PEOPLE'S REPUBLIC OF CHINA
 Note positions of national insignia

N.B. "Copper" is the word used in all our MiG-15 references, but a metallic color is unbelievable. We prefer to believe its really a warm dark brown

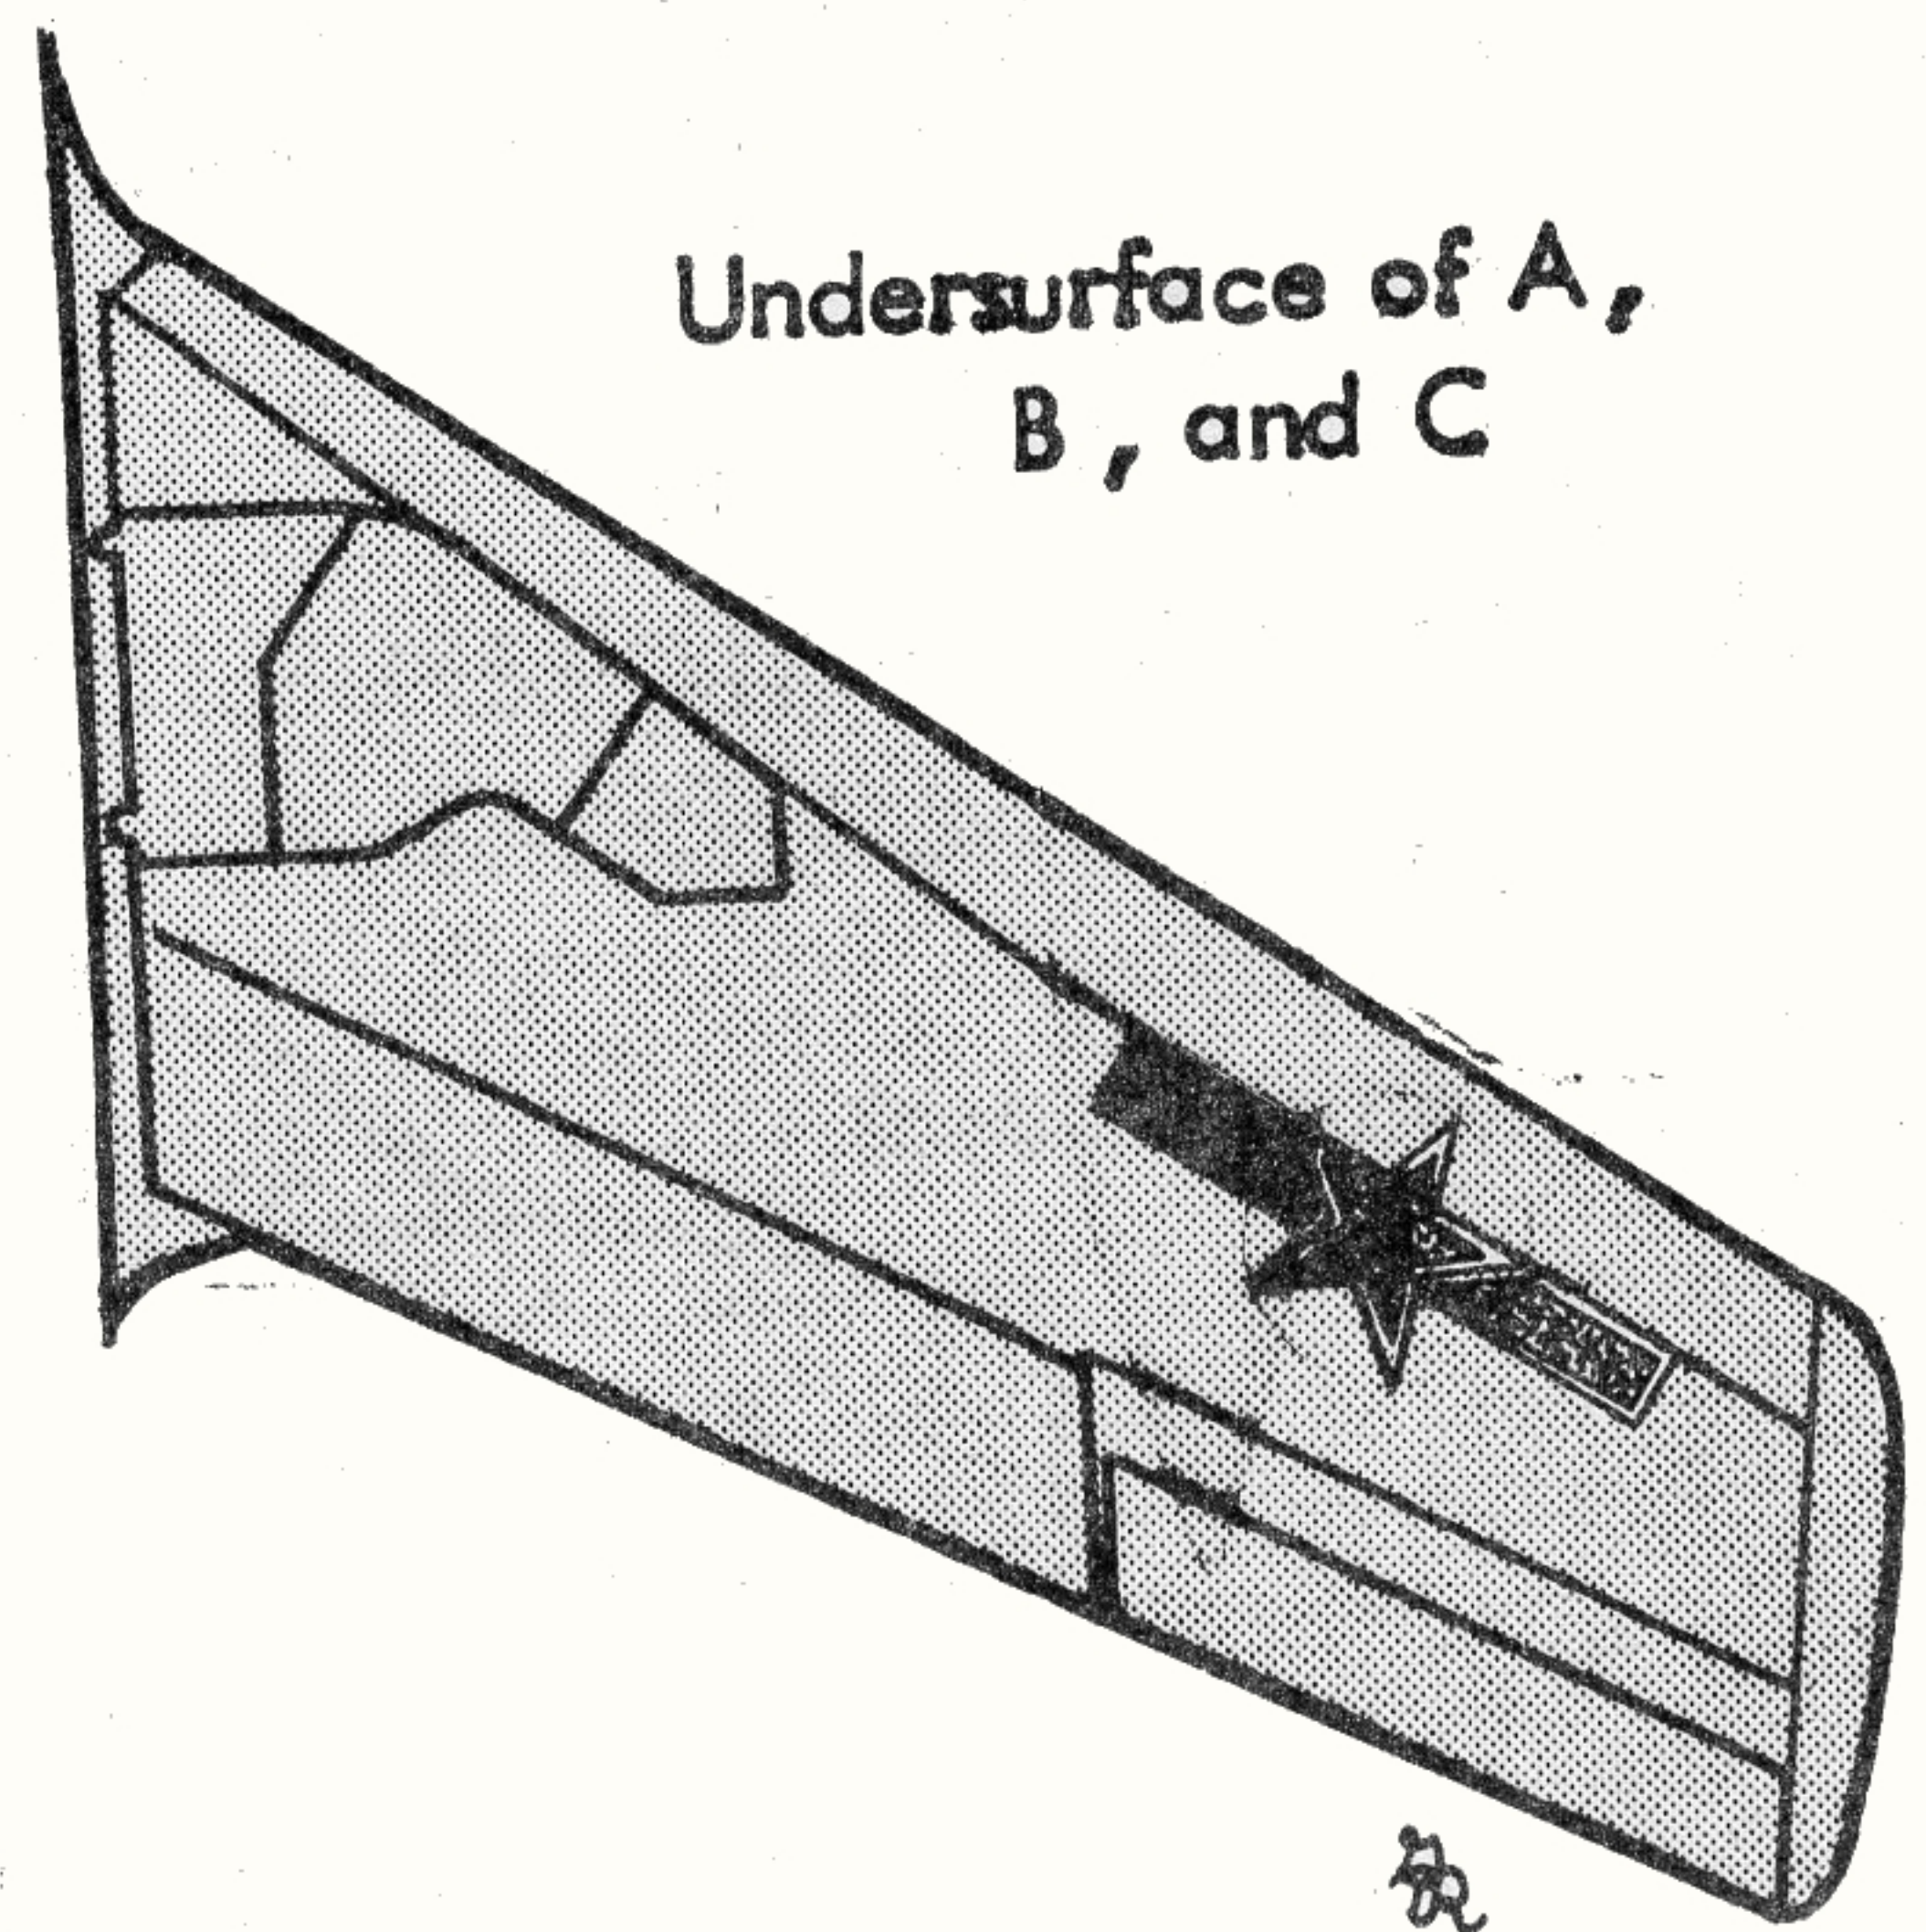

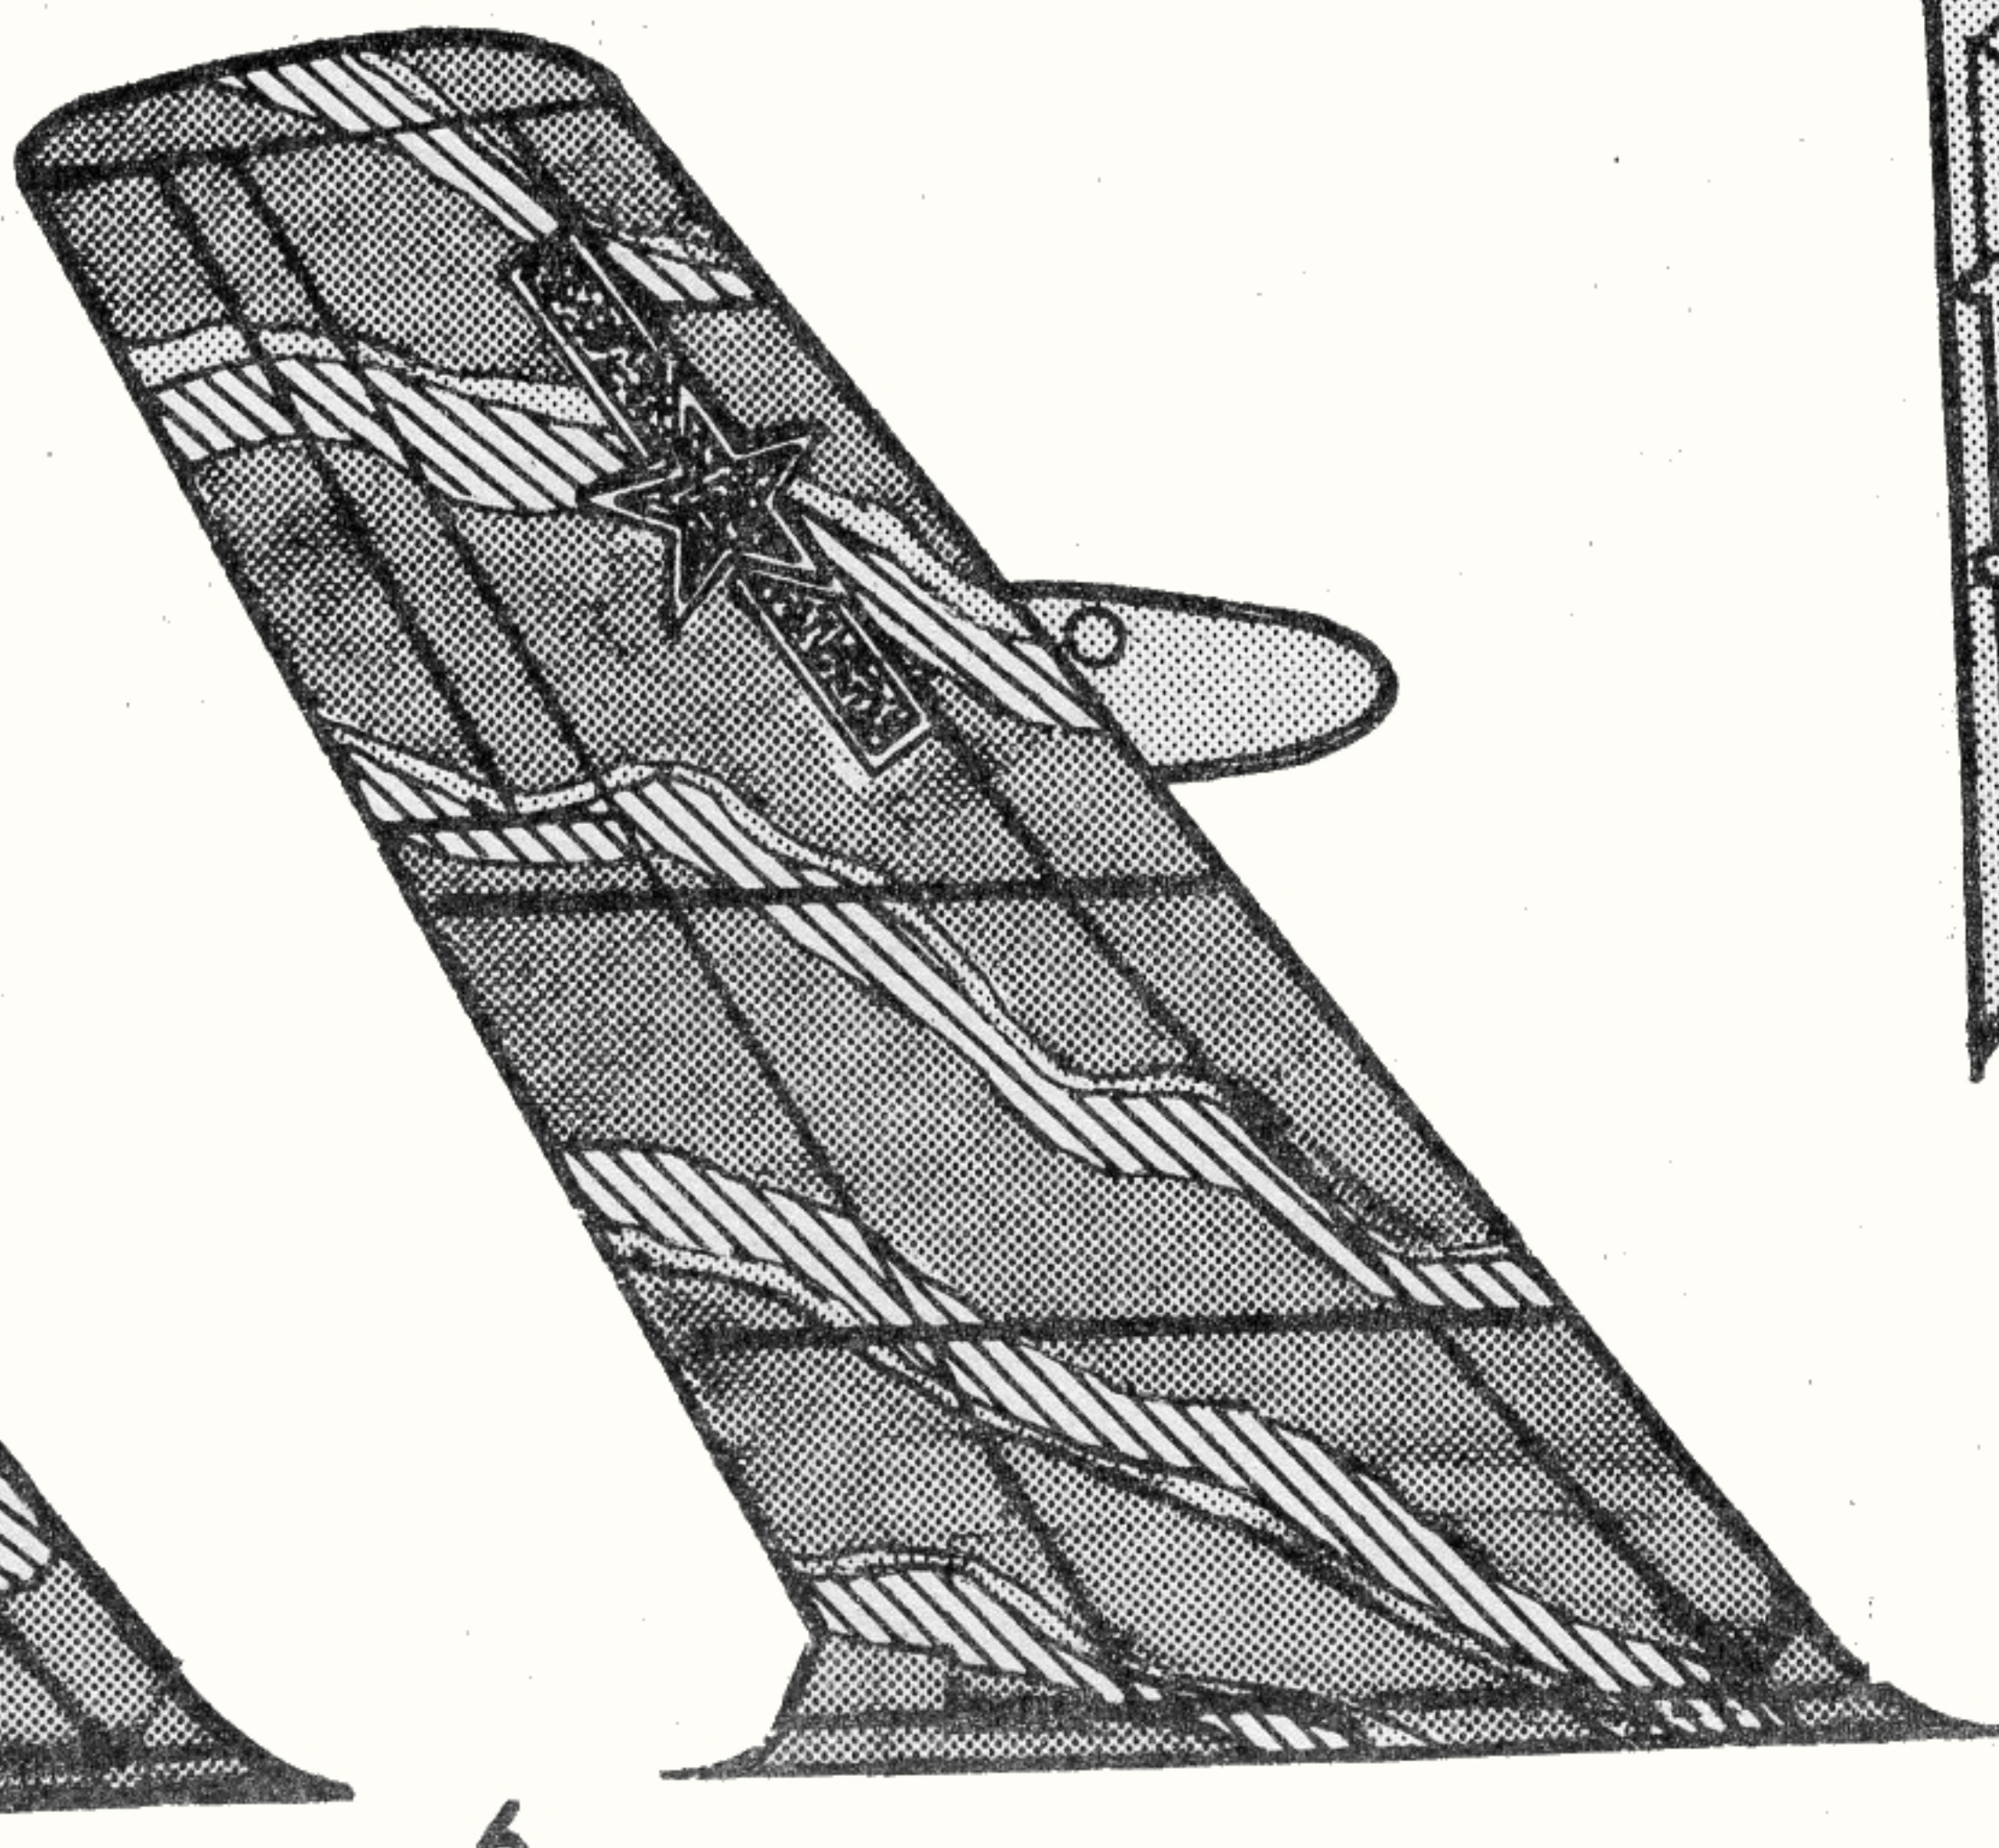

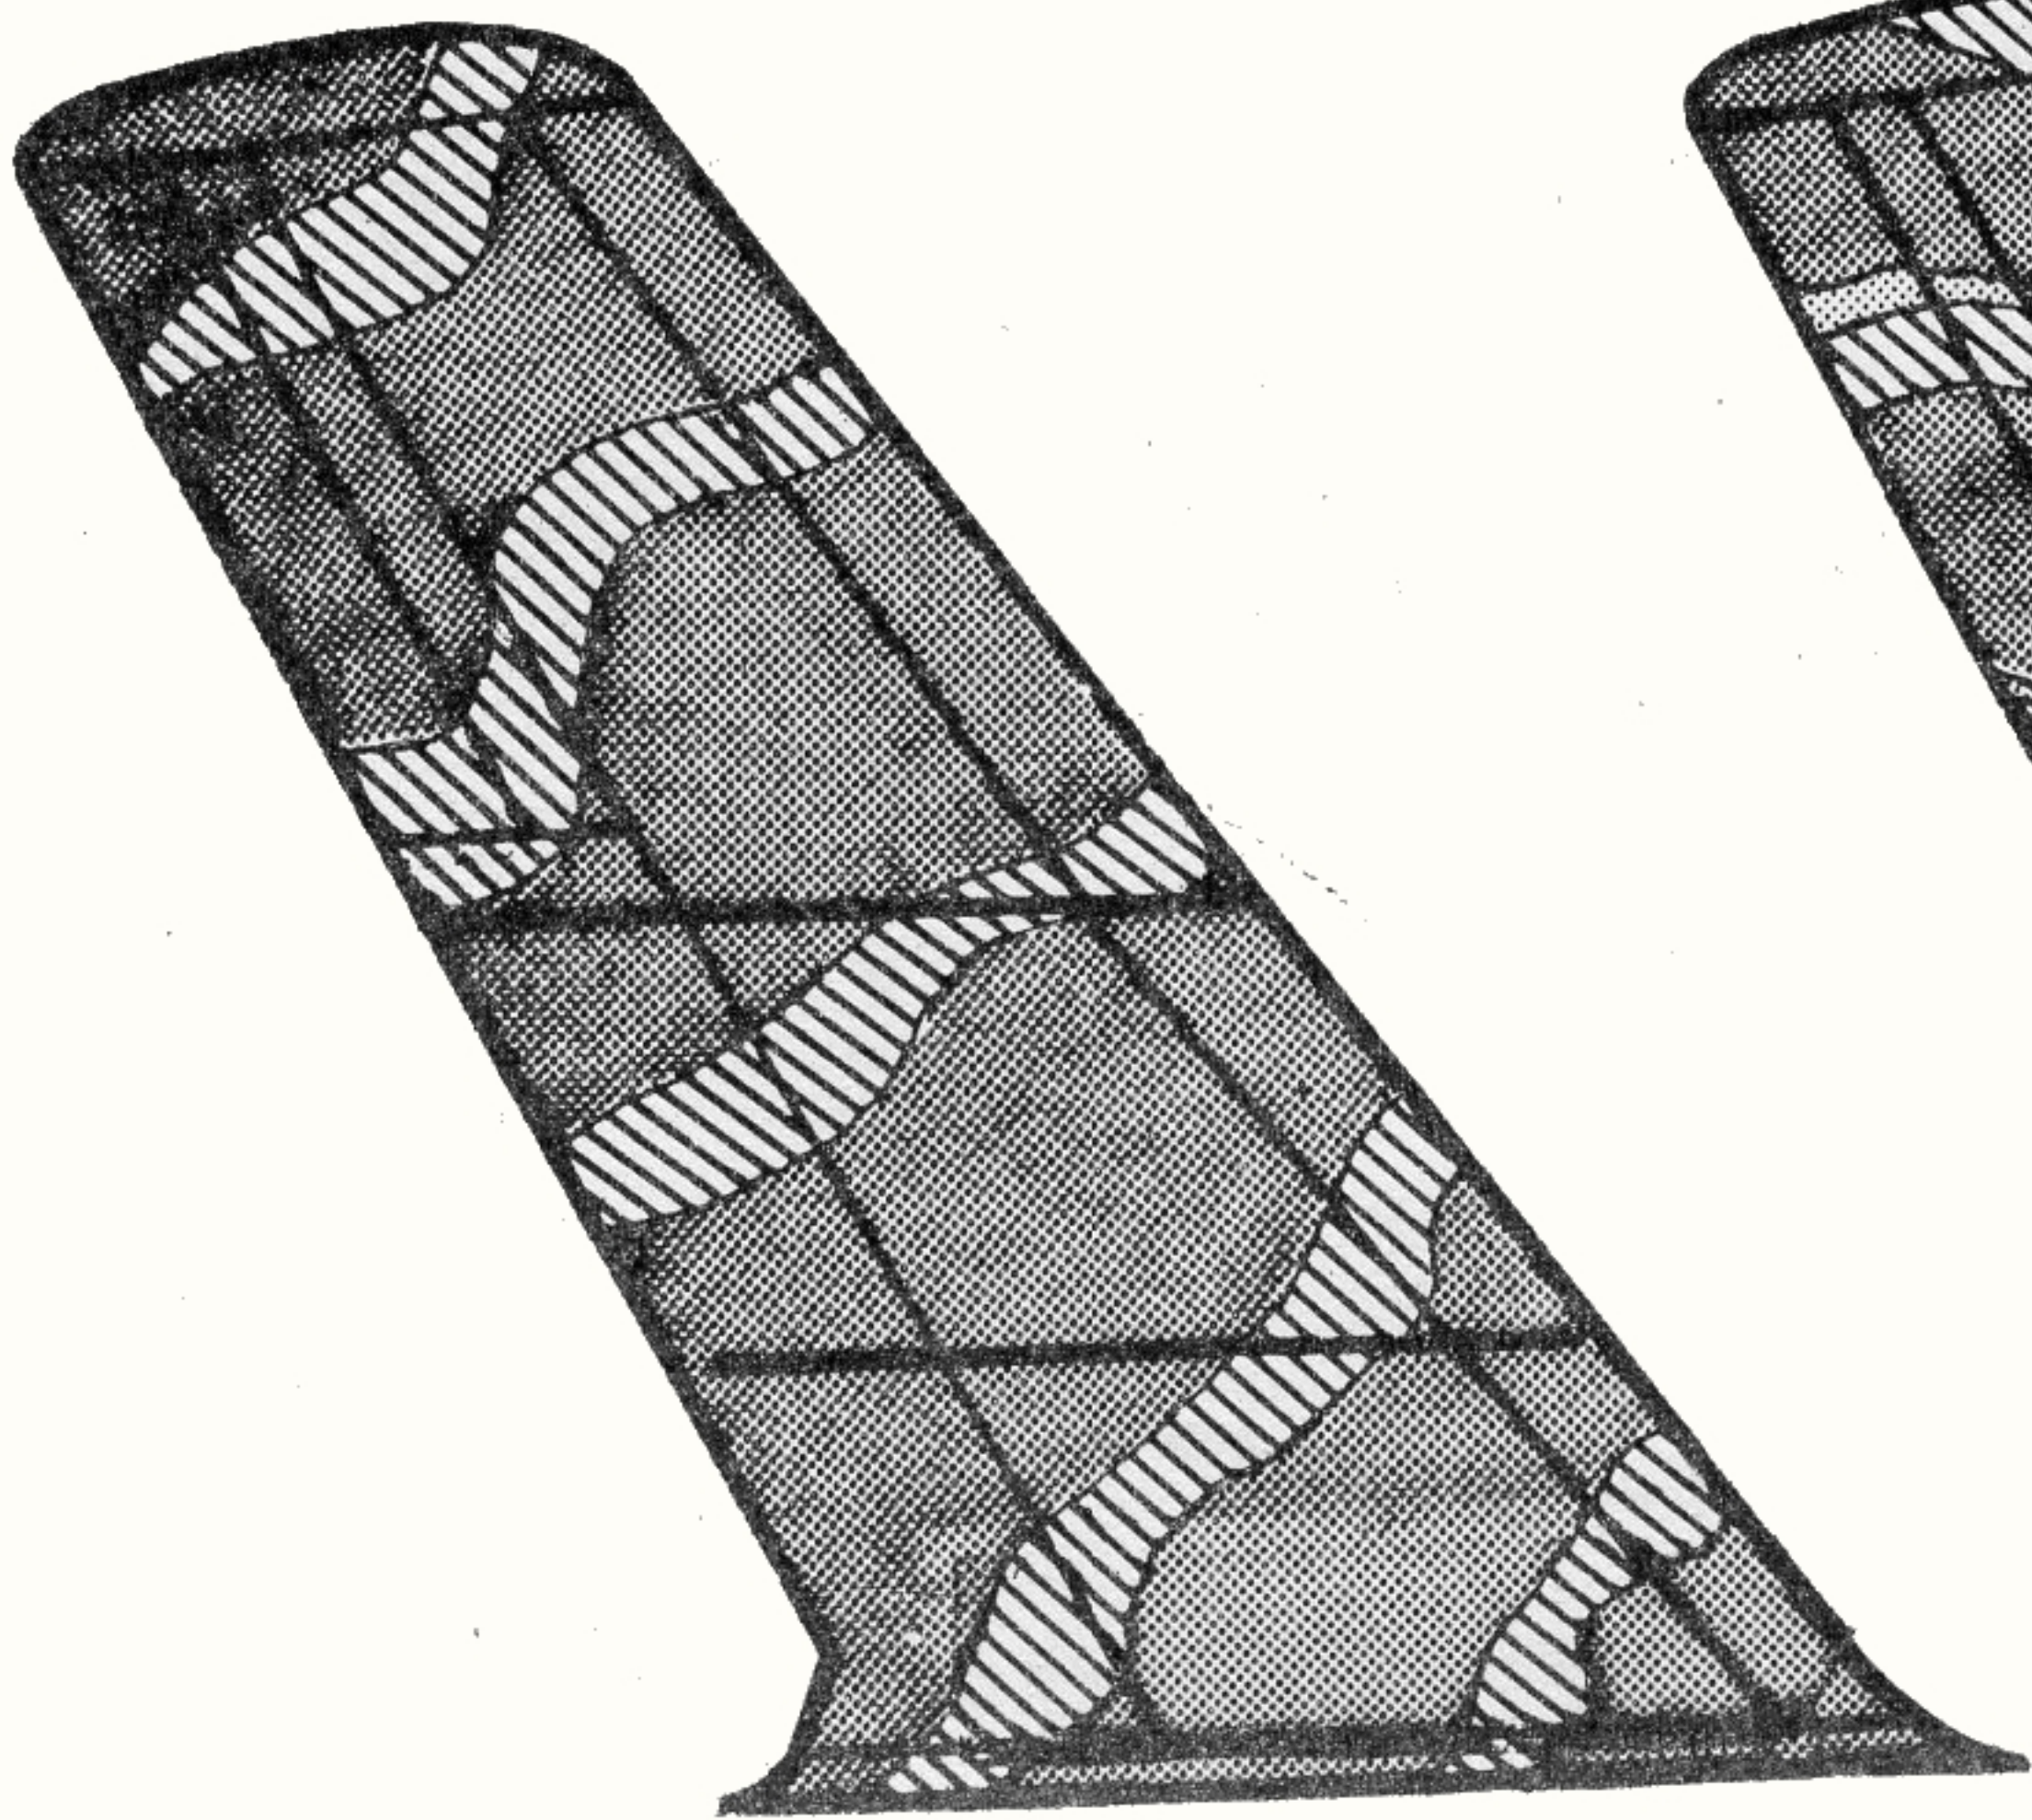

