I am resigning as admin of 8kun effective immediately. Extensive battles have been fought tooth and nail during a self-imposed civic duty protecting the final fortifications of online free speech, guardedly navigating these tumultuous times. Today I bring ship to dock.

Farewell.

It looks like we've been deplatformed on some critical infrastructure that has taken the site offline. We're trying to speak to people and find out more before saying more than that. So far we have received some very general account account termination emails.

MORE Bad things happening in Philly. Dem election officials have avoided transparency & accountability at every step. NOW they're keeping our poll watchers so far from the counting tables there's NO WAY to ACTUALLY observe. What are they hiding?? THIS MUST STOP!!!
