BREAKING: The DOJ has announced they're opening an antitrust probe into social media companies.

JUSTICE DEPARTMENT REVIEWING THE PRACTICES OF MARKET-LEADING ONLINE PLATFORMS

Review Focuses on Practices that Create or Maintain Structural Impediments to Greater Competition and User Benefits

WASHINGTON – The Department of Justice announced today that the Department's Antitrust Division is reviewing whether and how market-leading online platforms have achieved market power and are engaging in practices that have reduced competition, stifled innovation, or otherwise harmed consumers.

The Department's review will consider the widespread concerns that consumers, businesses, and entrepreneurs have expressed about search, social media, and some retail services online. The Department's Antitrust Division is conferring with and seeking information from the public, including industry participants who have direct insight into competition in online platforms, as well as others.

"Without the discipline of meaningful market-based competition, digital platforms may act in ways that are not responsive to consumer demands," said Assistant Attorney General Makan Delrahim of the Antitrust Division. "The Department's antitrust review will explore these important issues."

The goal of the Department's review is to assess the competitive conditions in the online marketplace in an objective and fair-minded manner and to ensure Americans have access to free markets in which companies compete on the merits to provide services that users want. If violations of law are identified, the Department will proceed appropriately to seek redress.

15) Ted Cruz sent a letter to the DOJ requesting an investigation of Antifa under the RICO Act.

@SenTedCruz

Today I penned a letter to Attorney General William Barr, Deputy Attorney General Jeffrey Rosen, and FBI Director Christopher Wray calling for an investigation into Antifa under the Racketeer Influenced and Corrupt Organizations Act (RICO).

July 23, 2019

 900 Pennsylvania Avenue NW
 Washington DC 20530-9001

The Honorable Jeffrey A. Rosen
 United States Department of Justice
 900 Pennsylvania Avenue NW
 Washington DC 20530-9001

The Honorable Christopher Wray
 Federal Bureau of Investigation
 935 Pennsylvania Avenue NW
 Washington DC 20535-9001

Dear Attorney General Barr, Deputy Attorney General Rosen, and Director Wray:

I write to urge you to open an organized crime investigation into Antifa, a left-wing nationalist terrorist organization that routinely relies on violence to intimidate and persecute its political opponents.

Antifa's violence is widespread and well-known. Earlier this month, the "Base City" chapter of the domestic terrorist organization "Antifa" marched through Portland, Oregon, causing and destroying property, threatening lives, and assaulting civilians. One particular, deadly, act was attacked so severely that he was hospitalized for a brain hemorrhage. This weekend, Wilson Van Houten, an Antifa terrorist, attacked a U.S. Immigration and Customs Enforcement center in Tucson, Washington, lighting a vehicle and attempting to ignite a propane tank. This weekend, fifteen persons around America and around the world following President Trump's inauguration. There are ten documented incidents worldwide that intend to appear to be a pattern of racketeering activity. And they occur precisely because Antifa's members rely on means to conceal which particular members committed any given crime.

As you are well aware, Federal law has provided the Nation's law enforcement with powerful tools to prosecute criminal organizations, such as Antifa, the Ku Klux Klan, and the mafia, that rely on group activity. The Racketeer Influenced and Corrupt Organizations Act, 18 U.S.C. § 1961 et seq., prohibits enterprises or associations with any purpose to conduct the criminal enterprise. Congress has provided the Nation's law enforcement with powerful tools to prosecute individual members of these groups for participating in the criminal enterprise, even when the government cannot establish which particular individual in a corrupt organization committed a given crime.

I believe your role as Attorney General and Police Commissioner is to issue for the official justice system, Department and right. Whether law reform to quell racial intolerance and then based on his apparent sympathy with these left-wing. For example, last weekend, the Portland Police Department (PPD) arrested an Antifa member, and released him from custody. This member, whose name is [redacted], was released to a Portland police station. When this member called Portland Police, Mayor Wheeler published a police response. In the capacity of Police Commissioner, Wheeler responded "to the fact that he is to be 'tagged' if he is not specifically identified by a Portland Agency that the 'tagging' is to be the wrong way." If these responses could be put in perspective, what would Antifa's refusal to be tag be the wrong way?

