at Bournemouth Vineyard is: 'We are imperfect people building a Church where the imperfect are perfectly welcome.'" (Robert Clark, Senior Pastor) : Link
'there's no unemployment in the Kingdom of God!' : Link

Unemployed.....These operations have been set up for food control.

Fourthly, give a portion of your income regularly. Giving is not only Biblical, but it vital to the ongoing work of the Church. Giving is an act of worship and sacrifice and is how real joy is found.

Finally, if you are coming to the Vineyard from another local church (as opposed to being between churches or previously unchurched), it is likely that you will be noticed if you left! It's really important to us that you go to your leader there and ask them to release you with they're blessing before joining the Vineyard

At the bottom of each web page we find this :

Affiliated to : Bournemouth Vineyard Church. Affiliated to Vineyard Churches UK

Again we can see such operations as presented on the Trussell website are but the front for something much bigger

Vineyard

Has its roots in American Evangelicalism :

John Wimber was a founding leader of the Vineyard. His influence profoundly shaped the theology and practice of Vineyard churches from their earliest days until his death in November 1997. When John was conscripted by God he was, in the words of Christianity Today, a "beer-guzzling, drug-abusing pop musician, who was converted at the age of 29 while chain-smoking his way through a Quaker-led Bible study" (Christianity Today, editorial, Feb. 9 1998) : Link

UK Churches :

Vineyard Churches UK & Ireland was formed for the purpose of joining together churches who hold common values and practices, and, first and foremost, it is a conservative evangelical movement. It is governed by a Council through a number of Task Forces, including a Board of Trustees, which give oversight to the pastors of existing churches and facilitates widespread church planting : Link

BRADFORD The Light Church

I would ask you all understand Bradford is a major centre for the Golden Dawn satanic operation, I have been fighting it for many years, so one has to ask... 'who's light'?

Run by : Sue and Nick Clarke : Link

They say :

WELCOME TO THE LIGHT!  The Light is an exciting new church Bradford, West Yorkshire which started in October 2008. We're a group of about 200 people from random backgrounds and walks of life that believe that life is at its best when we love God and love people. We aim to create an environment where both Christians and those who are just exploring issues of faith can grow in those two areas – Loving God and Loving People.

BRACKNELL Kerith Church

It's all about Alpha : Link

Run by : Simon and Catrina Benham : Link

Simon is our Senior Pastor and Catrina his wife heads up our Unique Women's ministry. Yet another distinct MO of these operations is the dividing up of boys girls, adults children, the perfect secret society doctrine to give maximum control in a family, it enables the church to see all within a family as each member is separated to a particular mentor.

This church is yet another using the debt bait to attract the poor.

BRENT Pentecostal City Mission Church

This one has a Symbiosis Project

Run By :

They say :

Pentecostal City Mission Church is a community of believers that will effectively communicate the gospel of Jesus Christ to all people holistically, irrespective of race, colour, gender, and economic status. Upon conversion, they will grow in the faith and knowledge of Our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ, with progressive productive social, educational and evangelistic outreach ministries tailored to embrace diversity and to enhance the building of the kingdom of God within all societies.

Note the spelling of colour, this is an American operation : Link

BRIDGEND Elim

I have first hand experience of the Elim system, almost all pastors at the Accrington Elim have been accused of child abuse, and fore the final insight, the current pastor who has been accused of abuse after over 20 years is still the pastor.

What does this tell us as it relates to paedophiles in the network of the Evangelical movement?

They are protected and shielded, all the while focus is held against the Catholic Church.

Run by : Darren Mallett – Minister

We now enter the Elim network :

The Elim Pentecostal Church was founded in 1915 by a Welshman in Monaghan, Ireland. George Jeffreys was an outstanding evangelist and church planter. He had a Welsh Congregational background, which was strongly influenced by the Welsh Revival of 1904, and was introduced to Pentecost by an Anglican vicar, Rev Alexander Boddy of Sunderland.

The name 'Elim' was taken from the book of Exodus where the Israelites exhausted and dispirited en route from Egypt's cruel bondage to the freedom of Canaan came to Elim an oasis in the desert where there were twelve wells of water and seventy palms trees : Link

BUDE Elim Church

Pastor Roger and Janice Rowland

Roger & Janice grew up in The Salvation Army and trained to be Salvation Army Officers in the late 1970s. They have three grown up daughters. Roger is a qualified teacher and spent a number of years teaching physical education in both secondary and primary schools. Janice works as a social worker for Family Matter Fostering Ltd : Link

Interesting that this Church gives insight as to the real purpose of this food trust agenda :

This facility is designed to enable recipients to begin to effectively break their long-term circle of poverty and has received considerable support from local Care Professionals.