Any of these Chinese planes can also appropriately carry North Korean Insignia in the usual 6 places

- Fuselage characters, badge and numbers both sides
- Small characters, both tanks, outside only
- All characters, the wings, horizontal tail, underside of nose, and tip of fin/rudder-red
- Black anti-glare panel and numbers
- National Insignia in six places
- Body and lower fin and rudder-natural metal

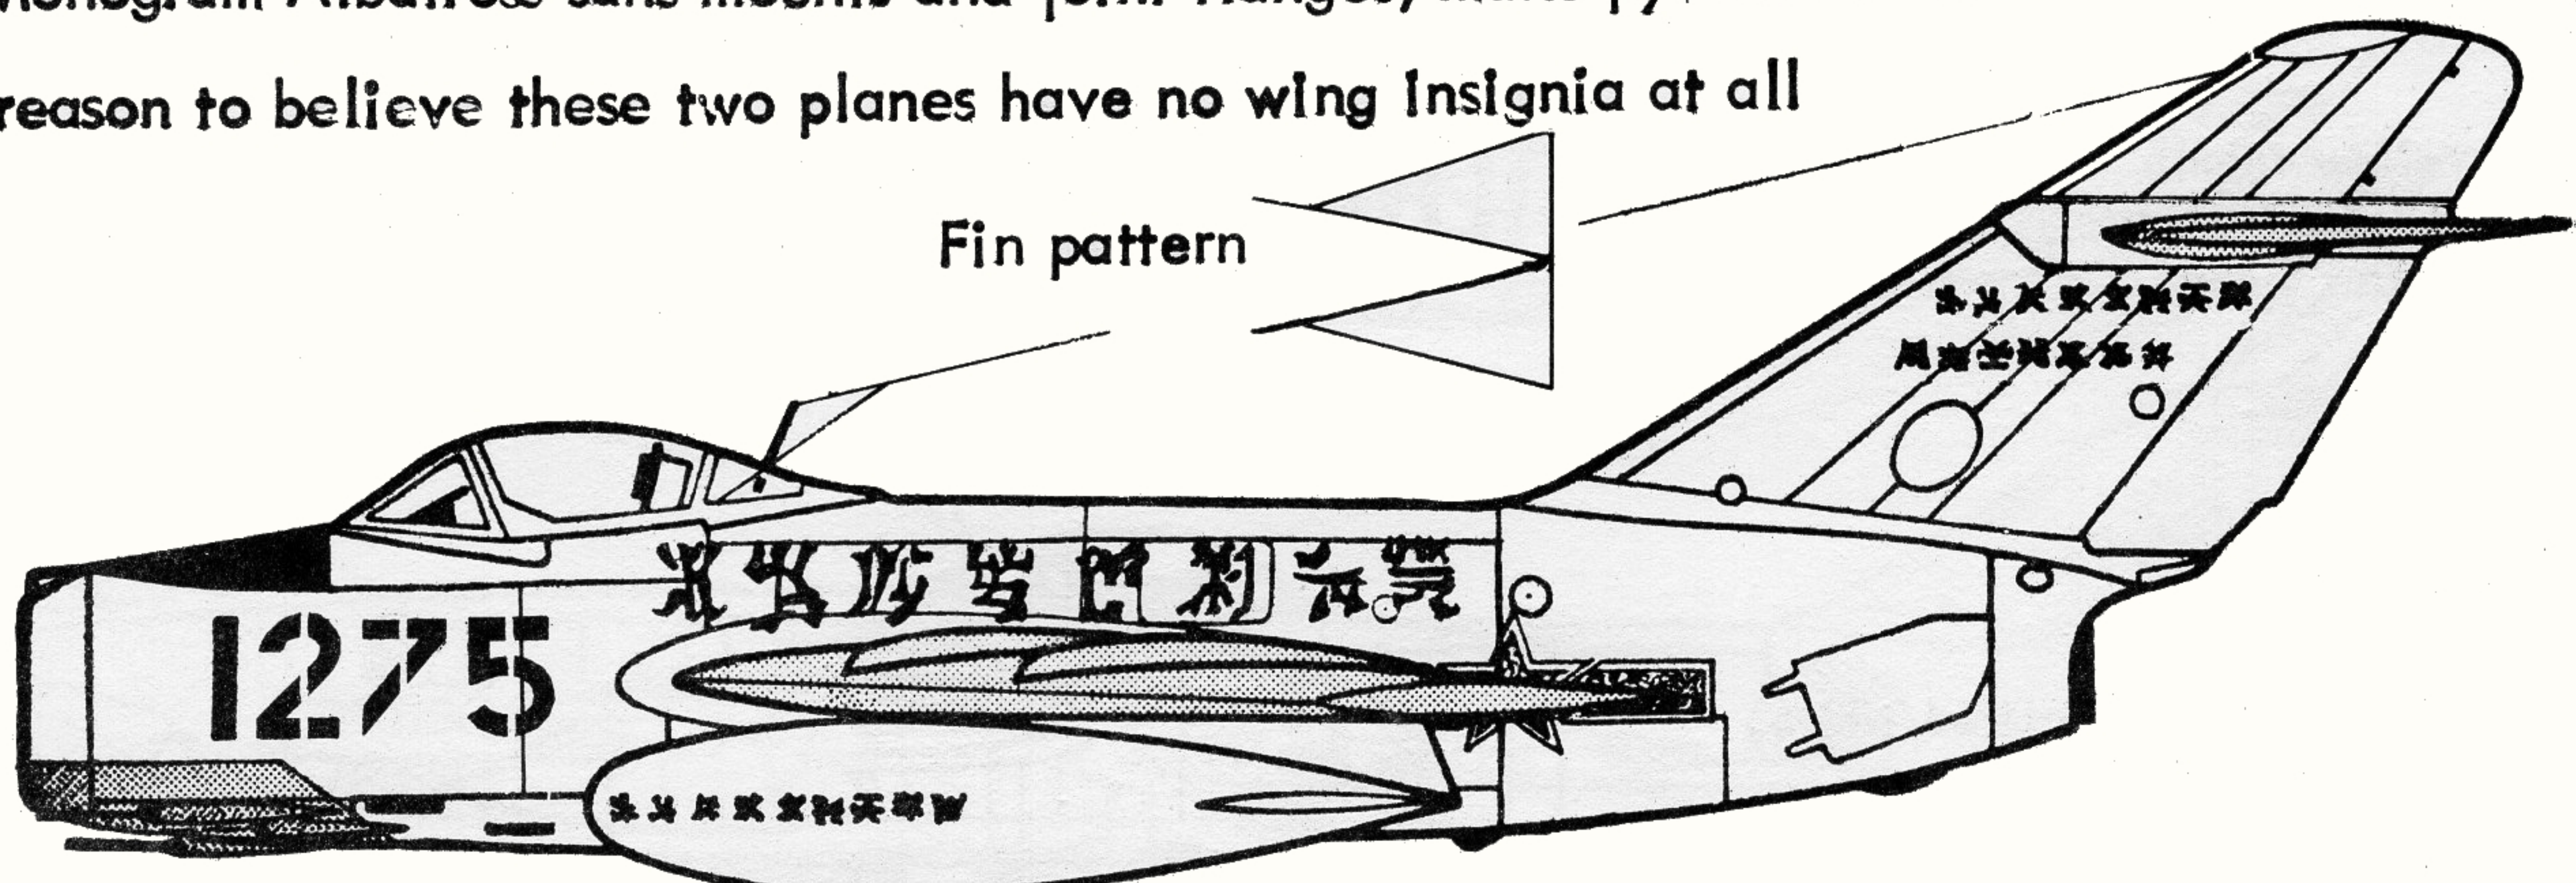