While it is ultimately the Department's decision whether RICO charges are appropriate, I think the public information does suggest that the Base City Antifa has violated RICO's violation. There is little doubt that Antifa, a well-known international organization, is an identifiable group of individuals associated with, they would appear to be. As for racketeering activity, several of Antifa's basic activities come within RICO's definition of such activities, including: (1) interstate commerce, (2) interstate or foreign travel, (3) use of interstate or foreign mail, (4) use of interstate or foreign facilities, (5) use of interstate or foreign banks, (6) use of interstate or foreign postal services, (7) use of interstate or foreign transportation, (8) use of interstate or foreign communication, (9) use of interstate or foreign financial institutions, (10) use of interstate or foreign financial institutions, (11) use of interstate or foreign financial institutions, (12) use of interstate or foreign financial institutions, (13) use of interstate or foreign financial institutions, (14) use of interstate or foreign financial institutions, (15) use of interstate or foreign financial institutions, (16) use of interstate or foreign financial institutions, (17) use of interstate or foreign financial institutions, (18) use of interstate or foreign financial institutions, (19) use of interstate or foreign financial institutions, (20) use of interstate or foreign financial institutions.

Dear Attorney General Barr, Deputy Attorney General Rosen, and Director Wray:

I write to urge you to open an organized crime investigation into Antifa, a left-wing anarchist terrorist organization that routinely relies on violence to intimidate and punish its political opponents.

Antifa's violence is widespread and well-known. Earlier this month, the "Rose City" chapter of the domestic terrorist organization "Antifa" rampaged through Portland, Oregon, stealing and destroying property, disrupting traffic, and assaulting civilians. One journalist, Andy Ngo, was attacked so severely that he was hospitalized for a brain hemorrhage. This weekend, Willem Van Spriessen, an Antifa terrorist, attacked a U.S. Immigration and Customs Enforcement center in Tacoma, Washington, igniting a vehicle and attempting to ignite a propane tank. This mayhem follows previous armed attacks and rioting by Antifa in Portland, as well as the arson, destruction of property, batteries, and related crimes by Antifa following President Trump's inauguration. These are not unconnected lawless incidents; they instead appear to be a pattern of racketeering activity. And they occur principally because Antifa's members rely on masks to conceal which particular member committed any given crime.

As you are well aware, federal law has provided the Nation's law enforcement with powerful tools to prosecute criminal organizations, such as Antifa, the Ku Klux Klan, and the mafia, that rely on group anonymity. The Racketeer Influenced and Corrupt Organizations Act, 18 U.S.C. § 1961 et seq., prohibits employment or association with any enterprise to conduct that enterprise's affairs through a pattern of racketeering activity. 18 U.S.C. § 1962(c). RICO enables law enforcement to prosecute individual members of these groups for participating in the criminal enterprise—even when the government cannot establish which particular individual in a corrupt organization committed a given crime.

RICO further gives law-abiding citizens in jurisdictions like Portland some recourse in support of their constitutional rights. You are surely aware that Portland Mayor Ted Wheeler has steadfastly refused to deploy and support local law enforcement to restore order and prevent Antifa robberies and armed assaults. It is no mystery why: Antifa's violence is aimed to silence dissent from authoritarian left-wing views. Mayor Wheeler apparently agrees with those views. But the First Amendment guarantees Portland's moderates and conservatives alike the right to speak, and the Equal Protection Clause prohibits Portland's mayor and police force from refusing to prosecute assaults designed to suppress this First Amendment right—from, quite literally, denying to dissenting Portlanders the equal protection of Oregon's laws against assault and robbery. Federal intervention is required to guarantee these citizens' constitutional rights.