What it fails to say is the fact once you shift into absolute reliance on these food networks, you become a puppet for the same and dependence on the Evangelical satanic cult assured for the future of those who fall foul of the same : Link

This website alone brings to the fore a massive Catholic network waiting in the wings to force British people back into the hands of all things Christian Zionism : Link

More External Connections : Link

Again we can see after a little diligence, what is presented as 'little old Trussell Trust', is but a front for a huge pre-constructed network for all things food issuance, standing in the shadows to take control over the lives of millions of starving British people, that is of course after the DWP-Jobcentre Plus has thrown you off benefits to be labelled an; 'Internally Displaced Person', and you do not want to become an IDP. Also worth noting at this point would be the use of the term 'Person', again shows that all future control of this country is so under the Statute garbage, thus understanding the difference between common law rights and Statute imprisonment is essential in defeating this agenda, if you do not accept you are your commercial debt account, then how can a Statute label you and send you off into Statute Heaven?...it cannot. To admit liability for the name on your birth certificate is to breach crown copyright, the crown owns it therefore the crown is the liable agent.

They say :

Cardiff Foodbank was officially brought into being on 29th April 2009 as a franchise of the Trussell Trust, and is part of the National Foodbank Network. It is a project to help and support those suffering financial hardship and who are facing the reality of being unable to feed themselves or their families. They lived for two years in Romania as missionaries. For them this was the training ground of learning how to depend on the Lord in every circumstance and situation and finding out the reality of what happens when you are squeezed, facing the truth of what comes out and the challenge of dealing with it. (One day they may write a book on the reality of being a missionary.)

Poland

At the present time they take teams out into Poland where they are partnering with a church and supporting the work there.

Quote

They need our prayers. Haitians are 80% catholic and 100% voodoo (which means 'spirit' worshippers, following the rites and rituals of African animism, including child sacrifice). Many believe and live as if the country is under a curse. Prayer is as vital as aid, that they will turn to the true and living God and discover his compassion and love.

HAVERHILL : River of Life Community Church

They say :

We are a modern, multicultural, all aged, bible based church that is committed to loving God and loving others : Link

Yet of course they are speaking of helping those who help them which is pretty much the MO for all these Churches.

Leadership :

Paul and Wendy Turner

In 1999, Paul and Wendy felt called by God to lead a church plant into Haverhill, Suffolk, having previously been a part of the leadership team of a church on the outskirts of North East London for over 10 years. They have a strong desire to see a modern relevant Bible based church grow in Haverhill that is committed to the great commission of Jesus (Mathew 28:19-20). They have two wonderful children, James and Zoe : Link

There history is revealing :

Our History

River of Life began as a home group consisting of 6 people in September 1998 and has grown steadily since.

The HIGHLAND foodbank (INVERNESS) Blythswood Care

They give insight into the real size of this secret network readying to take control over the poor : Highland Food Bank, part of the work of Blythswood Care, is one of a number of Food Banks across the UK franchised by The Trussell Trust.

Highland Food Bank was launched in October 2005. We work in collaboration with around 50 partner agencies (both statutory and voluntary organisations) that refer to us their clients who for various reasons are facing financial crisis and are unable to buy food for themselves : Link

LINCOLN : New Life Church

Run by : Stuart and Irene Bell : Link

They say :

New Life Lincoln is a thriving city-centre church based in the beautiful city of Lincoln, UK. We are a group of people from all walks of life being transformed by Jesus Christ. The mission of New Life, Lincoln is to lead people to become dedicated followers of Christ. This is the foundation of all we do. We have a calling to reach our neighbourhood, city, region and world with the good news of Jesus Christ. We are passionate in our worship, devoted to The Word of God and people of The Spirit: Link

A further glimpse into the Elim mindset, and further proof this is not in any way Christian, they are Zionist to the core and the very means of destruction of the very fabric of our morality which was gained from the real Christian doctrines :

The Elim Name The name 'Elim' is taken from the Book of Exodus, where we read that the Israelites "came to Elim, where there were twelve wells of water and seventy palm trees: and they camped there by the waters" (Exodus 15:27). This oasis in the wilderness is a fitting symbol for a Church that communicates a message of rest and refreshing, salvation and healing for body, soul and spirit in the wilderness of this world.

PECKHAM : Pecan

They say :

A foodbank for Peckham

Pecan has recently joined a network established by the Trussell Trust, Salisbury, and is set to establish a 'Foodbank' in Peckham to add to the 40 foodbanks around the UK.

The Peckham Foodbank was launched in December 2009 as a joint initiative between Pecan and local churches. A foodbank is a store where food donated by the community is banked, and can be drawn on by people in crisis. It is designed to help individuals in need by providing free emergency food for three days, which is the period assessed as the minimum time it takes for the appropriate agencies to be in a position to assist. This period can be extended if necessary.

Pecan collects food from the public, supermarkets, local churches, local groups and schools. A referral system has been established with Church Pastoral workers, Social Services, Health visitors, Probation Officers, schools and others working in the front line of fighting poverty. Individuals and families that are eligible for a food package receive a voucher from their referral agent and then come to Pecan to collect it. When they come to Pecan they are welcomed by a trained local church volunteer and have the opportunity to chat through their situation, get advice and be signposted on to other relevant services. This will help tackle any longer term issues as well as their immediate crisis needs.