Badge Details: Small national insignia-red and yellow. Wreath, outline, and characters -yellow Background-red

Use tanks from Monogram Albatross sans mounts and joint flanges; make pylons and fins from .020" sheet

There is good reason to believe these two planes have no wing Insignia at all

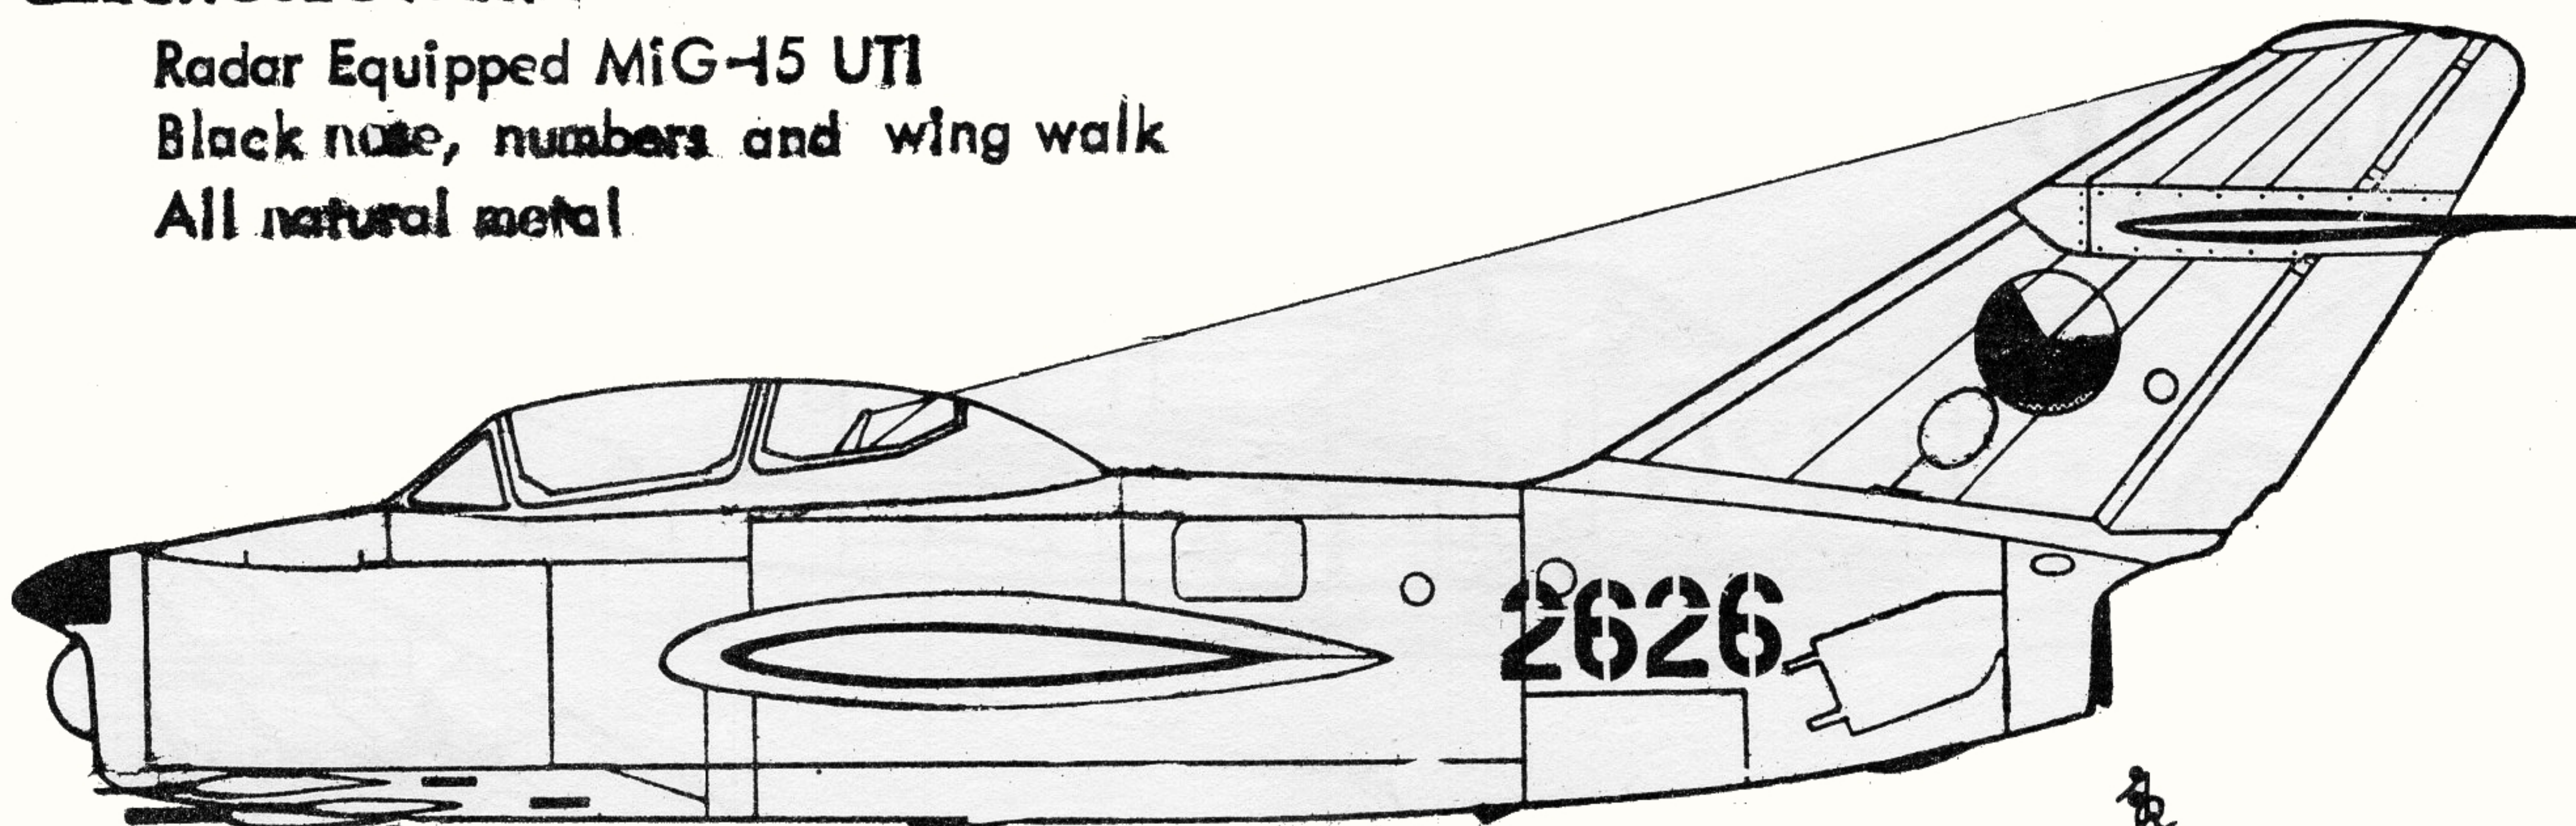

As above, except no red on vertical tail; badge replaced with script

On all Airfix MiG-15's, use Hasegawa MiG-17 gun blisters and landing gear for finer detail

CZECHOSLOVAKIA