I likewise urge you to investigate Mayor and Police Commissioner Ted Wheeler for his official policies violating Oregonians' civil rights. Wheeler has refused to quell Antifa intimidations and riots based on his apparent complicity with these left-wing aims. For example, last summer, radical left-wing activists surrounded a Portland Immigration and Customs Enforcement building, trapping federal employees inside. When those employees called Portland police, Mayor Wheeler prohibited a police response. In his capacity as Police Commissioner, Wheeler announced why: he did not want the police to be "engaged" in "a conflict, particularly from a Federal agency that [he] believe[d]" to be "on the wrong track." If those employees sought police protection—what he called "a bailout from this mayor, they are looking in the wrong place." The refusal to provide police protection from private violence is one of the oldest, ugliest tactics local officials can employ, dating back to the implicit acceptance of Klan violence as a means to discourage the exercise of constitutional rights. Federal civil rights enforcement ended these un-American practices. Mayor and Police Commissioner Wheeler's refusal is no different, and his denial of police protection should be treated accordingly.

While it is ultimately the Department's decision whether RICO charges are appropriate, I note that public information alone suggests that Rose City Antifa has violated RICO as minimum. There is little doubt that Antifa, a well-known international organization, is an identifiable group of individuals associated-in-fact, they would admit as much. As for racketeering activity, several of Antifa's better-known crimes either qualify as acts involving robbery or arson punishable by State law for more than a year, see, e.g., O.R.S. §§ 161.603, 164.396, or could be charged under statutes specifically enumerated by RICO as racketeering activity. See, e.g., 18 U.S.C. §§ 1503(a), 1951(a). Antifa, especially Rose City Antifa, undertakes these acts in a predictable, continuing pattern, which, according to Rose City Antifa's website, began in 2007. It continues to raise money and recruit members for future violent activities. This is an ongoing criminal enterprise with a continuing pattern of racketeering activity that intends to commit future crimes.

It may also be appropriate to take additional action either against Antifa for its terrorist violence to suppress constitutional rights, or against Mayor Wheeler for his deliberate refusal to protect dissenting Portlanders from Antifa's violence. Congress has provided the Executive with tools to address this precise scenario—local officials turning a blind eye to violence designed to suppress the exercise of constitutional rights—since at least the Ku Klux Klan Act. If you require additional tools or resources to ensure that States and localities do not permit left-wing paramilitary organizations to terrorize ordinary Americans with impunity, let me know. My colleagues and I will get you all the support that you require.

Our Republic depends on free and open participation in the political process. These acts of brazen political violence and intimidation strike at the heart of that process. Given your commitment to the rule of law, I hope you will respond to Antifa's organized criminal activity, and Mayor Ted Wheeler's refusal to protect Portland's citizens from that activity, with all speed and vigilance.

Sincerely,

Ted Cruz

19) Q posted a link to John Solomon's latest tweet & article, adding that this story is bigger than most people realize.

20) Solomon's article explains that US Attorney John Durham wants to interview Maltese professor Joseph Mifsud

The FBI claimed Fifsud was contacted by George Papadopoulos.

For those who don't remember, Mifsud is a Maltese-born academic with a VIP Rolodex who frequented Rome and London for years and engaged at the highest levels of Western diplomatic and intelligence circles.

Mueller's team alleges that Mifsud is the person who fed a story in spring 2016 to Trump campaign adviser George Papadopoulos about Moscow possessing purloined emails from Hillary Clinton. It was the earliest known contact in the now-debunked collusion narrative and the seminal event that the FBI says prompted it on July 31, 2016, to open its probe into the Trump campaign.

Mueller concluded that Mifsud was a person with extensive Russia ties who planted the story about the Clinton emails in Moscow and then lied about his dealings with Papadopoulos when interviewed by the FBI in 2017. Papadopoulos has pleaded guilty to lying to the FBI about his contacts with Mifsud.

21) Mifsud's attorney Stephan Roh said Mifsud was instructed to connect with Papadopoulos and to facilitate a meeting with a woman he was to falsely represent as Vladimir Putin's niece.

(A fact Mueller's team never mentioned in their report)

A May 2019 letter from Nunes to U.S. intelligence officials corroborates some of Roh's account, revealing photos showing that the FBI conducted training at Link in fall 2016 and that Mifsud and other Link officials met regularly with world leaders, including Boris Johnson, elected today as Britain's new prime minister.

A few days after the March dinner, Roh added, Mifsud received instructions from Link superiors to "put Papadopoulos in contact with Russians," including a think tank figure named Ivan Timofeev and a woman he was instructed to identify to Papadopoulos as Vladimir Putin's niece.