PENRYN AND FALMOUTH

The foodbank is based on the successful initiative established in Salisbury in 2000 which has since gone on to win the Queen's Golden Jubilee Award for Voluntary Service by Groups in the Community and established more than 50 foodbanks in the UK.

"We are part of this exciting project," she added. "We collect food from individuals through local churches and supermarket collections.

"You may have seen us at Asda and more recently at Sainsbury's collecting food.

"We do this by offering our shopping lists as shoppers enter the store and we ask if they would like to buy one item from our list while they are doing they're shopping.

"This food is then collected and sorted and brought back to our warehouse where it is weighed and then made into food parcels for either a single person, a couple or a family."

The branch launched in July 2009 and gave its first box of food out in October : Link

The Church incorporates :

Brixton Deverill: St Michael

Kingston Deverill: St Mary

Longbridge Deverill: St Peter & St Paul

Corsley: St Margaret of Antioch

Corsley: St Mary

Chapmanslade: St Philip & St James

Horningsham: St John the Baptist benefice

In 2007 the Rev. Harvey Gibbons was installed as Priest-in-Charge of the Minster and, in 2008, as Rector of Warminster St Denys and St Mary's, Upton Scudamore : Link

WARRINGTON : Birchwood Evangelical Church

They say :

We have two main church activities, Birchwood Community Church and Gorse Covert Community Church, each with its own style of worship. We also have many regular activities for all ages during the week and special events throughout the year. Our new Encounter Centre provides the venue for our worship as well as for groups that meet during the week : Link

Leader :

My name is Surinder Chahal but almost everyone knows me as "Dass" (it's a long story). I've been married to Jeanette since 1987 and have two daughters; one is at school and the other at college. Although I have been at this church for over 21 years, the last few have in particular been a great blessing, not only to myself but also to the church. I work with John and Phil and, together with the tremendous support of so many others, we seek to make this church relevant to the community around us, to meet needs and share the love of God. It's an exciting time.

WATERSIDE : Waterside Churches Together

They say of their operation :

We are Waterside Ecumenical Projects, a registered christian charity set up to facilitate the local churches desire to work together to meet the needs of the community. This group is made up of representatives from the Methodist, Catholic, Community Church, Baptist, and Church of England denominations in the Hardley, Holbury, Blackfield, Fawley and Calshot areas : Link

WEST BROMWICH : West Bromwich Community Church

Leading this bunch of happy clappers is Iain Hesketh

Iain and Rachel have been married since August 2004. Up until the summer of 2006 Iain was part of the team at St Saviours Christian Centre in Reading and Rachel worked with blind and partially sight children for the local authority.

This Church is of the Elim brigade, and from my experience Elim equals paedophile rings. The Elim Pentecostal Church was founded in 1915 by a Welshman in Monaghan Ireland. George Jeffreys was an outstanding evangelist and church planter. He had a Welsh Congregational background, was strongly influenced by the Welsh Revival of 1904, and was introduced to Pentecost by an Anglican vicar, Rev Alexander Boddy of Sunderland.

WESTMINSTER : ChristChurch London

Leading this throng of happy clappers is David Stroud :

David and Philippa have been involved in leading churches for almost 20 years and ChristChurch London is the third church they have planted. David is the lead Elder of ChristChurch London & also heads up the UK Newfrontiers team. David & Philippa have three children, Edward, Victoria & Rebekah. More South Africa links in Rhys Scott :

Having grown up in South Africa, Rhys and his wife Sara moved to the UK in 1998 to be involved in church leadership : Link

Another Newfrontiers Church : as they claim : to find out more information on what is happening in 2010, go to : <http://nations.newfrontierstogether.org/LifeChangeTeams.htm>
Link

Most striking in relation to this Church is its 40% spend on staff welfare and training, with only 11% given back to the poor, and all 11% given to the Newfrontiers mission.

Of course as with all charities, a big chunk of the spend is hidden under the title charity, nothing like openness....

So 11% of all monies collected in the main from those now possessed under the Alpha Lucifer, is given to the poor, and is it really? Not the best outlook for the proposed Coalition governments announcement that the Trussell Trust will control the hand out of food vouchers.

WORTHING : Jubilee Community Church

Part of the Evangelical Alliance and led by Terry Virgo. Virgo is a Calvinist.

He says of the Church's history :

Our story began in a meeting in South Africa in 1989, where Terry Virgo felt that God was prompting him to plant a church in Lancing, a village just west of Brighton, where Terry was leading a large church. He responded to God, and in 1990, Grace Church, Lancing was started.

More on Terry : http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Terry_Virgo

Jubilee is part of the Newfrontiers family of churches. Newfrontiers is a worldwide family of churches together on a mission, with over 600 churches worldwide.