Mifsud knew the woman was not the Russian president's niece but, rather, a student who was involved with both the Link and LCILP campuses, and the professor believed there was an effort under way to determine whether Papadopoulos was an "agent provocateur" seeking foreign contacts, Roh said.

The evidence, he told me, "clearly indicates that this was not only a surveillance op but a more sophisticated intel operation" in which Mifsud became involved.

22) The Mueller report claims that Papadopoulos sought out Mifsud in their first meeting but evidence suggests it was Mifsud who sought out Papadopoulos.

For example, the report never mentions the FBI's ties to Link. If the bureau feared Mifsud had unsavory ties to Russia, why would it provide training to his academic group?

Likewise, the Mueller report portrays Papadopoulos as the instigator who initiated contact with Mifsud and his Russian contacts. "Campaign foreign policy adviser George Papadopoulos made early contact with Joseph Mifsud, a London-based professor who had connections to Russia and traveled to Moscow in April 2016," the report said.

In fact, the contemporaneous evidence shows Mifsud was directed to seek out Papadopoulos at the March 14, 2016, dinner arranged by the LCILP and Link. Papadopoulos didn't know who Mifsud was when he arrived for the dinner.

A month later, in mid-April 2016, Mifsud initiated introductions to Russian figures, including an email chain with Timofeev.

23) Solomon pointed out that although the FBI and Mueller's team made it seem as if Mifsud was in hiding and not available for questioning, that was not the case. Mifsud was in Washington at the height of the Mueller investigation and was available for interviews.

One other Mifsud portrayal in the Mueller report and in court filings has raised eyebrows in intelligence and congressional circles. Mueller portrayed the FBI as being victimized during the Russia probe because Papadopoulos originally lied about Mifsud tipping him to the Clinton emails — and that somehow impeded the Mueller team from adequately questioning the professor in February 2017.

But new documents I obtained show Mifsud was anything but elusive and easily could have been interviewed, before and after Papadopoulos pleaded guilty to lying.

Mifsud was in Europe in summer 2018 for his deposition, routinely corresponded and met with European political and diplomatic officials for much of 2017, and even was interviewed by media outlets during the Mueller probe, according to email correspondence I reviewed. He also exchanged emails directly with FBI agents.

Multiple American officials confirm — as do contemporaneous emails — that Mifsud was in Washington in December 2016 at the height of the FBI's Russia probe for a meeting with a State Department-backed group, Global Ties USA.

Mifsud's contacts that month with senior executives of the group never were revealed to congressional intelligence investigators or mentioned in the Mueller report. Nor was Mifsud's email thanking Global Ties for meeting with him about a "collaboration."

An American directly familiar with Mifsud's contacts with Global Ties said they began in May 2016 and involved arranging diplomatic introductions and meetings around the globe. No one from U.S. intelligence ever warned the group or suggested that Mifsud had improper ties to Russia. The FBI never interviewed the executive who met Mifsud in December 2016, the source said.

24) Mueller's team also omitted from their report the fact that Konstantin Kilimnik, who was identified as a Russian intelligence asset, was actually a US State Department informant.

Robert Mueller soon may be exposed as the 'magician of omission' on ...

The Mueller report has glaring omissions that leave key questions unanswered, especially about how the FBI's probe of Trump began.

<https://thehill.com/opinion/white-house/454409-robert-mueller-soon-may-be-exposed-a...>

There is now compelling evidence Mueller omitted or misrepresented important facts about Mifsud and Papadopoulos that could change the public's understanding of events. And those aren't the only omissions and factual errors to emerge.

Mueller never disclosed in his report that Manafort business partner Konstantin Kilimnik, identified in the final report as having ties to Russian intelligence, actually was a regular informer for the State Department from 2012-2017. The report also incorrectly identifies an American citizen from the former Soviet republic of Georgia as a Russian.

Such omissions and mistakes add to the mistrust of the final product. And as the Durham team's overture to Roh makes clear, Mueller's testimony before Congress may not be the final verdict for his findings.

There are too many questions still unanswered, starting with an enigmatic professor named Mifsud.
